Carolina Serenaders At Woman's College

Shown above are the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity group which traveled to Woman's College Tuesday night to serenade three girls who were recently pinned by members of the Carolina fraternity. Harry Holding, Curtis Daughtry and Jeff Corbin's girls were the ones honored by the singing travelers.

Exum Wins Law Scholarship

James G. Exum, Jr. has received an Elihu Root-Samuel J. Tilden Scholarship for three years of study at the New York University School of Law.

Recipients of the awards, which are valued at $7,200 each, were announced recently by Dean Russell D. Niles of New York University.

Exum will graduate from the University in June and begin his law studies at NYU in September.

Root-Tilden Scholarships are awarded annually to two outstanding college men from each of the 10 federal judicial districts. The grants are named for two famous NYU alumni: Elihu Root (Class of 1867) who served in the cabinets of William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt; and Samuel J. Tilden (Class of 1841) who was governor of New York and unsuccessful candidate for the presidency against Rutherford B. Hayes.

Recipients of the grants are young men with distinguished scholastic records who, in the opinion of the selection committees, show unusual capacity for unselfish public leadership.

Exum was chosen by the committee for the Fourth Judicial District, which includes North Carolina. Members of the group were Chief Judge John J. Parker of Charlotte, N. C.; Admiral Frederick J. Bell, executive vice president of the National Automobile Dealers Association, Washington, D. C.; and Dr. Bertel M. Sparks, professor of law at NYU.

Exum graduated from Snow Hill High School, where he was president of the student body, editor of the annual and the school paper, captain of the football team, and a member of the Beta Club.

He is currently president of Phi Beta Kappa and a member of Phi Eta Sigma (scholastic honor society), the Order of the Golden Fleece, the Order of the Old Well, and the Order of the Holy Grail. He also is the floor leader of the ways and means committee of the student legislature.

Exum has also served as vice president of the Psi chapter of Sigma Nu social fraternity and as chairman of the Men's Honor Council.

New York University's School of Law was founded in 1835. Located at historic Washington Square in Manhattan, the school has an enrollment of more than 700 day and evening students.

Would You Like To Be A Editor

Applicants for the positions of editor and managing editor of the new campus humor magazine can secure applications from the secretary in the student government office, it was announced yesterday.

Anyone interested in applying for these positions has been urged to contact Charles Huntington at the Chi Psi Lodge for further information and pick up and submit applications before Wednesday.

The new humor magazine, which will replace the now defunct Tar Heel, is a quarterly publication, which will function under the auspices of the Publications Board.

Positions of editor and managing editor of the publication will be open to interview next week by the board which will consist of the present editors of The Daily Tar Heel, the Yackety Yack and the Carolina Quarterly, in addition to two presidential appointees and two members of legislature.

Interviews will take place from 8-10 p.m. Thursday in Woodhouse Conference Room and from 4-6 p.m. Friday, if necessary, the announcement revealed.

posium $1000 and a bill appointing the managing editors of the three student publications to the Publications Board.

Whitfield also introduced to the body a resolution commending retiring UNC Chancellor Robert B. House for his many contributions to the University. The bill, praising House's selflessness and long service was unanimously passed by the body.

Vacant three and one year seats on the Graham Memorial's board of directors were filled in an election. The one year post was won by Charlie Wilson, who defeated Caleb White, and the other by Sonny Hallford, who was elected by acclamation of the body.

Legislature speaker Don Furado announced that a special session of the Legislature would meet next Thursday night to take action on student body President Sonny Evans' appointments to government offices.

Chemistry Dept. Makes Awards

Undergraduate awards in chemistry were presented at a meeting of the Journal Club meeting of the Chemistry Dept. yesterday. Winner of the senior award for the 1956-57 school year was Ronald G. Garman, who was presented with the Venable Gold Medal.

The junior award was made to Stanley Williamson. The award stipulated a prize of $20 worth of books of his own choosing.

Two sophomore awards went to R. J. Cowan and L. L. Lohr, who received engraved copies of the Organic Textbook and whose names were also to be encribed on a plaque in the Chemistry Library.

Seven students tied for the freshman awards with A-plus averages. They were presented with "the Handbook of Chemistry and Physics." Recipients included: B. H. Berryhill, J. A. Gardiner, William Hopper, R. L. Kushner, R. G. Lewis, B. W. Roberts and Clifford C. Simpson.

Evans Agrees With Legislature's Action On Umstead Park Incident

His Personal Opinion On Segregation Issue

Thursday evening, the Student Legislature passed a special resolution amending the Long censure resolution which had been previously doomed to quiet death in committee.

Yesterday, Student Body President Sonny Evans released a statement relating his views on the situation, which had its beginning when a Negro student of the University was ousted from segregated Umstead Park two weeks ago.

Expressing his concern over the implications of action taken by the Legislature, Evans said: "I want to make it clear at the outset that any views I have on this problem are my own and in no way represent the opinions of Student Government or students on this campus.

"I believe that almost everyone on campus, including most of the members of the Legislature were embarrassed and hurt by the incident that occurred at Umstead Park.

"However, whether or not student government should involve itself in censuring our State Legislature is a debatable question, and I am certain that any people who think deeply about the far-reaching implications of official censure by student government would agree with the Legislature's decision last evening.

At Press Dinner

4 Seniors Win Journalism Awards

Four rising seniors in the School of Journalism were awarded $300 scholarships on a basis of academic achievement and need at the annual awards dinner of the Press Club Thursday night.

Stanley L. Brennan, Birmingham, Ala., received the Quincy Sharpe Mills Scholarship. This award, named in honor of a 1907 graduate who was on leave from the New York Sun at the time of his death in France in 1918, was made for the first time. A bequest to the School of Journalism from Nancy Sharpe Mills, his mother, provided funds for the award.

John D. Ashford, Scotland Neck, won the Louis Graves scholarship; Thomas M. Byrd, Mt.

Olive, the Gerald W. Johnson scholarship; and Raymond P. Smith, Chapel Hill, the O. J. Coffin Scholarship. Journalism Foundation income provides funds for these three scholarships. The awards and other academic recognitions were announced by Dean Norval Neil Luxon.

Charles Shoe Awarded Glee Club's 1956-1957 Most Valuable Trophy

The presentation of The Most Valuable Member trophy highlighted the annual Men's Glee Club Awards Banquet, which was held at 7 p.m. yesterday at Brady's Restaurant.

Supplementing the awards program was the presentation of 29 Certificates of Merit and a surprise presentation made to a deserving senior member of the club.

Presented with the Most Valuable Member loving cup for 1956-57 was Charles Shoe, a sophomore from Fayetteville, who served as business manager for the club this year and was a leader in stimulating interest for the club during the past two years. Shoe was recently elected to the presidency of the club for the coming school year.

Certificates of Merit, an innovation for the club, were awarded on the basis of "faithful attendance, cooperative attitude, and musical contributions" to those members having been in the club a minimum of two semesters. Those receiving the certificates were: Malcolm D. Campbell; Ernest P. Freeland, Jr.; Darrell B. Hawkins; Kenneth L. James; James W. Kinney; R. Graham Matthews, Librarian; Robert G. Peebles, Jr.; Edwin G. Sapp; Ben W. Taylor; James P. Tyndall; J. David Ward, Jr. and Robert M. Barrow.

Free Flick Tonight

Tonight at 7:30 and 10 p.m. in Carroll Hall, Seven Brides For Seven Brothers will be shown as a portion of the Graham Memorial Activities Board-sponsored Free Flick series.

Starring Howard Keel and Jane Powell, the film is a musical comedy which won a number of Oscar awards several years ago.

Publicity Chairman; Hunter C. Tillman; H. Franklin Brooks, Secretary; Zane E. Eargle, President; James W. Chamblee, Student Conductor and Dr. Joel Carter, Director.

Special guests Hoke S. Simpson and Donna B. Patton were presented Honorary Member Certificates for their guest appearances on tours during the year.

A surprise presentation was made to senior James Chamblee. The gift was an engraved set of book ends presented for "outstanding service for four years." Chamblee served as Student Conductor this year and filled numerous positions in the club during his four years as a baritone.

A review of the organization's accomplishments this year and a discussion of future plans, led by President Shoe, terminated the banquet.

Hoke Simpson's 'Number 1' Proves To Be Hot Record

By BEN TAYLOR

In 2:17 minutes a Colonial disc tells the story of UNC's finest hour in sports since Charlie Justice made "Choo-Choo" a household phrase a decade ago.

"Number One," recorded by Carolina's own Hoke Simpson, with the "Three Bums and A Drum" quartet, is what we speak of. Those of you who have heard it spin will appreciate the fact that it relates in fast-moving style the acquisition of the lofty position UNC now holds as the nation's best basketball team.

Just how well it is selling, you ask? Orville Campbell, owner of Colonial Record Co. here in Chapel Hill, had this to say about the record's popularity.

"Over 500 have been sold in Chapel Hill in less than the week the record has been out. And the pace does not seem to be slackening."

It seems evident that if the record continues to sell at its present rate, it will not only spread the fame of UNC and its poised basketball greats, but also the notoriety of the guitar-wielding freshman from Larchmont, N. Y., Hoke Simpson.

Carolina students probably remember the Belafonte-styled performer from his appearances at the Carolina Calvacade of Talent last semester, or his special guest work with the UNC Men's Glee Club on their spring tour.

His most recent song stylings beneath Davie Poplar's shady limbs should further refresh the memories of those who may have forgotten the calypso warbler. Now he is making a bid to increase the scope of his audience. With "Number One" out, he may do just that.

Although not a member himself, Simpson reached into the vocal talent grounds of the Men's Glee Club and came up with a quartet to back him up which leaves little to be desired in respect to blend and harmony.

be highly commended." Campbell said in a telephone interview Wednesday.

"Number One" tells the story of Carolina's basketballers in their quest for the NCAA championship. The individual feats of "Rosy, Pete, Joe, Bob and Tommy" are described as well as a few gentle remarks about "Wilt." The refrain, "Tar Heels—Number One!" is repeated throughout the number.

In writing the music for "Number One," all five of the group joined forces and imaginations to come up with the recorded tune. Orville Campbell concocted the words. If sales records mean anything, they came up with the right combination.

"The record is selling as well as any record in N. C. now. There is no doubt now that many thousands will be sold because the impact of the feat performed by the team is still on the minds of Tar Heels everywhere," Campbell said.

The record itself required an amazingly small amount of time to compile. Three or four good rehearsals, a session of linking Rosenbluth, Brennan, Quigg, etc. with the proper words, and convincing Campbell of the merit of the singers were all that was needed to set the machines in motion for cutting the disc.

By now, you're wondering whether or not there is a flip side to "Number One." Well, there is, and that distinction fell to another product of the imagination of Campbell-Simpson, "Mountain Dew Rock," a rock-and-roll version of the old original echoed throughout the Appalachian hills, is the sister selection to "Number One." It provides a note of contrast and at the same time illustrates in earnest the vocal abilities of the group.

Campbell stated Wednesday that the vocal talents of Simpson and "Three Bums and A Drum" would probably be used by Colonial Records again.

With that remark, it looks like "All The Way Choo-Choo" may soon have to make room for a partner—"Number One!"

Ike To Speak

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The White House yesterday fixed next Tuesday evening as the time for President Eisenhower's nationwide radio-TV speech in support of his $71,800,000,000 spending budget.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower will speak from his White House office for 30 minutes, starting at 9 p.m. EDT. The address will be carried 'live' at that time by NBC TV and radio, Mutual radio, ABC radio, and CBS radio.

Hagerty also announced this schedule of delayed broadcasts later Tuesday night: ABC TV starting at 10 p.m. EDT, and CBS TV starting at 11:15 p.m. EDT.

Hagerty said he wanted to emphasize that the white House had no criticism whatever of networks which will not carry the address at the time Eisenhower actually speaks.

House Honored

Wilson And Hallford Are Chosen As GM Directors

By H' JOOST POLAK

The much publicized "Long resolution" was finally disposed of in Thursday night's meeting of the Student Legislature.

The bill called for the strong censure of North Carolina's discriminatory State Park regulations.

After the announcement by Ways and Means Committee Chairman Jim Alford that the original bill had been held over in committee, and would not appear before the body until the first Legislature meeting next fall, Rep. Whit Whitfield rose to place in consideration a considerably milder substitute.

The new bill, officially introduced by Whitfield, Tom Long, Jerry Oppenheimer and Al Goldsmith, expressed deep regret at the embarrassment caused the Cosmopolitan Club and its members by the Umstead Park incident.

Whitfield called for and was granted special orders. The bill was put to a vote and passed, 26-5. The dissenting minority was divided into those who felt the bill too weak and those who favored no action at all.

Other bills acted upon were a bill granting the Carolina Sym-

Senior Invitations

Seniors who have not yet picked up graduation invitations have been urged to do so as soon as possible.

Ray Jeffertes, Asst. Dean of Student Affairs, announced yesterday that between 50 and 75 seniors have not yet acquired their invitations, pointing out that they are already paid for and must be in the mails in the next few days.

GM'S SLATE

The only activity listed for Graham Memorial today is: Class Group, 11 a.m., Roland Parker 2 and Woodhouse Conference Room.

Three Bums And A Drum'
