

ACC Track Field Cut; Finals Today

By DAVE WIBLE

Yesterday afternoon at the ACC track and field trials the cinder-men of Carolina qualified thirteen men as the field was cut for the today's finals which will start on Fetzner Field at 2 o'clock.

Maryland had the greatest number of qualifiers with twenty-three. Duke was next with fourteen and then came Carolina's thirteen. South Carolina and Virginia each had four, Clemson had two, State had one, and Wake Forest had none.

Yesterday's competition rewrote the record book three times. Don Goodroe, a sophomore from the University of South Carolina, set a new mark in the 120 yard high hurdle. His 14.4 time broke Duke's Joel Shankle and Clemson's John Steedly's co-held record of 14.7.

Another Gamecock, Dick Bartulski, threw the javelin a record breaking 208' 10" to top Jack Ladner's last year's champion and record from Wake Forest, ACC throw of 206' 7 1/2".

Ed Cooke of Maryland was the third record writer when he put the shot 52' 4" to break his own ACC record of 51' 5 1/2" he set last year.

It looks like there will be many more records to fall today with duels as Carolina's 48.4 quarter-mile again be against the Maryland's quarter-mile record holder Dave Leas. In the 880, Scurlock will again be pitted against Maryland record holder. Carl Party last year's champ and Scurlock both won their heats today and one of them if not both is expected to lower the conference mark.

Tar Heel coach Dale Ranson disclosed yesterday that Carolina's Jim Beatty, ACC record holder in the two mile and a big threat to set a new record in the mile today, will run in only one event this afternoon.

The Summary:

Javelin—Dick Bartulski, South Carolina, 208 ft., 2 in. new conference record; old record, 206-7 1/2, set 1956 by Jack Ladner, Wake Forest; R. P. Snyder, Clemson, also broke old record with 206-8 toss;

WF Golfer Leads Pack

Wake Forest golfer Sonny George fired a four-under-par 67 to take a two-stroke lead over teammate John Gerring yesterday in the first round of the Atlantic Coast Conference golf championship at the Old Town course in Winston Salem.

The Deacon ace carded a 32-35 score over the familiar par 71 layout. John Gerring, another top Deacon linksmen came home with a 35-34—69, good for second place in the initial round of the tourney which concludes today.

The favored Carolina Tar Heels dropped behind in individual play as number one man Buck Adams went one over with a 36-36—72 to lead the Tar Heels, Adams' score put him in fifth place, five strokes behind the leader.

The Tar Heels, out to defend their 1956 title and hoping to keep the individual championship in Chapel Hill, found the going rough. Walt Summerville fired a 73 as the second best man for the Tar Heels. Buzzy Basinger won the individual trophy for UNC last year.

Virginia placed two men in the top five as Jordan Bell and Glenn Mitchell shot a 70 and 71 respectively.

Carolina's Tommy Langley, Tuffy Henderson, and Bobby Ruffin all had 74's for the Tar Heel golfers. Don McMillan was one stroke behind at 75, followed by Tar Heel John McKee at 76.

Aubrey Rothrock and Larry Bell came in with a 77 for the Tar Heels. Mac Patton and Gene Lookabill were tied way down the line at 82.

Netters Beaten In ACC Tournament

DURHAM, N. C., —(AP)—The University of Maryland was assured of a champion in the Atlantic Coast Conference tennis tournament as it placed two of its stars, Jackson Yang and Dave Freishtat, in the finals to be played here today.

Yang gained his chance for the title when he defeated Duke's big Don Romhill, 6-2, 6-2, and Freishtat earned a slot in finals play by downing Duke's third-ranking player, Leif Beck.

Pairings for the doubles finals are still undecided as one semifinal match remains to be played tomorrow. The Blue Devils have nailed down one half of the card with the team of Beck and Romhill.

The Dukesters defeated a Carolina team of Bank and Newsome in a close three set match that ended 6-2, 5-7, 6-4.

If the powerful Maryland combination of Bucks-Freishtat can get by Wake Forest pair, Burt-Allred, there is a chance the Terps can sweep the tournament.

Quarterfinal Singles:

Beck (Duke) over Stoever (Va.), 6-0, 6-2; Freishtat (Md.) over Bucks (Md.) 6-3, 2-2 (rebut); Romhill (Duke) over Berkley (Va.), 6-0, 7-5; Yang (Md.) over Black (UNC), 6-3, 2-6, 6-1.

36-40—76
Keitt Hane, Clemson, 40-36—76
Buzz Outten, Virginia, 41-35—76
Terry Atkins, N. C. State, 36-41—77
Dick Mason, Maryland, 39-38—77
Jack Rinehart, Virginia, 39-38—77
Tate Lanning, Duke, 38-39—77
Bo Claxton, Wake Forest, 38-39—77
Aubrey Rothrock, North Carolina, 38-39—77
Larry Bell, North Carolina, 38-39—77

Herb Score Is Progressing

CLEVELAND, (AP) — Herb Score, 23, Cleveland Indians' pitcher who was hit in the right eye by a line drive last Tuesday, continued to improve yesterday in a hospital room full of flowers, baskets of fruit, and stacks of letters and telegrams.

The star southpaw still didn't know if his injury will affect the vision in his right eye. Doctors may be able to make the examination today.

"His condition continues to improve," reported Dr. Charles T. Thomas and Don Kelly. "The hemorrhage in the right eye is clearing. The swelling on the right side of the face and eye is almost completely reduced."

MY FAIR OXFORD

Scene: The London drawing room of Professor Moriarity Kitchener, philologist and elocutionist. As curtain rises, Kitchener is singing and dancing.

Kitchener: Why can't the English learn how to speak? Hey? Why can't a woman be like a man? What? Why can't anybody grow accustomed to my face? So?

Enter Gatsby Donothing, a chimney sweep.

Donothing: P'arn me, Perfizzer K, oi w'd loik tao lorn 'ow do spike e'en batterwise thun oi spike naow.

Kitchener: Ugh! (Aside) Yet, he's a challenge. (To Donothing) All right, loathsome, in six weeks, you'll be speaking well enough to go to the Coronation Ball!

Six weeks later.

Donothing: Sao, Prayfooser K, can yez thank what me spikes gentmanly aynuf naow? Do we be gung to Coronation Ball towgedder?

Kitchener: Oh, my Aunt Sally, the blighter hasn't learned a thing. I'm lost. But wait. I'll dress him in a Van Heusen Oxford cloth shirt. Then he'll pass as a gentleman for sure! All I have to do is be sure he keeps his big mouth shut. I'm saved, but good!

(Curtain)

Yes, friends, there's nothing like Van Heusen Oxford cloth shirts to make a gentleman of you. Whether you prefer button-downs, other collars, white or colors, see Van Heusen first. And buy. $5.

Baseballers Face State In Big Test Here Today

By BILL KING

Today is do or die day for the Carolina Tar Heels.

Coach Walt Rabb's gallant baseballers have battled right down to the proverbial wire in the Atlantic Coast Conference, and today they face the biggest test of the season against the State Wolfpack in Emeson Stadium at 3 o'clock.

Carolina's 8-4 conference record is a good one—but only a win today will keep them in the running for the ACC title. Then they'll have to win a makeup game with Maryland in the regular season finale to gain a tie for first place in the conference.

Meanwhile, league-leading Duke will view this afternoon's affair with keen interest. The Dukes have finished their regular season play, turning in a card that shows 10 victories and four defeats—good enough for top birth in the ACC, for a few days anyway.

The Tar Heels now trail Duke by one game. Two victories would give them an identical 10-4 conference mark and necessitate a playoff with the Blue Devils for the right to represent the ACC in NCAA competition.

But the Tar Heels are not thinking about playoffs at this point. Coach Rabb will have to throw everything he's got at State and Maryland and worry about a playoff later.
