Bob Young And Truman Moore Win Achievement Awards

Parker And Abernethy Awards Are Announced

By MANLEY SPRINGS

Robert Terry Young of Asheville has been awarded the John J. Parker Jr. Medal for Unique Leadership in Student Government according to an announcement made yesterday by Sam Magill of the office of Student Affairs. Truman Ellinwood Moore of Myrtle Beach, S. C., received the Ernest H. Abernethy prize in Student Publications Work.

The Parker Medal is given annually by Judge and Mrs. John J. Parker in memory of their son, John Johnston Parker, Jr., class of 1937 (who rendered distinguished and sacrificial leadership as president of the Student Council in one of the critical years in the history of Student Government.)

This medal is awarded by a special committee appointed by the President of the University to that member of the graduating class who has demonstrated most clearly the "highest qualities of leadership in perpetuating the spirit of honor and the process of student self-government."

The Abernethy Prize was established in 1941 by Ernest H. Abernethy, class of 1922, of Atlanta, Georgia. It is an annual award of a plaque and fifty dollars in cash, which is to be presented to the student who is adjudged by a committee to have done the "most distinctive work during the current year in the field of student publications."

Bob Young is past president of student government and is a member of the Order of the Old Well, Order of the Holy Grail, and Order of the Golden Fleece. He has been a member of the Student Party for four years and the student legislature for three. During his freshman year he was elected president of the Freshman Fellowship.

He was vice chairman of the Carolina Forum Treasure of the YMCA, class president during his sophomore year.

Carse Replaces Reibel

James (Skip) Carse, a 1957 graduate of the Yale Divinity School has been named as the new associate secretary of the YMCA to replace John D. Reibel who recently vacated that position.

Carse will take over the post effective July 1, at which time he will assume and share responsibilities for YMCA and YWCA activities on the UNC campus with Claude C. Shotts, General Secretary and Ann E. Queen, YWCA director.

The position of associate secretary includes supervision of: freshman camp and freshman groups; house discussion and study groups; community programs as the hospital and youth centers; and those groups and individuals interested in worship programs.

A native of Evanston, Illinois, Carse did undergraduate work at Northwestern and Ohio Wesleyan Universities before entering the Yale Divinity School. He majored in English and participated in varsity football, wrestling and track.

The 24-year-old associate secretary, as a graduate student at Yale, held a similar position to the Y-post as Graduate Secretary of the Yale Christian Association. His duties and capacities were similar to those which he will be expected to fulfill as associate secretary here.

4 Juniors, Graduate, 3 Honoraries Selected

In the early morning hours, five co-eds and three honoraries were tapped into the Valkyries, the highest honorary organization for women on the University campus. In the secret pre-dawn ceremonies traditional to Valkyrie tappings, these women were recognized for their development of the ideals of character, scholarship, leadership, sound judgment, creativity, service, and inspiration to others.

Those being so honored were: Misses Frances Ellen Reynolds, sophomore religion major from Newton; Dorothy Byrne Pressly, junior psychology major from Raleigh; Adelaide Lucinda Holderness, junior religion major from Greensboro; Constance Elizabeth Whittaker, junior English major from Whittier, California; Lydia Ann Moody, graduate student in education, from Siler City; Anne Queen, associate director of the YWCA, from Chapel Hill and Canton; Georgia Hicks Faison, head reference librarian (retiring), from Chapel Hill and Clinton; and Elizabeth Louanna Kemble, dean of the School of Nursing, from Chapel Hill.

Citations read to the tappees were:

MISS REYNOLDS: "... One who is recognized for her numerous and meaningful contributions to many areas of Carolina life. As a person, her genuineness, spontaneity, and deep source of strength have permeated her relationship; making a decided impact on all who know her. Her influence and degree of service have been particularly felt in the work of the Campus Christian Council, the Lutheran Church, and the Woman's Athletic Association, where she has put into action the ideals for which she stands."

MISS HOLDERNESS: "... Recognized for the high ideals which she has manifested in her daily life, her eagerness to serve the campus, and her co-operative spirit. An active interest and enthusiasm have been shown in her participation in the YWCA, her sorority, and the Honor Council. Her self-giving and gracious spirit (see VALKYRIES, page 3)

Miss Dorothy Pressly Is 1957 Winner Of Jane Craige Gray Memorial Award

By EDITH MACKINNON

Miss Dorothy Pressly is the 1957 winner of the Jane Craige Gray Memorial Award.

In a ceremony held Sunday night in the Morehead Planetarium, Miss Pressly was announced the recipient of the coveted award made by Beta Chi chapter of Kappa Delta sorority.

Given in memory of Mrs. Gordon Gray, a Kappa Delta alumna, the award is presented as a tribute to the ideals which she exemplified. Miss Pressly is the fourth UNC coed to be honored in this way.

University Vice-President William D. Carmichael made the presentation to Miss Pressly, who was chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership and character. Miss Katherine Carmichael, Dean of Women, spoke on the significance of the award and the qualities for which Miss Pressly was selected.

A reception in honor of the recipient followed the presentation. The receiving line included Miss Pressly, Dean Carmichael, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Pressly, William Carmichael, Mrs. Kay Kyser, Kappa Delta Alumnae Advisor, and Miss Edith MacKinnon, Kappa Delta President.

The Raleigh junior has had a long record of leadership and honorary positions during her college career. A graduate of Peace College in Raleigh, Miss Pressly served as president of the junior class, vice-president of the day students, and president of the Honor Court.

Named "Miss Peace" in her senior year, she was also selected by the faculty as the outstanding member of the senior class and elected to membership in Phi Theta Kappa, the junior college Phi Beta Kappa.

Since transferring to UNC, Miss Pressly has been elected secretary of the student body and social chairman of the junior class. A member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority, she has served as pledge song leader and corresponding secretary of the group.

Other extra-curricular activities on the UNC campus have included positions as dormitory representative to Women's Residence Council and representative to Graham Memorial Board of Directors. Along with Miss Jackie Aldridge, Miss Pressly was chosen as the UNC exchange student to Sarah Lawrence College.

A sociology major, Miss Pressly hopes to work in the field of vocational counseling and guidance following graduation.

Day Of Reckoning For ROTC Unit Concluded

A day of reckoning came to members of Air Force ROTC Detachment 590 Thursday in the person of a Federal Inspection Team from AFOTC Headquarters at Maxwell AFB, Alabama.

Federal Inspection, which is one of the major events of the AF-ROTC here each year, is designated to determine whether ROTC units around the area and country are satisfactorily accomplishing the task assigned them.

Most of the drill sessions after Christmas each year are devoted to the proper execution of the program for Federal Inspection. The troops are primed and expected to be at their best for the occasion.

For basic and first year advanced cadets, this is probably the most important event of the year. Seniors forego the spit-and-shine awe of the inspection, however, and look forward to June 4 in the Forest Theater when they receive their commissions in the USAF.

The Federal Inspection team this year was led by Inspector-in-Chief Colonel S. L. Crosthwait. His staff included Lt. Col. Dolan and Major Herron during the tour of the detachment.

Inspection ceremonies were held during the regular drill period Thursday on Fetzer Field. The actual inspection was preceded by a cadet briefing Wednesday morning.

Following the individual inspection of cadets, a review was received by Col. Crosthwait. With him on the reviewing stand were members of his staff; the local detachment staff officers; Dean Johnson of the General College; Gen. (Ret.) F. C. Shepard, UNC Military Adviser; and the Angel Squadron led by Miss Pat Dillon.

At the conclusion of the scheduled review, the award-winning UNC Drill Team presented a series of precision movements under the command of Capt. C. R. Harrington.

The day was punctuated with a thunderous roar of relief and approval when official announcement was made that drill had been concluded for Detachment 590 until next year, same time, same place.

Oppenheimer Named Asst. Attorney General

Student Body President Sonny Evans has announced the appointment of Jerry Oppenheimer to the post of Assistant Attorney General.

Oppenheimer will assist Attorney General Sonny Hallford as one of the top functionaries in the president's cabinet and will act in a capacity to investigate and prosecute all offenders of the constitution as well as assist and represent the president under the campus constitution.

Oppenheimer, who is a rising junior from Birmingham, Alabama, was welcomed to the new office by both Hallford and Evans who looked to him for substantial accomplishments and contributions to student government.

Said President Evans upon making the appointment late last week:

"Because of the possible expansion of the Attorney General's office, it is essential that we have an individual of top caliber and unquestionable ability to assist Sonny Hallford in his work. "Jerry has been recognized by the Golden Fleece, the Grail and the Old Well for his leadership and service on campus, and I have the utmost confidence in his capabilities and interest in doing an outstanding job."

In addition to his recognition by campus honoraries, Oppenheimer was recently elected president of the Old Well and has chaired and organized the 1957 Campus Orientation Committee, which is responsible for presenting an introductory program to the incoming freshman class next year.

He has been active in the student Legislature and is a member of Zeta Tau social fraternity. Welcoming his new assistant to office, Attorney General Hallford said yesterday:

"I think we are indeed fortunate to have a person of Jerry's caliber and integrity to serve in this position. Jerry has proven his capabilities and I feel we can make great strides next year in compiling statutes of past years and examining other areas related to the constitution. "I am looking forward to the work at hand with such an able assistant as Jerry," he concluded

Oppenheimer School Of Pharmacy Recognizes Students

Jerry Oppenheimer, rising senior from Birmingham, Ala., was elected president of the Order of the Old Well Thursday during the initiation of 63 students into the honorary organization.

The business administration major is also a member of the Order of the Golden Fleece, the Order of the Grail, Zeta Beta Tau fraternity, and Chairman of the 1957 Campus Orientation Committee.

Other officers of the honorary are John Kerr, vice-president, and Benny Thomas, secretary-treasurer. Sonny Hallford, Kelly Maness, and Charlie Tompkins were chosen as members of the Executive Board, with Gene Whitehead and Jim Preston as alternate members.

The Order of the Old Well was founded here in 1949 for the purpose of recognizing and honoring campus service, and accomplishment on a point basis. Whereas the Golden Fleece, the Valkyries, and the Grail select their honorees on an intangible appraisal basis, the Old Well honors those juniors and seniors, both men and women, who achieve at least a certain minimum number of points.

Eleven awards and honors were presented last night to outstanding students of the School of Pharmacy here.

The awards were presented in connection with the first meeting this school year of the students branches of the N.C. Pharmaceutical Assn. and the American Pharmaceutical Assn.

Announced as recipients of the awards by Dean E. A. Brecht were the following:

Counselors To Meet Tonight

Jerry Oppenheimer, Chairman of the Campus Orientation Committee announced yesterday that Men's Orientation counselors will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in Gerard Hall.

George Ragsdale, Chairman of the Honor Council, will address the group, Oppenheimer said. He added that the meeting is compulsory and that "no counselor can adequately fulfill his duties unless he is present at the meeting tonight."

An important portion of the program will be the presentation of the orientation week schedule which will be explained and outlined for all members of the spring orientation program.

Oppenheimer requested that everyone be punctual in order that necessary business be completed and the meeting concluded at the earliest possible time.

Orientation counselors will be responsible for instructing and welcoming the Freshman class of 1957 to the campus. They instruct and present the Carolina Campus and Honor Codes to incoming students.

plaque was presented to Donald Joseph Miller of Raleigh selected as the outstanding graduating student by a student committee. He also received the Key to the Outgoing President of the pharmacy student body.

The two Merck Awards, consisting of two useful reference books, were presented for noteworthy achievement to Renus Edgar Rich Jr. of Morganton and Gerald Kelly Harrington of Sanford.

The Bristol Award in the form of a medical dictionary was presented for noteworthy achievement to Charles Peter Copes of Charlotte.

The Pharmacy Senate Award, a gold cup, for loyalty and service was presented to Maurice Edward Underwood of Wilmington as selected by a committee of students and faculty.

The Rho Chi First Year Award for highest scholarship during the freshman year was won by Miss (See PHARMACY, Page 3)
