Tom Lambeth Named Acting GM Director

By PRINGLE PIPKIN

Thomas Willis Lambeth was named to replace Miss Linda Mann as the acting director of Graham Memorial, Sam Magill, director of student activities, announced yesterday.

The announcement came after Lambeth had been recommended by the Graham Memorial Board of Directors for the position, and the recommendation had been approved by Chancellor Aycock.

Action on naming a permanent director was postponed pending an informal review of the Graham Memorial situation by the incoming Chancellor Aycock, according to Magill.

Still being actively considered for the position are: William Rion, James Burgoyne, Charlie Gibson and Chester A. Berry.

Magill went on to say that the hiring of a permanent GM Director must wait until the role which the student will play in the future has been decided by the incoming Chancellor Aycock.

The incoming Chancellor is expected to begin work on this project in the early summer. He is expected to determine the advisability of hiring a permanent director, his status in the University, and the prospect of getting a larger student union building.

All the various aspects of GM program will be reviewed.

During the past twenty-five years there have been 15 acting directors, Jim Wallace held the position for the longest time, 1953-56.

Student Body president Sonny Evans said that the question was originally raised about the status of the student union when the GM Board of Directors began to try to find a permanent director.

Tom Lambeth, who will assume his duties the first of June, will enter the graduate school to study history. This year he will graduate from UNC after majoring in history.

During the past year Lambeth was a member of the Golden Fleece, the President of Graham Memorial Activities Board, an active member of the Student Party, a member of the Old Well and the Holy Grail.

"Tom's experience as a student here in running the Graham Memorial program, and his recognized abilities make him a capable person to guide the GM program until we (See LAMBETH, Page 3)

Rush Rules Announced For Summer

Rules To Apply Till Start Of Orientation

Summer rush rules for the 24 social fraternities on campus have been announced by Jerry Oppenheimer, chairman of the Interfraternity Council Court.

The rules will apply from the end of this spring semester until the beginning of orientation September 12.

Summer rushing is to be informal and the rules will affect only those men who have not attended the university during a formal rush period, according to Oppenheimer.

"During the summer the above mentioned men may not eat, sleep, or drink in a fraternity house, nor may a fraternity or individual fraternity member spend money for the entertainment of such men either in Chapel Hill or the surrounding areas", Oppenheimer said.

Penalty for infraction of these rules will be suspension of rush privileges for a period to be decided upon by the I.F.C. Court.

The I. F. C. adopted these regulations May 13; they will be enforced by the summer I.F.C. Court. Copies of the rules will be sent to each chapter, and it should be re-emphasized that the fraternities are expected to keep within the spirit as well as the letter of these regulations, according to Oppenheimer.

Old Well Pix

Jerry Oppenheimer, recently elected president of the Old Well, said yesterday that Old Well pictures are now available in 306 South Building.

He urged all recent initiates to stop by Dean Mackie's office to pick them up, reminding them that the pictures have been paid for from initiation fees.

Editors Meet Here

Tar Heel newspaper editors will meet here this weekend for the eighth annual North Carolina Editorial Writers Conference.

The conference will bring together the state's top newspaper representatives for a series of panel talks, a critique of editorial pages and a business session.

Highlighting the session held yesterday was a panel discussion last night on the topic, "Three Years After the May 17 Supreme Court Decision—What Next in North Carolina."

FOR YWCA HANDBOOK

Y To Have Co-editors

It was recently announced by the YWCA that Miss Mary Moore Mason and Miss Martha Fortune will serve as co-editors for the YW handbook which will go out this summer to all of next year's incoming coeds.

This is the first time for several years that the YW has had a handbook. According to Miss Mason, the Y feels that other campus handbooks do not have the space to give the incoming coeds the picture of all activities that the Y sponsors and consequently the coeds arrive on this campus with little or no idea of what the YW's role for them is on the campus.

The handbook, according to the editors, will contain information about what each committee of the Y does. In the back of the handbooks will be detachable interest preference cards which the girls can mail into the Y. This, according to Miss Fortune, will enable the Y cabinet members to know what girls are interested in working with them in their phase of Y work. It will also enable the Y to work with the incoming girls on a more personal basis.

Both editors are members of the Y cabinet. Miss Fortune serves as Publications Board representative, and Miss Mason as publicity chairman.

Miss Fortune is from Brevard and is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. Miss Mason is from Roanoke, Va., and is a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

Progress Made Toward Partial Disarmament

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Harold E. Stassen yesterday reported fresh progress toward an East-West agreement on partial disarmament.

"There is no question that we are closer to agreement on a first step, a small cut in armaments, than we were when I was here at Easter time," the administration's disarmament chief said upon his arrival by plane from London.

Negotiations with Russian representatives have been going on in the British capital for the better part of nine weeks. British, French and Canadian officials are

9 Appointed To Evans' Cabinet

Nine members of the presidential cabinet were named recently by Student Body President Sonny Evans.

Named to assist the president in an advisory capacity during Brooks, Ralph Cummings, Whit the coming year were: John Whitfield, David Biren, Al Alphin, Carolyn Wisler, Betty Huffman, Sarah Van Weyk and Gerry Boudreau.

Upon announcement of his cabinet appointments, Evans said:

"Each individual realizes the potentialities of the Cabinet as the executive arm of the president and I am certain that their active participation next year will be of great assistance to Student Government."

Renovation Is Also On Priority Listing

Bills to authorize issuance of $10 million in bonds introduced in the General Assembly Wednesday would provide for two new buildings and a renovation on the campus of the University here.

Two bills were introduced simultaneously in the House and Senate by Sen. Nelson Woodson of Rowan and Rep. B. T. Falls of Cleveland, chairmen of the Senate and House Finance Committees.

The money raised from the proposed bond issue would provide $1,150,000 for a pharmacy building, $222,000 to remodel Howell Hall, and $1,125,000 for a physics building.

Tentative plans here call for the School of Journalism to take over the present pharmacy building, when the proposed building for the School of Pharmacy is completed.

Elsewhere in the Consolidated University, State College in Raleigh would receive $262,000 for utilities, repairs and expansions, and $1,125,000 for a classroom building. Woman's College in Greensboro would get $1 million for a classroom building.

The remainder of the $10 million would be distributed among other state-supported institutions.

These projects are listed as priority in the legislation introduced Wednesday. The priority list was adopted by the Joint Appropriations subcommittee. Most of the projects listed in the bill are "must items," according to University officials.

Members of the Consolidated University administration here were not available for comment yesterday. Retiring Chancellor Robert House said he had no comment until the measure comes up for a vote.

The bonds provided for in the measure would be issued without a referendum on the question. They would be 20-year bonds.

The bond issue was recommended recently by Gov. Hodges in order to make 10 million in surplus state funds available for pay raises for teachers and state workers.

The bills were referred to respective finance committees following their introduction.

MARY ALYS VOORHEES
... editor of weekly

Miss Voorhees Will Head Summer Paper

Mary Alys Voorhees, journalism major from Raleigh, has been selected editor of the Summer School Weekly by the Summer School Activities Board.

The paper will be published weekly on Fridays beginning June 7 and concluding with the end of second session summer school, Sam Magill, director of student activities, will serve as advisor.

"The purpose of the weekly is to give an overall view of summer school life including campus organizations, social activities and sports.

"Not only do we want to just print the news but also to present it in an interesting and entertaining manner," Miss Voorhees said.

The editor, a rising senior, has had considerable experience with publications in the past. At UNC she has been social editor for the Alumni Assoc. Very Pleased

Members of the Senior Class Alumni Committee are greatly pleased with the response of classmates to their solicitations to join the University's Alumni Association. They report some 300 seniors as having already accepted the Association's invitation to become regular dues-paying members at the special first-year rate of $1.

Designed as a first step in orienting and organizing the "Alumni Class of '57," the committee enlisted the active help of nearly 50 additional seniors as they undertook to solicit personally every classmate in the on-campus phase of enrollment just concluded.

Seniors living in town and those away from Chapel Hill this semester will be solicited via mail during the final week of school.

In their announcement of solicitation results to date, Co-chairmen "Pokey" McSorley and Luther Hodges, Jr. expressed gratitude (See ALUMNI, Page 3)

Veterans have been reminded by Gen. Shepard's office to fill out May applications before leaving school this semester.

6 Initiated By Matrix Society

Six members and one associate member were initiated into the Matrix Society Thursday evening in the Library Assembly Room.

The initiates included: Joy Brown of Myrtle Beach, S. C., outgoing president; Peg Humphrey of Richmond, Va.; Jackie Heathcock of Kannapolis; Joan McLean of Weaverville; Winifred Martin of Charlotte; Ruth Rush of Asheville; Dell Hoyle of Durham, associate member.

Mrs. Guion Johnson and Mrs. W. S. Caldwell of Chapel Hill, alumni of Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalism sorority, performed the initiation ceremony.

The club is primarily for women journalism students, but women outstanding in campus publications and planning to enter the field of journalism after graduation may be asked to join. The requirements are a B average in journalism and an overall C average scholastically.

Jackie Heathcock was elected president of the club for next year by acclamation. Other officers are to be elected in the fall.

Seniors, Look!

You'll need six cents worth of postage to mail those graduation invitations this year, seniors.

A three-cent stamp isn't sufficient postage to defray mailing charges for the bulky invitations, post office officials pointed out yesterday.

Outdoor Legislative Meeting Under Davie Poplar Ends Year

During an open-air session under Davie Poplar the Student Legislature Thursday night approved all of Student Body President Evans' appointments for student government positions except those for one committee.

The Legislature also passed two bills, both introduced by Bob Carter. One will add the business manager of the Carolina Handbook to the present membership of the publications board.

The second bill appropriated $10 to the Woman's Residence Council to pay its audit fee for the fiscal year 1956-57.

Carter said these bills correct "oversights" in previous legislation. The two bills were passed by "special orders" which means they were brought to a vote at the same meeting at which they were introduced without passing through the ways and means committee.

The Legislature returned to President Evans his recommendations for the High School Honor System Committee, so he could give the matter further study.

The new key which Speaker of the Legislature Don Furtado tried to use to open the Hall of the Philanthropic Literary Society, the regular meeting place, would not work. The Legislature then met on benches near Davie Poplar.

Miss Julia Ann Crafer, chairman of the rules committee, reminded the legislators that they were only allowed one unexcused absence per session before they were unseated. Erwin Fuller asked if the Long Resolution was not due from the ways and means committee, but Speaker Furtado said the meeting was a special session, so the bill will not be released until next fall.

Speaker Furtado named Tally Eddings to be the Student Legislature representative to the Carolina Quarterly and John Brooks to represent the Legislature on the Carolina Forum.

The appointments which were approved by the Student Legislature are: Summer School Men's Honor Council, Sandy Saunders (chairman), Everette James, Henry Harris, Craven Brewer, Douglas Clark, David Evans, and Jeff Hare. Nancy Turner will be the representative of the Nursing School on the Woman's Honor Council.

Andrea Stalvey will be the secretary-treasurer of the student body during the first session of summer school.

Members of the University Traffic Committee will be: Ralph Cummings (chairman), Andrea Stalvey, David Mathews, and Jenky Jenkins.

The Campus Traffic Board will be: Tom Overman, (chairman), Hugh Pritchett, Bill Kendall, Louis Terrell, Tom Poole, Norman Kantor, Charles Coley, Pat Gregory and Sarah Jane Shaw.

The Honor System Commission will have Charles Huntington as chairman. The other members are George Ragsdale, Glenn Pickard, Gary Cooper, Ken Hall, Mason Wilkins, Tucker Yates, David Evans, Hugh Patterson and Charles Ashford.

The remainder includes: Don Furtado, Dave Davis, Charles Pittman, Allan Pultz, Dick Robinson, Sue Atchinson, Doris Peter, Bobbi Madison, Sarah Van Weyk, Cindy Segraves and Betty Kell.

The members of the Victory Village Affairs Commission are: Al Alphin (chairman), Ernest Aus-

Founder's Day, Parties Mark End Of Semester

By SUE ATCHISON

MAY 15 was Founder's Day for the Alpha Delta Pi's. The occasion was celebrated with a buffet supper, attended by present actives, pledges and Chapel Hill alumni. The supper was followed with a short program which included a reading of the "Last Will and Testament" and the "Prophecy" for their graduating seniors.

THE ALPHA GAMMA DELTA's were busy yesterday selling the cakes and cookies that they and their alumni baked Thursday evening. The proceeds from the sale went to their altruistic project—the fight against cerebral palsy.

DURING THE PAST two weeks the Chi Omega's have been busy entertaining. On Sunday, May 5th, they gave a tea to honor the faculty and then later in the week they gave an appetizer party for all the new initiates of the sororities on campus.

TOMORROW MORNING the Delta Delta's are going to give a breakfast honoring their graduating seniors and members of their alumni.

A SENIOR FAREWELL party was given Wednesday evening by the new initiates of Pi Beta Phi for the graduating members. During the evening skits were presented by the undergraduate members and each graduating senior was presented with a silver Pi Beta Phi spoon.

THURSDAY NIGHT the Phi

Delta Theta's took a serenading tour around campus to serenade the girls pinned to their brothers. Those serenaded included: Beth Bule, Roberta Chapin, Susan Donald, Barbara Johnson, and a P ay Smith.

RECENT PINNINGS include: Barbara Herr to Glenn Holt; Pat Wilson a Pi Beta Phi, to Jim Carraway a Pi Kappa Phi; and Karen Hansen an Alpha Delta Pi, to Ken Clark.

WEDDING BELLS will soon be ringing for the following engaged couples: Sherry Puckett an Alpha Gamma Delta engaged to Bob Ralledge an, Alpha Kappa Psi and Bettina Jinnette engaged to Phillip Williamson.

Try-outs To Be Monday For Commencement Plays

Tryouts for two one-act plays which will be presented during Commencement Week, June 3, will be conducted in the Playmakers Theater Monday, it was announced yesterday.

Both plays have been produced on the Playmakers' stage in the past, the announcement said. Miss Page Williams' "The Spaceman Cometh" will repeat it's April performance with the same cast.

Parts will be auditioned for "Miss Carrie," by Miss Kit Singleton Monday afternoon. The play contains parts for five women and one man, the announcement further indicated.

5 Initiated By Honor Society

Five seniors and three graduate students were initiated into Kappa Tau Alpha, journalism honor society, Wednesday evening at the home of Dean Norval Neil Luxon of the School of Journalism.

Seniors elected are Joy W. Brown, Myrtle Beach, S. C.; Dorothy Coplan, New Bern; John W. Kilgo and Donald M. Seaver, Charlotte, and Carolyn H. Seyffert, New Castle, Pa.

Kilgo and Seaver hold the Gerald W. Johnson and Louis Graves Scholarships and Sanford of the Asheville Citizen-Times Scholarship this year.

Students must be in the highest ten per cent academically and must have at least an over-all B average and a B plus in journalism courses to be eligible for the honor.
