

UNC Booters Blank Roanoke, 3-0 In Season's Opener

Boxing Meeting Set

An organizational meeting of the new Carolina Boxing Club will be held at 221 Venable Hall tonight at five o'clock.

It is not to be held in the form of a tournament or a series of eliminations but rather as a clinic to teach interested students some of the fundamental moves and countermoves of the sport. Emphasis will be so placed that no previous experience is necessary.

The ultimate aim of the club is to teach the members sufficient proficiency so that they will be able to box for enjoyment without any danger of injury.

DAD'S DAY MUST BE INSPIRING

Let's have Dad's Day every Saturday.

It seems as though Dad, for the last two years anyway, has a tremendous influence upon the exploits of the Carolina football team.

You who were here one year ago remember that, of the two games the Tar Heels won, (later taken away) one of them came against Maryland, 34-7, on Dad's Day, Saturday, in Kenan Stadium, you watched the Tar Heels celebrate Dad's Day with a 26-0 win over the Clemson Tigers.

It's a pretty safe bet that the fathers sitting behind the Carolina bench gave the Tar Heels a badly-needed shot in the arm. It is things of this nature which inspire athletes to exceed themselves in performance.

CLEMSON GAME—A GREAT TEAM EFFORT

Carolina's victory Saturday was of vital importance, not from the won-lost standpoint so much as the tremendous moral boost which it should give the club. After many weekends of frustration the boys simply "found" themselves and went out and played the kind of ball which this club is capable of playing.

It was a team effort from the word go. The powerful esprit de corps seemed to pervade the Carolina team. There was no loafing and no "scared football" as Jim Tatum described the N. C. State game.

It would be impossible to say that the offense or the defense was the instrumental factor in the victory because it was a beautifully-blended mixture of both that gave Carolina its first official victory since 1955.

To this writer, there seemed to be a sudden realization on the part of the players that "maybe we ain't so bad after all." There was certainly no element of the defeatist attitude which seemed prevalent in the State game.

NAVY, ONE OF COUNTRY'S BEST

This Saturday Carolina will face one of the best teams in the country, Navy. The Middies are always strong and this season they supposedly have one of the finest groups ever assembled at Annapolis.

Naturally, Navy will get the favorite nod, but should Carolina perform as it did against Clemson, the Sailors will be in for a long aft-noon.

There is no reason why the Tar Heels should not provide Navy with formidable opposition. Navy certainly will not be looking for any easy time for two main reasons. 1—Carolina's trouncing of Clemson and 2, State's almost unbelievable rout of Maryland.

The State-Maryland fiasco, in fact, has made a good many football experts sit up and take notice. It should help Carolina tremendously in the weekly football poll. We could go on all day about State walloping Maryland and Maryland playing great against Texas A&M, etc., etc.

Suffice to say, by now, most of the experts realize that the Tar Heels were playing a pretty good ball club when they met State in the season's opener. The poll boys rely heavily upon such comparisons in making their weekly ratings, if ratings mean anything to you.

COACH BOB FETZER, A GREAT CONTRIBUTOR

Fans who arrived a bit early at the game got to see the Atlantic Coast Sportswriters Association's 'Service To Sports Award' presented to one of the finest men who ever had a part in the athletic program at Carolina, Coach Bob Fetzer.

And what an important role Coach Bob played in the building of our fine program. His contributions are too numerous to enumerate. The personable ex-athletic director and track coach was, to say the least, one of the builders of Carolina athletics.

Association President Frank Spencer of the Winston-Salem Journal and a long-time friend of Coach Bob, made the presentation just before the game. Spencer called it his greatest pleasure in his 35 years of covering sports in North Carolina.

"The award," Spencer said, "is presented to you for your many years of unselfish and distinguished service to amateur athletics. It is an award which you richly deserve."

On behalf of the Carolina student body, we salute you Coach Bob Fetzer.

HOW CAROLINA OPPONENTS DID

A quick rundown on how Carolina's opponents did Saturday.

In the Atlantic Coast Conference, things went about as expected, the exception being State's very impressive 48-13 trouncing of Maryland. South Carolina took an easy 26-0 win over Wofford College and the Gamecocks are now 1-1 for the season.

Duke continued its dominance of the ACC by solidly trouncing the Virginia Cavaliers, 40-0 and the Wake Forest Deacons opened the season by dropping a 27-0 decision to Florida.

Outside the conference, Navy knocked off Southern Conference contingent William and Mary, 33-6, and Auburn pulled a big upset by downing Tennessee, 7-0 and Miami did not play.

CRIST, A HAPPY WARRIOR

Notes from the Clemson game.

The word is that the happiest fellow around Saturday night was third string end Takey Crist who was on the receiving end of a 55-yard pass play from sophomore quarterback Jack Cummings that led to Carolina's final touchdown. Cummings has seen action in both games and has established himself as a real comer.

Busiest man on the field Saturday was halfback Daley Goff who carried the leather 13 times and gained 48 yards. Goff was instrumental in setting up the Tar Heels' first score.

Co-Captain Buddy Payne said after the game that it was one of the finest team performances he's seen since he's been at Carolina. Payne, incidentally, played one of the finest games of his career.

One interested spectator in the press box was basketball coach Frank McGuire and right beside him was one of the most famous of all basketball experts, Clair Bee.

Carolina used three men in its point after touchdown attempts. Phil Blazer made one of two, Bob Shupin one of one and Ray Butler missed his only attempt.

Big Four Roundup

Carolina Gridders In Spirited Scrimmage

Chapel Hill, N. C., Sept. 30 (AP)—Spirit ran high in the Carolina Football camp today as the Tar Heels began work for Saturday's game here with Navy.

The squad came out of the 26-0 win over Clemson without injuries. Coach Jim Tatum seemed pleased over the performance of fullback Ed Lipski and the work of the line.

"Our defense was the best it's been since I've been at Carolina," Tatum said.

Quarterback Nelson Love worked out in full gear today for the first time since injuring an ankle in the season opener against North Carolina State.

Durham, Sept. 30 (AP)—Coach Bill Murray is proud of the way his Duke Blue Devils have played in racking up lopsided wins over South Carolina and Virginia.

Murray told newsmen at a luncheon today he was "greatly pleased" with the offensive fireworks his Blue Devils have put on.

He said, "We've had good blocking and our runners have been just great. The team has given such a good showing only because of hard work and self-discipline."

He praised Wray Carlton, who scored Duke's first four touchdowns against Virginia as "a most exceptional ball player."

The Blue Devils worked out under the lights tonight to begin preparations for the homecoming game with Maryland Saturday in Duke Stadium. Missing the work because of injuries were halfback Eddie Rushton, nursing a bruised hip; end Bert Lattimore, with a sprained ankle; and halfback Bunny Bell, who suffered a wound on his leg.

Ford Vs. Spahn In First Game

NEW YORK (AP)—Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees yesterday named Whitey Ford to face Milwaukee's Warren Spahn in a battle of lefthanders for the opening World Series tilt at Yankee Stadium tomorrow.

Ford won 11 and lost 5 games this year. Spahn won 21 and lost 11 for the Braves. He was named by Manager Fred Haney Sunday.

The Yankees' two question mark cripples, Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron, were still undecided whether they would be able to play.

Skowron, slugging first baseman who has been idle since Sept. 13 with a sacroiliac ailment, said he felt much better but wouldn't know until later in the day whether he would be okay. He planned to take batting practice.

Mantle, bothered by shin splints, said, "I feel about the same." It appeared almost certain he would start in centerfield.

Defending ACC Swim Champs Begin Practice October 14

With five All-Americans returning, Carolina's 1958 swim team eyes another championship season. Coach Pat Eary has announced that official practice begins October 14th. Eary who replace veteran coach Ralph Casey, is no newcomer to the swimming world. For the past five years he has coached the state high school champions from Greensboro.

The ACC champs will feel a heavy loss from All-American Charlie Kreep, but with freshman star Paul Wachendorfer they should retain their title. Wachendorfer was third in the National AAU Championships, and Carolina's relay team was fourth in National Competition.

Lettermen returning are: Bill Zickgraf and Kelly Manus in the sprints, Kit Mercer and Jim Goad in the breaststroke events, Mac Mahaffy and Bob Turner in the butterfly events, Brent Nash in the backstroke, Tony Schiffman and Jim Atwater in the distance events, and divers Ned Meekins and Dick Cashwell. Ted Smith Gets Two Tallies For Winners

By JIM PURKS

A pep talk prediction came true yesterday as Carolina's varsity soccer team hustled to a well-earned, 3-0 victory over Roanoke College.

The Tar Heel booters, deadlocked 0-0 with Roanoke at the end of the half, opened the floodgates early in the third quarter on a goal by Ted Smith and dominated play from then on.

Before the game, Coach Marvin Allen told his starting eleven that if they hustled and beat the Roanoke players to the ball that they would run Roanoke into the ground and win.

No truer words were ever spoken as the Carolina squad, showing no ill-effects of the two-day lay-off from Friday's practice, hustled during the entire game, often leaving the trickier but slower Roanoke players behind in the mud.

The Tar Heels "traded punches" with Roanoke during the first half, each team having several good scoring chances, but not being able to capitalize on them.

Carolina had a good chance to score midway in the second quarter when a penalty kick for pushing was called against Roanoke. Fullback Ted Youhana made the penalty kick, but a nice save by Roanoke goalie Harry Clegg prevented Carolina from taking a one goal lead.

In the second half, two new faces to Carolina's forward line provided the scoring punch which vanquished Roanoke.

Makes The Switch

Ron Marquette, senior from Pennsville, N. J. saw his first real action at halfback for Carolina against Clemson Saturday. Marquette was switched from quarterback before the season began and performed well against the Tigers.

Green, and Charlie Pittman will round out the team.

The Blue Dolphins are headed this year by All-American Co-Captains Bill Roth and Walt Rose.
