

WEATHER

Sunny and somewhat warmer Tuesday and Wednesday. High Tuesday around 60 mountains, 60-65 elsewhere.

The Daily Tar Heel

TATUMISM

It's now threatening to creep over student government says the editor on page two.

VOL. LXV NO. 35 Complete Wire Service CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1957 Offices in Graham Memorial FOUR PAGES THIS ISSUE

Dr. Polgar Amazes, Amuses Over 800 In Memorial Hall

By DAVIS YOUNG

Dr. Franz Polgar entertained a crowd of over 800 last night in Memorial Hall with his amazing show entitled "Fun With the Mind."

Dr. Polgar is the world's foremost hypnotist and kept the crowd in complete suspense throughout his performance. He stated at the beginning of the show "Tonight you will witness something different, for it is as well known fact that we know little of the human mind."

"The purpose of my program is purely entertainment. I perform an travel alone and work entirely without stoges. If any one of you can prove that I am making use of any tricks, I will give you a personal check for $5,000.

"I sincerely believe that telepathy does exist and that it is the basic form of communication among animals."

One of his most trick popular tricks was taking he check with which he was being paid and giving in to a volunteer to hide in the audience. Then by use of what he termed "telepathy" he was able to find the object no matter where it was hidden.

Dr. Polgar had 16 people on the stage and thrilled the crowd with his ability to execute a "mass hypnosis." The volunteers were told to clasp their hands tightly and concentrate on what Polgar said.

Through this method he was able to hypnotize most of the 16. Those that didn't come under his power immediately, later were told to shake hands with Polgar, with took them into a state of trance.

While in this state of hypnosis the volunteers were convinced that they were doing anything from riding in an airplane to drinking vodka. The audience howled when Polgar had one of his subjects, unknown to him at the time, give a lively demonstration of Elvis singing "Hound Dog."

Polgar had his volunteers hunting for shoes that they were holding in their hands, playing pin ball machines, and searching for spunk. His power over the minds of those on the stage could not be doubted by anyone saw his convincing performance.

His acts were thoroughly enjoyed by the entire group. His versatility is hard to match and his showmanship is above reproach. An extremely enjoyable two hours, well worth one dollar.

SP Completes Slate For Fall Elections

Vaccine To Be Given At Gerrard Tomorrow, Friday Are Shot Dates

UNC Professor Is Recognized

University officials today announced a "convenient" on campus clinic for distribution of Asian flu vaccine with hopes that students would respond to the shots.

In another step to ward off any major Asian flu outbreak here, plans were disclosed to administer the vaccine between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m. Thursday and Friday at Gerrard Hall.

"We are doing this in an attempt to make it as convenient as possible and as time-saving as possible for students here," said University Physician E. M. Hedgpeth.

At the same time, Dr. Hedgpeth said some 2,000 doses of the vaccine will be available and urged "all students to avail themselves of this opportunity."

Free doses of the vaccine formerly have been offered at the infirmary, but student response to the shots fell far short of university expectations.

This new step, Dr. Hedgpeth asserted, could play an important role in protecting the student body against any major outbreak—assuming they appear for the shots.

In making the announcement today Dr. Hedgpeth warned against receipt of the vaccine by anyone allergic to eggs or chicken.

But he added, "I recommend all others to take the vaccine at this time, irrespective of the fact that they may have had recent colds or respiratory infections but are now free of fever."

Officials hoped that proximity of Gerrard Hall to classrooms and living quarters on campus would result in a big turnout for the vaccine.

Juniors, Soph, Frosh Officers Nominated Last Night At SP Meet

MARY LEGGET BROWNING

The Student Party met last night to complete their slate of candidates for the November elections. Vice-Chairman John Brooks presided in the absence of Chairman "Whit" Whitfield.

For the office of President of the Junior class, the group nominated Danny Lotz. For Vice-President, Leon Holt was nominated.

Connie Bernstein defeated Evelyn Moore for the nomination for Secretary of the Junior class. Charles Coley won over Ken Harris and Cynthia Lewis in the race for nomination for the office of Treasurer.

The candidate for the position of social chairman of the Junior class will be Carolyn Donnelly, who defeated Cynthia Lewis.

Harold O'Tuel was the nomination for President of the Sophomore class by acclamation. On the slate will be Caleb White for Vice-President of that class. The group selected Ann Morgan to run for the office of Sophomore Class Secretary.

Nominated for the office of Social Chairman of the Sophomore class was Betty Hobson. The office of Treasurer of this class has no nominee at present. The candidate will be named by the Advisory Board.

The Student Party slate for the officers of the Freshman Class are as follows: President Lou Crowder, Vice-President, Charles Graham, Secretary, Bill Lamb, Treasurer, Joe Mendelson, and Social Chairman, Polly Wooten.

For six one-year seats in Town Men's district I, no nominations were made. Bob Furtado gained nomination for a one-year seat from Town Men's district II by acclamation.

In a field consisting of Jim Holmes, Bill French, Kenny Freeman, Harold Donagan, Parry White and Jim Johnson, Holmes, Donagan, White and Johnson were nominated for one-year seats in the Student Legislature.

Kenny Friedman and Harry Gellis were nominated to six months seats.

In Dorm Men's III, Tommy Kearns was nominated for a six-month seat by acclamation.

In a field with Charlie Graham, Ralph Cummings, and Bill Lamb, Cummings won the nomination for a one-year seat from Dorm Men's IV.

Bill Miller was nominated for a one-year seat from Town Men's IV by acclamation.

Charlie Graham was nominated for a one-year seat from Town Men's IV by acclamation.

For nomination for two seats for Town Women, Jeanie Margaret Meadows and Sandy Kedknocker were nominated.

Homecoming Plans Made

The University Club and GMAB are joining forces in an effort to make homecoming weekend the "biggest, bestest and mostest" the UNC campus has ever seen, according to Frank Inman, president of the University Club.

In keeping with the Carolina tradition of homecoming displays, dormitories and fraternity and sorority houses have been asked to set up a competitive display for the Carolina-Tennessee weekend.

Trophies will be presented to the dormitory and fraternity or sorority house with the best display. All displays will be judged between 9 and 12 noon Saturday.

Inman urged that an all-out effort be made by dorms and houses in fixing attractive displays.

Homecoming alumni of the University also will be cordially welcomed to the campus this weekend by GMAB and the University Club, with dancing, entertainment, prizes and refreshments scheduled.

A dance on Friday evening and a parade will be lead-off event. A homecoming queen will be selected at the dance in Woolen Gymnasium.

At Graham Memorial following the game prizes will be awarded to the alumnus who "came from farthest away from Chapel Hill." It was announced. Other prizes will go to the alumnus with the most children.

Still more will go to the former coed attending who is a member of the oldest class represented by a coed, and also a prize to the oldest alumnus attending.

Mrs. Meir will be provided by a "ceno" and Durward Jones of Chapel Hill will be master of ceremonies.

Fraternities and dormitories will as usual have exhibits on the occasion of homecoming, with the display depicting the impending game Saturday between Carolina and Tennessee.

Medical Staff Lauded By IFC

In recognition of the efforts of Dr. Hedgpeth and the University medical staff in caring for patients during the recent flu-like epidemic, IFC President Bill Redding yesterday expressed his appreciation in behalf of UNC's 24 social fraternities.

In an "open letter" to Dr. Hedgpeth, Redding said: "On behalf of the fraternities at the University of North Carolina I would like to express our appreciation to you and your staff for the job you did during the recent flu outbreak."

"The sincere concern and earnest effort that was shown by the infirmary staff in their daily visits to our houses and in their care of patients in the infirmary is indicative of the high professional integrity of the entire staff."

"We are all aware of your unselfish contributions and are very grateful for them."

Integration Mandate Appealed By Citizens

RALEIGH, Oct. 29 (AP)—A group of Greensboro-white citizens today took to the State Supreme Court their fight against integration in some of the city public schools.

They filed an appeal asking the high court to reverse a superior court ruling which upheld action of the Greensboro school board in assigning six negro students to previously all-white schools.

In Guilford County Superior Court, Judge L. Richardson Pryer dismissed an action brought by the white citizens.

Judge Pryer denied a petition for a temporary injunction which would have barred the admission of the Negroes pending the outcome of court action. At the same time he dismissed the group's appeal of the local board's action.

Both rulings came before the opening of the fall school term. The six negro students involved have been attending schools to which they were assigned since school opened.

The pupils reassigned from negro schools to the previously all white schools under the North Carolina pupil assignment law were: Harold McDuffie Davis, Elijah J. Herring Jr. and Russell Herring, all attending Gillespie Junior High School; Josephine Ophelia Boyd, the Senior High School; and Brenda Kay Florence and Jimmie B. Florence, both the Gillespie Elementary school.

The white citizens submitted six petitions one for each of the Negro students, and in each one asserted

Production Cast Named

The cast for "The Teahouse of the August Moon," the second production of the Carolina Playmakers, has been announced by Foster Fitz Simons, Associate Director of Dramatic Art.

"Teahouse" will be presented in Memorial Hall, November 15-17. It will replace the musical show generally produced by the Playmakers each year.

Heading the cast of 31 in this comedy of occupied Okinawa are William Smith, Durham, as Sakini; Kenneth Callendar, Greensboro, as Col. Purdy; Joe Dillard, Greer, S.C., as Capt. Fishy; and Sotsai Vanij Vanthana, Bangkok, Thailand, as Lotus Blossom.

Barbara Battle, of Miami, Florida, plays Miss Higa Jiga, the president of the Ladies League for Democratic Action. Her fellow members of the League are Edith Hinrichs, New York City; Frances Bell, Danville, Va.; Mary Ann Harvey, Sheffield, Ala.; and Hope Spargar, Seaside, N. Y.

Others in the cast include James Potter, Goldsboro, as Sgt. Gregor; Lucy Ann Dunlap, as the old woman; Anne Brooke, Staunton, Va., as the old woman's daughter; Anthony Harvey, Lynchburg, Va., as the ancient man; George Manasse, Durham, as Mr. Hoakida; David Smith, Burlington, as Mr. Omura; Oliver Bloomer, Wintaker, as Mr. Sumata; George Hill, Robinsville, as Mr. Sumata's father; William White, Chattanooga, Tenn., as Mr. Seiko; Sam Baker, Greensboro, as Mr. Keora; Gene Parsons, Landis, as Mr. Oshiro; and Robert Andrews, Durham, as Capt. McLean.

Villagers are Daryl Farrington, Short Hills, N. J.; Barbara Bounds, Chapel Hill; Dorothy Walters, Durham; Carolyn Myers, Raleigh; David Gore, Milledgeville, Ga.; Bill Hannah, Colonial Heights, Va.; Harvey Knox, Greensboro; and Bob Aldridge, Durham.

Applicants Asked For Study Grants

The Danforth Foundation will receive application for graduate fellowships until next January 31. These scholarships are designed specifically for senior men and recent graduates who are preparing for a career of college teaching.

The maximum annual grant for single men is $1,400 plus tuition and fees. Married men are awarded a maximum grant of $2,400 plus tuition and fees with an additional stipend of $350 for children.

Application from UNC students must be made through Dr. George Harper in the office of the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. Dr. Harper will recommend two to three of the applicants to the Danforth Foundation for further consideration.

A recipient of a Danforth grant is allowed to carry other scholarship appointments, such as Rhodes, Fulbright, Woodrow Wilson concurrently with his Danforth Fellowship.

DEAN OF WOMEN MEET

The North Carolina Association of Deans of Women will meet Thursday at Woman's College in Greensboro. Members of the Dean of Women's staff here will attend this annual meeting.

World In Brief

Abortion Trial

MONROE, N. C., Oct. 29 (AP)—Dr. A. E. Perry, Union County NAACP official charged with performing an abortion on a white woman, goes on trial here tomorrow before a jury to be selected from neighboring Anson County.

Dr. Perry's defense counsel, contending that racial feeling was involved, tried unsuccessfully yesterday to get the scene of the trial changed to neighboring Mecklenburg County.

Flu Exceeds

RALEIGH (AP)—Indications are that the current flu epidemic in North Carolina has already exceeded

DR. CHAMBERLIN TO SPEAK

Dr. Harrie Chamberlin of UNC will speak before the Medical Society of Robeson County in Lumberton Nov. 4.

Dr. Chamberlin is a faculty member of the Department of Pediatrics of the School of Medicine. His subject will be, "Pregnancy and Congenital Anomalies."

ATTENDING CONFERENCE

Dr. William Whyburn of UNC will be in Chicago, Ill. on Oct. 31-Nov. 2, taking part in a national conference on higher education problems in engineering and science.

Now vice president for graduate studies in research within the Consolidated University, Dr. Whyburn was formerly Kenan Professor and chairman in the Mathematics Department of the University at Chapel Hill.

ed in number of cases any previous outbreak in the state's history except for the record 1918 epidemic.

The State Board of Health reported this today as it estimated there had been a total of about 131,000 cases of "influenza like" disease in the state since mid-September.

Inmates Take Over

OLYMPIA, WASH., Oct. 9 (AP)—The State Department of Institutions said today it had a report that inmates with criminal records have taken over the maximum security ward at Eastern State Hospital, a mental hospital at Medical Lake in eastern Washington.

DEADLINE

Deadline for list of candidates running for campus election has been set for midnight, Friday. The political parties must have their lists turned in to Art Sobel or the student government office by this time.

STAFF MEETING

The Daily Tar Heel will hold an important staff meeting at 2 p. m. today. All students working on the newspaper now or those interested in working on it have been invited to attend this meeting.

TAR HEEL DEADLINE

The deadline for campus news is 3 p. m. on the day before publication is desired. All news must be submitted before 3 p. m. to insure publication.

Scholar Speaks At UNC Friday

Dr. Frederick L. Schuman of Williams College in Massachusetts, a foremost scholar in international relations, will speak here Friday evening at 8:30 p. m. Nov. 1 at the Louis R. Wilson Library assembly room on "How Many Worlds?" His subtitle is "The Human Prospect, 1957."

The public is invited to the lecture which is sponsored by the Graham Memorial Activities Board and Pi Sigma Alpha, political science fraternity.

Dr. Schuman is the Woodrow Wilson Professor of International Relations at Williams College. He formerly taught at the University of Chicago at Harvard, Cornell, and the University of California.

He is the author of eight books on political science subjects, the most prominent being "International Politics" and the most recent being one published this year, "Russia Since 1917."

GENTLEMEN—Just a little something to brighten the day. She's North Carolina's own Elaine Herndon, Tar Heel beauty of 1957.

Hurled Bomb Injures Ben-Gurion

JERUSALEM (AP)—A bomb hurled from the public gallery injured Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion and four of his ministers in parliament tonight.

Social Welfare Minister Moshe Shapira was wounded seriously. The others escaped with lesser hurts.

The bomb threw, identified as Moshe Ben Jacob Douek, a 25-year-old Jew, was seized in the gallery by a maintenance employe and held for police. Authorities said Douek was unbalanced mentally and had tried to burn an Israeli hospital a year ago.

Police quoted him as saying he had a grudge against youth Alyah an organization for the immigration, training and absorption of new immigrants in Israel.

Officials listed the casualties thus:

Ben-Gurion—superficial injuries from splinters in the hands and left leg.

Foreign Minister Golda Meir—slight splinter wound in the right foot.

Health Minister Israel Barzilai—scratches.

Communications Minister Moshe Carmel—broken bone in the left arm.

Social Welfare Minister Shapira—Wounds in the stomach, head and chest.

Shapira underwent surgery and received a blood transfusion. Parliament resumed its session with the police guard reinforced and public spectators barred—a little more than two hours after the bombing. Speaker Joseph Sprinzak told the deputies Ben-Gurion's condition was good.

The government radio station announced that the Prime Minister had been detained in a hospital, despite his insistence that he be permitted to go home.

Mrs. Meir was allowed to go home after treatment. Barzilai attended the resumed parliamentary session. Most of the wreckage had been cleared away by then.

The only signs of the incident were small holes blown in the walls and floor, where the bomb exploded about two feet from where Shapira and Carmel had been seated.

Douek was grabbed by a maintenance employe, Moshe Greenfeld, before police moved in. Greenfeld was making an inspection tour when the bomb exploded. Both Greenfeld and Douek were injured slightly in their scuffle in the gallery.

Ben-Gurion's condition was good. The government radio station announced that the Prime Minister had been detained in a hospital, despite his insistence that he be permitted to go home.

Mrs. Meir was allowed to go home after treatment. Barzilai attended the resumed parliamentary session. Most of the wreckage had been cleared away by then.

The only signs of the incident were small holes blown in the walls and floor, where the bomb exploded about two feet from where Shapira and Carmel had been seated.

Douek was grabbed by a maintenance employe, Moshe Greenfeld, before police moved in. Greenfeld was making an inspection tour when the bomb exploded. Both Greenfeld and Douek were injured slightly in their scuffle in the gallery.

Ben-Gurion's condition was good. The government radio station announced that the Prime Minister had been detained in a hospital, despite his insistence that he be permitted to go home.

Mrs. Meir was allowed to go home after treatment. Barzilai attended the resumed parliamentary session. Most of the wreckage had been cleared away by then.

The only signs of the incident were small holes blown in the walls and floor, where the bomb exploded about two feet from where Shapira and Carmel had been seated.

One Of 34 Tar Heels Are Hit

RALEIGH (AP)—A State Board of Health official estimated today that flu has struck one of every 34 Tar Heels—for a total of about 131,000 cases since around mid-September.

Already the number of cases in the current epidemic has probably exceeded any previous outbreak in state history except 1918's record-breaking epidemic, said Dr. Jacob Koomen, chief of communicable diseases control in the health department's division of epidemiology.

Dr. Koomen added that "there's no way of saying whether we're at the peak or not." He noted that the number of cases among school children had begun to decline in some counties, including Wake and Durham, but was still on the increase in other counties.

Dr. Koomen added that "there's no way of saying whether we're at the peak or not." He noted that the number of cases among school children had begun to decline in some counties, including Wake and Durham, but was still on the increase in other counties.

Dr. Koomen added that "there's no way of saying whether we're at the peak or not." He noted that the number of cases among school children had begun to decline in some counties, including Wake and Durham, but was still on the increase in other counties.

Dr. Koomen added that "there's no way of saying whether we're at the peak or not." He noted that the number of cases among school children had begun to decline in some counties, including Wake and Durham, but was still on the increase in other counties.

Dr. Koomen added that "there's no way of saying whether we're at the peak or not." He noted that the number of cases among school children had begun to decline in some counties, including Wake and Durham, but was still on the increase in other counties.