

Unfamiliar Violations Of Honor Code Defined

Four unfamiliar violations of the Honor Code—plagiarism, falsifying class rolls, collaborating on laboratory assignments and... were re-emphasized yesterday by Dave Evans of the Men's Honor Council.

Signing a student's name who is not in class may also implicate both the signer and the absent student should they be discovered and brought before the Honor Council.

(3) Collaborating on laboratory assignments is definitely a violation of the Honor Code.

Some departments have different regulations regarding lab preparations and assignments. Others allow students to help each other in the labs. Every student should be sure he knows what the regulations are concerning his own lab. Disregard for the regulations of any department is an Honor Code offense.

(4) In the library one must often use books on the closed reserve list and one may take the books out of the library by simply signing a check-out card. This leaves the way open for a student to sign a false name and keep the books, depriving other students of the use of them. This offense is an Honor Code violation.

Many students who appear before the Honor Council do not seem to realize these practices are offenses against the Honor Code, Evans said. The Men's Honor Council defined the violations as following:

(1) Plagiarism is the use of another author's word and ideas as your own without properly attributing them. Plagiarism does not have to be a word for word copy. It may consist of using the same thought patterns or ideas of a previous writer without indicating them as such. Whenever a student is in doubt, he should not hesitate to footnote his material.

(2) Falsifying class rolls is the signing of someone else's name or allowing someone else to sign your name to a class roll.

The Big Weekend Is Here

The big days have finally arrived and with a multitude of parties to keep Tar Heels on the go all weekend long. And if the weatherman doesn't get his dander up and try to "rain" over Germans, this weekend should be one long remembered.

Adding a touch of beauty to the dance last night were the 16 lovelies who were sponsors for the German Club officers and members. And among the court of beauties were seven UNC cods—Ginny Dawson of Snow Hill, Lilia Scott of Shreveport, La., Sara Williamson of Darlington, S. C., Joan Brooks of Greensboro, Susie Donald of Nassau, Bahamas, Anita Edwards of Raleigh and Carolyn Myers of Raleigh.

For music there was Les Elgart's orchestra plus the Negro Washboard Band which has been playing at Sea Island, Ga. But although the German dance last night was the highlight of the weekend, actually it ushered in a round of socials at the various fraternities on campus that promise a busy time for Carolina Gentlemen and their dates.

Sigma Nu Fun

As a beginning for Germans weekend the Sigma Nus became weatherwise Thursday afternoon when they entertained the Chi O's at an "Indian Summer" party at the house with Doug Clark and his "Tops" supplying the music.

The fun will continue tonight when the brothers and their dates party out at "The Shack" where the combined combos of Wellington Black and his "Globes" plus Frank Wright and the "Kool" Kats will be going full blast—as will the Sigma Nus!

ATO—Double Dividends?

Undoubtedly the ATOs will receive double dividends this weekend, as they have divided tonight's entertainment into two parties. From 8 p.m. until midnight a rock 'n' roll combo from Durham will be the cause of "a whole lotta shaking going on."

And following a two-hour "catch your breath" break, Willy Hargades and Co. will be featured until 6 a.m. for any ATOs who can still keep their eyes open until then.

Chi Psi Go Hawaiian

Hawaii comes to UNC today when the Chi Psi Lodge will be transformed into the sunny shores of Wakai for a Hawaiian party. Chi Psi and their dates will be dressed in appropriate costumes, and leis, flown from Hawaii, will be given to dates.

Bill Byers' combo will provide the music, which in all probability will not be Hawaiian. Sunday finds a progressive quintet playing for their concert party.

Delta Psi Dinner-Dance

In keeping with the dress finery of Germans, Delta Psi and their dates, after partying over at St. Anthony's Hall, will don their best for a dinner-dance over at the Castle in Durham this evening.

KA Socializing

A party Thursday at the KA House, where the brothers feted the Pi Phi, began the weekend fun for the KAs who will continue partying tonight at Beulah's. The "Burlington Symphony" will be on hand to present the music, and Sunday afternoon a combo party is the order of the day.

Sputnik II Led By UFO Friday

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 8 (AP)—A Smithsonian scientist reported sighting a faint object about 10 to 15 seconds ahead of Sputnik II this morning.

Dr. John S. Rinehart, assistant director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, said he saw an object resembling a faint star moving in advance of the much more brilliant satellite-rocket.

Dr. Rinehart said he saw both objects low in the western sky disappearing to the North.

Sputnik II was sighted by a moon-watch team on the roof of the Harvard Observatory as well as by other viewers in the East. It appeared low in the west due to its distance from Eastern seaboard.

No speculation was immediately available on the question—whether a mechanism set to return a chamber carrying the dog, Laika, back to earth might have gone wrong.

Such a mechanism might have been designed to eject the dog's chamber in a direction opposite to satellite's flight and thus slow it down for a return to earth. On the other hand, if tumbling motion of the rocket caused such a portion of the rocket to be thrust forward, it would become a satellite itself—traveling even faster than Sputnik II.

Astronomers Plan Sessions

The Chapel Hill Astronomy Club has scheduled four telescope viewing sessions at the Morehead Planetarium here, it was announced today by President Bill Baylis of Durham. The club will meet Sunday, November 10, and on November 18, 25 and December 2. The four sessions will last from 8 until 10 p. m. The club membership roll is open to any person in the state with an interest in astronomy.

UNC Cadet Group Will Honor U. S. War Dead

The UNC AFROTC Cadet Group is making final plans for the Armistice Day Retreat Ceremony which will sponsor Monday, the national holiday commemorating our war dead.

The ceremony will be held on the lawn between South Building and Wilson Library at 4:30 p.m. Cadet 1st Lt. Jerry Cole, cadet group adjutant, will introduce Director of Student Activities Sam Magill, who will give the invocation, and Dean Fred Weaver, who will be guest speaker.

Music for the ceremony will be furnished by the AFROTC Band.

OUTSTANDING CADET

The Cadet of the Month Award for October goes to Cadet Basic Harry A. Usher, selected from the freshman, sophomore and junior classes. Selection was made by a board of five cadet officers on Nov. 6, who used the interview-interrogation method of selection.

Cadet Usher, freshman from Northport, N. Y., qualified for the award by demonstrating outstanding knowledge of drill and Air Science and by showing ardent interest in the Air Force ROTC.

Cadet Usher, a member of the AFROTC Drill Squadron, has an "A" average in Air Science and

GAME ON TV

WUNC-TV, Channel 4, will present the film account of Saturday's football game between UNC and University of South Carolina from Kenan Stadium in Chapel Hill, Sunday at 9 p.m.

Games played away from Chapel Hill have been shown on film over Channel 4 but they have been coaches films of action only. The film account to be shown Sunday will be in its entirety.

Legion Official To Speak Here

The national commander of the American Legion will be present to participate in the dedication ceremonies of new Chapel Hill Post No. 6, Commander Charles W. Johnston of the local post announced today.

National Commander John S. (Jack) Gleason, Jr., will deliver the principal address at Hill Music Hall at 11 a. m. on Wednesday, Nov. 13. All legionnaires and the wives are invited to the Legion Building for a buffet lunch at noon.

The public is invited to Commander Gleason's address and to the dedication ceremonies. The dedication will be at 1 p. m.

Commander Gleason will speak in Charlotte Tuesday night and will arrive Chapel Hill Wednesday morning. His party will include: his pilot aide, Jim Parham; national publicity relation's Officer, Pat Ceile; North Carolina State Commander, Dud Robbins; State Adjutant, Nash McKee; and vice-commanders Charles Whitley, George Horner and Clayton White.

The public is invited to attend the open house at the Legion Building which is located just off the by-pass highway near the Patio.

Cardboard To Perform Today

Carolina's Cardboard section will try to take a little of the color away from the Band Day festivities in Kenan Stadium this afternoon. The men who spend much time planning these events have come up with some great tricks.

In tribute to band day, there will be a musical staff with the notes B D. A flip stunt will show a "Gamecock" becoming a "plucked hen". Other stunts to be presented are "Stop Light," "Beat The Bird," "Tar Heels" and a Christmas Seal.

The "Stop Light" was first used several years ago. The first flip shows the Red light and STOP S. C., then caution and finally GO UNC. There will be a map depicting North Carolina in blue with the Old Well in white, and South Carolina in red with their symbol black.

Ever meet a fanatic?

He's got just one thing uppermost in his mind. If he's looking for a job he's thinking only of pay or only of security. Reasonable men, however, weigh these and many other factors when they're evaluating career possibilities. Such factors as opportunity, challenging work, training, professional associates—things fanatics never bother to consider.

The Bell Telephone Companies have a booklet for reasonable men. It's called "Challenge and Opportunity." It's not the sort of thing that'll make a fanatic's eyes light up, but it ought to interest a thoughtful young man—whatever his college background—who is weighing career possibilities. Get it from your Placement Officer or send the coupon.

BUTTON-DOWN WINSOCK!!
College students love shirts with button-down collars, but we've never known exactly why. So Van Heusen's research department asked around and got the following answers.
L.B. Senior at Mass. Institute of Entomology. "The buttons keep things from crawling under your collar. Or, if things do crawl under your collar, the buttons prevent them from crawling out again."
D.D.E. Freshman at Horatio Alger Tech. "You get more buttons so I figure the shirt is more valuable. Is it?"
B.P. Junior at the Pate School of Tonsorial Arts. "They're cooler! Wisps of air blow through the little hole in the button and keep my clavicle at a refreshing temperature."
P.S. Senior of Makenoney's Correspondence School. "I'm a neurotic. With Button-down shirts I can wear one side buttoned and the other side unbuttoned, thereby giving the effect of wearing two types of shirt at one time. Oh help me, help me!"
Z.J. Graduate student at the T.S. Swinburne School of Beautiful Experiences. "Buttons remind me of pearls. Pearls remind me of oysters. Oysters remind me of indigestion. Indigestion reminds me of my doctor. My doctor reminds me of his nurse. She's gorgeous. Gorgeous! So the more buttons the better."
Yes, there's agreement that button-down collars are the thing. And there's further agreement that Van Heusen is the king of Button-down stylists. Just take a look at Van Heusen Oxfordians next time you're in the market for shirts. You'll see immediately why they're famous. $5.00.
