Urban Planning To Be Discussed

Carl Feiss, planning and urban renewal consultant of Washington, D. C., will be a visiting lecturer with the Department of City and Regional Planning of UNC this weekend.

A well known expert in city planning and urban renewal, Feiss will deliver lectures today at 11 a.m. in Alumni 407 and on Monday at 2 p.m. in the Morehead Faculty Lounge.

His Sunday topic is "New Horizons for Planning," and his Monday topic is "Urban Renewal in Practice."

Interested persons have been invited to attend the lecture series. Feiss was Chief of Planning for the Division of Slum Clearance and Urban Redevelopment of the Housing and Home Finance Agency for four years.

His many varied experiences include being Staff Advisor to the President's Committee on Housing Policies and Programs. In the latter capacity he was instrumental in the development of the Housing Act of 1954.

Service Group Is Organized

A new campus organization for town women has been formed to bring together women students who live off the campus.

At a recent meeting in Melver dormitory, a decision was made that the new Town Women's Association be a service organization. Its main function will be to serve the University and its members.

In this capacity, it will serve to bring the town women students into closer contact with the resident students, especially by participation in extracurricular activities.

The following officers have been elected:

President, Bryte Abernathy; vice president, Kay McGavran; secretary-treasurer, Beth Harris; WAA representative, Helen House; YWCA representative, Betty Harrell; and Independent Women's Association representative, Harriett Horney.

The organization will hold its third meeting Tuesday, Nov. 19, in Alderman dormitory at 7:30 p.m.

Petite Musicale Fetes Pianist

Miss Cara Kelson, pianist from New Zealand, now living in Durham, will be featured in the third Petite Musicale to be held in the main lounge of Graham Memorial Hall this evening at 8 o'clock.

Miss Kelson will perform the Schubert B Flat Sonata, Op. Post., the Mozart C Major Sonata, K. 330, and selections by Debussy, Lully, Dandrieu and Rameau.

Admission to this recital is free, and both students and townspeople have been cordially invited.

Petite Musicales are sponsored by the Graham Memorial Activities Board.

Colloquium To Hear Dr. J. Roy

A Fulbright Fellow from Calcutta, India, will be guest speaker at the UNC Statistics Colloquium meeting Monday afternoon (Nov. 18) at 4 o'clock in 206 Phillips Hall.

Dr. Jogabrat Roy will report on the results of recent research into the problem of choosing an efficient experimental design, which is applicable to experiments in medicine, industry and agriculture.

Statisticians and all others interested in experimental design have been invited to attend by Dr. Harold Hotelling, associate director of the UNC Institute of Statistics.

Formerly on the staff of the Indian Statistical Institute, Dr. Roy is spending the current academic year in Chapel Hill and collaborating in a research project with Prof. S. N. Roy, UNC professor of statistics.

English Tests To Be Offered

Sophomores who failed to take the English proficiency test when it was given last month and the first of this month will have another opportunity on November 25—but with a $2 fee for lateness. General College Dean Cecil Johnson said yesterday that any sophomore who failed to take the test would not be permitted to register for the spring semester.

The only sophomores who will not be required to pay a $2 fine for failure to take the test earlier are those who have an excuse from Dean Johnson.

Proficiency tests will be given in 106 Hanes at 7 p.m. on November 25.

STUDENT-FACULTY DIRECTORIES

Student faculty directories are now being sold in the Y building. The price is 35 cents. The directories may be secured from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. this week.
