Atomic Power

SHIPPINGPORT, Pa., Dec. 2—(AP)—Scientists today fired up the huge atomic furnace at the nation's first full-scale civilian nuclear power station—15 years to the day since man achieved a chain reaction in the world's pioneer reactor.

Initial splitting of uranium atoms at the historic Shippingport plant marked the final major step before production of commercial quantities of electricity.

When nuclear-generated electricity begins flowing to homes, shops and factories in the Pittsburgh area, it will represent the longest forward stride yet in America's peace-time atomic energy program.

Space Ship

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—(AP)—The nation's first manned space ship could be blasting off within five years, a U. S. missile scientist said today.

He listed this technically possible timetable for space accomplishments:

A manned space station in 6-7 years.

First flight around the moon in 8-10 years.

Kraft A. Ehrlicke, one of the top scientists working on the Atlas Intercontinental Ballistic Missile, said:

"Technically we are capable of having manned orbital gliders in five years."

Ike Golfs

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—(AP)—President Eisenhower presided for an hour and 40 minutes over a full Cabinet meeting today and later spent 15 minutes hitting golf balls from a back terrace of the White House.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President also "hopes and expects" to attend the opening of a briefing of congressional leaders tomorrow.

Hagerty did not disclose the golf shooting until after photographers outside the White House fence spotted an attendant tossing golf balls back to an unseen golfer.

'Unholy Alliance'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 2—(AP)—Saudi Arabia accused France and Britain today of entering into an "unholy alliance" aimed at preventing effective U.N. action on both Algeria and Cyprus.

The accusation was made in the 82-nation U. N. Political Commission.

British Official Visits Campus

An official of the British government was on campus this past weekend and yesterday to study certain phases of the University.

The British government hopes to get ideas that might be included in college and universities it has already established or is planning to set up in its colonies or former colonies.

The official from England, Ian Maxwell, was rounding up a three-month visit to colleges and universities in this region when he came to Chapel Hill last Friday.

Maxwell was especially interested in the University's extension division communications center, Journalism School and the Institute of Government.

Maxwell's official title is assistant secretary to the Inter-University Council for Higher Education Overseas.

This council is concerned with the development of British overseas education and especially with development and growth in colonies and former colonial territories.

IN THE INFIRMARY

Students in the infirmary yesterday included:

Misses Hannah Kirby and Susan Tuggle, and Milburn Gibbs, Billy Carroll, Paul Walter, Glenn Metzger, William Cunningham and Jaugit Monga.

'Judith' by Giradoux Will Open Saturday

The Petite Dramatiques production of 'Judith'—starring Carolyn Marsh, Leon Rooke, Harry Moore, Anthony Wolff and Ann Bachman—will be presented in Graham Memorial main lounge this Saturday and Sunday at 8 p.m.

'Judith,' by Jean Giradoux, will be the initial production of this year's program of Petite Dramatiques. Directing this play will be Nancy Green, graduate English student from Winston-Salem. Miss Green, a former Playmaker, has acted with the Barter Theater, Circle Theater, Little Theater of the Rockies, in "Unto These Hills," and "Horn in the West," in addition to her off-Broadway work.

This play, taken from the Book of Judith in the Apocrypha, is the story of a young girl chosen according to a prophecy to save

History Professor Hurt In Accident

A bicycle-riding UNC instructor was in "fair condition" today after a collision Friday with a car operated by a Duke University Law School student.

Dr. Richard B. Barlow of the UNC History Department was admitted to Memorial Hospital about 10 p.m. Friday with a fractured knee, fractured skull, contusions and bruises.

At the time of the accident, Dr. Barlow was riding his bicycle on Cameron Avenue near the Carolina Inn. According to Dr. Barlow, the car containing four Duke students swerved into the path of his bicycle. The car struck Dr. Barlow, knocked him to the street, and completely demolished the bicycle.

Although he will be forced to wear a cast on the fractured knee for eight weeks, Dr. Barlow has said that there is a possibility that he will be able to meet his classes within several weeks. The police who have investigated the accident have stated that the fault of the accident appears to be that of the driver of the car involved.

When the collision occurred, Dr. Barlow was returning home after having been to the movies.

Although there have been rumors that several UNC students were involved in automobile accidents over the Thanksgiving holidays, there has been no official confirmation of this.

Inquiries made at the offices of Student Affairs and at the Infirmary have yielded no information concerning any accidents involving students this past week end.

IVA KITCHELL

Iva Kitchell Show Here Tonight

World famous dance-satirist and comedienne, Iva Kitchell, will appear in Chapel Hill today at 8 p.m. in Memorial Hall under auspices of the UNC Student Entertainment Series.

Miss Kitchell, known as "Impish Iva," has packed theatres in the United States, Canada and South America. She is known for her one-woman shows that sparkle with brilliant dancing and imitations of people who take themselves too seriously.

While dancing with the Chicago Opera Ballet some years ago, it occurred to Miss Kitchell that serious modern dancing is sometimes ridiculous. When she mimicked her ballet master during a rehearsal, instead of scolding her, he gave her a comedy solo spot in the ballet.

Since that time Kansas-born Iva has entertained audiences with her impersonations of all sorts of people seen at parties, in shows or on trains as well as star figures of the theatre and the concert stage.

Travel Lecture Stated Tonight

Miss Carrie Smeltzer, Assistant Director of Educational Travel Inc., will deliver a lecture at Carroll Hall today at 7 p.m.

Immediately following her short lecture on foreign travel and study abroad, two movies will be shown and the speaker will entertain questions.

According to Miss Smeltzer, many tours are offered by Educational Travel at prices below regular commercial plans. This is made possible by the low overhead and the small amount of paid publicity.

The organization is operated primarily as a service and not for profit, and is a subsidiary of the National Student Assn.

Miss Smeltzer is sponsored by the local NSA Committee. Students interested in foreign travel have been invited to attend.

UP Sets Meet Tonight At 7

The University Party will meet at 7 p.m. today in the Roland Parker Lounges of GM according to UP chairman Harry Braxton.

The meeting is being held to elect new party officers, according to Braxton. Positions to be filled include those of chairman, vice chairman, secretary and treasurer.

New officers will be installed tonight and will serve during spring elections.

Schooner

MOREHEAD, N. C., Dec. 2—(AP)—Five men and two women whose pleasure cruise turned into a nightmare because of a storm pondered today whether to continue on to Florida.

The Coast Guard cutter Chilula towed a Pennsylvania and six New Jersey residents and their disabled 65-foot schooner Yankee 61 100 miles into this port late last night.

That ended a two-day ordeal for the party which had set out from Atlantic Highlands, N. J., a week ago on a trouble-plagued trip to Palm Beach, Fla.

Di Will Debate On SSL Tonight

The Dialectic Senate will hold its weekly meeting tonight in the fourth floor of New West.

The bill of the evening is commendation of the State Student Legislature and a recommendation that in the future delegates be elected by popular campus-wide voting.

The public has been invited.

Business Seminar

R. E. Davis of Akron, Ohio, will address the UNC Economics and Business Seminar at 4 p.m. today in Carroll Hall. He will discuss the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company's program of business research.

WINS UNC AWARD—Wilson Burton Partin Jr., center, student from Scotland Neck, has won the annual Student Government Scholarship Award, given to the self-help student maintaining the highest average during the freshman year. Dr. C. O. Cathey, chairman of the faculty committee on scholarships is shown presenting a $200 check to Partin. Looking on at right is Sonny Evans of Durham, president of the student government. ## Student Party Plans Elections

The Student Party will hold its semi-annual elections next Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Roland Parker Lounges of Graham Memorial. According to the party by-laws, elections must be held after each campus election. The postponement was due to the special election last week.

All offices with the exception of treasurer will come up for consideration at this time. The party by-laws call for the election of the treasurer immediately before campus elections in order that financial continuity may be maintained. Also of the agenda is the filling of legislative vacancies.

Outgoing officers are Whit Whitfield, chairman; John Brooks, vice-chairman; Betty Huffman, secretary; and Brandon Kincaid, David Evans, Caroline Brown, Warren and Caleb White—all members of the Party Advisory Board.

Maneuvers

FORT BRAGG, N. C., Dec. 2—(AP)—A big, two-week maneuver known as Exercise All-American starts here tomorrow.

Four Army units from Georgia and Kentucky, totaling close to 1,500 men and officers, will join a team from Kansas in staging mock warfare with Gregg forces.
