New UP Officers Elected At Meeting In GM Last Night

UP Elects Syd Shuford As Chairman; Lawing Is Chosen Vice-Chairman

By PRINGLE PIPKIN

Sydney Shuford, a senior from Biltmore, was elected chairman of the University Party last night. Jack Lawing, vice-chairman; Susan Saunders (incumbent), secretary; and Cameron Cook, treasurer; were elected by acclamation. The UP voted to pay $75.02 for the material that was used in their campaign for Doug Eisele, UP-SP endorsed candidate in the recent recall election of The Daily Tar Heel editor.

Shuford ran against Benny Thomas, a senior from Morven. Shuford commented when elected, "Our main objective is to win the spring elections."

Lawing, a sophomore from Marion, said, after being elected, "I will work as hard as I can to try to get the UP in there in the spring elections."

Jerry Jones (incumbent vice-chairman) was renominated but withdrew.

and every member of the party for their wonderful cooperation during the last semester and especially during the fall elections," commented Braxton. He went to say, "The UP is extremely lucky to have as its new chairman a man as fine as Syd Shuford."

"With his leadership and drive, the party should go far during the remainder of the year and should be victorious in the spring elections."

The new officers will serve during the spring elections and until another election is held in the late spring.

Honor Council Issues Report On Violations

One case involving a violation of the Honor Code and 12 cases involving violations of the social rules were heard by the Women's Honor Council during the past two months, according to a report issued this week.

The Honor Code case involved a coed who allegedly lied before the Council in a previous trial. Her case was dismissed because of lack of evidence.

In its report, the Council expressed concern over the increased number of cases involving violations of social rules. The report said the Council heard twice as many such cases as were handled by the Council during a similar period at any time last year.

The Council said it felt a general lack of concern toward the social rules explain the increased cases. "I am fairly sure we have an individual who will be next Vice-President of the Student Body," he commented, however.

Speaking next, Shuford told the members that it was important for them to maintain interest in student government in their dorms, fraternities and sororities.

Urging the members to build up interest in the elections, he said it takes "a grass roots organization" to win.

Around 40 people attended the meeting.

The retiring officers are Harry Braxton, chairman; Jerry Jones, vice-chairman; and Ed Levy, treasurer.

"I would like to thank each

New Plans To Simplify Admissions

Simplification of testing schedules in North Carolina high schools should result from the new entrance examination plan adopted by the Carolina, according to Re Armstrong, director of admissions.

Under the new plan applicants to the 1957-58 freshman class of the University will take the Scholastic Aptitude Tests prepared by the College Entrance Examination Board of Princeton, N. J. These tests will be administered on Dec. 7, Jan. 11, Feb. 8, March 15, May 17 and Aug. 13.

"Since the Scholastic Aptitude Tests are acceptable for admission to any college or university, their use in North Carolina should lessen the testing burden on the high schools," Armstrong said.

Thirty-eight North Carolina cities have been designated as centers for the admissions testing to be administered on Dec. 7, Jan. 11, Feb. 8, March 15, May 17 and Aug. 13.

Only four centers will offer the tests on all six dates; they are Asheville, Charlotte, Raleigh and Wilmington.

Armstrong reminded the high school students that they are responsible to take the Scholastic Aptitude Tests. Each applicant should to the College Entrance Examination Board, Box 592, Princeton, N. J.

Any North Carolina student who passes the tests and is admitted to the University will receive a $7 deduction when he registers for the first term, as a credit for the $7 fee charged for the Scholastic Aptitude Tests.

This credit will be given to entering freshmen at the University in Chapel Hill, Women's College in Greensboro, and State College in Raleigh.

The tests will be given on Dec. 7 and again on March 15 in 13 of the centers: Albemarle, Boone, Burnsville, Clinton, Franklin, Henderson, Hendersonville, High Point, Lumberton, Mount Airy, Roanoke Rapids, Siler City and Southern Pines.

Jan. 11 has been designated as the only test date for six cities: Elizabeth City, Hickory, Lexington, Murphy, Statesville and Windsor.

Other centers and dates for administering the tests are as follows: Chapel Hill, Jan. 11, Feb. 8, Mar. 15; Durham, Dec. 7, Jan. 11, Mar. 15; Fayetteville, Jan. 11, May 17; Forest City and Rockingham, Dec. 7 and Aug. 13; Goldsboro, Jan. 11 and Mar. 15; Greensboro, Dec. 7, Jan. 11, Mar. 15 and May 17; Greenville, Dec. 7, Mar. 15, and May 17; Jacksonville, May 17; Morehead City and Waynesville, Dec. 7; New Bern, Jan. 11, Mar. 15 and Aug. 13; North Wilkesboro and Rocky Mount, Jan. 11 and Aug. 13; and Winston-Salem, all dates except May 17.

Those students entering the University in January 1958 for the spring semester will take the admissions tests used previously, Armstrong added.

Five Students Among Duplicate Bridge Winners

A bizarre but interesting run of hands provided many bidding and play problems in Monday night's duplicate game at Graham Memorial, and only five students were among the winners.

These were: John Gwynn and Bill Frye, second place, East-West; Dick Potthoff and Jap Memory, third place East-West. In the North-South direction, graduate student Bill Uzzle teamed with Economics professor, Dr. H. D. Wolf, and won fourth place.

Nine tables were in play.

Martin Gabel, 'The Rivalry' Co-Star Is The Theatre's Triple-Threat Man

By DAVE PETERSON

Martin Gabel, co-starred with Raymond Massey and Agnes Moorehead in the Paul Gregory production "The Rivalry" coming to Memorial Hall for one performance only Friday, is the theatre's triple-threat man, having distinguished himself as an actor, director and producer.

What's more, he has been successful on the stage, in motion pictures, radio and television. Domestically he has done all right too. Happily married to television's Arlene Francis.

In "The Rivalry" Gabel portrays

Henry Stephen A. Douglas, who was a renowned Senator when challenged by the newcomer, Abraham Lincoln, in a series of debates, now famous as the Lincoln-Douglas debates on which "The Rivalry" is based. Miss Moorehead portrays his wife and advisor.

Gabel made his stage debut in 1923 in a one-line part in "Man Times Two." His work in radio soap opera introduced him to Arlene Francis.

As a producer with Jose Ferrer, Gabel brought to Broadway a revival of "Charley's Aunt" recently produced "The Hidden River" and "Reclining Figure." His plans for the future include the production of "Once More, With Feeling," the story of a symphony conductor by Abe Burrows and Harry Kurnitz, in which he intends to star Miss Francis.

As a director he has been applauded for Irwin Shaw's "The Assassin" and "The Survivors," which he also produced.

His most recent appearance on Broadway as an actor was in George Axelrod's "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" the comedy which introduced the world to Jayne Mansfield. In motion pictures he is currently seen in "A Tip on a Dead Jockey."

"The Rivalry" is making a cross-country tour prior to its Broadway opening on Jan. 27. Tickets for the performance are available in the business office of the Carolina Playmakers, 214 Abernethy Hall. All seats are reserved at $2.25, $3.30 and $4.40.

Maid Of Cotton Entry Deadline Is Extended

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 3.—Deadline for entries in the 1958 Maid of Cotton contest will be extended until Dec. 6, the National Cotton Council announced today. All entries postmarked not later than midnight that day will be reconsidered.

The original deadline was set for Dec. 1. Requests from girls needing more time to have photographs made in order to meet the deadline prompted the extension, the Council reports. Two unretouched photographs, a portrait picture and a full-length picture must accompany the applications.

Complete details about the 1958 Maid of Cotton contest are available from the National Cotton Council, P. O. Box 9905, Memphis 12, Tenn. To be eligible, a girl must have been born in a cotton-producing state and must never have been married. She must be at least five feet, five inches tall, and must be between the ages of 19 and 25.

Twenty girls, selected from the applications, will come to Memphis on Jan. 23 for two days of final judging. Permits For New Parking Lot Now Available To Students

Student car owners may now apply for permits to park in the new Bell Tower Parking Lot, according to an announcement by Ralph Cummings, chairman of the Traffic Advisory Board, and Sonny Evans, president of the student body.

During this week until Tuesday, Dec. 10, the Dean of Student Affairs office will receive applications to park in this lot. When all applications are in, stickers will be given out. These special parking lot tickets will replace the regular parking permits issued at the beginning of the year.

However, since students with permits to the Bell Tower Parking Lot are assured of a place to park, these students will not be allowed to park in other student parking areas during the hours of 7 a.m. to 3 p.m.

It is expected that the parking lot—located in Kenan Woods between the Morehead-Patterson Bell Tower and N. C. Memorial Hospital—will be completed sometime this month.

The parking lot will have facilities to park 300 automobiles.

Cummings and Evans said that this new parking lot is the first step in a program designed to relieve the parking and traffic situation of the students at Carolina.

The Traffic Advisory Board is working to set up some priority plan for students to park in the new area.

Symposium To Launch Drive To Obtain Funds

By DAVIS YOUNG

The Carolina Symposium funds have been swelling daily as contributions are now being received on a regular basis from many campus organizations.

To date, a total of $3500.81 is in the treasury. These contributions include a $2,000 grant from the student legislature, $500 from Graham Memorial, $75 from the Political Science Department through the Falk Foundation Grant and a sizeable donation from the Order of the Grail. In addition to this, all sororities on campus and four fraternities have contributed.

According to Al Goldsmith, Symposium treasurer, the anticipated total budget will be in the neighborhood of $5,000. It will go toward securing speakers, entertaining them and paying their traveling expenses to and from Chapel Hill.

In order to raise additional funds, the Symposium is now initiating a campus wide fund drive. During the next two weeks every fraternity and many other campus organizations will be visited by representatives of the Symposium.

Treasurer Goldsmith issued the following statement to The Daily Tar Heel from the Symposium office yesterday afternoon: "The program committee of the Symposium has planned an outstanding program and has drawn up a wonderful list of speakers."

"To make this program possible, it is necessary to receive the cooperation of every group on campus, especially in reaching our monetary quota. We hope that every fraternity and organization on campus will make at least a small donation to the Carolina Symposium."
