Old Book Prices Cut
Our old book corner has had its January haircut, and most of the books have had their prices trimmed.

You'll find books that were 72¢ moved down to the 48¢ shelf, books that were 97¢ cut to 72¢, and quite a clump that were in the $1.50 range chopped down to 97¢.

Special sections, such as the Old Medical Shelf and the Religion Shelf have taken a price-trimming, too.

Might be worth your while to drop in and check.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY T. BRUNSON ... things have changed

Daily Tar Heel Visited By Alum

By SARAH ADAMS

"Carolina has grown by leaps and bounds," he said, recalling the days 37 years ago when he was a junior in the growing town of Chapel Hill.

"And one of the most striking changes is The Daily Tar Heel—its size, frequency of publication and new offices in Graham Memorial."

Harry T. Brunson, shifting his tall, slender body as he sat observing what he called new offices for the student newspaper, remembered when he was circulation manager for The Daily Tar Heel.

"Back then," he said, "when we had offices in the YMCA building, we published every Thursday with a circulation of about 3,800. It has really grown since then."

And now he was back in Chapel Hill—back at the newspaper where Jonathan Daniels had been associate editor while Junior Harry Brunson carried papers across a much smaller campus to half as many students.

Lenoir Hall, to Harry Brunson, was new. And so were many of the men's dormitories, all of the women's dormitories, and many other structures built under the New Deal.

But the most striking of all changes to the native of Montgomery, Ala., was in The Daily Tar Heel itself. It no longer was a weekly publication, but one printed six times a week and ranging from four to six pages.

Too, when he was circulation manager, outgoing papers were addressed by hand. Now there's an addressograph that daily stamps hundreds of Tar Heels for delivery throughout the United States.

Brunson said that during his tenure at the University in 1920

NSA Heads To Discuss Conference

Around 25 people from three states in this area will attend a meeting here tomorrow to discuss the possibilities of a South-wide NSA conference in the near future.

If the meeting, along with similar meetings being held at Southern colleges, submits a report requesting a South-wide conference, the conference will definitely be set. This conference of student leaders will be concerned with the problem of desegregation.

The meeting here Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 will include representatives from colleges in North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia and residents of Chapel Hill.

Student Body President Sonny Evans, who invited people to the meeting, was acting on a request from NSA.

Evans said the meeting here includes certain groups other than NSA, including the YMCA, Baptist Student Union, Hillel, New man Club and Methodist Youth Group.

World In Brief

First Fatality
GREENSBORO, Jan. 7—The first traffic fatality of 1958 occurred here early today when a Charlotte man was killed in an auto accident, police said.

Police listed the man as Joseph Leonard Barnett, 42, of Charlotte. They said he was a passenger in an auto driven by Victor Clyde Welker, 36, of Greensboro. Welker suffered injuries and was admitted to Wesley Long Hospital where his condition was said to be "satisfactory" today.

Army Satellite
WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The satellite which the Army proposes to send aloft is much bigger and somewhat heavier than either of those in the still-grounded Navy Vanguard program.

This was disclosed today with publication of official Army pictures of the Bullet-shaped object which the Army expects to hurl into orbit with a souped-up Jupiter-C rocket.

The total length of the satellite assembly is 80 inches, the Army said in answer to a question.

Of this total length, approximately 30 inches appears to be the tapered nose cone and tube of the actual satellite, containing radio transmitters and instruments to record and report cosmic radiation, temperature, pressures and other data.

U. S. Accuses
WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The United States accused Russia today of trying to influence actions of the Atlantic Pact Summit Meeting next week by means of Soviet Premier Bulganin's letter to President Eisenhower.

Bulganin in the 3,000-word message delivered yesterday called for an end to all atomic-hydrogen tests and for an east-west conference to outlaw war.

When you graduate, do you want a

JOB?

Sure you want a job... but you want more than just a job. You want a job with opportunity, a job that offers a challenge. Union Carbide offers such jobs. Jobs with opportunity for what? Advancement, for one thing. Union Carbide is introducing new products at the rate of one every fifteen days. Each new product opens up new avenues of advancement. Not only that; markets for our present products are expanding at an exciting rate too.

Jobs with what kind of challenge? Union Carbide has always operated on the frontiers of science. The challenges are the challenges of that frontier—the challenges of new ideas. Union Carbide is already among the largest U. S. producers of titanium—will tantalum be the next "wonder metal"? Union Carbide pioneered the two major plastics, vinyl and polyethylene—is another major break-through in the making? Challenging questions, and Union Carbide people are answering them.

Representatives of Divisions of Union Carbide Corporation, listed below, will be interviewing on many campuses. Check your placement director, or write to the Division representative. For general information, write to V. O. Davis, 80 East 42nd Street, New York 17, New York.
