Bumpy Road Is Ahead For Talented Champs

By BILL KING

COLUMBIA, S. C. North Carolina's national cage champs return to the basketball wars against South Carolina here tonight in their first action since Jan. 18 at Clemson. Tipoff time is 8 o'clock.

The Tar Heels, now 12-3 on the season, closed the first semester with a 90-81 victory over the Tigers then settled down for a ten-day battle with the blue books. But now Carolina is back on the trail and it could be a bumpy trek as Frank McGuire's talented club drives down the home stretch in defense of its NCAA title.

Second Meeting

This is the second meeting between these two clubs this season. The Tar Heels bowled over South Carolina 70-58 in Chapel Hill, Dec. 14.

The Gamecocks have had a tough go of it this season, compiling a 4-10 overall record to date. Frank Johnson's young club has been able to gain but two victories in ACC competition while losing six. The Tar Heels have a 5-2 conference mark, having lost to Maryland and N. C. State. South Carolina has beaten Clemson and Duke.

Tonight's game, like all the rest of the Tar Heel's ACC tilts the rest of the way, is of vital importance as the Chapel Hillians battle to gain the top spot in the ACC going into the conference tournament March 6-8. This would put the Tar Heels in the easier bracket and would probably avoid a clash with Maryland or N. C. State until the finals. These two powers are considered the top threats to Carolina's crown, but Duke's recent win over West Virginia has thrown the Blue Devils back into the limelight.

Could Be Tough

South Carolina is still considered a giant-killer despite its poor record. The Gamecocks have been a bit erratic all season but nobody is looking at them with "pushover" in mind.

"We beat them on our home court," McGuire commented recently, "but things could be a lot different in Columbia. I only hope we can pick up where we left off before exams."

Tonight's test should give good indication as to what affect the over two weeks idleness had on the Tar Heels. South Carolina has played once since exams, losing to a strong Furman team Thursday night. The Tar Heels started working out for this contest the first of this week.

Starters

McGuire is expected to start with three sophomores again tonight, along with veterans Pete Brennan and Tommy Kearns. Brennan and Lee Shaffer will start at forward. Dick Kopley at center and Kearns and Harvey Salz at guards. Salz has replaced defensive star Bob Cunningham at guard because Salz furnishes more scoring power, but the veteran Cunningham is sure to see plenty of action.

For the Gamecocks, it will probably be Bury Hudson and Mike Callahan at forward, Fred Lantz at center and Dickie Prater and Dick Hoffman at guard.

Orientation Post Open

Applicants for the position of the Campus Orientation Committee for 1958-59 must come by the Student Government office for interviews before Feb. 15.

"The Orientation Chairman's job is to plan the orientation program both for summer school, for incoming freshman in September and in between the semesters the following January," said Student Body President Sonny Evans.

IN THE INFIRMARY

Groups Needing Additional Funds Should Contact Student Treasurer

By PRINGLE PIPKIN

Any student organization interested in initiating aid from student government funds should contact Bob Carter, treasurer of the student body, before Feb. 15.

Carter said that he was sending letters to the treasurers of the 28 organizations now receiving student government funds to inform them of a hearing to be held by the budget committee.

Lasting a month, these hearings are conducted by the committee in order to draw up a budget for the fiscal year, which begins June 7, 1958.

The committee will evaluate the proposed budgets of the organizations item by item. Then the budget will be presented to the finance committee of the Student Legislature for its approval.

Legislature Approval

The approved budget will then be presented to this current assembly of the Legislature for its approval at the last meeting before spring elections.

Carter is the head of the student government committee which is composed of 10 other students, one of whom must be a member of the Student Legislature and another who is chairman of the student audit board.

Carter estimated that the budget committee will have around $121,000 with which to work. This money comes from student fees; the undergraduates each pay $18 and graduate students $14.65.

The budget can be amended from the floor of the legislature, or, if after the budget has been put into effect and an organization feels it needs more money, it can have a bill introduced to get it a special appropriation.

Surplus Funds

Any surplus which an organization may have left at the end of the fiscal year reverts back to the General Fund.

Carter said that the student government now has $2,645.70 in unappropriated funds. There is also a cash surplus of $14,729.47 which has accumulated through the years.

news in brief

U. S. Satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla., Jan. 31.—The U. S. first earth satellite was launched tonight at approximately 10:50.

The Radio Corporation of America in New York announced a few minutes later that it had monitored the object's beep-beep signal. The American sputnik was described as being approximately 6 inches in diameter, 80 inches long, and weighed 20 pounds. It is believed that the Army's Jupiter-C missile was the launching vehicle used.

Big Missile

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—Government intelligence experts reported today they had some evidence Russia has fired a big missile into outer space.

They said this missile might have thrust a third and bigger Soviet satellite into the heavens but they acknowledged they were not sure.

No government department or agency was willing to say on the record that it knew positively the Soviets had launched what was described as a very large missile.

These authorities, however, who usually keep close check on Soviet developments, said evidence they have received seems pretty good to them.

Defense Fund

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee approved an emergency defense fund of $1,410,000,000 today and Chairman Hayden (D-Ariz.) said in effect there was more where that came from.

If the Pentagon decides it needs more money before Congress acts on the defense budget for fiscal 1959, Hayden said, "We are ready to give it to them."

The committee voted unanimously in favor of a bill to finance stepped-up missile production and improve the nation's air defenses. The money will be available in the current fiscal year, which ends June 30.

Union

CAIRO, Jan. 31 (AP)—The presidents of Syria and Egypt will proclaim, perhaps on Sunday, the union of their two countries.

Shukri Kuwaty, 65-year-old President of Syria, and Gamal Abdel Nasser, 49-year-old President of Egypt, met twice today, putting final touches to the formal proclamation.

Summer School Will Offer Varied Program

The 1958 Summer Session at UNC scheduled in two terms from June 15-July 15 and July 16-August 23, will offer a wide variety of both graduate and undergraduate courses.

Prof. Guy B. Phillips, director, announced today details for the summer's study, which will include a number of special conferences, institutes, workshops and recreational activities.

Financial aid for prospective summer students was stressed by Phillips, who described a number of scholarships and loan funds available.

Science, Math Teachers

The National Science Foundation is again sponsoring a six-week Institute for High School Science and Mathematics Teachers on June 9-July 18. Sixty participants will receive stipends of $450 each, plus allowances for dependents and travel, and they will pay no tuition or fees.

North Carolina teaching personnel are eligible for 40 scholarships, valued at $100 each, to be given by the University's Scholarship Committee. Dean Arnold Perry of the UNC Education School is handling applications.

Scholarship Loans

Some 200 summer school scholarship loans, not to exceed $75 each, are open to prospective teachers and teachers taking undergraduate courses to qualify for a certificate. Applications are being handled by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction in Raleigh.

Expanded course offerings for teachers in the field of special education are being handled by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction in Raleigh.

Wetzel Pleads Innocence

SANFORD, Jan. 31 (AP)—Frank Edward Wetzel was arraigned in Lee County Superior Court today and pleaded innocent to a charge of murdering Highway Patrolman J. T. Brown near Sanford the night of Nov. 5.

Wetzel, a native of New York State, was convicted earlier this month at Rockingham of first degree murder in the slaying of Patrolman Wister Lee Reece the same night near Ellerbe. A jury recommended mercy and Wetzel was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Solicitor Jack Hooks has said he will press for a death penalty conviction in the Brown killing.

Superior Court Judge C. W. Hall of Durham appointed John T. Page Jr. of Rockingham to represent Wetzel at Page's request. He represented him in the first trial.

tion have been arranged. Director Phillips said, Graduate students and some advanced undergraduates may take the classes which emphasize speech correction and teaching the slow learner.

Scholarships

Several scholarships of $100 each are available for the first term to teachers who are making a career in special education. Dean Perry is also handling these. Further help is available to teachers in service or students preparing to teach through the Dorzier Loan Fund. A maximum of $400 for the 12-week summer session may be borrowed from the fund, according to Dean Perry.

Applications for the summer program for science and mathematics teachers may be secured by writing to NSF Summer Institute, University of North Carolina, Box 1268, Chapel Hill.

The National Science Foundation also provides stipends for science-math teachers during the regular school year. For the 1958-59 academic year, fifty teachers will receive stipends of $3,000 plus allowances.

Dr. E. C. Markham of the UNC Chemistry Department is handling applications for the 1958-59 grants, which will be awarded sometime this spring.

Three Blazes Reported Here During Exams

By BILL KINCAID

Three fires were reported in the UNC-Chapel Hill area during the last week. Firemen say there were "indications of arson" in one of the cases.

The M. A. MacPherson home, 700 Pittsboro Rd., was set fire Jan. 28. Firemen say they think it was set by the same person who has recently covered the UNC campus with a series of fires.

Draperies on two doors were burned. Fire Chief J. S. Boone said there were "indications of arson" in it. We know it was intentional.

At 7:30 yesterday morning a trash chute in the UNC interns' quarters caught fire. Boone said it possibly was an accident caused by a cigarette which was thrown in the chute.

A trash can in Nash Hall caught fire on Saturday night, Jan. 25. Officials say it could have been accidental. People were in the building at the time, and it probably resulted when a burning cigarette was thrown in the can.

Dekes Here Tops In U. S. Scholastically

The UNC Beta chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon recently received the national DKE award for the best scholastic standing of any DKE chapter in the nation. The local chapter was judged in comparison with the other fraternities on this campus. Each DKE chapter was judged on this basis.

John Jester, UNC delegate, was also elected vice-president of the annual DKE convention. The other UNC delegate was Walker Lockett.

The award was presented at the annual convention held in Minneapolis, Minn., during the Christmas holidays. The convention was the 113th annual DKE convention and was sponsored by the Northern DKE Alumni Association and the Phi Epsilon chapter of DKE of the University of Minnesota.

The DKE chapter here will receive an engraved plaque for their fraternity house. This is the first time the local chapter has won this award. The DKE's rank 6th scholastically on this campus, last year having a 2.726 average. The overall fraternity average at UNC last year was 2.896.

The scholarship award is given annually at the convention by Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.
