Winter Germans Has New Look; Ray Anthony Featured At Concert

By MARY MOORE MASON
Winter Germans this year will have the "new look," according to Mark Cherry, president of the German Club.

"For the first time in history, as far as I know, the Germans dance will be semi-formal and we will have four entertainment attractions," said Cherry. "By semi-formal, we mean that the boys are to wear dark suits and the girls dressy cocktail dresses."

Germans, which will be Valentine's weekend, Feb. 14-15, will have four feature attractions, Ray Anthony, Billy Knaufl, the Glad-las and Leo de Lyon.

Billy Knaufl, a well-known regional band; the Gladlolas, a Negro instrumental-vocalist group famous for the record "Little Darling;" and Leo de Lyon, versatile and talented entertainer of international recording and television fame, will all entertain at the dance on Friday night from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m.

The Saturday concert from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. in Memorial Hall will feature Ray Anthony and his famous TV orchestra and entertainers and Leo de Lyon.

The dance will be set up in cabaret form with tables around the dance floor covered with white table cloths and centered with a candle.

The theme for decorations will probably be a Valentine theme. Bids for the dance will be given out to all fraternity men whose fraternities are members of the German Club. These men may in turn sell their tickets or use them themselves.

Doormen and members of the dance committee will be at the dance to see that all boys who attend wear dark suits and to carry on their usual duties.

Segregation

RALEIGH, Feb. 5 (AP)—A Federal court showdown in Raleigh's first school segregation case had been set for May 12 in Eastern District Court.

Federal Judge Don Gilliam said today at an informal pre-trial hearing involving counsel for both sides, that as far as he now is concerned, only one question will be decided upon.

Was the application of Joseph H. Holt Jr., 14-year-old youth for reassignment to all-white Needham-Broughton High School here turned down solely because he is a negro?

'Beyond Repair'

CHARLOTTE, Feb. 5 (AP)—Racial relations in America are "practically beyond repair," a South Carolina Lutheran and school man declared today.

Lexington, S. C., Schools Supt. H. Odelle Harman made the observation in a speech prepared for a Southern Synod's Leadership School on Human Relations sponsored by the Social Missions Board of the United Lutheran Church in America.

"The method of forced integration which is being resorted to by the church and the state will not bring about the desired results," he predicted, "and should be discontinued."

Instead, he said, "The church and other agencies should begin crusading for the U. S. Supreme Court to reverse its decision against segregated schools."

Fugitives
PEMBROKE, Feb. 5 (AP)—One of North Carolina's toughest bad men, Clarence Tyler, awoke from a deep sleep this morning to find himself back in the coils of the law.

U.S. Cultural Ambassador To Russia Jan Peerce To Sing Here Tonight

Jan Peerce, Metropolitan Opera tenor, who will appear at Memorial Hall tonight at 8 o'clock, was happily anticipating a quiet, restful summer in 1958, with a few out-door music festival concerts.

Otherwise, he planned a real vacation from the many concerts, opera and television appearances of the busy season.

Came May, 1956 and an invitation from the Cultural Minister of the Soviet Union. "Would Mr. Peerce come to Russia for an intensive concert and opera tour during the month of June?" This was an important offer indeed Jan realized that he would be the first Metropolitan Opera star to sing at Moscow's famous Bolshoi Theatre. Our State Department in Washington approved the plan for this visit and felt sure that Jan

Peerce would be an ideal "Cultural Ambassador" from the United States to the Soviet Union.

Typical of Peerce's feelings about this assignment was the statement he gave to the press on June 4 as he, his wife Alice and accompanist Warner Bass left Idlewild. "I am honored and glad to be going," Peerce said. "I want them to know how a man can advance himself under democracy."

Soon news of Peerce's phenomenal success flashed around the world via the press. "Jan Peerce in Moscow," the New York Times headed its report on June 7, the day after Peerce's first concert in the Russian capital. "Met Tenor Opens Tour to Tumultuous Applause," the report went on. It also mentioned that Peerce had to sing seven encores and that the house-manager had to turn out the lights in Techaikovsky Hall, so that the wildly enthusiastic audience would start for home.

Peerce's Moscow debut set the pace for the entire tour. In Leningrad crowds lined the streets from the opera house to Peerce's hotel after his performance in Verdi's Rigoletto, to throw flowers and cheer their new-found idol.

During the dress-rehearsal of Verdi's La Traviata in Moscow, the tenor suddenly realized that there was an audience of about 500 in the Bolshoi Theatre's orchestra.

The pandemonium which had accompanied the dress rehearsal was intensified during the gala-performance the next night. There was an added electric atmosphere—For, this was not merely a gala-performance of La Traviata; it was a diplomatic event U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen and Mrs. Bohlen were present, representing the United States; as well as high Soviet Officials and Ambassadors from many other countries.

Mr. Peerce was invited to return to Russia next year—his busy schedule permitting. He would sing some more operas and concerts and was asked to teach a master-class, composed of professional opera singers.

"People must be informed that America is a cultured nation," the famous tenor stated on his return. "Intensified cultural interchange seems to me about the best way of putting our best foot forward."

UNC Mardi Gras Hits Snag; Weekend May Be Canceled

Cut Plan To Be Studied By Faculty

A report on University attendance regulations will be presented to the Faculty Council Friday afternoon for discussion and action by the council.

The nature of this report will not be disclosed until the time of the meeting.

The report will be presented by a specially appointed committee under the chairmanship of James S. Ingram, associate professor of economics.

Subject To Debate

Dr. James Godfrey, dean of the faculty, said yesterday that the report will be subject to debate and official action by the council. As soon as final action is taken, the report will be released, he said.

The council may possibly act on the question of attendance regulations in the meeting Friday. However, the final decision may be postponed to a subsequent meeting.

Proposals

The committee to draw up a report on attendance regulations was appointed at the January meeting of the Faculty Council. Three student body officials appeared at that meeting and made several proposals concerning attendance rules.

Sonny Evans, student body president; Don Furtado, student body vice-president; and George Ragsdale, chairman of Men's Honor Council, proposed to the council that class cuts be placed under the Honor System.

Neville Ruben Will Address Legislature

The Student Legislature will hear Neville Ruben, a representative of the World University Service, and a report from the newspaper research committee tonight at 7 o'clock on the top floor of New East.

Dick Robinson's (UP) resolution "approving the constitution of the University Art League" will come before the body.

Newspaper Report

Pat Adams (SP), chairman of the newspaper research committee, will present its report. The report does not include any bills or resolutions.

Rubin is vice president for International Relations of the National Union of South African Students. He has traveled around the world in connection with the World University Service.

"I think anyone who comes to hear Ruben can gain a good bit of insight into problems of foreign students and the world today," said Don Furtado, speaker of the Student Legislature.

Students Are Offered Trip

The American-European College Student Association has planned an airflight to Europe this summer at student prices.

The flight by DC-6's will leave Montreal, Canada, on July 8 and will arrive in London. The return trip will be Sept. 3.

The cost to members is $330 per person, round trip. This is less than regular round-trip tourist fare by boat.

Subsequent European summer flights and Bermuda spring time flights are also planned.

Free membership in the AECSA is open to all college students and teachers. Interested persons should write to AECSA, 62 Park St., Canton, New York. Free lists of student approved accommodations in Europe will be sent on request.

DR. WILLIAM WELLS
Chairman Of The Faculty

Dr. Wells New Post Not New

For over a month, Dr. William Wells, Kenan professor of English, has been acting in another official position: chairman of the faculty.

This post is not new to Dr. Wells because he was chosen as the first chairman of the faculty 12 years ago.

The chairman, who is elected by all voting members of the faculty, serves a three-year period.

Although the chairman is not technically a part of the University administration, he is a member of the Chancellor's Cabinet and represents the Chancellor in all academic matters whenever the Chancellor requests him to do so.

The chairman must also act as chairman pro tem of the Faculty Council and general faculty.

Dr. Wells came to the University in 1935 and then served at one time as dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

The second chairman of the faculty was Dudley D. Carroll. Dr. James Godfrey, dean of the faculty, was the third to hold that position.

Dr. Wells, immediate predecessor was Dr. E. C. Markham of the Chemistry Department.

An advisory committee of the faculty nominates three members to run for chairman. The person elected must receive a majority of votes or a second election must be held.

Kappa Invites 150 For Rush

By ANN FRYE

Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority's "newest satellite" will be launched Monday from 7:30 to 9 p. m. at the first party of its rush program, according to invitations sent out by the sorority.

More than 150 invitations were mailed to coeds who signed up for rush last fall and this spring and to new students. The invitations were limited to members of the freshman, sophomore and junior classes, since the installation of the Kappa chapter here will not be held until fall.

Others Invited

Coeds who did not receive invitations and desire to go through the rush program of Kappa Kappa Gamma have been advised to attend the first party in the faculty lounge of the Morehead Building.

The dress for the occasion will be dressy woollens and heels.

Four Duke Kappas will assist alumnae from Chapel Hill, Durham and Raleigh and the four UNC Kappas in holding the first party.

Duke Kappas Invited

The entire Duke chapter will attend the second party Wednesday night from 7:30 to 9 o'clock in Smith parlour. Plans for the third party will be announced later.

Mrs. Frank Alexander, national director of Kappa chapters, will be here for the rush program.

Tin Can Said Unsafe; Repair Costs 'Too High'

The Carolina Mardi Gras has run into a snag that may mean cancellation of the big weekend.

Mardi Gras Chairman Gerry Boudreau was uncertain yesterday whether or not the possible loss of the Tin Can as a dance site would mean calling off the dance.

Phys. Ed. Dept. Bldgs. and Maintenance Supervisor, C. B. Huggins notified the Mardi Gras Committee Tuesday that in its present condition the Tin Can is not safe for the crowd expected at the dance. He said it might take two or three thousand dollars to put the old building into condition for dances of the size planned.

The ACC Indoor Track Tournament is being held on Saturday night, March 1, in Woollen Gym. Because of the track paraphernalia, the gym will not be available for the dance Friday night.

Boudreau and Assistant to the Dean of Student Affairs Ray Jefferies are planning to talk to Huggins and Track Coach Dale Ranson this afternoon in an effort to work something out.

Jefferies said he thought Huggins' estimate on repairing the Tin Can is too high, but he would not comment further.

The Mardi Gras Committee has been working under a $5,000 budget, with the expected sale of 900 tickets. Vice Chairman Jim Menzel said $1,000 of this had been allotted for decorations.

Menzel said the committee planned to use only about $200 of the sum for decorations, and use the rest of the fund to hire a group for a second concert on Saturday afternoon.

The only loss the Mardi Gras may take is a $1,250 down payment on the Buddy Morrow contract. Menzel said an effort will be made to get this money back.

If the money is returned, Menzel said, an effort would be made to hold the Mardi Gras weekend later in the spring.

An order for 30,000 square feet of crepe paper intended for decorations is being held up until the confusion over the dance site is cleared up.

The weekend will consist of a concert Friday afternoon, and dance Friday night, and possibly another concert on Saturday afternoon if the plans are carried out.

Class Rings

Juniors and seniors may order class rings today in Y-Court. Representatives from the Balfour Company will be here to assist members of the Order of the Grail in taking orders.
