Kappa Continues Rushing Program With Party Tonight At Smith Dorm

The second party in the current rush program of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority will be held tonight in Smith parlour between 7:30 and 9 o'clock. Invitations to this party were delivered at the doors of each girl yesterday by Stray Greeks.

Local coeds—numbering almost 100—attended the first rush party of the new sorority on campus Monday night in the Morehead Building.

Since there are only a few Kappas already on campus, the sorority was aided by Kappas from Duke, local alumnae, Stray Greeks and Panhellenic Council members in conducting the party.

Mr. Frank Alexander, national director of sororities, spoke to the rushees about the sorority and its function on the UNC campus.

In the receiving line at the party were Mrs. Alexander and Sophie Martin, undergraduate counsellor at UNC for the sorority.

The third party in the rush program has been scheduled for tomorrow night at the home of a Kappa alumna, Mrs. Joseph D. Page, of Chapel Hill. Bids will be sent out shortly after the third party.

Kappa is the seventh national sorority to come to the UNC campus. This sorority was invited after student and administration groups acted on an expressed need for the establishment of another sorority here.

ABC Board Won't Charge Fraternity

By ANN FRYE

Charges will not be filed against Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity in connection with an early-morning party Sunday, but the owner of Jack's Drive-In—where the party was held—will be called before the State ABC Board.

That was disclosed yesterday as Durham County officers exonerated the local fraternity of alleged violations of the law and said no legal action would be taken against the group.

However, State ABC Board Chairman William S. Hunt confirmed an earlier report that John S. (Jack) Hopkins, the drive-in owner, will be called before his board to give cause why his beer permit should not be suspended or revoked.

State law prohibits the presence of whiskey at any establishment which has been granted a license to sell beer or wine, Hunt said.

The action in calling Hopkins to appear before the ABC Board was taken by Hunt after he received a report from beer inspector John Buck, who with two Durham County sheriff's deputies raided Hopkins drive-in Sundays.

"Misquoted"

Buck said, in his report, that he and the two deputies found a party in progress, being held by members of Lambda Chi Fraternity and their guests.

In early newspaper accounts of the raid, Buck had been quoted as implying that misconduct was observed by himself at the party.

However, Buck later issued a statement, after meeting with UNC administration officials and members of the fraternity, that he had observed no misconduct. And in his report, Hunt said, Buck reported that published records of the raid had "misquoted me as saying several of the persons present there were intoxicated and that two or three couples were dancing with practically nothing on."

Members of the fraternity have consistently denied any misconduct and intoxication. Sam Magill, director of student activities, said yesterday that he had confidence in the fraternity.

Hunt said that "until something is brought before me to refute what he (Buck) said, I'm accepting his report. I think that is the only fair way to treat any employee."

The ABC Board will not be concerned in any way with the UNC fraternity, Hunt said, since this board is primarily a control board and not a law enforcement agency.

WUNC-TV Slated To Telecast Speech

The 8th annual Conference on World Affairs will open here today with a public address by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) at 8 p.m. in Hill Hall Auditorium.

The chairman of the conference planning committee, Mrs. E. P. Gibson of Laurel Hill, will preside, and Dr. James L. Godfrey, dean of the faculty, will introduce Sen. Humphrey.

A reception honoring the senator will be given in Graham Memorial Student Union following his speech by the Carolina Forum, non-partisan speaker agency of the student government.

Some 250 persons are expected to attend the conference discussions to be held all day Thursday on the UNC campus with the first session set for 10 p. m. in Carroll Hall auditorium.

During registration from 9 to 10 a. m. there will be a showing in Carroll Hall of United Nations films, presented by Kenneth M. McIntyre, director of the UNC Bureau of Audio-Visual Education.

Foreign Panel
A Panel of foreign students will discuss the mutual understanding topic during the morning. Chancellor Emeritus Robert B. House will moderate.

Others on the morning program will be Chancellor William B. Aycock, who will welcome the visitors to the campus; Dr. Leslie W. Syron, president of the N. C. Division of the AAUW; Mrs. Gibson, who will explain conference aims; and the Rev. Harvey L. Carnes of Chapel Hill, who will give the invocation.

The N. C. Council of Women's Organization will hold its annual luncheon Thursday at the Carolina Inn, to be attended by 150 leaders of the 20 statewide organizations affiliated with the council.

Y Offering Student List Supplements

The Campus Christian Council and Y-sponsored summer work discussion sessions continue today with emphasis on several areas of industrial, institutional and church work.

These discussions will be held between 2 and 5:30 this afternoon in the Council room of the Y building.

The purpose of the sessions is to acquaint the students with information which otherwise would not be brought to their attention. This information includes the types of summer work available, contacts and applications for entering the work.

On hand to discuss summer jobs being covered by the sessions (the sessions began Tuesday) and will continue through Thursday) will be students and members of the Y staff who have experienced work in various areas.

The discussion on Thursday will concern International Student Work, experiment in international living and exequation for citizenship.

The chairman of the Y committee that is co-sponsoring the sessions is Mary Morgan.

Students Interested In Trip To Europe Set Meet Today

By MARY MOORE MASON

UNC will go to Europe this summer in the form of a moderate priced student tour, the first of its kind ever sponsored by the University.

All students who are interested in the tour have been invited to a meeting this afternoon at 4:30 in the YMCA building, at which time the tour will be discussed and plans will be made for meetings during the spring for the purpose of learning about the countries included in the tour.

A group of Carolina students have spent the last three months making plans for the tour under the leadership of Dick Stoker and Tog Sanders, co-chairmen of the YMCA-YWCA European Seminar Committee.

Claude Shotts and Jim Carse, directors of the YMCA, have been the advisors for the group. They have been assisted by Andre Bonard of the United States National Student Association Educational Travel, Inc., who helped to arrange the student seminar tour and by faculty members—Drs. Ransom Taylor, Walter Arndt, A. C. Howell and Shepard Jones.

83-Day Tour

The tour will last 83 days and will cover major points of interest in central and southern Europe and the Mediterranean, allowing time for seminars in the major cities like Berlin, Rome, and London.

There will be a two-day rest stop at Rimini, an Italian resort center on the Adriatic Sea.

The purpose of the tour is for UNC students to have a chance to travel abroad at not too much cost, for them to meet European students, and for them to see and study places of historic and artistic interest.

The tour will leave on the MS Italia from New York on June 7 and will return to New York Aug. 29.

Graduation Invitations

The Order of the Grail announces that senior graduation invitations will be on sale in Y Court today, tomorrow and Friday from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. Members of the Grail will assist seniors in selecting invitations and cards.

Loan Group Cuts Red Tape

By PARKER MADDREY

The Student Loan Fund Committee has disclosed four major revisions in its policy and a report showing that funds available for student loans are rapidly diminishing at the University.

As a result of these changes, some "red tape" is being cut. Prof. C. O. Cathey, of the History Dept., chairman of the University Scholarship Committee, said yesterday, "The University has already 'a more lenient' policy in granting loans to worthy students in need as compared to other institutions in the state."

The four changes made within the past year are:

1. That no assignment of life insurance is required in negotiating a loan, but it is now entirely optional with the borrower. If a student has trouble obtaining sureties to sign his application for a loan, he is advised to take out life insurance with the Loan Fund as beneficiary so as to show his potential bondsmen his good intentions. Cathey said that persons are not as reluctant to sign sureties when the borrower takes out this insurance.

2. That the Student Loan manager has the discretion to approve loans, without certification from the clerk of court if he knows the signatures of the sureties and that they are solvent for the amount of the loan. However, for sureties not well known to the manager, the signatures must be attested by the clerk of court in that county.

3. That the preparation of a loan application has been changed from Director of Student Aid Ed Lanier's office to Manager of Loan Funds Harold Weaver's office. A student seeking financial aid will first come to the director of Student Aid for the possibilities of a scholarship, self-help job, or a grant-in-aid. If these assistances are not available to him and it is not advisable for him to take a self-help job, he is directed to the loan manager where application process begins.

Borrowing Encouraged
Cathey said a student is encouraged to borrow money rather than overload himself with self-help jobs. He added a student must have some time for recreation, activities and relaxation.

4. That a committee on Student Loan Fund has been established. This subcommittee meets at least once and sometimes twice a week during the regular term to consider and to approve loans. Members are W. A. Terrill of the Business School, chairman; Dr. Horace Crookford, Chemistry Dept.; J. A. Williams, University attorney; and Loan Manager Weaver. This group reports all actions to the University Scholarship Committee of 15 members.

Some debate had arisen in state newspapers that too much "red tape" discouraged borrowing from the Student Loan Fund. In January Governor Hodges issued a statement that his attention had been called to a backlog of unused student loan funds because the students were reluctant to borrow money.

Reserve Dwindling
However, Cathey said that more money is being loaned than accounts receivable for the same period which indicates the reserve is fast dwindling. The reason the committee is able to do this, Cathey explained, is because of the number of veterans repaying their loans after World War II and the Korean Conflict and also because of veteran school benefits which has reduced the requests for loans.

During the period from July 1, 1956 to Feb. 1, 1958, the total loaned out was $261,834.33 which included both long and short term loans. In the same period, total collections were $142,833.09. This is a difference of $119,001.24 between collections and loans.

Cathey also defended the "red tape" in securing a loan to impress the student "not to take it lightly." Also the Loan Fund is operated on a revolving plan and students "should feel the responsibility to repay his loan" to maintain the fund for future students.

He said that student should not feel reluctant to borrow from the fund for his education. "It's strange that when he graduates he doesn't hesitate to go through red tape and into debt for a new car."

The basic purpose of the Loan Fund is to provide aid to those students making "satisfactory

University Party Debates Bill On Proposed Honor System Revision

By SARAH ADAMS

At last night's meeting of the University Party, the two sides to the debate on the proposed bill to revise the Honor Council system were presented.

The bill, as it now stands, call for a three-branched judicial body, composed of an Attorney-General's staff, a nine-member jury and a 5 member Council. Each branch would have distinct functions, but would work in co-ordination with the entire body to promote the greatest amount of justice for the individual.

Sonny Hallford, attorney general of the student body, presented the idea that this judicial body be of a mixed nature, that is, that both men and women would serve in the respective branches and that cases concerning both sexes would be brought before this body. This body would be primarily concerned with Honor Code violations.

Hallford said that there is a difference between violations of social rules and of the Honor Code, therefore he said that he was preparing an amendment to be presented to the Ways and Means Committee last night to the effect that in the case of a woman's honor violation, it would be to the discretion of the individual as to whether her case would stay within a Council of her peers, such as Women's Residence Council, or go to the larger, mixed body for judgment.

George Ragsdale, Chairman of Men's Honor Council, was opposed to the idea of a single male and female administration of the Honor System. He said that he prefers two administrations of unmixed sexes, and was prepared to propose an amendment to the bill to implement this.

Ragsdale claimed that a mixed jury would cut down on the amount of the more personal testimony that the individual would be willing to give.

Both speakers stressed the reason for the proposal for change in the present system was spurred by the need for more education on the part of the student

Legislature Calls For Special Meet Tonight

A special session of the Student Legislature has been called for tonight at 7:30 on the top floor of New East.

The bill to revise the Honor Councils will be debated section by section. The Student Legislature will also meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Before the meeting the UP legislators will hold a caucus at 6:30 p.m. in the Great Room in Graham Memorial. SP law-makers will meet at 6:30 p.m. in Roland Parker Lounge 1 to discuss the work of the evening.

Attendance requirements for legislators at this special session will be the same as those for regular meetings. Student Legislature Speaker Don Furtado said that a fraternity or sorority meeting would not be a valid excuse.

He said that anyone who feels they have a legitimate excuse should contact Lucy Forsyth, chairman of the rules committee.

Open To All Students
This meeting is open to any one who wishes to attend to hear the discussion.

"Because of the importance of this proposal it is mandatory to have this additional session of legislature. I hope that all the legislators will seriously consider this bill previous to the session and will be prepared to objectively discuss it," Furtado commented yesterday. The Speaker said that he did not think that any final action would be taken on this bill at this session though it was possible.

Y Discussion Continues

The YMCA-YWCA Publications Board announced today that the spring supplement of the Student-Faculty Directory is available for distribution.

The supplement, containing the names and addresses of new students and any address changes of the Fall Semester students, can be picked up free of charge at the YMCA office.

Don Herring, chairman of the YMCA Publications Board, stated that work has begun on the 1958-1959 Carolina Handbook. Members of the University administration are helping the Board to evaluate last year's edition.

The handbook was sent to all entering freshmen and transfer students. The publication was completely re-worked to give a more complete picture of the Carolina way of life. This work was made possible by a grant of $1200 from Student Government.
