

Tar Heels Swamped By Notre Dame's Fighting Irish 89-70

The Daily Tar Heel

WEATHER
Possibly more snow, windy and cold today. Colder tonight and fair and cold Monday.

SNOWBALLS
They should be aimed at men, not windows, editor says on page 2.

VOL. LXV NO. 94 Offices in Graham Memorial CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1958 Complete Wire Service FOUR PAGES THIS ISSUE

Ice, Snow Hit 'Hill' Then Rain

By PARKER MADDREY

Icy conditions will prevail today after yesterday's rain on the three inches of fallen snow.

Highways in the Chapel Hill area will remain hazardous today, after yesterday's snowfall, it was predicted. Roads west of here in the Greensboro-Winston-Salem area are considered as impassable without chains. The mountain region was completely snowbound yesterday. East and southeast of here it is reported clear, receiving heavy rains only.

Snowfall was to have ended gradually last night in this area. Three inches of snow fell in Chapel Hill by 4 p.m. yesterday one inch of which had yielded to the afternoon rain. Another inch of snow was expected last night to give Chapel Hill its largest snowfall of the season.

In other areas, the eastern Piedmont received two to four inches and the western Piedmont received four to six inches of snow.

It will be partly cloudy with cold winds today, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau at the Raleigh-Durham Airport.

WINTER GERMAN'S WINTER WONDERLAND
The Cold Came, Snow Fell & Then The Fun Began

Winter Germans Ray Anthony, Leo De Lyon Are Big Hits In Concert Here

Mid South Covered In Snow, Ice

ATLANTA, Feb. 15 (AP)—A snow-laden storm left a heavy blanket of white all across the Mid-South today. It moved northeastward toward the Atlantic Seaboard states with a threat of even heavier snowfalls there.

The storm dumped an inch or more of snow on most of Tennessee and parts of Arkansas, Missouri, Kentucky, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and the Carolinas.

At least five traffic deaths were reported in the area with weather conditions listed as a factor in four of them. In Alabama, a 78-year-old woman was found dead, apparently from exposure.

Gainesville, 52 miles northeast of Atlanta, recorded 5½ inches of snow.

Alabama Shivers
North Alabama shivered in a paralyzing blanket of snow and blizzarding temperatures. The heaviest snowfall was reported at Monte Sano Mountain east of Huntsville. Clayton Braddock, a reporter for the Huntsville Times, said 14 inches had accumulated there. An eight-inch snow was reported in Birmingham.

Communications lines and in some cases power lines snapped under the heavy weight of snow. Many highways, including U. S. 31 between Cullman and Decatur and U. S. 11 at Gadsden were closed. Buses were stalled at Huntsville and Decatur.

Snow fell as far south as Jackson, Miss., but did not stick on the ground there.

A cold rain at Thomasville, Ga., kept President Eisenhower indoors again. A two-inch snowfall lay on the ground in the area near the Florida border, when the president arrived Thursday for a golfing and bird hunting vacation.

Ice and slush made driving hazardous throughout the Middle South where motorists are unaccustomed to such conditions. Communications facilities were disrupted in some areas, notably Northeastern Alabama.

'YOUNG MAN WITH A HORN'
He Wonned 'Em At Yesterday's Concert

Show Goes On Despite Snowfall

By MARY ALYS VOORHEES

A Winter Germans audience which braved three inches of snow and a downpour of rain to attend the Germans concert yesterday afternoon went away happy and still praising the excellent entertainment they had just witnessed.

For two hours they had applauded and swooned to the musical magic of Ray Anthony and his orchestra and laughed and sat spellbound at the comedy and vocal talents of the versatile comedian Leo De Lyon.

As the concert came to a close, the audience was on its feet practically shaking the glass window panes with appreciative applause for the great display of talent it had just seen.

Likes Carolina

Thus, it was little wonder that Ray Anthony had commented backstage shortly before the show, "This is one of our favorite schools. We enjoy this type of performance the most because the kids know what is going on and get so much out of the program."

After the concert a senior Germans Club member congratulated the orchestra leader: "I've been to 11 Germans concerts, and I have never seen anything to equal the applause here today."

Comedian Leo De Lyon held the audience spellbound during intermission, making his second appearance during the weekend. This performance marked his second visit to the Carolina campus, having appeared several years ago on the Winter Germans entertainment bill.

During his appearance he kept the audience in laughter with his various singing voices — ranging from high soprano to bass — imitations of sounds, quips, etc. At one time he whistled "Humoresque" while humming "Sewanee River." Closing out his part of the program, he imitated a trumpet and was joined by the Ray Anthony band.

Concert Numbers

Presenting a varied program, Ray Anthony and his orchestra pleased the packed house with such numbers as "Tenderly," "Harlem Nocturne," "Stardust," and "Kisses Sweeter Than Wine."

Adding variety were vocalists Phil Grey and Joni Durrell, who presented several romantic and popular ballads, comedy singer Ned Flore and the Four Savoyes, who added to the program with "Let's Go To the Hop."

"Slaughter on Tenth Avenue" was a big favorite with the Carolina crowd, who later rose to its feet as the band burst forth with "When the Saints Go Marching In" and "Dixie."

Favorite Number

The crowd's favorite was undoubtedly "When the Saints . . ." After one stanza on the stage, Anthony led the band in a march up and down the aisles of the auditorium.

(See GERMANS, page 3)

IN THE INFIRMARY

Students in the Infirmary yesterday included:

Misses Sandra Reid and Mary Frances Winborne and Glenn Metzger, Lee Van Storey, Houston Everett, Richard Midkiff, Nelson Hinton, William Evans, Frank London, Thomas Whitehead, Edmund Nash, William White, Frank McLeod and Donald Nelms.

Graduate Club To Hear Talk

The Graduate Club will sponsor the third in a series of supper discussion meetings Monday night beginning at 6 p.m. in Lenoir Hall.

Dr. Minerva Pinnell, visiting assistant professor in the Art Department, will be the guest speaker, discussing "Sources of Imagery in the Visual Arts."

William A. Deaton, club president from Statesville, announced that faculty, staff and undergraduates are invited to attend the programs along with graduate students. The supper will begin at 6 p.m. in an upstairs dining room of Lenoir Hall, and Dr. Pinnell will speak at 6:30.

A graduate of Radcliffe College with the A.M. and Ph.D. degrees, Miss Pinnell has taught previously at Skidmore College in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., and at the University of Illinois, where she also did her undergraduate studies.

Her European study has included two years' stay in Italy as a Fulbright Fellow, as well as visits to Germany, Austria, France, Switzerland, Holland, Spain and the British Isles.

Dr. Pinnell's doctoral thesis dealt with a critical study of High Baroque Classicistic paintings in Italy. She is a member of the College Art Association, and the Society of Architectural Historians.

GM SLATE

The following activities are scheduled for today at Graham Memorial:

Presbyterians, 9:45 a.m., Williams-Wolfe; Presbyterians, 9:45 a.m., Rendezvous Room; Friends, 11 a.m., Williams-Wolfe; Publications Board, 4:50 p.m., Roland Parker Lounge 1; Women's Residence Council, 7:5 p.m., Grail Room.

The following activities are scheduled for Monday: Graham Memorial Activities Board, 4:46 p.m., Grail Room; Dance Committee, 7:8 p.m., Grail Room; Student Party, 7:9:30 p.m., Roland Parker Lounges 1-2; Order of the Grail, 9:11 p.m., Grail Room; Budget Committee, 3:4 p.m., Roland Parker Lounge 1; Inter-Fraternity Council, 2:5 p.m., Woodhouse Conference Room; Bridge Club, 7:11 p.m., Rendezvous Room; Traffic Committee, 7:30-9:30 p.m., Woodhouse Conference Room.

news in brief

STASSEN

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Feb. 15 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen stepped out today as President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser and announced he is a candidate for governor of Pennsylvania.

Stassen's resignation in order to run on the Republican ticket in the May primary was announced at the President's vacation headquarters.

ATLAS

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla., Feb. 15 (AP)—A test firing on an Atlas Intercontinental Ballistic Missile was halted today a split second before the "Big A" would have blasted off its firing pad.

There was a huge belch of smoke but the fuel never got to the engines of the Atlas, mightiest of American war weapons.

Watchers outside the test center saw the great cloud of smoke and thought the Atlas had exploded on its launching pad. But when the smoke cleared away "the beast" could be seen still standing, its sharp nose pointed skyward.

The Air Force announced that the test was "postponed after encountering technical difficulties immediately prior to the launching."

TAXES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—The Eisenhower Administration and Democratic House leaders both are reported working quietly and separately on tax reductions plans for use if business continues to slump.

Each side wants to be ready to move quickly when and if necessary.

(See WORLD BRIEFS, page 3)

Thursday Date Set For Tennis Meet

The GMAB sponsored table tennis tournament, originally planned for another date, has been rescheduled for Thursday, Feb. 20.

Coeds and men may enter by calling in or signing up at the GM Information Office. Entries must be in by Wednesday, Feb. 19.

The tournament is of the single elimination type. Parings and playing times will be announced on Feb. 20. The final winner will receive the prize.

Bill Henshaw and Bob Galloway will act as coordinators during the tournament.

WHITEY BELL FLUNKS

Wolfpack's Basketball Fortunes Take Nosedive

RALEIGH, Feb. 15 (AP)—Basketball fortunes at North Carolina State College nosedived with the mercury today when two players, one of them the squad's captain, flunked out of school.

The loss of Whitey Bell, captain and the team's top pointmaker, and reserve guard Harold Estis came a few hours before the Wolfpack went on their home court to play Maryland in an important Atlantic Coast Conference game.

"I'm certainly sorry to lose them. They will be sorely missed," said Coach Everett Case.

There was a touch of history repeating itself in the news. About this time last year, the Wolfpack lost the services of two stars—John Maglio and Cliff Hafner—who were dropped for failure to attend classes.

The comparatively rare and beautiful display of northern lights, witnessed by probably millions of people last Monday night, may quite possibly put on repeat performances within the next 30 or 40 days," commented Tony Jenzano, director of the Morehead Planetarium.

Some scientists, Jenzano commented, "have associated the appearance of the northern lights, or the aurora borealis, with the periods when the earth is facing the surface area of the sun in which sunspots are more numerous."

He pointed out that statistics show the frequency period for these spectacles of nature is about 25

days, close to the period of rotation of the sun, and that more displays have occurred in March and September than during other months.

"Some scientists, Jenzano commented, "have associated the appearance of the northern lights, or the aurora borealis, with the periods when the earth is facing the surface area of the sun in which sunspots are more numerous."

He pointed out that statistics show the frequency period for these spectacles of nature is about 25

days, close to the period of rotation of the sun, and that more displays have occurred in March and September than during other months.

"Some scientists, Jenzano commented, "have associated the appearance of the northern lights, or the aurora borealis, with the periods when the earth is facing the surface area of the sun in which sunspots are more numerous."

He pointed out that statistics show the frequency period for these spectacles of nature is about 25

PLANNING TUESDAY RECITAL
L. to R., Edgar Alden & William Newman

Tuesday Series Slates Sonatas

Three celebrated sonatas for violin and piano, by Beethoven, Tartini and Gabriel Faure, will be presented Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in Hill Hall.

Violinist Edgar Alden and pianist William S. Newman of the Music Department faculty will be the performers in the third spring recital of the Tuesday Evening Series. The program is open to the public without admission charge.

Both men have been teaching at UNC since 1946 and have appeared in concerts together for the past eight years. For Tuesday's program they have chosen Beethoven's "Kreutzer Sonata," Tartini's "Devil's Trill," and Faure's Sonata in A.

Alden heads the UNC string division, teaching music theory and appreciation, is assistant conductor of the University Symphony Orchestra, and is first violinist for several chamber and orchestral groups.

Newman, who has appeared as recitalist and soloist throughout the country, heads the piano division, teaching music appreciation and graduate musicology.

Symposium Is Nearing $5,000 Says Chairman

Al Goldsmith, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Carolina Symposium on Public Affairs, announced yesterday his committee was very close to the $5,000 budget the Symposium needs in order to operate.

Goldsmith said that several recent contributions have put the goal of his committee within sight. He referred in general to sizable donations from the following organizations: The Interfaith Council, the Trade Union Program on Civil Liberties and Rights and the Executive Program of the Business Administration School.

The Finance Committee will conclude their fraternity fund raising drive the first of next week. A great majority of the fraternities and all of the sororities have already contributed.

Goldsmith stated: "From all indications, we should cross the $5,000 mark this week, but as the Symposium will still need more, the fund raising will continue up to and including Symposium Week from March 16-23."

"I would like to urge all groups to contribute that have not already done so. Those desiring to give money may contact me at the Symposium Office in Graham Memorial or at the Chi Phi house. This should be done as soon as possible so that their names may be placed in the Symposium Handbook and daily programs."

Dormitory Campaign
Goldsmith and his committee are also conducting a fund raising campaign in the women's dormitories at this time. They also plan to contact the presidents of the men's dormitories next week.

Expenses
The largest lump sum will go for honorariums, travel and board for speakers and will consume almost $3,000. The Handbook will also be a major expense, running in the neighborhood of $1,000.

The following organizations along with those previously mentioned, have made recent contributions: Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Theta Chi, Alpha Tau Omega and Phi Beta Kappa.
Also: Phi Eta Sigma, Sigma Nu,

AL GOLDSMITH
Symposium Fund Chairman

Opera Series Starts On TV

WUNC-TV, channel 4, will present the complete story of opera production in a new series, "Opera for Tomorrow," which may be seen Sunday evenings at 8:30 o'clock and Saturdays at 6:30 p.m.

The host of the 10-program series is Boris Goldovsky, the well-known master of ceremonies for the "Opera News of the Air," the regular intermission feature of the Metropolitan Opera's Saturday afternoon radio broadcasts. Goldovsky was recently featured in another study of musical drama, "Opera for Today."

Actually, "The Meeting" is the second act in a five-act opera entitled "Eastward in Eden" which tells the story of the poet Emily Dickinson. Written by Dorothy Gardner with music by Jan Meyerowitz, the particular act in "Opera for Tomorrow" concerns the meeting of Emily and Dr. Charles Wadsworth, a Philadelphia minister. Miss Gardner is a recognized authority on Emily Dickinson, and her opera is based on factual material about the poet which has recently come to light.