

Severely cold today and fair.
Wednesday, partly cloudy and not quite so cold.

The Daily Tar Heel

VOL. LXV NO. 95 Offices in Graham Memorial CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1958 Complete Wire Service FOUR PAGES THIS ISSUE

Includes Two Senators, Little Rock Editor, Reuther, Russian Consul, Daniels

Carolina Symposium Announces Outstanding Speaker Slate

Michaels Resigns Edit Post; Varnedoe Appointed Head

Samuel Varnedoe, a junior at Savannah, Ga., has been appointed editor of the Ram and Ewe, campus humor magazine. The new editor is slated to assume the post March 1. The appointment came following the announced resignation yesterday of the present editor, William Michael, a special student from Athens, Ga. Michael plans to join the U. S. Army early in March.

Varnedoe, 21, is an English major and at present is copy editor of the Ram and Ewe.

Michael, 22, a business administration major, has been editor of the publication since its start last semester.

His past campus activities have included the positions of grand master of ceremonies of Kappa Sigma Kappa social fraternity, alternate treasurer of the Publications Board and student orientation counselor.

He also has been associated with the summer school student government and the summer school Inter-Fraternity Council.

The present editor disclosed that the next issue of the Ram and Ewe is planned for "about" March 1.

BILL MICHAELS
Resigns As Editor

Ritchie Speaks On Book Ex

PRINGLE PIPKIN

General Manager of the University Bookstores H. R. Ritchie discussed the profits, policies and operation of the concerns operated under his supervision at the Student Party meeting last night.

The bookstore system includes the Booketeria in Steele Dorm, the wholesale department and soda fountain in the YMCA, the Scuttlebutt, the machine cigar stand in Lenior Hall, the Circus Room in the Monogram Club and the vending machines.

He stated that considered as a whole these concerns averaged a profit of about 11 cents out of every dollar of sales during the last fiscal year. The book department made a profit which was 7.22 per cent. of its sales.

These profits go into scholarships, an operating fund, payments for new equipment and improvements and a recently instituted TV-repair fund.

Last year $77,750 went into scholarships; this figure represents 98 per cent. of the total profit last year. The way in which the money is distributed changes from year to year.

He said that it was the general policy of the bookstore to give the students one half of the amount they paid for a book when they sold it at the end of the semester if the book was in good condition and was going to be used next semester.

These used books are resold to the students at three-quarters of their price when new. Manager Ritchie said that this procedure was a standard rule with most of the college bookstores across the country.

He explained that some pro-worked directly with the self-help committee in trying to give students jobs, but that many times a student's schedule will not permit work at the right hours.

As for future plans, he said there had been some talk about building "Scuttlebutts" near Woollen Gym and near the medical buildings. However, it has also been proposed that these concerns be located in buildings which are to be erected in the future.

He explained that some professors tried very hard to keep the prices of the textbooks they required as low as possible while others were not so concerned.

The fact that professors change the textbooks often in some courses is also a problem facing the bookstore.

He said there is a student advisory committee to the bookstore which usually meets every semester in order to present the student's point of view concerning the bookstore.

He explained that if concerns under his supervision made too much profit or showed too small a profit, then things were bad.

The Student party will nominate Student Legislators from Dorm Men's I, II, III; Town Women's District and Town Men's I, II at the next meeting.

CAROLINA SYMPOSIUM SPEAKER — The 1958 Carolina Symposium on Public Affairs to be held March 16-21 will feature the following speakers pictured on top row, left to right: Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington; Victor G. Reuther, director of the Washington office of the United Auto Workers; Prof. Sidney Hook of the New York University Department of Philosophy; bottom row, left to right: Katharine Elizabeth McBride, President of Bryn Mawr College; Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama; and Jonathan Daniels, editor of the Raleigh News and Observer.

Broad Student Participation Expected For Various Events

The Carolina Symposium on Public Affairs today disclosed a battery of outstanding speakers who will appear at Carolina during Symposium Week from March 16-23.

Included on the roster of well known personalities are Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington, Dr. Sidney Hook of New York University, Victor Reuther of the United Auto Workers and the Reverend Julian Hart of Yale University.

Also, Jonathan Daniels, editor of the Raleigh News and Observer; William Lee Miller, Yale University; Dr. Katherine Elizabeth McBride, president of Bryn Mawr College; Sergei Striganov, consul for the Russian Embassy; I. I. Rabi, 1944 Nobel Prize Winner; Spencer Love, president Burlington Mills and Harry Ashmore, editor of the Arkansas Gazette.

The speakers, all leading figures in their respective fields, will work around the general Symposium theme—Survival. The survival topic is being further sub-divided into several areas such as physical survival, cultural survival and American values in crisis.

There are many special features being run that week for students here at Carolina and for the general public. Programs will be presented each morning in Carroll Hall and each evening in Memorial Hall.

Sandwiched in between these presentations will be classroom seminars and lectures, where the students will have an opportunity to hear the speakers in a small group.

Banquets, Receptions
Many of the campus fraternities and sororities will be sponsoring banquets and receptions for the personalities participating in the various programs.

Displays will be seen around campus in such buildings as Lenior Hall, Wilson Library and Memorial Hall. These will include books written by the participants and detailed biographical sketches of them.

Publicity
Broad radio and television coverage has been promised with such special features as a state-wide FM network and television coverage by WUNC.

There is also some possibility that Monitor of NBC will also be here for selected parts of the program. All of the major state papers will be on campus and will give complete round-ups of all of the Symposium news as well The Daily Tar Heel.

Participation Urged
Sonny Hallford, chairman of the 1958 Symposium, is urging all students to participate in the programs being offered to them. He states: "We expect broad participation in these activities by students, faculty and citizens in what we hope will be a most stimulating series of experiences."

The major theme for the 1958 Symposium is "The Dimensions of Survival: American Culture in World Focus," with the sub-themes "Physical Survival," "Cultural Survival," and "American Values in Crisis." This year 1958 will mark the biggest and best Symposium yet planned by the committee.

In addition to the speakers already referred to, there will be many others who will participate exclusively in seminars, rather than the main speeches. Watch for future references to them.

Symposium Slate

- Sen. John Sparkman — Democrat from Alabama, 1952 vice-presidential candidate and ranking Democrat on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.
  - Sen. Henry Jackson — Democrat from Washington, and selected while in Congress as one of the ten top House members on the basis of independence, honesty and leadership.
  - Jonathan Daniels — Editor of the Raleigh News and Observer and former Assistant Director of Civilian Defense.
  - Harry Ashmore — Editor of the Arkansas Gazette and anti-Faibus.
  - The Rev. Julian Hart — Chairman of the Department of Religion, Yale College, Yale University.
  - William Lee Miller — Consultant to the Fund for the Republic project on Religion and the Society and assistant professor of social ethics at Yale University.
  - Katherine McBride — President of Bryn Mawr College and former chairman of the American Council on Education.
  - Victor Reuther — Director of the Washington Office of the United Auto Workers and Assistant to the President, Industrial Union Department of the AFL-CIO.
  - Dr. Sidney Hook — Professor of Philosophy New York University, Three time recipient of a Guggenheim Fellowship and author of numerous books.
  - Sergei Striganov — Charge d' affaires of the USSR and Counselor to the Russian Embassy.
  - Spencer Love — President of Burlington Mills and well known industrialist.
  - I. I. Rabi — 1944 Nobel Prize Winner and a member of the President's Scientific Advisory Board.
- In addition to those already mentioned there will be others participating in lectures and classroom seminars.

Book Exchange Manager Requests Legal Clarification On Bible Tax

Book Exchange Manager H. R. Ritchie has submitted a request for legal clarification on state sales tax charged for Holy Bibles and other religious literature.

The request was sent to the office of University Attorney Williams. However, Williams will be out of town until about Thursday.

Ritchie said that as soon as Williams studied the request, it would be sent to the North Carolina Attorney General for a ruling. He said the question involved would probably be whether the Bibles and religious literature were being used as texts.

Di Senate To Discuss Profit-Sharing Proposal

Walter Reuther's controversial proposal for profit-sharing in industry will be considered by the Dialectic Senate tonight at 8 o'clock on the third floor of New West.

Sen. P. E. Barrow will introduce the bill of the evening. The Reuther proposal has been widely discussed and is bitterly opposed by the top management in the auto industry. A recent TV interview by Mike Wallace featured in which he presented his views.

Several of the industry leaders have appeared before congressional committees stating in their testimony outspoken opposition to any

Campus Chest Drive To Get Underway Here

The Campus Chest Drive, UNC's unusual campus fund campaign, is set for Feb. 22—Feb. 29, according to Libby McCord and Gene Parker, co-chairmen of the drive.

The fund drive is unusual because it is a drive staged by students to help students, the only campaign of its kind at Carolina. The motto this year is "Help Them to Help Themselves" and the money from the drive will go to three organizations, the World University Service, the Goettingen Students Exchange, and the National Scholarships Service.

Supports Students
The World University Service is an organization which enables students to give support to other students all over the world. The funds given support a program of material assistance and promote education for international understanding. Students in other countries also contribute to help students in the United States through this organization.

The Goettingen Student Exchange Program is an organization which sends students from Carolina to Goettingen University to study for a year while students from there attend Carolina for a year. Funds are needed to defray traveling and living expenses for these students.

The National Scholarship Service is a fund for Negro students who would not otherwise be able to attend college. Originated seven years ago, it has increased the opportunities for higher education for Negroes who attend already integrated colleges.

Treacher Makes Third Shaw Appearance In Play Here

Arthur Treacher, who co-stars with Tyrone Power and Faye Emerson in "Back to Methuselah," which comes to Memorial Hall, Feb. 28 and March 1 at 8:30 p.m., makes his third Shaw appearance in recent years in "Back to Methuselah."

A few years back he appeared on Broadway in "Caesar and Cleopatra" co-starring Sir Cedric Harwicke and Lilli Palmer, and in "Getting Married" with an all-star cast.

As one of filmdom's favorite performers, Treacher has appeared in scores of films, among them "Viva Villa," "National Velvet," "David Copperfield," and "Forsaking All Others."

In addition to the Shaw plays, his stage appearances in this country have been as a comedian in such musical attractions in New York

as "Wonder Bar" with Al Jolson, "Panama Hattie" with Ethel Merman, and "Ziegfeld Follies," as co-star with Milton Berle and Ilona Massey.

He acted with Ethel Barrymore in "School for Scandal," and recently completed a tour with Chatterton in "The Reluctant Debutante."

In "Back to Methuselah" Treacher appears in the roles as Dr. Conrad Barnabas, The Accountant General, as The Elderly Gentleman in 3000 A.D.

Tickets for "Back to Methuselah" are available in the Playmakers Business Office, 214 Abernethy Hall. All seats are reserved at $2.20, $3.30 and $4.40. Good seats in each section are still available, though tickets sales are going fast.

MOVIE STAR ARTHUR TREACHER
Plays Three Roles In "Back to Methuselah"

Di Senate To Discuss Profit-Sharing Proposal

Walter Reuther's controversial proposal for profit-sharing in industry will be considered by the Dialectic Senate tonight at 8 o'clock on the third floor of New West.

Sen. P. E. Barrow will introduce the bill of the evening. The Reuther proposal has been widely discussed and is bitterly opposed by the top management in the auto industry. A recent TV interview by Mike Wallace featured in which he presented his views.

Several of the industry leaders have appeared before congressional committees stating in their testimony outspoken opposition to any

Campus Chest Drive To Get Underway Here

The Campus Chest Drive, UNC's unusual campus fund campaign, is set for Feb. 22—Feb. 29, according to Libby McCord and Gene Parker, co-chairmen of the drive.

The fund drive is unusual because it is a drive staged by students to help students, the only campaign of its kind at Carolina. The motto this year is "Help Them to Help Themselves" and the money from the drive will go to three organizations, the World University Service, the Goettingen Students Exchange, and the National Scholarships Service.

Supports Students
The World University Service is an organization which enables students to give support to other students all over the world. The funds given support a program of material assistance and promote education for international understanding. Students in other countries also contribute to help students in the United States through this organization.

The Goettingen Student Exchange Program is an organization which sends students from Carolina to Goettingen University to study for a year while students from there attend Carolina for a year. Funds are needed to defray traveling and living expenses for these students.

The National Scholarship Service is a fund for Negro students who would not otherwise be able to attend college. Originated seven years ago, it has increased the opportunities for higher education for Negroes who attend already integrated colleges.

Treacher Makes Third Shaw Appearance In Play Here

Arthur Treacher, who co-stars with Tyrone Power and Faye Emerson in "Back to Methuselah," which comes to Memorial Hall, Feb. 28 and March 1 at 8:30 p.m., makes his third Shaw appearance in recent years in "Back to Methuselah."

A few years back he appeared on Broadway in "Caesar and Cleopatra" co-starring Sir Cedric Harwicke and Lilli Palmer, and in "Getting Married" with an all-star cast.

As one of filmdom's favorite performers, Treacher has appeared in scores of films, among them "Viva Villa," "National Velvet," "David Copperfield," and "Forsaking All Others."

In addition to the Shaw plays, his stage appearances in this country have been as a comedian in such musical attractions in New York

as "Wonder Bar" with Al Jolson, "Panama Hattie" with Ethel Merman, and "Ziegfeld Follies," as co-star with Milton Berle and Ilona Massey.

He acted with Ethel Barrymore in "School for Scandal," and recently completed a tour with Chatterton in "The Reluctant Debutante."

In "Back to Methuselah" Treacher appears in the roles as Dr. Conrad Barnabas, The Accountant General, as The Elderly Gentleman in 3000 A.D.

Tickets for "Back to Methuselah" are available in the Playmakers Business Office, 214 Abernethy Hall. All seats are reserved at $2.20, $3.30 and $4.40. Good seats in each section are still available, though tickets sales are going fast.

CAMPUS CHEST COMMITTEE — L to R, seated: Tog Sanders, Libby McCord, Gene Parker, Susan Purser and Jennie Layne. Standing, L to R, Howard Holderness, Doug Kellam, Jean Pierre Boissaviv, Sara Williamson and Tom Ray.

Phi To Debate Bill Dealing With Literary Genius' Sanity

By ED ROWLAND
A bill proposing to release Ezra Pound from his confinement will be debated by the Philanthropic Literary Society tonight at 8 p.m. Pres. Jess Stribling announced that special invitations have been extended to members of the English Department faculty. He said that any other faculty members and students are welcome.

Stribling will introduce the bill, which states that the government of the United States should not restrict its citizens from their pursuit of the basic freedoms of thought and expression.

Literary Genius
It goes on to say that "at this moment an outstanding genius of the American literary world is being restricted from freely expressing himself by his confinement in St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Washington, D.C. (See PH1, page 3)