

WEATHER

Generally fair and mild today.
Friday, partly cloudy and mild.

The Daily Tar Heel

HELP

You haven't lived unless you have helped your fellow man says
the Editor on page 2.

VOL. LXV NO. 133 Offices in Graham Memorial CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, THURSDAY, APRIL 3, 1958 Complete Wire Service FOUR PAGES THIS ISSUE

Official Election Returns

Candidate	DM 1	DM 2	DM 3	DM 4	DM 5	TM 1	TM 2	TM 3	TM 4	TW	DW	Total
STUDENT BODY
Carter	69	110	95	206	118	14	11	38	14	30	88	793
Furtado	99	109	82	131	104	18	67	64	12	36	193	976
Goldsmith	92	120	78	123	95	92	261	38	16	72	145	1182
Cummings	150	266	162	316	206	25	64	113	27	57	237	1632
Lawing	96	127	85	133	103	96	271	70	13	76	182	1252
Wall	142	251	185	327	218	35	60	105	25	89	310	1747
Wilkinson	114	145	63	125	98	89	277	79	15	48	31	1084
Gray	159	141	109	143	116	97	272	90	18	88	216	1448
James	99	252	136	303	197	23	62	90	20	44	198	1424
EDITOR
Frye	24	21	19	37	29	7	13	16	13	10	65	254
Gans	113	82	131	186	133	52	41	60	22	48	219	1087
Pipkin	51	64	45	114	70	30	224	32	5	31	119	785
Sloan	27	29	32	62	39	24	21	43	7	13	36	333
Whitley	36	43	32	62	46	10	28	38	4	3	7	307
SENIOR CLASS
Hare	13	19	9	20	25	66	26	5	*	*	*	387
Kelly	12	26	18	36	27	12	35	18	7	*	*	235
Long	17	29	25	35	40	8	4	26	4	*	*	265
Lefler	27	37	27	46	45	39	96	39	6	*	*	589
Pittman	15	35	24	45	41	5	9	29	9	*	*	289
Campbell	33	35	36	62	59	6	11	32	8	*	*	401
Root	10	39	15	28	22	38	91	33	6	*	*	469
Arnold	18	32	12	32	30	37	92	36	10	*	*	476
Johnson	24	41	39	57	58	8	11	28	6	*	*	410
Whitaker (unopposed)												806
CHEERLEADER
Jones	113	112	102	221	256	96	268	104	26	78	254	1630
Whitty	138	119	143	215	139	25	99	766	17	23	181	1165

* Indicates that returns for these districts are not available. Grand total is correct, as reported by Election Board.

Charlie Gray Student Body Treasurer; Hare Wins Senior Class Presidency

Student Solons Pass Budget For Next Year

By PRINGLE PIPKIN

A special session of the 24th assembly of the Student Legislature devoted a majority of its time last night to take action on a $212,000 budget for the coming school year.

The money for the budget is provided for by part of the student block fees paid at the beginning of each semester. The budget was figured on anticipated enrollment of 5,400 undergraduates and 1,925 graduates and professional school students.

An appropriation of $200 to the University Club for confetti raised some questions. Al Goldsmith (UP) amended the appropriation to read $125 for this item.

At the suggestion of Dave Jones, president of the University Club, Goldsmith added a $75 president's discretionary fund and $50 to cover the rent of office space.

This amendment was passed to give the University Club a budget of $725. The function of this club is to provide pep rallies, bonfires and other spirit raising measures.

Quarterly Budget Attacked

A grant of $1,900 to the Carolina Quarterly was attacked by Ralph Cummings (SP) on the grounds that student participation on the magazine did not justify such a large amount.

Harold O'Tuel (SP), chairman of the Publications Board, defended this appropriation and said that it was widely read off campus and was among the top three magazines of its type in this country. The appropriation was not changed.

Graham Memorial Student Union got $41,752, the largest amount of student fees received by any one organization.

The Daily Tar Heel will operate on a budget of $43,366.70, of which $20,366.70 will be student fees. The Yackety Yack will get $29,995 from the Student Legislature.

Some of the other organizations to get student fees were: the executive branch of the student government, $9,342; the Carolina Forum, $1,875; the Forensic Council $1,945; and the exchange scholarship program, $1,700. The IDC, $1,500; the Carolina Handbook, $2,380; the Ram and Ewe, $750; the band, $1,025; the Men's Glee Club, $1,000; the legislative branch of the student government, $610;

Also the Carolina Symposium, $300; the Graduate Club, $180; the student government self-help scholarship, $200; and the Independent Women's Council, $255.

And the Consolidated University Student Council, $260; the UNC State Student Legislature, $170; and the Campus Chest, $125.

JEFF HARE
Senior Class President

UP Controls Legislature & Class Officer Voting

By JOHN WHITLEY

Final balloting returns today revealed an almost complete victory for the University Party in this year's spring elections. Official tallies by the election board gave the political party a majority in the student legislature, a clean sweep of the senior class officers, head cheerleaders and student body treasurer.

Only one office—president of the student body—hung in the balance, and there too, UP's candidate led the voting.

Final results today gave Jeff Hare (UP), 387, the senior class presidency over Tom Long (SP), 265, and Independent Jim Kelly, 235.

"I am very happy and proud to have been chosen president of senior class," asserted Hare. "I think we have a fine slate of officers, and I am sure that we will serve the class to the best of our abilities."

Hamp Lefler defeated James Pittman 589 to 289 for vice president.

Betty Root edged out Susan Campbell 469 to 401 for secretary. Only candidate for treasurer was John Whitaker. Susan Arnold will be social chairman of next year's class, winning over Betty Kaye Johnson by 476 to 410.

Official returns regarding the student body officers showed that Al Goldsmith (UP) held a slight plurality, 1182 to 976, over Don Furtado (SP) for the presidency. The runoff contest is slated for April 15.

Vice-President Ralph Cummings (SP) gained his office by claiming 1632 votes to (UP) Jack Lawing's 1252. New student body secretary is Paddy Wall (SP) who defeated Martha Wilkinson (UP) by 1747 to 1084.

Treasurer of the student body is Charlie Gray (UP) 1448, who won over Everett James (SP), 1424.

At an earlier hearing, the board found that Hopkins had not given his place proper supervision and had permitted the consumption of liquor during a breakfast party given by a University of North Carolina fraternity at the time of the raid.

Apparently clearing the way for an appeal to the courts, Hopkins' attorney, Dan Williams Jr. of Durham, contended that the board's hearing examiner, Earl Weathersby, had erred in admitting certain evidence into the record.

He argued Weathersby should have stricken testimony given by ABC Inspector John Buck and Durham County Deputy Sheriff Bruce Lawson because, he said, their evidence was obtained with neither a search warrant nor Hopkins' permission.

Williams contended a state law which allows ABC inspectors to inspect a beer dealer's premises at any time is unconstitutional.

Williams also said the board's findings were not supported by the evidence in the case.

Williams contended a state law which allows ABC inspectors to inspect a beer dealer's premises at any time is unconstitutional.

Williams also said the board's findings were not supported by the evidence in the case.

ABC Board To Study Hopkins Case Appeal

RALEIGH, April 2 (AP)—The State ABC Board took under advisement Wednesday a request by the proprietor of a Durham County drive-in that it reverse its decision suspending his retail beer permit for 120 days.

The board held a brief hearing on the request by John S. (Jack) Hopkins whose place was raided early in the morning of Feb. 9.

At an earlier hearing, the board found that Hopkins had not given his place proper supervision and had permitted the consumption of liquor during a breakfast party given by a University of North Carolina fraternity at the time of the raid.

Apparently clearing the way for an appeal to the courts, Hopkins' attorney, Dan Williams Jr. of Durham, contended that the board's hearing examiner, Earl Weathersby, had erred in admitting certain evidence into the record.

He argued Weathersby should have stricken testimony given by ABC Inspector John Buck and Durham County Deputy Sheriff Bruce Lawson because, he said, their evidence was obtained with neither a search warrant nor Hopkins' permission.

Williams contended a state law which allows ABC inspectors to inspect a beer dealer's premises at any time is unconstitutional.

Williams also said the board's findings were not supported by the evidence in the case.

Williams contended a state law which allows ABC inspectors to inspect a beer dealer's premises at any time is unconstitutional.

Williams also said the board's findings were not supported by the evidence in the case.

Berry Wins Marshall Fellowship

Lloyd E. Berry, a student in the Department of English, has been awarded a Marshall Fellowship for two years of study at Magdalene College of Cambridge University.

While at Cambridge, Berry will continue important and original scholarship on unpublished manuscripts of Gile Fletcher, the elder. This project relates to Berry's current work as a candidate for the M. A. degree at UNC.

Berry and his wife, both from Houston, Tex., will leave for England in mid-September. The Marshall grant will provide annually some 700 pounds sterling in addition to funds for tuition, fees and traveling expenses.

In addition to studying Fletcher's work in hopes of publishing manuscripts, Berry will pursue the doctorate degree at Cambridge. His UNC study on Fletcher began in a Renaissance literature course under Prof. Peter G. Philias.

Berry, through a search of catalogues in the UNC library, discovered 18 unpublished manuscript poems, the unpublished manuscript for "Of The Russe Commonwealth," Fletcher's most important prose work, and 32 letters, 26 of them previously unpublished, of the elder Fletcher. He plans, eventually, to complete a biography and a critical edition of Fletcher.

Also the Carolina Symposium, $300; the Graduate Club, $180; the student government self-help scholarship, $200; and the Independent Women's Council, $255.

And the Consolidated University Student Council, $260; the UNC State Student Legislature, $170; and the Campus Chest, $125.

Williams contended a state law which allows ABC inspectors to inspect a beer dealer's premises at any time is unconstitutional.

Williams also said the board's findings were not supported by the evidence in the case.

Williams contended a state law which allows ABC inspectors to inspect a beer dealer's premises at any time is unconstitutional.

Williams also said the board's findings were not supported by the evidence in the case.

Williams contended a state law which allows ABC inspectors to inspect a beer dealer's premises at any time is unconstitutional.

Williams also said the board's findings were not supported by the evidence in the case.

Williams contended a state law which allows ABC inspectors to inspect a beer dealer's premises at any time is unconstitutional.

Williams also said the board's findings were not supported by the evidence in the case.

Williams contended a state law which allows ABC inspectors to inspect a beer dealer's premises at any time is unconstitutional.

Williams also said the board's findings were not supported by the evidence in the case.

Williams contended a state law which allows ABC inspectors to inspect a beer dealer's premises at any time is unconstitutional.

Williams also said the board's findings were not supported by the evidence in the case.

ALMA GRAHAM, a UNC senior from Raleigh, has won the coveted Woodrow Wilson Fellowship for a year's graduate study at Columbia University. The overall stipend of $1,400, supplied by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, will be further bolstered by tuition and dependency allowances from the foundation. The Wilson awards are made to students who plan to teach in college.

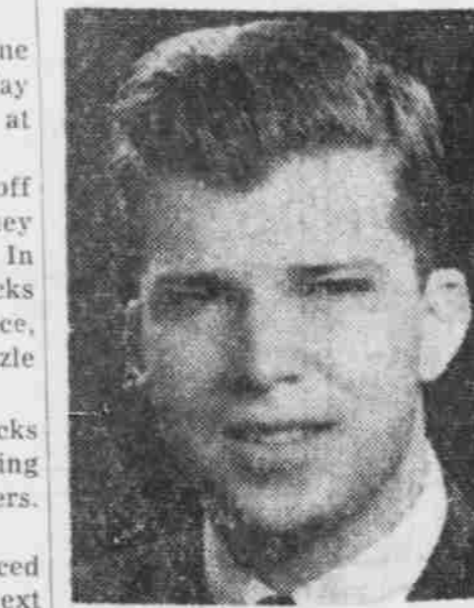

Monday Bridge Game Winners Are Named

A pre-Easter crowd of nine tables showed up for Monday night's duplicate bridge game at Graham Memorial.

Jap Memory and Dick Potthoff paced the student winners. They won second place East-West. In the same direction Leonard Sacks and Peter Marks won third place, and Deane Coats and Bill Uzzle won fourth place.

Joe Converse and Richard Hicks were the only students placing among the North-South winners. They won fourth place.

Director Dan Duke announced that no game will be played next Monday but that regular play will resume Monday, April 12.

LLOYD E. BERRY
Wins Marshall Fellowship

Bob Carter Releases Statement On Election

Bob Carter, who was eliminated from the runoff contest for president of the student body, released the following statement to the Daily Tar Heel Wednesday.

"I would like to take the opportunity to thank from the bottom of my heart all the students who voted for me in Tuesday's election. It is most gratifying to know that so many people felt as they did toward me and would have wanted me to be president.

"The campaign was a most wonderful experience for me and I feel that I gained many friends and much knowledge from it.

"I also think more people are aware of our student government problems and issues because of such a spirited campaign. This was one thing I hoped to do as an independent candidate and I feel I succeeded.

"Student Government is going to face a big year ahead and it is going to have a good year. We still have two very good candidates from which to choose. We who are interested in student government will be backing the president, no matter who he is, to see that is done.

"Again I say thanks to all my supporters for the faith you had and expressed for me."

UNC Testing Service To Offer Proficiency Tests In English

The University Testing Service is again giving sophomore English proficiency tests.

Last semester the proficiency tests were offered free to all sophomores, in a choice of four evenings. People who didn't take the test were given the test later at a cost of $2.

The tests are being offered again at the same price. The tests will be offered at this price until April 9. Those failing to take the test by then will be charged $4.

If students were unable to take the test before and have a good excuse, they are to contact Dean Johnson's office room 308 South Building.

Also, if any have not received notice to take the test and think they should, they are to contact Dean Johnson's office.

It is necessary to complete the test before transferring to upper college or before pre-registering for the summer or fall semester. The pre-registration dates will be May 7-14.

GM SLATE

Student Council, 7-11 p.m.,
Graft Room; Rules Committee,
4-5 p.m., Roland Parker Lounge
I; Student Party Caucus, 7-7:30 p.m., Roland Parker Lounge I;
Chess Club, 6:30-11 p.m., Roland
Parker Lounge II; University
Party, 6:30-7:30 p.m., Woodhouse
Conference Room; Womens Honor
Council, 6:45-10 p.m., Council
Room; Dance Lessons, 7-8 p.m.,
Rendezvous Room.

Tar Heel Staff Meet

Current staff members and those interested in joining The Daily Tar Heel are urged to be present at a staff meeting in the paper's Graham Memorial offices Tuesday afternoon.

Curtis Gans, new editor, said the meeting will begin at 4 p. m. He particularly urged the presence of those currently associated with the newspaper.

To Bring Leaders Together

The Grail was conceived to fit the needs of the time. The idea of its founders was to bring student leaders together in an organization that would serve the entire campus, promoting fellowship not only among its members, but throughout the campus community as well.

For 38 years the Order of the Grail has existed at the University as a self-perpetuating student organization.

The Grail was conceived to fit the needs of the time. The idea of its founders was to bring student leaders together in an organization that would serve the entire campus, promoting fellowship not only among its members, but throughout the campus community as well.

For 38 years the Order of the Grail has existed at the University as a self-perpetuating student organization.

The Grail was conceived to fit the needs of the time. The idea of its founders was to bring student leaders together in an organization that would serve the entire campus, promoting fellowship not only among its members, but throughout the campus community as well.

For 38 years the Order of the Grail has existed at the University as a self-perpetuating student organization.

The Grail was conceived to fit the needs of the time. The idea of its founders was to bring student leaders together in an organization that would serve the entire campus, promoting fellowship not only among its members, but throughout the campus community as well.

Order Of Grail History Dates Back To 1920 And Includes 481 Initiates

By JOHN KERR

The Order of the Grail was established at UNC in 1920—in the first student generation of a post-war period. As World War I closed, hundreds of students released from the armed forces came back to the University to prepare for civilian careers. Others, of course, continued to come direct from preparatory schools. The campus population in Chapel Hill increased by leaps and bounds. Campus unity was a perplexing problem that challenged the best student minds of the day.

Student activities and student government—retarded in the 19 war months of 1917-18—were seeking to regain pre-war strength. Fraternities were looking to larger memberships and new houses. Naturally a student body that included students ranging in experience from war veterans to green freshmen, needed a basis of unity and understanding. Groups that stood apart could not contribute to campus unity. There were few all-campus social occasions, dances for instance being restricted by tradition and expense very largely to members of the exclusive German Club.

This year the Order has sponsored all-campus dances, handled the sale of class rings and graduation invitations, given recognition to deserving individuals who have performed an outstanding service to the campus, awarded several hundred dollars of scholarships, and took the lead in an effort to strengthen the Intramural program and advance dormitory-fraternity relations by inauguration of the first annual Grail-Mural Sports Jamboree.

13 Members

achievement and unselfish devotion to altruistic endeavors, but also of the willingness to serve to exhibit these qualities in the interest of the student body.

Present officers are John Kerr, Delegate, Herman Godwin, Scribe, Benny Thomas, Exchequer, and Mac Paton, Vice-Exchequer. Active members are Eddie Bass, Neil Bass, John Brooks, Bob Carter, Sonny Evans, Joel Fleishman, Don Furtado, Sonny Hallford, Ray Jefferies, Tom Lambeth, Danny Lotz, Jerry Oppenheimer, George Ragsdale, Bill Redding, Sandy Sanders and Tom Walters.

481 Initiates

There are 481 initiates listed on the handsome Grail plaque that hangs in the Grail Room in the Graham Memorial building. The names represent all classes from 1921 to date.

In the University faculty, in North Carolina, and throughout the nation Grail alumni occupy places of trust and leadership. One Grail alum has served as speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives. Others are leading professional and business men in their communities.

The Grail's long record of campus service thus has won it recognition and approval both by students and by the University. In its 38th year of the organization enjoys a maturity of character.

Its student members continue to show enthusiasm, zeal and talented leadership in making the Grail even richer in campus community service and highly respected as the highest undergraduate honorary at UNC.

13 Members

13 Members

13 Members

13 Members

13 Members

13 Members

IN THE INFIRMARY

Students in the University infirmary yesterday included: Misses Phyllis Jones, Juanita Love, Sarah Nicholson, Frances Gilchrist, Margaret Jackson, Daryl Ferrington, Carolyn Donnelly, Sally Robeson, Elizabeth Oliver and Sandra Regenie and Philip Adams, Abner Withers, Ronald Bull, Bill Hamilton, Don Shaw, Bill Nebel, Ronald Koons, Eddie Roberts, George Morgan, Billy Eddins and Frank Slusser.

WAA Officers

New president of the Women's Athletic Assoc. is Jo Carpenter winning over Ju Ju Stokes by 336 to 176. Vice president is Martha Wilkinson who collected 280 votes to Sue Donisthorpe's 234. Secretary of WAA is Ka Smith (222), who led Sara Owen (136).

WAA treasurer is Lucy Posgate, Pearce, who overcame Pat Jones, 379 to 115.

Women's Residence Council

Heading the Women's Residence Council for next year will be Lillian Shannonhouse who won with 179 votes. Her opponents were Ann Harvey (157), Allene Keith (77) and Cynthia Thompson (120).

Legislature

University Party Candidates captured the majority of vacant legislature seats in Tuesday's election, filling 16 of 29 possible positions.

In Dorm Men's IV, which was recounted today, Donald Rowe (SP) Otto Funderburk (SP) and David Grigg (UP) were elected.