

PARENTS' DAY FEATURE—The U. S. Drum and Bugle Corps, shown performing in front of the Capitol in Washington, D. C., will appear in connection with the annual Parents' Day program at 2 this afternoon on Fetzer Field. The group is under the sponsorship of the UNC Air Force ROTC unit. Since its beginning in 1949 the Corps has achieved international fame and has made appearances in four continents. It is the first group to use certain custom-built instruments.

Welcome To Chapel Hill . . . UNC Celebrates Parents' Day

Parents of students from everywhere will be on the campus today to engage in Parents' Day activities sponsored by the Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity. A full day's program has been scheduled for the visitors, and clear, sunny weather has been forecast. Chancellor Emeritus Robert B. House will be featured speaker during the band concert on the lawn at Davie Poplar. The concert and speech have been moved from the location near South Building announced previously. No activities have been scheduled during the morning in order that parents may attend regular worship services in Chapel Hill with their sons and daughters. They have also been invited to attend the Sunday evening suppers at the churches in the community. Parents have been invited to men's and women's dorms between noon and 2 p.m. to look over the rooms. Students are asked to maintain maximum decorum during the day by the APO. Parents may picnic lunch on the campus if they wish. During the afternoon's activities at Davie Poplar the Glee Club will sing, the University Band will perform and the faculty reception will be held. The Glee Club has scheduled: "Oh, Chapel Hill," "Ingerwette," "Hark the Sound," "Gaudemus Igitur," "Man Without A Country," and "To Thee We Sing." Also during the afternoon the United States Air Force Drum and Bugle Corps of Washington, D. C. will present a formal drill at Fetzer Field.

Parents' Day Schedule

Following is a complete schedule for Parents' Day today:
11 a.m. Church if you wish at any of Chapel Hill's churches.
12-2 p.m. Lunch, with picnic lunches on the campus if you wish. Open house in all dormitories.
2-4 p.m. Demonstrations and exhibits:
Air Force Drum and Bugle Corps at Fetzer Field.
Navy Armory open for inspection.
Zoology Museum exhibit at Wilson Hall.
Geology Museum exhibit at New East Building.
Library exhibits in L. R. Wilson Library.
Radio-Television-Motion Pictures Department open for inspection in Swain Hall.
Playmakers Museum in 101 Saunders.
Chemistry exhibit at Venable Hall.
Consolidated University Offices open for inspection at Old Institute of Government Building.
Morehead Building open, three shows during afternoon and evening.
Other points of interest: Graham Memorial Student Union.
Person Hall Art Gallery.
Coker Arboretum.
Forest Theater.
Pool at Woollen Gymnasium.
Sundial in parking lot at Morehead Building.
Kenan Stadium.
Battle Park.
Circus Room at Monogram Club.
Refreshments for parents are available at women's dorms.
3:30-4:30 p.m. Faculty reception and Glee Club concert at Davie Poplar.
4:30 p.m. Address by Chancellor Emeritus Robert Burton House.
Band concert at Davie Poplar.
6 p.m. Supper, at the Student Supper Forums held at various churches if you wish.

Press Photo Course Winners On Display

Print winners of the Southern Short Course in Press Photography will be exhibited at the Morehead Planetarium throughout the month of May. Sponsored by the Carolina Press Photographers Association, the exhibit will be displayed in the North Art Gallery of the Morehead building. The Press Photography course was held in Chapel Hill April 17-19. The following prize-winning photographers will be represented at the exhibit:
Feature pictures: 1. Tom Walters, Charlotte Observer; 2. June Glenn Jr., Asheville Citizen-Times; 3. Jack Gaking, Roanoke, Va., Times.
Pictorial sections: 1. Tom Nebbia, Columbia, S. C., State Record; 2. Jim Sparks, Durham Herald; 3. Jeep Hunter, Charlotte News.
Sports pictures: 1. Charles Cooper, Durham Herald-Sun; 2. Jeep Hunter, Charlotte News; 3. Malcolm Gamble, Asheville Citizen-Times.
Advertising and Public Relations: 1. Charles Cooper, Durham Herald-Sun; 2. Tom Nebbia, Columbia, S. C., State Record; 3. Bill Lynch, Burlington free lancer.
General news: 1. Tom Walters, Charlotte Observer; 2. Tom Nebbia, Columbia State Record; 3. Charles Cooper, Durham Herald-Sun.
Portraits and personalities: 1. Tom Walters, Charlotte News; 2. Ewart Ball, Asheville Citizen-Times; 3. Don Martin, Charlotte News.
Fashions and society: 1. Jeep Hunter, Charlotte News; 2. George Smith, Lynchburg, Va., News and Daily Advance; 3. Charlie Kelley, Charlotte Observer.
Spot news, still: 1. Charlie Kelley, Charlotte Observer; 2. George Smith, Lynchburg, Va., News and Daily Advance; 3. Charlie Kelley, Charlotte Observer.
Picture story: 1. Burke Uzzle, Raleigh Times.

Action On Parking Meters Expected At May 3 Meeting

Members of the Chapel Hill Board of Aldermen said Saturday nothing had been done on the parking meter situation since last meeting of the Board, but definite action might be taken at the next meeting May 13. One member stated that there were two methods of controlling the current traffic problem in Chapel Hill—policing and parking meters. He added, "I think its pretty de-

Andrews Tried For Third Time

A former University of North Carolina student, charged over a year ago with stealing examination papers from UNC, will be tried for the third time in August. Solicitor W. H. Murdock said Friday he planned to try Herbert G. Andrews of Durham in Orange Superior Court in Hillsboro for the alleged larceny. Andrews' second trial resulted Thursday in a mistrial when a Superior Court jury at Hillsboro rejected itself hopelessly deadlocked. Andrews was charged with stealing examination papers from the University more than a year ago. He was a senior here at the time.

Three Students Given French Scholarships

Three UNC students have been awarded scholarships set up with money granted the UNC Department of Romance Languages by the Cultural Services of the French Embassy. Dr. Jacques Hardre, professor of French at the University and chairman of the Scholarship Selection Committee, announced that George Edward Craddock Jr. of Cary, Joseph L. Ewing of Chapel Hill and Irvine Reid Strling Haig of Asheville are winners of the scholarships.

According to Dr. Hardre, the money from the annual grant of the French Government to the UNC Department of Romance Languages is being used to encourage and reward outstanding students in French. Regulations for the scholarships stated that preference was given to students who intended to continue their studies in graduate school. Before coming to UNC, Ewing attended Peoples School in Atlanta, Ga.; Georgia Military Academy, College Park, Ga.; and Central in Memphis, Tenn. His major fields of interest are medieval, renaissance and 20th century French literature. Haig, who was educated at David Millard junior high school in Asheville and Lycee Chateaubriand, Rome, Italy, is interested in continuing his study of 19th and 20th century French literature. Dr. Hardre stated that all the scholarship winners plan to pursue their studies of French in graduate school and that all three indicated a desire to continue at UNC. He added that these are the first finite they will be installed. We haven't taken action, but I think that's the sentiment of the Board." If meters are installed, parallel parking will be initiated on Columbia Street. This would result in some 30 fewer parking spaces unless parking will be allowed on Rosemary Street. Rosemary Street parking would add some 40 parking spaces, thus cutting the total of available spaces by approximately 40.

One alderman stated that the installation of meters "looks like a necessary intermediate step. We're hoping that what we lose in parking spaces will be made up for in a better flow of traffic."

When asked why they would shift to parallel parking on Columbia Street, an Alderman stated that this would widen the area available for driving. He said parallel parking would keep the cars from taking up so much space in the middle of the street as the present angle parking system does.

These words came the day after Student Body President Don Furtado threatened Chapel Hill merchants, theaters and restaurants with a complete boycott by UNC students, if the parking meter idea is not killed.

Furtado said, "It is time that the townspeople, the merchants and the Aldermen of Chapel Hill realize that the students of the University of North Carolina are not pawns to be pushed around for their own personal comfort and aggrandizement."

Cleaveland Named To Succeed Robson As Political Science Head

Frederic N. Cleaveland, 42, professor of political science at UNC has been named chairman of the Department of Political Science. Cleaveland succeeds Professor C. B. Robson, who will take a leave of absence from the University to study in Germany on a Fulbright Scholarship. The new appointment will be effective September 1, 1958. Professor Cleaveland, born in Phoenix, Arizona, was graduated from Duke University in 1937 and received his M.A. degree from Duke in 1942. He received his Ph.D. degree at Princeton University in 1951 and joined the UNC faculty in September of the same year. At the University he is also a research professor connected with the Institute of Research in Social Science. During the past year Professor Cleaveland has been a member of the special Committee on Extension which has made a study for long-range planning at the University. He is on the administrative board of the College of Arts and Sciences, the Graduate School, the School of Social Work, and Student Affairs. Before coming to UNC, Cleaveland was an assistant professor in the Department of Government at New York University in 1950-51. During this time he was a consultant to the personnel Division of the U.S. Department of the Interior and was a member of a research team at Princeton which was hired by the Department of the Interior to make a survey and analysis of field services in the Department. Dr. Cleaveland is currently engaged in a study of Metropolitan Community Leadership in Atlanta, Georgia, for the Governmental Affairs Institute. He is also director of a study for the National Science Foundation on science and state government. Since coming to Chapel Hill, Cleaveland has been a member of the Planning Board for the town and a member of the Board of Officers in the Community Church. He is married to the former Miss Barbara Ann Henry of Atlanta, Georgia, and they have three children, Marilyn, Ann and Kenneth.

Ugliest Senior?

Who's the ugliest senior on campus? Members of this class will know Wednesday night at the Senior Day Party. The voting—each vote costs a penny a piece—will start tomorrow and run through Wednesday. Election proceeds will go toward Senior Day. The Senior Day Class Committee announced that a final slate of ten ugliest seniors has been selected for the title.

SP Plans Investigation Into Sewage Problems

The Student Party has announced it plans to look into the sewage problem facing residents in the Isley St.—Stinson St.—Columbia St. Extension area. Daily Tar Heel reporters Davis Young and Ken Friedman, who just finished a series of articles on the problem, will appear at the SP meeting tomorrow night in Roland Parker I. DUTY Student Party Chairman Leon Holt said he feels "it is the duty of student government to look into this situation and to urge the Board of Health to seek a solution to this problem."

The investigation of the problem started over two weeks ago and was publicized this past week with statements from area residents, local realtors, town businessmen and local and county government officials. It was announced there was some possibility that Housing Officer James Wadsworth, a resident of the area under investigation, would also be at the meeting. "LIVELY TALK" Young said he hoped there would be a "large turnout at this meeting. Although this area is now being worked on, there is much to be learned from a discussion of this problem."

He said "We must concern ourselves with the problem of off-campus housing for students, as they are as much a part of this University as you or I. "With pressure and constructive leadership, we can pave the way for better living conditions in Chapel Hill. I promise you a lively discussion," he said.

Y-Nite Picnic

The annual Y-Nite all-campus picnic will be held under Davie Poplar Monday at 5:30 p.m. Special feature of the picnic will be a talk on "Witchcraft" by Dr. Rossell Robbins.

Dr. Robbins, visiting professor from Columbia University, is teaching in the English Department at Carolina for six months. One of the foremost authorities on Witchcraft, he has done extensive research on this subject. Les Sutorius and his jazz combo will set the scene for Dr. Robbins by playing their version of "Witchcraft."

Also featured on the program will be a Bar-B-Q supper for 50 cents. All seven sororities and several fraternities have agreed to forego dinners at their respective houses to attend the picnic. The Y-Nite committee expressed hope that this early indication of enthusiasm and co-operation will encourage as many people as possible to attend.

Judge Parker Memorial To Be Established Here

CHARLOTTE (AP)—A memorial to the late Federal Judge John J. Parker will be established at the University of North Carolina, a group of his long-time friends announced here Friday. W. S. O'B. Robinson Jr., of Charlotte, temporary chairman of the project, said a committee is being appointed to present a formal portrait of the famed jurist to the university, and to obtain funds in Judge Parker's name for scholastic awards. Judge Parker, who died in Washington March 17, was chief judge of the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals. A native of Union County and a graduate of the university, he was first appointed to the federal bench in 1925 by President Coolidge.

Everett Hall Gets Fulbright In Kyoto, Japan

Kenan professor and chairman of the UNC Philosophy Department, Everett W. Hall, has been notified that he is the recipient of a Fulbright grant which will enable him to teach in Japan next year.

Some time ago Professor Hall was invited by Matao Noda, Dean of the Faculty of Letters at Kyoto University in Kyoto, Japan, to teach there. Dr. Hall was able to accept the invitation with the Fulbright grant.

He will be accompanied by Mrs. Hall, and they will leave from San Francisco in August for Dr. Hall's teaching duties in Japan. He plans to teach during the 1958 summer session at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles before leaving for Kyoto University. Dr. Hall will lecture at Kyoto University from September, 1958, through March, 1959. The Halls will return to the states next summer when Dr. Hall will resume

DR. ROBBINS AND FRIEND
... is there a witch in the house?

Robbins On Witchcraft Tomorrow For Y-Nite

Dr. Rossell Robbins will speak on "Witchcraft" at the annual Y-Nite picnic tomorrow evening at 5:30. Dr. Robbins, a resident of Saugerties, N. Y., is a native of England. He took his B.A. degree with First Class Honors in English Language and Literature at Liverpool University in 1933.

After studying with the celebrated medievalist Dr. G. G. Coulton he received his doctor's degree in 1937 and came to America as a Commonwealth fellow studying at New York University. The following year Dr. Robbins held the Noble Fellowship in English Literature which is the highest award in English studies offered by any British University. For seven years Dr. Robbins was a student at the Matthey School Of Music and in 1934 he received a special post-graduate diploma in music from the School of Education, Liverpool University. In 1955 Dr. Robbins was awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship for studies of the development of lyric poetry in England: 1200-1500. Dr. Robbins, noted historian and outstanding author on fifteenth century English Literature, is the author of "Secular Lyrics of XIV and XV Centuries" and co-author of "The Index of Middle English Verse. He edited Marlowe's "Dr. Faustus" and wrote the controversial "The T. S. Eliot Myth" in 1951 which received over 230 reviews in academic and popular journals. (See WITCHCRAFT, Page 3)

DR. CLEAVELAND
... to replace Dr. Robson

IN THE INFIRMARY

Students in the infirmary yesterday included: Robert Hinnant and Paul McCubbin.