

U. Of Wisconsin's Howard Henry Succeeds Lambeth As GM Director

By DAVIS B. YOUNG
 Summer School Weekly Editor
 Tuesday morning, Howard Henry succeeded Tom Lambeth as Director of Graham Memorial.

TOM LAMBETH

The coming of Henry and the end of Lambeth's regime are significant in the history of Graham Memorial for two reasons.

Lambeth is the last of twenty-one temporary Directors in the twenty-seven year history of Graham Memorial and Henry is the first permanent Director ever to be hired.

Henry is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, class of 1946 and has spent all of his time since graduating from there as an employee in their college union, with the exception of one year in business.

Asked to comment on the union at the University of Wisconsin as compared to Carolina's Henry said, "at Wisconsin we had a different setup than you have at Carolina."

"We were working with a union that did a large business in selling food and also had a different program." The Wisconsin Union is considered to be one of the best in the country by many.

Later he had this to say about his new job and the Student Union at UNC, "We are very happy to be in Chapel Hill and have looked forward to this for a long time." (Henry and his wife have four children.)

"My immediate plans call for getting to know the campus and as many students and faculty members in as soon a time as possible.

"I am also very anxious to work with interested parties in securing a new union. Once again let me say how glad I am to be here at Carolina."

Henry is succeeding Lambeth, who served as Director for a little over a year. Lambeth has been on campus since 1953 as a student and now leaves to begin a hitch in the U. S. Army.

Lambeth had a long record as a student leader on campus and is a member of the Order of the Old Order of the Grail and Order of the Golden Fleece.

In a statement to The Summer School Weekly Lambeth said:

"I appreciate the fine opportunity I have had during the past year to work with the people in Graham Memorial and in the various offices of the University administration.

"I could not adequately express my appreciation to the many people who have contributed to my happiness in the job of GM Director; nor could I adequately express my respect for the student body of this University which through my five years in Chapel Hill had demonstrated to me again and again its position at the forefront of Southern college communities.

"Having been close to our student union for the last four years, I am especially happy that I leave it in the hands of a man of understanding and great ability under whom I am sure it will achieve its high goals of service to the University."

CHARLIE BERNARD

Charlie Bernard Is Now Admission Chief

Charles Bernard has been named acting director of admissions at UNC here, filling the vacancy left by the resignation of Roy Armstrong.

Chancellor William B. Aycock and Dean of Student Affairs Fred Weaver announced the appointment of Bernard, who has been assistant director of admissions for the past 10 years.

Armstrong, whose resignation was announced last month, will become executive secretary of the Morehead Foundation on July 1.

Bernard formerly taught and directed the Charlotte College Center of the University, which has now become Charlotte College. He came to Chapel Hill in 1947 as a part-time instructor in the Department of Political Science, while working for the Ph.D. degree.

He holds the A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of (See BERNARD, Page 4)

Melon Blast Is On July 9

By ANNE CATLETTE

Getting underway with a big picnic Wednesday afternoon, July 9, at Pope Place, Carolina's annual Watermelon Festival seems to be shaping up as one of the best in its history. The picnic, will feature an array of campus talent. Tentative plans have been made for a faculty combo, starring such personalities as Ex-Chancellor House and Dean Mackie. Also included on the program are Nick Kearns and his combo, singers Jim Talley and Ralph Harrington, and Rusty Cox and his group. An added attraction will be Sue Wardber, baton twirler.

After the picnic, the Summer Activities Council, who sponsors the Festival, has planned a square dance at Y-Court between 7 and 8 p.m. Afterwards, the big dance in honor of the Watermelon Queen will take place from 8 to 10:30 p.m. Campus beauties vying for the title are: Sarah Morrison, Delta Delta Delta; Gail Brown, Lambda Chi; Judy Thrower, Mangum; Gail Minnich, Delta Kappa Epsilon; Ann Phillips, Theta Chi; Noel Hollingsworth, Alderman; Doreen Greenfield, Ruffin; Jane Stainbach, and Ann Morgan, Nurses' Dorm; Patsy McCauly, Pi Beta Phi; Jill O'Donell, Chi Phi; Susan Woodhall, McIver; Dena Fasul, Spencer; Martha Allen, Smith; Alice Pike, Delta Upsilon; Linda Watkins, Chi Omega; Shirley Bernau, Old West; and Sandra Miller, Sigma Nu.

These girls will be introduced by Master of Ceremonies for the Festival, Davis Young. Judges are Ty Boyd, host for the evening TV show, Top Ten Tunes, Boots Baker and Georgia Kyser. The entrees will be judged on the basis of their beauty, poise, and personal-

Summer's First Y-Nite Is On July 7 At The Old Well

By EVELYN MOORE

FLASH! Y-Nite — Free Food! Free Entertainment! Outstanding Speaker! From the portals of the "Y" Building and the pillars of Graham Memorial comes this year for the first time in the history of summer schools at Carolina—A Summer School Y-Nite. Y-Nite, scheduled for Monday, July 7, at 6:45 p.m. in front of the Old Well, promises to be a three fold combination of special interest.

Sitting under the shade of Davie Poplar in the "Cool Cool of the Evening" you will eat specially prepared Apple Pie a la mode, and savor the flavor amidst the lively music of Nick Kearns and Dick Stoker's combo, with songs sung by the "Everly Brothers," Jim Talley, and Pete Brake. Adding a final forte to the musical entertainment for the evening will be Cecil Hartsoe accompanying Satsai Vaniz Vadhana who sings American Blues with an unparalleled Siamese swing.

part program features Michael Harrington, well-read literary critic, and research specialist associated with "The Fund for the Republic," a research coordinating agency for the circulation of democratic ideas subsidized by the Ford Foundation.

The well-known authority on Communism first appeared on the U.N.C. campus in conjunction with the 1958 Carolina Symposium on Public Affairs. Speaking then on the subject of Communist infiltration in U.S. Labor Unions, Harrington proved to be one of the most thought-provoking speakers. With a background of outstanding journalistic experience, as assistant editor of Life Magazine's Feature, "A Pictorial History of World War II, and associate editor of the magazine the "Catholic Worker," Harrington is well informed on current international problems.

Mr. Harrington's topic for Y-Nite, "Is the Threat to Freedom Over?" will be highlight in the Harrington during his four-day visit, June 5-9. An address on the topic, "The Communist Party in America" at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday night in the Rendezvous Room of Graham Memorial will climax Harrington's series of addresses.

This is a preview of what has been planned. This is the Summer School Y-Nite. Come one, come all, Y-Nite is for you, and yours to enjoy.

Planetarium

Effective July 1, children and student admissions to the Morehead Planetarium here will be 35 cents and 50 cents respectively. Adult admissions will be unchanged at 75 cents. The small 10 cents adjustment was said to be necessary to meet increased operating costs of the public service institution, which is neither State-supported nor State-endowed but which operates wholly on ticket receipts.

ity, both at the dance and also at a tea sponsored for them by the Council the previous day, July 8, at 4 p.m. in the Rendezvous Room. Hostess Cindy Daily, a member of the Council, will introduce the girls to the judges and the members of the Summer Activities Council.

A bouquet of "Happiness" Roses will be presented to Her Highness and to the first and second runner-ups. To complete the court, the audience will be asked to choose a King, who will be a member of Carolina's eminent faculty. Jim Crisp will play for the dance Wednesday night. If bad weather prevails, Laverne has stated that the picnic and dance will be held in the Tin Can.

Tickets will be sold in Graham Memorial at the Information desk and at Y-Court for the picnic for a nominal amount.
