Women's Dean Will Discuss Caravan Trip

Free Cuts, Housing To Be Chief Topics Of U Club Meeting

The Caravan weekend to the University of Virginia on Nov. 8 will be discussed with Katherine Carmichael, dean of women at the University Club meeting tonight. Discussion will center on class cuts and housing for women.

A statement issued jointly by Miss Carmichael and the Caravan Committee will be released after the meeting tonight.

The University Club has a block of tickets to a Jazz Concert at the University of Virginia Saturday, Nov. 8. The concert will feature the Four Freshmen, Dave Brubeck Quartet, Maynard Ferguson and his band and the Sonny Rollins Trio.

These tickets will be on sale at $2 each, beginning Wednesday at the Graham Memorial Information Desk.

Tickets to the football game will be on sale for $3.50 a piece at Woolen Gym during regular office hours.

Organ Concert Planned In Hill Tonight At 8

Glen E. Watkins Planning Variety Of Selections

An organ concert by Glen E. Watkins, new faculty member of the University's Music Department will be given tonight in Hill Hall at 8 p.m.

The concert is the second of the Tuesday Evening Series sponsored by the UNC Music Department and will be open to the public free of charge.

Dr. Watkins, who is now assistant professor in organ and theory at UNC, will play a varied program of music by German composers Buxtehude and Bach; French composers Daquin, Langlais and Dupre; and American musicians Searle Wright and Edmond Haines.

Campus Code Debate Set By Di Senate

The Campus Code will be the topic for discussion at tonight's meeting of the Dialectic Senate.

The senate will decide whether a code of individual rights will be more exacting and effective than the present Campus Code, which reads, "Under the Campus Code you are bound on your responsibility as a gentleman to conduct yourself as such at all times, and further to see to it, insofar as possible that your fellow students do likewise."

Senator Curt Gans introduced the bill last Tuesday on the senate floor. Several senators viewed the Code as irrelevant and worthless because it cannot be defined in detail. Senators said this factor prohibits a fair court trial should a student be charged with offense of the code.

Student Party Names 10 Fall Candidates

By STAN FISHER

The Student Party, in a meeting which saw the introduction and defeat of a proposal to forego party nominations in Town Men's districts I and II, last night nominated part of its candidates for election to the Student Legislature.

At the suggestion of the Advisory Board a motion was made and passed to appoint a committee to draw up a party platform for the fall election. Appointed to this committee by Party Chairman Leon Holt were: Roger Foushee, Gary Greer, John Brooks, and Martha Morgan.

The suggestion to no longer nominate candidates from Town I and II was made by Roger Foushee, chairman of the party advisory board and grew out of advisory board discussion. In making the suggestion Foushee pointed out that SP had failed to have one of its candidates from these districts over a period of time in spite of running capable candidates.

Foushee also brought out the fact that it was hard to get candidates to run from these districts because of the improbability of election on the SP ticket.

However, Foushee's bill met with almost unanimous disfavor after Joel Fleishman addressed the group, stating that failure to run SP candidates from these districts was an opportunity to express themselves in favor of SP and that the only way to finally win in a district was to keep running candidates.

Nominations for the various campus dorm districts were as follows:

Dorm Men's II—one year seats:

Roger Foushee, Jim Crownover, six months seat; Jerry Chichester, Dorm Women's I—one year seats: Jane Walters, Pappy Churchhill; six months seats: Sandy Davidson, Mary Ann Weaver.

Dorm Women's II—one year seat: Anne Lucas. Because of the absence of candidates a one year seat and a six months seat will be filled at the next meeting in this district.

Dorm Men's I—one year seats: Rudy Edwards, Tom Cordle. All other dormitory districts were held over either because of the absence of nominees or lack of representation of the incumbents.

HOUSEMOTHER WITHOUT A HOUSE

Kappas' House Being Readied

By MARY BAHNSEN

Mrs. Jeanette L. Alling is a UNC housemother without a house—at least until January.

She is the housedirector for Kappa Kappa Gamma, Carolina's newest sorority, whose house will be re-finished.

The Kappas' house is at 302 Pittsboro St.

Mrs. Alling comes here from Ohio State University, where she held a similar position. She was chosen by the sorority's national headquarters to be house director for their new chapter established on the UNC campus last spring.

But when she arrived—no house! The dwelling bought by the sorority is a large three story frame house at present divided into 10 separate apartments. The renovation will begin with the removal of all the interior walls,

Work is expected to start this week under the supervision of Webb and Stewart, architects, who are being advised by the National Headquarters of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority located in Columbus, Ohio.

When completed the sorority house will accommodate approximately 30 girls. The first-floor plans include a large entrance hall, formal and informal living rooms, a kitchen and a dining room. A new wing will be added to the present structure for the dining room which will seat 70 people. Also on the main floor will be the housemother's suite consisting of bedroom, living room and bath.

Plans for the second floor include 10 bedrooms and a centrally located bath. There will also be a special laundry for drip-dry

Display Fires At Two Dorms Mar Weekend

Spencer, Alexander Lose Paper Exhibits In Mystery Blazes

By CHUCK FLINNER

Homecoming displays caused two dormitory fires over the weekend.

The first of the two fires destroyed the Spencer homecoming display and threw "sparks all over the place." The Chapel Hill fire department was called in to extinguish the blaze which began about 7 p.m. Saturday evening. No serious damage was reported.

A second fire unnerved the sleepy occupants of Alexander dormitory early Sunday morning.

A crepe paper homecoming display burst into flames about 2:30 a.m. and ignited a window shade in an occupied second story room. Not a single fire extinguisher could be found in the dorm to aid in getting the fire under control.

Dorm occupants rushed to the scene to fight the blaze but the crepe paper burned rapidly leaving only the wire-mesh frame of the display. Heat blistered the paint on the front door and charred the brick. Windows near the fire were broken and the frames were damaged.

The origin of the fire was not determined.

'Excellent' Rating Given Long At Debate

Tom Long achieved a 4.0 average out of a possible 5.0 at the University of Virginia discussion tournament last weekend. His average was rated as "excellent."

The debate was attended by more than 100 persons.

The topic of discussion was: Resolved: that further development of nuclear weapons should be prohibited by international agreement.

Meters Coming; Installation Now Underway

Over 400 Meters Are Being Placed On Village Streets

Chapel Hillians may be paying for their parking within the week.

Town Manager Thomas D. Rose said today that 405 meters, the purchase of which was approved Sept. 10 by the Board of Aldermen, may be installed "within four or five days."

The Dual Parking Meter Co., Canton O., which was awarded the contract, will install the meters.

The first step toward a new era in downtown parking here was taken over the weekend, when the Shaw Construction Co., Decatur, Ga., which specializes in the field, installed 213 posts for the meters in the downtown area.

It took the Shaw firm only two days to complete the job.

The meters will be automatic, dual-type. The dual meters will be used except when a single meter for a space is required because of the area. The dual machine was chosen by the Aldermen from seven investigated. The contract calls for a total expenditure of $24,806.50 for meters installed at curbside.

Opposition to the meters was voiced by local merchants initially, but the Aldermen passed the ordinance last summer.

New Program At Planetarium Is About Mars

"The Mysteries of Mars" will open at the Morehead Planetarium tonight at 8:30 and run through Nov. 24.

The program is being presented coincident with a world-wide effort of amateur and professional astronomers to unravel some of Mars' secrets during the next 26 days when the planet will be in its best observing position in years.

The Morehead Planetarium program points up some of the mysteries, including the so-called canals, changes in its polar caps and the existence of "life" on the planet.

University Party To Hear Goldsmith

Al Goldsmith, former student body presidential nominee, will speak to the University Party tonight on issues in student government. The meeting will be at 7:15 in Roland Parker Lounges I and II.

Prospective members must obtain membership cards at this meeting in order to be eligible for party nominations, according to Jack Lawing, UP chairman.

Nominations will be made Oct. 27 and Nov. 4.

Shelling Of Quemoy Area Resumed By Red Chinese After Short Quiet Period

Student Union Or Gym? Former Favored In Poll

A random poll of 300 members of the student body revealed that Carolina students are overwhelmingly in favor of a new student union rather than a new gym.

Ninety per cent of the group polled favored a new student union.

Results from the first poll of the Polls Committee of GMAB also showed that; 50 per cent of those polled favor the present method of securing books from the Library circulation desk; 60 per cent are opposed to graduate students teaching on University level.

Inadequate dormitory space for women due to the increased women's enrollment was also revealed in the polling.

Dissatisfaction with the upper-classmen counselors living on freshmen men's halls was also noted. 55 per cent report that the system is not being advantageously used, possibly due to the ignorance of its existence.

Ninety per cent of the students favored the formation of a Student Government committee to solve football game problems, including the high cost of date tickets, seat reservations and the method of getting to one's assigned seat.

A new cafeteria was suggested as an answer to the long lines and space accommodations of our present facilities by 80 per cent of the students included in the poll.

Dee Donroe, chairman of the committee, reports that the demand for more cultural entertainment and activities is being answered by the forming of a dance group to meet twice a week this semester.

At the request of Student Body President Don Furtado the Polls Committee recently polled all organizations concerned with inadequate space, and channeled the information to the proper authorities.

Donroe asked that any student organization, individual student or group that desires information, contact him at Graham Memorial. He also extended an invitation to those students interested in polling to join the Polls Committee.

Interdormitory Court Tries First New Case

The Interdormitory Council Court tried their first case of the year Friday, October 17. Charges were violations of quiet hours and drinking in the dormitory.

Both defendants were pronounced innocent on the drinking charges because of lack of evidence.

They were found guilty of violating quiet hours and given penalties of permanent probation.

Renewed Bombardment Lays New Situation Before New Meeting

By GENE KRAMER
TAIPEI — (AP) — Red China's siege guns barked out an end to its self-imposed cease-fire around Quemoy yesterday, laying a grave new situation before Secretary of State Dulles in his talks with Chiang Kai-Shek.

Dulles was due in Taipei at 9:30 this morning (8:30 p.m. Monday) after a trip across the top of the world in a jet tanker from Rome.

At a stopover in Fairbanks, Alaska, Dulles termed it a tragedy that the Communists had decided to return to a "warlike disposition."

The Reds broke their 15-day cease-fire by pouring in more than 11,000 shells on Quemoy and other islands in two hours and 45 minutes. Later their guns turned to the Tan Islets, a few miles off the Red island bastion of Amoy.

Nationalist supply ships caught at Quemoy beaches when the barrage opened were slightly damaged, the Nationalists said.

The reinforced Nationalist garrisons on Quemoy answered the Red fire. There was no report, however, on the intensity of the return fire.

The Communists tried to blame the end to the cease-fire on the United States. A Peiping broadcast said U. S. warships escorted Nationalist supply vessels to Quemoy in violation of the set of rules set up by the Communists in establishing their cease-fire.

There is widespread feeling in Taipei that the Communists used the presence of an American LSD in the general area as a ready-made excuse to resume bombardment on the eve of Dulles' arrival.

The Nationalist Chinese have called all of the Red actions a campaign to drive a wedge between the United States and Nationalist China.

Nationalists see the cease-fire termination as putting a crimp in U. S. talk of persuading Chiang to reduce Nationalist troop strength in the offshore islands as a means of coaxing Red China to make the cease-fire permanent.

The Communists originally proclaimed a one-week cease-fire to begin Oct. 6, provided U. S. Warships did not take part in Nationalist convoys. Later they extended it for two weeks under the same conditions.

The bill goes on to add that a constant threat of war accompanies this struggle and that war would mean the end of civilization as we know it.

Adoption of the bill by the Phi would mean it would go on record as favoring a more flexible U. S. Foreign policy toward the Communist bloc than has recently been assumed, "in the hope of reducing tensions and eventually breaking down the artificial barriers in existence today between East and West."

Red China Recognition Is Phi Topic

Bill Says Cold War Contrary To Peace; Slowing Economy

U. S. recognition of Red China will be one of the major points debated by the Philanthropic Literary Society tonight at 8 on the 4th floor of New East.

The bill states that this recognition should be the first step toward a more conciliatory U. S. policy toward the Communist bloc.

The resolution states that continuance of the cold war is contrary to world peace, that the people of the U. S. are weary of the constant struggle and its cost has impeded the economic progress of the world.

The bill goes on to add that a constant threat of war accompanies this struggle and that war would mean the end of civilization as we know it.

Student Union Is Step Closer After Meeting

Plans for a proposed new student union building for UNC took another step forward last week, when top Consolidated University officials met with the State Board of Higher Education's Finance Committee.

The request for the 2 million dollar structure was included in the regular biennial "Capital Improvements Program" presented to the committee by University President William C. Friday, Vice President William D. Carmichael Jr. and Business Officer and Treasurer Alexander H. Shepard.

Included in the program are plans for University expansion and development through 1965 or 70, according to President Friday, enrollment on the Chapel Hill campus alone will be swollen to an estimated 11,000 students.

The next step toward the appropriation for the union is the current deliberation of the committee, which will make recommendations to the Board of Higher Education.
