

Solons Approve Referendum

Ed Levy Bill Amended Referred To Committee

By DEE DANIELS

Student Legislature, in a special session last night, passed four bills, including the single spring legislature election proposal, and sent the Levy bill to the Ways and Means Committee amended.

A bill, introduced by Norman Smith (ind.), to change the student constitution to provide for a single annual spring

Legislature election, if approved by the student body, was passed.

In its original form, the bill would have provided that the referendum be voted on Dec. 9, 1958. It was amended by Ed Levy (SP-UP) to be presented as part of the spring election, 1959.

Therefore, legislators now holding one year seats would retain them until the spring of 1960, since there would be no election next fall to replace them.

The governing body voted re-consideration of the Levy bill to send telegrams to governors Faubus and Almond of Arkansas stating the Legislature's feeling on segregation in the schools.

In action on the bill, Gary Greer (SP) proposed an amendment to send registered letters, instead of telegrams, and he read a revised message which clarifies the issue as a matter of education instead of segregation.

The amendment was approved and the whole bill sent to the Ways and Means Committee. It previously had been passed unfavorably out of the Finance Committee.

The solons also sanctioned bills to approve the Medical School Honor Council by-laws and the Graduate Club constitution and to expand the attorney-general's staff to cover investigation of cases for the Student Council and Women's Council.

Ralph Cummings, speaker, announced Jim Crownover as the new Student Party floor leader, upon the resignation of Paul Woodard.

Budget Group Appointments Announced

Appointments to the Budget Committee were announced recently by Don Furtado, student body president.

By statute, Charlie Gray is chairman.

Other appointees are David Grigg, Lucy Forsyth, Edwin Fuller, Bernie Frye, Pappy Churchill, Gordon Street, Ralph Cummings, Rhodes Corbett, Rudy Edwards and Peyton Hawes.

Of the committee, Furtado said yesterday, "The Budget Committee is probably one of the most important committees which is appointed annually. It is burdened with the responsibility of analyzing the budget requests of the many varied organizations which fall under the cognizance of student government."

He emphasized that each of the above named individuals was selected because "of a sincere willingness to officially carry out his job."

ROOM RESERVATIONS

All organizations that meet in Graham Memorial have been reminded that "standing" room reservations must be renewed at the beginning of each semester. Organization heads have been requested to take care of this at once.

Student Council Convicts Three Gambling Charges

Three students were convicted of gambling charges by the Student Council last night in the first trial under the announced crackdown on student gambling.

Student Council Chairman Jim Long said that two ringleaders were given indefinite probation for their participation in a group gambling activity. Another was given an official reprimand.

One student tried was found not guilty of having any part in what Chairman Long termed the "gambling establishment."

The students who were placed on probation may apply at the end of one semester for return to non-probational status in the University.

At press time last night eight other students were awaiting trial on similar charges.

The gambling crackdown stems from a recent announcement by the Interfraternity Council, the Interdormitory Council, and the Student Council that gambling was against state laws, against University regulations, and against judicial policy. They promised at the time to crack down upon the increasing gambling activity they saw present on the campus.

The Student Council was later given authority to try all gambling cases in order to insure equal treatment of all students charged with gambling, according to Chairman Long.

Communist Front Group Announces Youth Festival

A pamphlet concerning the World Youth Festival to be held in Vienna next summer has been recently released by the newly organized Independent Service for Information on the Vienna Youth Festival.

The Independent Service was organized by a number of students and recent university graduates in the Boston area. According to them, the Festival is the latest in a series of mass youth events organized since World War II by two leading Communist international youth fronts, The World Federation of Democratic Youth and the International Union of Students.

The pamphlet predicts that "vast quantities" of literature will soon flood American campuses and youth organizations which will depict the Festival as a neutral and non-political affair designed to further international fellowship and understanding by bringing together the youth of all countries in a spirit of good will.

The pamphlet says that a "misleading and highly incomplete picture will be given of what goes on at the Festival and of the motivations of its promoters."

The Information Service has urged that no American attend the Festival in any representative or official capacity, even as the spokesman of a college or local community organization.

The Service is prepared to answer inquiries regarding the Vienna Festival and to provide current information both to those who desire a greater understanding of such meetings and to those who may be seriously considering attending the Festival.

They will provide background data on United States and world affairs and indications of what may be expected in Vienna.

Information on transportation and accommodations as well as other practical data as to means of participation in the Festival will also be made available.

Planning Board Studies Changes In Zoning Laws

The District Planning Board Tuesday night began what promises to be lengthy discussion on a recommendation for an amendment to town zoning laws establishing special use features.

The planners discussed at some length original provisions of a preliminary draft and particularly centered their attention on how fraternity and sorority zoning should be handled.

The heart of this discussion seemed to center on whether it is more desirable to have fraternity and sorority housing in specified, grouped "court" areas or to examine each individual application on the basis of selected lots and on environmental factors.

It was tentatively agreed that in

Freshman Class Officers To Have Aid Of 'Cabinet'

A freshman council to aid freshman class officers will be selected in the near future by class officers and a specially named committee.

This committee and class officers met for the first time Tuesday night. Jey Diefell, freshman class president, said the committee selected to aid the officers in establishing a council was, as near as possible, a cross section of the freshman class.

The freshmen were proportionally selected from fraternity and non-fraternity, sorority and non-sorority groups. Each member had been active in high school student government.

Diefell said the motion to establish a council to aid freshman officers was passed by a vote of 21 to 2.

A name for the group to aid freshman officers has not been chosen. Diefell said possibly it will be a "cabinet" because of the manner by which the members will be selected. Diefell said, "I hesitate calling it a cabinet because it is not definite." The members of the "cabinet" will be chosen after an interview to determine ability of possible members.

Diefell said the "cabinet" will discuss and take action on freshman problems and will plan and promote freshman activities. The "cabinet" will have a minimum and maximum membership, but the exact number has not been set.

Interviews for prospective cabinet members will be in the near future—possibly the first or second week in the spring semester.

Spectrum Features Photo Cover

The Spectrum, Carolina's new literary magazine, will go on sale Saturday.

This first issue of Spectrum will be sold at various places in Chapel Hill and at the book stores of Duke, State and Woman's College. The forty-odd page Spectrum is to sell for $35 per copy.

Editor Dennis Parks reported that the Triangle Press in Glenn Lennox will deliver the copies today. The copies will then be distributed to the outlets.

This issue of the Spectrum has a photographic cover with Carolina senior John Casparis as the subject. The theme is "Relationships Between People" and is carried throughout the magazine.

The material was judged by the staff on the basis of its adherence to the theme as well as its excellence. The Spectrum contains essays, art work, poetry, short stories and a one act play.

All of the material was submitted by Carolina students.

The Spectrum has drawn interest and comments from a variety of sources. Students and faculty members of this University have expressed doubts and hopes concerning Spectrum's place on campus. Some Duke professors are reported as being "curious" about Spectrum.

A National magazine is interested in Spectrum as a part of a coming feature dealing with "beat" magazines on college campuses.

ABC Vote Will Include UNC Students

By JIM HARDIN

Carolina students are eligible to vote in the Orange County ABC election Feb. 3.

A favorable vote in the election would mean that an alcoholic beverage control system would be established in the county with special stores selling liquor in the now "dry" Orange County.

Harold Walters, registrar for the third precinct of the county, said yesterday UNC students may register and vote after fulfilling certain requirements.

These requirements say that the voter:

- 1) Must be a citizen of the United States.
- 2) Must be 21 years old.
- 3) Must have lived in North Carolina for one year and in the precinct for 30 days, and
- 4) Must be able to read and write any section of the State Constitution.

Registration books will be open from 9 a.m. on Saturday, Jan. 10, to sunset on Saturday, Jan. 24. Only those who did not register in their present precinct for the November election are required to register. Jan. 10, 17 and 24 have been assigned for new registrants.

Registration place for students living on campus is Woolen Gym.

Other registration places are: Precinct No. 1—Town Hall; No. 2—Estes Hills, Elementary School; No. 3—Woolen GYM; No. 4—Cone Building by High School; and No. 5—Glenwood School.

The polls will be open on election day, Feb. 3, from 6:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. in each precinct.

Prof. Arndt Will Discuss 'Dr. Zhivago'

The significance of Boris Pasternak's Nobel Prize novel, "Doctor Zhivago," will be analyzed by a Russian affairs specialist at a meeting of the University Philological Club on Tuesday.

Walter W. Arndt, assistant professor of Russian at UNC, will be the speaker for the 7:30 p.m. meeting in the faculty lounge of the Morehead Planetarium.

The club president, Dr. Walter Allen Jr., announced that because of the wide interest in the topic, visitors will be welcome at the meeting.

Prof. Arndt will seek to interpret the significance of Pasternak's Nobel Prize novel in the context of the post-war Soviet intellectual life and family for Christmas. Mrs. W. J. Williams is now making her home with the Harrison Hunts.

Mrs. J. L. Carson visited Mr. and Mrs. Cortez Dean and Betty Jean and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Dean and their new son, that was born December 15, out on the Sanford Road from Pittsboro, last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Williams visited Mrs. Williams' Mother, Mrs. M. F. Wrenn of Steeds, N. C., who has been sick last Sunday. They found Mrs. Wrenn much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Hunt, Janet and Mrs. W. J. Williams visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Williams and Judy last Sunday afternoon.

IDC Reports Having Some Blazers Left

Paul Woodard, chairman of the blazer sale sponsored by the IDC Honorary has asked that all students who have not yet received their blazers to contact him at 109 Lewis, 8-9036.

Students needing alterations may have them done and charged to the Robert Rollins Company or send the blazer back to the company with the necessary alterations described.

The annual spring blazer sale will be held in late February.

Dave Morrah Plans Speech At Press Club

Dave Morrah, director of public relations at Guilford College, will speak on "Free Lancing" at the Press Club meeting Monday, Jan. 12, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Dean and Mrs. Norval Neil Luxon.

Morrah, a well-known humor writer, writes a Sunday column called "Nothing Ventured" in the Greensboro Daily News. His work often appears in the Saturday Evening Post's "Post-Scripts." Morrah has also written half a dozen humorous books.

Morrah's best known creation is Heinrich Schabbler, a character whose backyard German causes a great deal of confusion wherever he appears. Several other Morrah creations speak this German-English, but Morrah himself doesn't know a word of German.

Morrah, who is a graduate of N.C. State College, was editor of the State College humor magazine and a member of the wrestling team.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Williams visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Williams and Judy last Sunday afternoon.

Davis To Replace Samuel Selden

Harry E. Davis, who directed "Look Homeward Angel," will be acting chairman of the Department of Dramatic Arts for the coming semester.

Davis is replacing Samuel Selden, former chairman and director of the Carolina Playmakers, who has joined the faculty of the University of California in Los Angeles.

From Feb. 1 to Sept. 1, Selden will instruct and work on an expansion program for the University of California's Graduate Division in the Department of Theater Arts. In the fall, he will become head of the department.

Selden came to UNC in 1927 to try his hand at teaching for one year. He stayed for 31 years.

Before leaving, he remarked, "Funny, but I thought I'd be here only a year. I found, though, that I liked teaching. In fact, I enjoyed it so much I just kept staying and I've never regretted it."

Selden is noted as one of the pioneers in the outdoor drama movement. With the late "Prof" Frederick H. Kock, he produced Paul Green's "The Lost Colony" in 1937. The forerunner of numerous historical dramas played under the skies.

Cold Front Brings Snow To Carolina

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A fast-moving cold front invaded North Carolina Thursday, turning rain into sleet and snow in northern counties.

The weather bureau forecast snow accumulations of one to three inches for the area, and warned that roads would become slick and hazardous. The snow was expected to end gradually Thursday night.

The sharp change was brought by a cold weather front which pushed into the state while rain was falling in most sections.

The weather bureau said the front should move out to sea early Friday, bringing improving weather from west to east.

However, it said rather cold weather should linger for a day or so.

TRASH FIRE QUELLED

Carboro firemen were called to Main St. yesterday about 3 p.m. to put out a trash fire. They said the fire was discovered in the back yard of Mr. Jones. No extensive damage was reported.
