Furtado stated that "Previous experience in student government is not a prerequisite for selection to these positions. All interested students who have a sincere desire to aid in the improvement of our campus community are urged to apply."

Applications forms may be obtained in the Student Government Office on the second floor of GM.

Legislators Defeat Levy Telegram Bill

By DEE DANIELS

The Levy bill is no more. The Student Legislature last night defeated the Ed Levy (SP-UP) bill proposing the sending of telegrams to the governors of Arkansas and Virginia.

In speaking for his bill, Levy, although no longer a member of the Legislature, said he felt the bill should still be considered as if it were the first time it was being presented.

He told the solons that the bill was still important and that they had two choices, either to amend the bill or defeat it.

They defeated it.

A bill, introduced by Jim Crowover (SP) at the last session, to establish a Campus Affairs Board was passed.

Crowover stated that such a Board would eliminate the necessity of the student body president, following spring elections, appointing approximately 160 people whom he probably would never see again.

The Debate Squad is at William and Mary College today and Saturday for six rounds of debate in the Marshall Wythe Tournament.

Instructor R. P. Doughty will serve as judge for the team. Many schools from the East Coast will be represented at William and Mary.

Recording Disclosed In U. S. Plane Crash

WASHINGTON — The United States exposed to the world yesterday a secret recording of excited, gloating voices it identified as those of Soviet jet fighter pilots shooting down a helpless U. S. transport plane.

One bit, merciless and boasting, said:

Coliseum To Wait On Union

By NORMAN B. SMITH

Plans for a multi-purpose coliseum type building which would serve as a basketball stadium, armory, and auditorium will not be given priority over the proposed student union.

The coliseum proposal has received considerable interest recently. It was purposely omitted from the University budget requests, said Chancellor William B. Aycock because the student union, new dormitories, and classroom buildings are much more critical needs.

The coliseum building is on University long-range planning, however. Tentative location is the present site of the Tin Can. It is still very much in the planning stage. Cost of such a structure is estimated to be about $3,000,000.

This discussion took place at a meeting of the University Athletic Council on Wednesday. Student Body President Don Furtado who was present said that inclusion of the coliseum on the UNC construction program would depend on (See EXPANSION, col. 5, page 3)

STATE TICKETS

The redemption of passbooks for the Carolina-State game on February 18 will continue today and tomorrow for those students whose last names begin with A-M.

The ticket office in Woollen Gym reported yesterday that the tickets were going fast with better than half of them already issued. Beginning Monday morning the distribution of tickets to other students and the general public will begin.

All students who have priority and desire tickets for the game are urged to get them before the supply runs out.

OCCURRED SEPT. 2, '58

"Yes, he is falling, I will finish him off, boys, I will finish him off on the run."

The graphic recording was made public by the State Department on the eve of the trial of two victims of the plane crash. In all, 17 American airmen may have died. Certainly six did.

It was last Sept. 2 that the unarmed C130 transport was downed, near the border between Turkey and Soviet Armenia.

The craft was admittedly off course and it crashed about 25 miles inside Armenia—but there was no question about it being a transport, and there was a suspicion it may have been led astray by Soviet radio signals.

The vivid account was earlier presented to the Soviet government. But from Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan on down, Soviet officials treated the incident as just another airplane crash. They have ignored the tape recording and denied information of the missing 11 Americans.

The United States government almost from the beginning took the position that the transport was shot down. But until today it had declined to disclose—except to the Moscow government—the basis for this determined assertion.

The tape recording purportedly covers the operation of five Soviet fighter pilots from the beginning of a search for the transport over Soviet territory until after it was destroyed.

Ike Asks Congress To Make Violence Blocking Integration Of Schools, Federal Crime

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower asked a divided Congress yesterday to make it a federal crime to use force or mob violence to block racial integration of schools under court orders.

The President also asked the legislators to strengthen the FBI's hand in dealing with school and church bombing cases and to authorize federal funds and advice to help states make the change to desegregated schools.

These were key proposals in a seven-point civil rights program submitted to congress in a brief, special message. The Justice, Welfare and Labor Departments immediately followed through with the dispatch of seven bills to the capital.

Reaction was cut to a familiar pattern—the Eisenhower civil rights program either goes too far or not far enough, depending on whether a southern segregationist or a northern liberal is talking. And then there are the in-betweens, largely staunch administration supporters from GOP ranks, who said it was just right.

Southerners called the program offensive, a form of bribery, and an intrusion into a field where the federal government has no business. Sen. Richard D. Russell (D-GA), a leader of Senate southerners, said Eisenhower offers political legislation. He predicted significantly that "a vigorous effort will be made to amend any civil rights bill that reaches the floor with punitive provisions requesting that the South be patrolled, policed and punished."

From the opposite camp, chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY) of the House Judiciary Committee commented:

"An empty gesture so far as the schools are concerned. It provides a snail's pace for enforcement."

Various Republicans called the program temperate and moderate, as Eisenhower himself did in advance of its submission.

From Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas came assurances the Eisenhower suggestions "will be considered on their merits by fair minded men seeking to resolve—rather than sharpen—the conflicts within our country."

Yet trouble obviously lies ahead—to begin with, in hearings a Senate judiciary subcommittee is starting march on assorted civil rights measures.

But then, the administration had trouble itself in whipping the program together.

Reportedly stripped away at the last moment as a provision allowing the federal government to intervene more directly in suits intended to enforce segregation. This (See CIVIL RIGHTS, col. 4, page 3)

Overseas Summer Work Open To Juniors - Placement Service

Interested in summer work in Europe?

For those who are, the Placement Service will hold campus interviews on March 12 for juniors interested in summer work abroad.

The Mobil Overseas Oil Company is sponsoring a ten-week training program in an effort to interest young men in foreign career positions; the countries offered are France, Germany, Austria, Italy, Mexico and parts of West Africa.

The applicants are restricted to juniors who can present approval from their draft board. Parents' permission for those students under 21, the passing of a physical examination, and the ability to converse fluently in a foreign language are also necessary.

The choice is not limited to students in business school, but the company is looking for people with an aptitude for marketing, business administration, industrial sales, and accounting. Trainees with liberal arts and business administration backgrounds are usually assigned to service stations; those in engineering go to terminals and refineries. A short training period precedes job assignments.

Mobil assumes the transportation costs to and from New York and the candidate's destination. The company also pays for visas, passports, physicals, and inoculations. Each trainee has a $500 expense account for the summer which includes an advance travel allowance of $50. In addition, the candidate receives wages in local currency. The salary is based on the local pay scales for the job he is given.

Candidates who wish to remain abroad at the end of their ten-week assignment may do so at their own discretion and expense.

Chapel Hill Scouts will join with more than 29,500,000 present and past members of the Boy Scouts of America in the celebration of their 49th anniversary from Feb. 7 to the 13th.
