

U.N.C. Library
Serials Dept.
Box 870
WEAVER
Increasing cloutines and mild.

The Daily Tar Heel

THE CULT
The pseudo-responsible are here.
See page 2.

VOLUME LXVII, NO. 88

Complete Wire Service

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1959

Offices in Graham Memorial

FOUR PAGES THIS ISSUE

Musical To Feature Old Sounds

Chamber Music
Is Scheduled
For Performance

A concert of chamber music will be presented at 8 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 15, in the Lounge of Graham Memorial. This will be the second Petite Musicale of the year.

Members of the Duke University Music Department and one member of the Carolina Music Department will perform the Beethoven Clarinet Trio, Opus 11; the Dvorak Trio for violin, violoncello and piano; Giuseppe Sammartini's Sonata, Opus 3, No. 9, for violin, violoncello, clarinet and piano; and Johann Stamitz' Orchestra Trio, Opus 1, No. 5.

Two movements of Trio 1957 (Serenade) composed by Dr. Klentz will also be played. Klentz, a professor from Duke, will play in the group.

Julia Mueller, violinist; William Klentz, violoncellist; and Allan Bone, clarinetist, are on the Duke faculty. Wilton Mason, pianist, is on the UNC staff.

The free concert is one of a series sponsored by GM under the auspices of the Petites Musicales Series.

Pharmacists Are Startled By Explosion

A sudden explosion gave pharmacy graduate students a scare Saturday afternoon about 3:30 when a refrigerator used for storing chemicals blew up in the downstairs hall of Howell Building.

The explosion resulted in a brief flaming followed by smoke which filled the building with chemical fumes. The local fire department arrived after the flames had been put out with fire extinguishers in the building.

Dean E. A. Brecht of the School of Pharmacy couldn't be reached for comment, but Dr. Sigurdur Jonsson of the Pharmacy School said probably the only damage was in the mess to be cleaned up.

The cause of the explosion has not been determined.

Dutch Statistician Is Physics Speaker

A Dutch statistician currently studying at UNC will address the regular Statistics Colloquium here Monday at 4 p.m. in 206 Phillips Hall.

Dr. L. C. A. Corsten will discuss the new techniques he has recently developed for certain applications of statistical "analysis of variance."

Prof. Harold Hotelling, in announcing Corsten's talk, noted that the speaker will explain "how to apply analysis of variance when observations are cross-classified in two or more ways and in other difficult cases. He has devised a rapid general iterative method for dealing with these multiple classified tables and has proved that it always converges."

G. M. SLATE

There are no activities scheduled in Graham Memorial today.

Monday's G.M. activities include: UP elections committee, 1:30-3 p.m., Grill Room; Residence Council Association, 3-5 p.m., Grill Room; Grill, 9 p.m., Grill Room; SP Interviews, 2-5 p.m., Roland Parker No. 1; 7-9 p.m., Roland Parker No. 1 and 2; Dining Hall Committee, 2-3 p.m., Roland Parker No. 2; SP Advisory Board, 3-4 p.m., Roland Parker No. 2; Current Affairs Committee, 4-6 p.m., Roland Parker No. 2; Audit Board, 2-4 p.m., Woodhouse Conference Room; Receptions and Decorations Committee, 4-5 p.m., Woodhouse Conference Room; Bridge, 7-11 p.m., Rendezvous Room.

NEW ORLEANS SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA — Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 4 will be the highlight of the New Orleans Symphony's concert in Memorial Hall Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Music Of Tchaikovsky Will Be Concert Feature

Carolina students will be admitted free to the concert on admission of Identification Cards.

The New Orleans Symphony is being sponsored here by the Chapel Hill Concert Series and the Student Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 4 will highlight the New Orleans Symphony Orchestra concert here Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Memorial Hall.

Integration To Continue In Virginia

RICHMOND, Va., — (AP) — More racial integration in Virginia's public schools next week appeared inevitable yesterday as a federal judge refused to stay an order admitting nine Negro children to three white schools in Alexandria.

In Baltimore yesterday, Chief Judge Simon E. Sobeloff of the U. S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals heard a last-ditch plea from the Alexandria school board for more time in which to prepare for integration.

Sobeloff turned down the plea after telling the school officials he would grant a stay only if the board could show how the lower court's desegregation order "would cause you grave and irreparable damage."

Sobeloff, who rejected a similar petition from Arlington authorities 11 days ago, lectured school boards for seeking "guidance from the courts" and further delays in school desegregation edicts.

"School Boards," the chief judge said, "should work out some plan to comply with the sense of the law. It shouldn't be how you can stave it off but how you can comply."

Cliburn-Jaycees Episode Is Explained By Bob Cox

A fuller explanation of the Van Cliburn-Jaycees episode incident to the off-again-on-again award among the "Ten Outstanding Young Men" was made here this week by Bob Cox of Chapel Hill, who is national president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Cox was in North Carolina for the Chapel Hill Young Man of the Year award.

Cox revealed that Cliburn had actually stated his acceptance of the award and sent a telegram saying he would be present for the occasion and that his parents would accompany him to Miami for the event.

Furthermore, it is not true, as stated, that an award may not be made in absentia. The Jaycees did make such an award this year. But in the case of Van Cliburn, he at first accepted with the understanding that he would be present, and then sent word that he could not be present owing to a conflicting engagement, said Cox.

Cox made the announcement in the form of a letter to all local, state and national officers of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. "I hope that the misconceptions can be overcome," he said.

He said that an award was made to Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, political scientist, who was out of the country. "Dr. Kissinger presented circumstances deemed sufficiently extreme to warrant his receiving the award in absentia," said Cox. "He was on an important mission to West Germany to attend high-level conferences on the Berlin Situation."

CHRONOLOGY
Pointing out that there were 55 finalists for the 10 awards, Cox gave a chronological account of the events leading up to the Van

Cluburn-Jaycees episode incident to the off-again-on-again award among the "Ten Outstanding Young Men" was made here this week by Bob Cox of Chapel Hill, who is national president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Cox was in North Carolina for the Chapel Hill Young Man of the Year award.

Cox revealed that Cliburn had actually stated his acceptance of the award and sent a telegram saying he would be present for the occasion and that his parents would accompany him to Miami for the event.

Furthermore, it is not true, as stated, that an award may not be made in absentia. The Jaycees did make such an award this year. But in the case of Van Cliburn, he at first accepted with the understanding that he would be present, and then sent word that he could not be present owing to a conflicting engagement, said Cox.

Cox made the announcement in the form of a letter to all local, state and national officers of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. "I hope that the misconceptions can be overcome," he said.

He said that an award was made to Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, political scientist, who was out of the country. "Dr. Kissinger presented circumstances deemed sufficiently extreme to warrant his receiving the award in absentia," said Cox. "He was on an important mission to West Germany to attend high-level conferences on the Berlin Situation."

CHRONOLOGY
Pointing out that there were 55 finalists for the 10 awards, Cox gave a chronological account of the events leading up to the Van

Cluburn-Jaycees episode incident to the off-again-on-again award among the "Ten Outstanding Young Men" was made here this week by Bob Cox of Chapel Hill, who is national president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Cox was in North Carolina for the Chapel Hill Young Man of the Year award.

Cox revealed that Cliburn had actually stated his acceptance of the award and sent a telegram saying he would be present for the occasion and that his parents would accompany him to Miami for the event.

Furthermore, it is not true, as stated, that an award may not be made in absentia. The Jaycees did make such an award this year. But in the case of Van Cliburn, he at first accepted with the understanding that he would be present, and then sent word that he could not be present owing to a conflicting engagement, said Cox.

Cox made the announcement in the form of a letter to all local, state and national officers of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. "I hope that the misconceptions can be overcome," he said.

He said that an award was made to Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, political scientist, who was out of the country. "Dr. Kissinger presented circumstances deemed sufficiently extreme to warrant his receiving the award in absentia," said Cox. "He was on an important mission to West Germany to attend high-level conferences on the Berlin Situation."

CHRONOLOGY
Pointing out that there were 55 finalists for the 10 awards, Cox gave a chronological account of the events leading up to the Van

Cluburn-Jaycees episode incident to the off-again-on-again award among the "Ten Outstanding Young Men" was made here this week by Bob Cox of Chapel Hill, who is national president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Cox was in North Carolina for the Chapel Hill Young Man of the Year award.

Cox revealed that Cliburn had actually stated his acceptance of the award and sent a telegram saying he would be present for the occasion and that his parents would accompany him to Miami for the event.

Furthermore, it is not true, as stated, that an award may not be made in absentia. The Jaycees did make such an award this year. But in the case of Van Cliburn, he at first accepted with the understanding that he would be present, and then sent word that he could not be present owing to a conflicting engagement, said Cox.

Cox made the announcement in the form of a letter to all local, state and national officers of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. "I hope that the misconceptions can be overcome," he said.

He said that an award was made to Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, political scientist, who was out of the country. "Dr. Kissinger presented circumstances deemed sufficiently extreme to warrant his receiving the award in absentia," said Cox. "He was on an important mission to West Germany to attend high-level conferences on the Berlin Situation."

CHRONOLOGY
Pointing out that there were 55 finalists for the 10 awards, Cox gave a chronological account of the events leading up to the Van

Organization Of Pep Rally On Agenda

Planning a pep rally to honor UNC's nationally rated basketball team will be the chief item on the agenda when the University Club meets Tuesday night at 7 o'clock in Di Hall, New West.

Feb. 17 has been chosen as the date of the rally but no plans at this time or location have been decided by the club.

"I would like to have it about 6:30 in Y-Court, but details have to be worked out with the coaching staff and South Building before those two decisions can be finalized," said University Club President Dave Jones.

"We have undertaken this project with a great deal of enthusiasm, and all signs indicate that Carter Jones and the cheering squad, Jo Carpenter and the majorettes, as well as all club members will work hard toward making this a memorable event."

AKPsi Annual Civic Award Is Presented To Bob Cox

Robert V. (Bob) Cox, president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, is the recipient of this year's Civic Award presented by Alpha Kappa Psi, professional commerce fraternity.

The Civic Award, one of the highest awards that can be given to a non-member of the fraternity, was presented to Cox by Laurence Wilson, president of the local chapter, at the Jaycees' annual Distinguished Service Award Banquet, Jan. 29. Cox was the guest speaker.

Alpha Kappa Psi's award is given to the man who the fraternity feels has contributed most to the progress of his community and to the growth of sound business principles in everyday business activities.

The award recognized the recipient's attempt to further the development of the American system of free enterprise.

To receive this award the candidate must meet the approval of the national fraternity.

At present time Cox is the national Jaycee president and now lives in Tulsa, Okla., the national office.

SP Interviews Continue Tomorrow

Student Party interviews will continue Monday from 2-5 p.m. in Roland Parker I.

The party will interview residents of the lower quad, Alexander, Connor, Winston and Joyner Dorms and all town women interested in nominations for CAA, WAA, senior class officer candidates and head cheerleader.

Daily Tar Heel News Post Given Flinner And Fisher

An "Under New Management" sign will go up in The Daily Tar Heel office tomorrow.

Chuck Flinner will take over the post of co-managing editor, joining Stan Fisher who has shared the position with Charlie Sloan since the end of November.

Sloan is resigning in order to have more time to study and work on the North Carolina Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity.

Flinner is a junior in the School of Journalism. He has had experience as a photographer and engraver on his hometown paper, The High Point Enterprise.

Fisher is a sophomore. He plans to major in journalism.

In announcing Flinner's appointment Sloan said, "Chuck has done a good job of learning the hectic daily routine of managing editor, and I'm sure he will turn out an attractive and news-full Daily Tar Heel."

"Stan has a few weeks' more experience in the job than Chuck, and with his help the co-managing editor system should work out well," Sloan added.

"In a way I hate to give up the managing editor's desk," Sloan said,

Spring Rush Scheduled By Pro Clubs

Business Group
Plans Three Days
Of Rush Parties

Two UNC professional business fraternities will begin their spring rush Monday and continue through Wednesday.

Alpha Lambda of Delta Sigma Pi and Alpha Tau of Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business administration and commerce fraternities, have announced plans for rush activities.

In charge of rushing this year for the fraternities are Gerald Suddreth and Sam Hummel, vice presidents of Alpha Kappa Psi and Delta Sigma Pi, respectively.

The two groups will entertain prospective members from 7-9 p.m., Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Membership in these professional fraternities is restricted to those sophomores and juniors who have an academic average of C or better, who are enrolled in business administration, commerce, and industrial relations curricula, and who are accepted by a vote of the fraternity members.

Both fraternities sponsor a wide range of activities, including intramurals, social events, professional tours, dinner meetings and speakers, and participation in such campus programs as the Homecoming Display Contest and the Valkyrie Sing.

The Delta Sigma Pi house is located at 211 Pittsboro Street. The Alpha Kappa Psi house address is 214 East Rosemary Street.

Henderson's Book On Shaw Continues To Have Impact

A little over a year ago a book entitled "George Bernard Shaw: Man of the Century" won for Dr. Archibald Henderson the 26th annual Mayflower Society Award for the best non-fiction volume in 1957.

It was the highest honor which can be bestowed by North Carolina, but critical approval was only beginning at that time. The praise for this book eclipses all other acclaim.

The occasion marked the third time North Carolina literary awards have been received by Dr. Henderson for his works on Shaw. In 1911 he won the Patterson Memorial Cup for his book, "George Bernard Shaw: His Life and Works" and in 1932 he was awarded the Mayflower Cup for "Bernard Shaw: Playboy and Prophet."

Dr. Henderson's works, in addition to the celebrated Shaw and Mark Twain biographies, include

Enrollment Drops 365 For Spring Semester

The male-female ratio at Carolina is about four to one.

There are 4,208 men enrolled and 1,483 coeds this semester, according to enrollment figures released last week by the UNC Central Office of Records.

The UNC enrollment for the spring semester is 7148, a decrease of 365 students in the number who were enrolled last fall.

Although the spring semester usually has fewer students than in the fall, spring 1959 has increased by 426 over the same semester last year and even has 110 more students than in fall 1957.

Of the total enrollment here, around 76 per cent of the students are North Carolinians. Forty-five of the 49 states are represented at UNC. The only states with no students here are Alaska, New Mexico, South Dakota and Utah.

95 students are from 35 foreign countries.

Men veterans outnumber women vets 1,436 to 21, according to the Central Office of Records statistics.

The enrollments for the various schools and colleges include: General College, 2,322; College of Arts and Sciences, 1,385; School of Business Administration, 432; School of Education, 434; School of Journalism, 42; Graduate School, 1,125; Law School, 235; School of Library Science, 60, and School of Social Work, 56.

In the Division of Health affairs, the enrollments are: School of Dentistry, 216; School of Medicine, 271; School of Nursing, 195; School of Pharmacy, 226, and School of Public Health, 149.

Traveler Pickett Speaks Tomorrow

After many years of travel in Europe, Asia and Africa, Clarence Pickett will report on his missions in a talk at Carroll Hall, Monday night at 8 o'clock.

His report will be given under the topic: "The Challenge of World Community in the Atomic Age."

The Carolina YMCA and YWCA and the Friends Meetings of Chapel Hill and Durham are sponsoring the Pickett lecture. He has been associated with the Friends Service since 1913 when he became one of their ministers and the secretary of Young Friends activities in America.

As executive secretary of American Friends Service Committee from 1929 to 1950, Pickett also worked with the Division of Subsistence Homesteads; the Resettlement Administration in Washington, D. C.; the Farm Security Administration and the National Housing Agency.

It was also during this time that he traveled extensively in Europe on various assignments. He lived in Egypt, Israel and Palestine.

Between the years of 1950 to 1955 he served as honorary secretary of AFSC. In this capacity he devoted special attention to endeavor to discover areas in which AFSC could help improve the climate in which East-West relationships were carried on.

During five sessions of the United Nations Assembly, Pickett served as a member of the six-person international Quaker team at the U.N.

Pickett's national and international work continued in the fall of 1952 when he was appointed a member of the President's Commission on Immigration and Naturalization.

See HENDERSON, page 3

WUNC Radio Staff Meeting Scheduled Tomorrow At 4

WUNC, the University Radio Station, will hold a meeting for prospective staff members 4 p.m., Monday in Studio A of Swain Hall.

Positions on the WUNC staff are open in announcing, writing, promotion, engineering, traffic and music.

There is also a need of artists for the station's promotion department.

At the Monday meeting D. W. Knoepfler, director of radio, and Jack Mayo, student manager of WUNC, will give applicants a brief description of the operation of the various departments of the station.

Persons attending the session will then meet with the heads of the department in which they are interested.

WUNC is a non-commercial FM radio station operated entirely by students on a voluntary basis. It is heard over a wide area in central and eastern North Carolina.

Carolina To Play Host To High School Bands

UNC will be host to 140 high school musicians and band directors for the sixth annual North Central All-State High School Band Clinic being held here Feb. 13-15.

Highlight of the three-day gathering will be a band concert open to the public on Sunday, Feb. 15, at 4 p.m. in Hill Hall. The program will be presented by the 117-piece high school clinic band and will be conducted by Herbert L. Carter of East Carolina College.

Instructor Herbert Fred of the UNC Department of Music is chairman in charge of the clinic.

DESKMEN AT WORK — Stan Fisher, left, and Chuck Flinner, right, have been named co-managing editors of The Daily Tar Heel. Their job will include laying out pages one and three and aiding in the planning of the slate of each day's news.