

U.N.C. Library
Serials Dept.
WEATHER
Chapel Hill, N.C.
Cloudy and cool.

The Daily Tar Heel

VOLUME LXVII, NO. 102 Complete Wire Service CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1959 Offices in Graham Memorial FOUR PAGES THIS ISSUE

A SPEECH
The Chancellor was forceful.
See page 2.

Charlie Gray Elected By UP As Presidential Nominee

By DEE DANIELS
Charlie Gray was nominated by the University Party last night as its candidate for president of the student body. Running with him is David Grigg for the position of vice-president. Both were unopposed.
Sue Wood was elected, also by acclamation, to run on the UP ticket for secretary of the student body.
The candidate for student body treasurer will be nominated at the next party meeting. Gordon Street moved this action due to a lack of agreement on a candidate at that time.
UP completed its slate for Student Legislature candidates, except for three 1 year seats in Town Men's IV and 2 year seats in Dorm Men's IV, all of which will be filled by the UP executive committee.
Allen Simpson was elected by acclamation to run for the one year seat in Dorm Men's II.
In Dorm Men's III, Ronnie Milligan and Vince Muller are candidates for the two 1 year seats and Pope Shuford is competing for the

CHARLIE GRAY
UP nominee for student body president.

DAVID GRIGG
UP nominee for student body vice-president.

Cuts May Kill Work Of Years

By DAVE JONES
"Unless some very drastic upward revision is made, the work of building our department over the last ten years is lost," said Dr. Dorothy C. Adkins, chairman of the Department of Psychology, in discussing the 1959-61 budget as it now stands.
"We now have top notch people, I can't keep them. I don't want to keep them at salaries that are unfair. If we are going to keep salaries low, we are going to have to aim at mediocre people that we can keep, rather than top flight ones."
Dr. Adkins also discussed the problems of space for the Department of Psychology. She said that presently it is impossible to undertake new research projects and that she has had to turn down some attractive federal contracts as a result. In addition the department has to teach in other buildings, she added.
TEACHING LOW SALARIED
Prof. John D. Eyre, of the Department of Geography said "Teaching is a low salaried profession and salary increases are essential in order to attract and to hold talented teachers who will, in turn, attract talented students."
"The University of North Carolina has entered a period of bitter competition with prominent state and private universities, government and business, all of which have higher, constantly rising salary levels."
"The budget as now proposed calls for faculty to meekly accept increased teaching loads without just compensation in salary and a reduction of time for research and other University activities."
TEACHING IS HARD
Professor Eyre also said, "The number of classroom hours taught in a poor guide to faculty output." He pointed to lecture preparation, reading of recent professional journals and books, the correction of examinations, as well as campus and extra-campus activities which crowd the faculty members' working day and intrude on his evening hours.
Prof. John W. Thibaut of the Psychology Department said the budget was an indication of a "lack of confidence, a basic scepticism in the utility of the University to the state."
"I feel that the national reputation of the University will suffer unless the money is restored. But, I think it is not the money, it is what it symbolizes—trust by the Legislature and the people in the University. Financial payments are concrete symbols of that trust and (See CUTS, page 3, col. 3)

Aycock Drafts Program To Inform Solons, People

University's Need Would Be Publicized

Chancellor William B. Aycock Tuesday outlined a program to better inform the people and legislators of the state of the needs of the University and why the funds cut by the state's Advisory Budget Commission should be restored.
William C. Friday, president of the Consolidated University, made a plea Monday before the Board of Trustees for the complete restoration of the appropriations requested in the maintenance and operations budget. The Board unanimously approved Friday's plea.
Chancellor Aycock repeated the needs to approximately 250 faculty members, administration personnel and students in Carroll Hall. He named four main items in the maintenance and operations budget which required the complete restoration of funds: 1. faculty salary increases, 2. new personnel, 3. library books and journals and 4. new equipment and supplies.
"Statistics are misleading and everyone will have a separate set. They could be used against us," he warned. "We are setting no particular pattern, nor are we requesting that every item in the budget be supported. However, I am hopeful we will not be negative in discussing our needs. We should not (See AYCOCK, page 3)

Young Attacks Editor's Policy

Davis Young, the sole candidate for the editorship of The Daily Tar Heel as yet, attacked the present newspaper editorial policy in regard to the coming spring election in a statement released Tuesday.
Referring to an article attack him in Tuesday's paper, Young said, "The editor laid down a set of commendable ground rules for The Daily Tar Heel coverage of this election, but nowhere in these ground rules did he state that his columnists would be given free rein to tee off on the candidates."
He said that he was "very grateful to Sidney Dakar for his editorial page attack on me." He recalled an earlier article by Dakar "a charming little story about a fellow in a public lavatory who saw a bottle of corn cobs above the toilet tissue dispenser. I say again that as editor I will not permit his kind of tasteless vulgarity in print."
Answering Dakar's accusation that Young wishes to ignore sexual and moral problems, he said, "Nothing could be further from the truth. I simply insist, and will continue to insist that any discussion along these lines be conducted within the limits of good taste."
"It begins to look," continued Young, "as though the present editor is going to complete the pro-

IFC Elects Officers; Debates Deferred Rush

By A. P. PIPKIN
Newly Elected IFC President Ashe Exum pledged himself to a program of "positive action" concerning the discipline of the IFC and declared that the scholarship of the fraternities should be improved.
Other officers elected included Ben Geer Keyes, vice president; Walker Blanton, treasurer, and Pete Austin, secretary.
A long discussion of deferred rush was the primary business of the evening.
The question was not resolved at this meeting because the majority of the council members did not feel that they were sufficiently informed of the opinions of their respective houses at that time.
A special meeting will be held Monday night to discuss this problem.
Outgoing IFC President Tucker

Tri Delts Sell Tickets To Supper

Thanksgiving's turkey can't match the Tri Delts' spaghetti for the greatest Thursday meal of the year. The annual Spaghetti Supper features the pride of Italy from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Thursday, at the Tri Delta House.
Students have been urged to hustle to the nearest member of the sorority, or tickets will be sold at the door Thursday night for only one dollar.
The receipts will be used to give scholarships to worthy UNC women students. All Carolina coeds are eligible to apply for the scholarships.

IDC To Form Policy On TV Repairs

A definite policy on the television repair fund will be drawn up at the Interdormitory Council meeting tonight at 7 o'clock in Phi Hall, New East.
The IDC, which will participate in the drive for blood donors for children's operations, will be given the procedure in enlisting students as donors.
A representative from the Campus Chest will also speak to the group on the forthcoming Chest drive March 1-7.
The IDC members will hear a report on the progress of the blanket party, tennis court dance to be sponsored by the council in the spring.
Other business before the group will include a report from the Dormitory Improvements Committee on improvements on plans for future dorm construction. The IDC may also vote on the advisability of a roommate preference sheet for dorm mecs.

Glee Club Will Sing For Festival

The UNC Men's Glee Club completed its spring itinerary plans this week with the confirmation of a weekend engagement at the Wilmington Azalea Festival on April 3-5.
The Azalea Festival will be the focal point of a four-day tour through southeastern North Carolina and northern South Carolina scheduled for April 2-5. During the weekend singing trip, the 55-voice club will sing before thousands of tourists, sightseers and visitors enjoying the colorful spectacle of the port city. An over-night concert will also be presented at Coker College in Hartsville, S. C.
After the tour, the Glee Club and the Woman's College Chorus will join in presenting the Villalobos (St. Sebastian) Mass in concerts at Aycock Auditorium in Greensboro, April 12 and at Hill Hall that same night.
Projected concerts are also in the planning stage for Parents' Day Lawn Program, Durham High School, Averett College in Danville, Va., and possibly Raeford Music Club and P.T.A. in Raeford. Glee Club Director Joel Carter said this week.

SP Forms Committee

A new Organization Committee was crystalized Tuesday by the Advisory Board of the Student Party, the prime objective of which will be to increase support for the SP in the spring elections. Dewey Sheffield was named to head the new group.
The committee, when all positions are filled, will consist of a person in charge of each legislative district, every dorm, sorority, and fraternity, and a representative of each hall of all the dorms.
Positions filled at a meeting of the advisory board of the SP, in addition to Sheffield, are as follows: Gary Artz, vice chairman in charge of fraternities; Janie Walters, vice chairman in charge of women's dorms; and Betty Kaye Johnson, vice chairman in charge of sororities. Students interested in aiding the committee are asked to attend a meeting of the committee Thursday at 2:30 p.m. in the Grail Room.
The Advisory Board also nominated Barbara and Margaret Hawley to run for social co-chairmen of the senior class in another action at the meeting Tuesday.

Shooting Victim Is 'Critical'

William Farrar, Negro, of Durham, was in critical condition Tuesday in N. C. Memorial Hospital after being shot through the neck Monday afternoon.
No arrests have yet been made as a result of the shooting which occurred near Chapel Hill. The Orange County Sheriff's Department said Tuesday an 18-year-old Chapel Hill girl will be charged with the shooting, pending the outcome of Farrar's condition.
The shooting took place at the home of Mrs. Margy McKensie on the Merrick-Mill Road outside Chapel Hill around 1 p.m. Monday, a deputy sheriff said.

G. M. SLATE
Activities scheduled in Graham Memorial today include:
Ways and Means Committee, 1:30-3 p.m., Grail Room; Budget, 3-5 p.m., Grail Room; Pan Hell, 5-6 p.m., Grail Room; Women's Council, 7-9 p.m., Grail Room; UP candidates, 9-11 p.m., Roland Parker I; Elections Board, 4-5 p.m., Roland Parker I; Orientation, 2-4 p.m., Roland Parker II; Stray Greeks, 7-8 p.m., Roland Parker II; Campus Chest, 4-5 p.m., Roland Parker II; Morehead Committee, 2:45-3:30 p.m., Woodhouse Conference Room; UP Banquet Committee, 5-6 p.m., Woodhouse Conference Room.

OPENING NIGHT — Robert Ketter, as Dorante, and Barbara Hicks as Dorimene, are shown as they will appear tonight in 'The Would-Be Gentleman' opening at the Playmakers Theatre. Curtain is at 8:30. The production is scheduled to run through Sunday.

'Would-Be Gentleman' Begins 5 Night Run

The Carolina Playmakers open this evening with a modern version of Moliere's "The Would-Be Gentleman" in the Playmakers Theatre. Curtain is at 8:30. The production is scheduled to run through Sunday.
Featured in the cast are James Poteat, Charlotte, as M. Jourdain; Margaret Starnes, Raleigh, as Mme. Jourdain; Barbara Hicks, Nebo, as Dorimene; Robert Ketter, Wyncote, Pa., as Dorante; and Lore Schuller, Wadesboro, as Nicole.
Others are Dan Linney, Wilkesboro; Patrick Carlton, Alexandria, Va.; Craven Mackie, Baton Rouge, La.; Herbert Drinnon, Kingsport, Tenn.; Charles Nisbet, Charlotte; Arthur McDonald, Dalton, Ga.; Douglas McDermott, San Marino, Calif.; William Hannah, Colonial Heights, Va. George Manasse, Durham; Chenault Spence, Concord; Bill Monell, New York City; Betty Rhodes, Kinston; Maris Ubans, Syracuse, N. Y.; Wayne Garber, Hillsboro; William File, Anderson, S. C.; and Bob Merritt, Yonkers, N. Y.
The production is under the direction of Russell B. Graves, of the department of dramatic art. The setting is designed by John Sneden; lights, by Carl Hinrichs.
A few tickets are still available for the Wednesday and Thursday performances. They may be purchased at 214 Abernethy Hall and Ledbetter-Pickard. The Playmakers Theatre box office is open at 7:00 p.m.

British Arrive In Riot Torn Nyasaland

BLANTYRE, NYASALAND — British troops were flown here yesterday and police checked stocks of arms and ammunition in sporting goods stores as a precaution against new race violence.
At nearby Limbe, police removed all the guns and ammunition from a firearms shop.
This town was quiet but tense. An African employe at a power station was arrested after he said he could deprive Blantyre of power at a minute's notice. Three African youths were arrested after an attack last night on three police re- (See RIOTS, page 3, col. 3)

WHAT? ME WORRY?

Stan Fisher, co-managing editor of The Daily Tar Heel, recently had Staff Cartoonist Bart Forbes draw a one-column, two-inch picture of MAD Magazine's Alfred E. Neuman.
Then he sent a letter to 'Mad' requesting permission to use their child prodigy, Alfred, occasionally in The Daily Tar Heel.
Fisher's idea was to use Alfred in exam schedules and other items in the Tar Heel designed to "rot your mind" (as MAD phrases it).
Yesterday Jerry DeFuccio, of MAD Magazine, replied, granting permission to use Alfred anytime with a notation "That boy could stand a bit of schooling."
And so begins the education of the illiterate Alfred E. Neuman.

INFIRMARY

Students in the Infirmary yesterday included:
Edna Lockwood Holoman, Cameron Lee Whittemore, Judee Dale Doherty, Helen Stiles Young, Robert Lee Hall, Frank Bennett Huntley, David Mayer Covenock, James Ronald Shumate, George William Rose, David Bruce Pollock, Fred Althin, Carmine Franklin Nicholas and Bruce Morrison Sanborn.