Easter Story Currently At Planetarium

The traditional story, "Easter, the Awakening," commemorating the Resurrection of the body of Christ, is currently showing at Morehead Planetarium each evening at 8:30 o'clock. It will be presented through April 6.

It is the Biblical story of Easter and the Resurrection, complemented in the Planetarium by a pageant of lights and music. The entire program, given this year for the tenth season, as usual is of a spiritual nature, and is appropriate for all school grade and age levels.

Although the Biblical portion does not deviate from the Scriptures, the first part of the 1959 program will be akin to that given in 1956 because of the early date of Easter this year, March 29. The date can be as early as March 22 or as late as April 25.

The first part of the program this year will point up how and why the date wanders in the calendar and how tradition of many centuries has prevented the stabilization of Easter at some time when the full effects of the material resurrection of things of nature can be seen.

It will also explain how the exact date of the Crucifixion and Resurrection can be determined, and suggest (See EASTER, Page 3)

NSA Features Additional Workshops

The National Student Association will feature three workshops in addition to those announced earlier this week at its regional educational affairs conference here, Feb. 27-March 1.

All discussion groups will meet at 8 p.m. Friday, Feb. 27, and 1:15 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 28 in assigned classrooms.

A workshop concerning teacher recruitment and utilization of present teacher resources will meet Friday in 104 Gardner and Saturday in 104 Haynes.

Ralph Cummings will chair a workshop on campus climate, a topic which will include current student attitudes and student-faculty relations.

Mrs. Martha DeBerry, assistant dean of women, will attend this workshop to provide any information necessary for the discussion, which will meet in 106 Gardner Friday and in 106 Haynes Saturday.

Student participation in educational advance outside the local school will be discussed by a workshop chaired by Norman Smith. The group will review means by which sympathy and aid for the cause of higher education may be promoted. It will convene in 106 Gardner Friday and 106 Haynes Saturday.

Interested students and faculty members are invited to attend.

Freshman Forum In Its Final Phase

By BEN TAYLOR
And BEA NEWMAN
The Freshman Forum, primed by originator, organizer, and advisor Jim Jordan, is entering the final phase of its program aimed at "introducing vital areas of creativity within the University via the ambitious freshman."

The forum, a program to put talents of freshmen to work upon their arrival on campus and to keep the impetus of Freshman Camp from losing its momentum, is currently under the direction of a freshman committee headed by Chuck Nixon of Summit, N. J.

Committee members include: Leonidas Capetanos, Nancy Wasson, Phyllis Hale, Sabra Brew, Jack Carter, and Freeman Barly.

Nixon said the Freshman Forum was initially designed with two primary purposes in mind: 1. to be an introduction to creative arts, and 2. to be a bane to "Mickey-Mouseism." Jordan, in explaining the organization and accomplishments of the Freshman Forum, emphasized that

Playmaker Production Is Sold Out

Standing room only!
This is the situation at the Playmakers Theatre for the performances of "The Would-Be Gentleman" tonight through Sunday.

Standing room tickets will go on sale each night for the rest of the week at 7 p.m. at the theatre box office.

Directed by Russell B. Graves, of the Department of Dramatic Art, the cast features James Polgas as M. Jourdain; Margaret Starnes as Mme. Jourdain; Barbara Hicks as Dorimene; Robert Ketter as Dorante; and Lore Schuller as Nicole.

The production will not be held over, according to Dave Peterson of the Playmakers business office, because try-outs will start Monday for another production.

Honor Council Will Hear Traffic Case

The Traffic Council sent one case to the honor council recently as a result of their hearings on student traffic violations.

During the last two weeks the Traffic Council took action on 19 cases.

Indefinite suspension of motor vehicle privileges was rendered in one case, and six students received probation for one semester.

Other action included giving seven warnings.

Only four cases were dismissed.

it was not a committee for freshmen only, but that participation from other classes was needed.

The Present Freshman Forum evolved from discussions at Freshman Camp last year headed by Jordan. There it was decided to give the freshmen a definite program during their initial year at the University.

An original committee composed of Jordan, Jack Raper, Jack Roth, Fete Longnecker, and Nancy McFadden mapped a panorama of fall semester programs which included a jazz session with Jim Carse and Ed Crow; contemporary sculpture with Bob Howard of the UNC Art Dept.; interpretative dance by junior Marty Preston in February.

The second series of programs began with a discussion on "Beat Generation."

Since then, the program has included a week-end trip to New York City which was taken by 41 freshmen boys and girls. Visits were made to Carnegie Hall, Broadway, the United Nations buildings, and the Museum of Modern Art.

The Freshman Forum's future programs include a "Poetry and Jazz" series March 12 and a performance of "End Game" by Samuel Beckett to be managed by freshman with Carolina playmakers assisting.

A creative workshop has been scheduled for May 12 and 13 at Cherry Grove Beach, S. C., the final program of the year.

Mixon, in relating the hopes of the forum, said, "We are trying to have a higher level of programs to stimulate students in every field."

"Next year we want to reach more freshmen because they felt they gained so much from it this year. We also want this committee of freshmen to continue to work next year and to publicize and get it off to a good start at Freshman Camp."

Junior Wins $100 Student Writing Award

Bobby G. Cahoon, a junior geology major, has been named North Carolina winner of a $100 Student Writing Award given by the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

Cahoon, whose home is in Harbinger, Currituck County, was chosen for his article on mining in North Carolina. The North Carolina subsection of AIMME gives the annual award.

Spring 'Y' Conference Features Noted Writer

He will discuss United States foreign policy in relation to the contemporary world situation in his three addresses.

Harrington visited UNC at a summer school Y-night and during the 1958 Carolina Symposium, speaking then on a special concern of his, the Communist party in the United States and its connection with the party in Moscow.

"Mr. Harrington is an intelligent, effective speaker with a viewpoint which is critical, yet at the same time challenging," commented former Cosmopolitan Club president Sipra Bose. "I have been highly impressed with his awareness of world affairs."

YWCA staff secretary Anne Queen cited the width of Harrington's knowledge in the field of literature, politics, and religion, his excellence as a writer, and the sensitive way in which he deals with the questions.

Free lance writer Michael Harrington will make his third appearance before Carolina students at

State Affairs Committee Opens Drive At Budget

The Committee on State Affairs, a student organization to promote the needs of the campus in the state's General Assembly, has launched a letter-writing campaign to impress on legislators the student interest in the University budget.

Cooperating with the committee are numerous campus activities, including the IDC, IFC, Young Democrats, Young Republicans, Women's Residence Council, class officers, and church groups.

These organizations will distribute names and districts of the state senators and representatives to members, urging them to write a short note to their representatives in the Assembly supporting agreed points of the budget.

The committee stresses the following as necessary items in the upcoming budget: increased faculty salaries; increased number of faculty and researchers; movement towards a new student union; more acquisitions for the library; and more tools of teaching—necessary supplies and equipment presently missing from many classroom buildings.

Members of the committee plan to spend afternoons in Raleigh speaking with the state legislators and to meet with the Appropriations Committee of the Assembly the

'Lost Weekend' Offers Challenge To Students

UNC students are challenged to a battle of ear, foot, and wits, with goods to be delivered within a 24-hour period.

The event is the GMAB Lost Weekend, to be staged March 6, and the competition fee is only $2.50 per couple, which may be paid at the Graham Memorial Information Office any time prior to the duel.

The battle of ears promises to be an enhancing one as Dave Brubeck is scheduled to be the prize for all to hear from 3-5 p.m. next Friday. The feet, too, are in for a treat. They can perform the same night to the rhythm of the Gladiolas and Shadows.

The winner of the third section of battle-wits will be handsomely rewarded with a tangible prize. The problem? Simply submit the best name for the Lost Weekend.

Don the battle armor and buy a ticket today.

Conference Begins Today

The fourth annual North Carolina Conference on Handicapped Children will be held at N. C. Memorial Hospital today and Saturday.

The program will be devoted to the whole field of rehabilitation, but there will be special emphasis on rehabilitation needs of children and on special problems created by prolonged illness and disability in the growing child.

Everyone who has an interest, personal or professional, in the rehabilitation of disabled children and adults is invited to attend the conference.

The sponsoring agencies for the conference are the Coordinating Committee on Handicapped Children of the North Carolina Health Council and the Nemours Foundation.

The main purposes of the conference are:

1. To study the diseases and disabilities which provide the need and opportunity of rehabilitation.
2. To study the special problems related to long term disability and rehabilitation in children.

Civil War Centennial Conference Here Sat.

A Civil War Centennial Conference will be held here Saturday sponsored jointly by the UNC, the State Department of Archives and History, and the North Carolina Literary and Historical Association.

The States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana are expected to be represented. An attendance of one hundred is anticipated.

The purpose of the conference is to make preliminary plans for commemorating the approaching Centennial of the War Between the States. Various positive steps to be taken will be discussed.

At 12:30 there will be a luncheon at the Carolina Inn, presided over by Dr. Robert B. House, former chancellor of the University. A welcome will be extended by William B. Aycock, present chancellor, and a word of appreciation will be spoken by Col. Hugh Dortch of Goldsboro, chairman of the North Carolina Civil War Centennial Committee.

Dr. Bell I. Wiley, professor of history at Emory University and a member of the United States Civil War Centennial Commission, will speak on the significance of the Centennial.

At 2:30 p.m. a panel discussion in the assembly room of the library will be moderated by Dr. Christopher Crittenden, director of the State Department of Archives and History.

Among the leading participants, with their subjects, will be collecting and preserving manuscripts,

BUDGET MEETING

Four budget-attack mobilization meetings will be held today in the Library Assembly Room in the basement of Louis Round Wilson Library.

The short meetings will discuss various phases of the UNC budget. Dean James Godfrey will explain the operations budget at 3 p.m. Salary increases and additional personnel will be discussed by J. Carlyle Sitterson at 3:20 p.m. University Librarian, Jerrold Orne, will explain the Library's request at the 3:40 p.m. meeting.

The last meeting during the afternoon will be the discussion of the Division of Health Affairs featuring Henry T. Clark Jr.

Publications Board Group Starts Study

The Publications Board study group met Wednesday to discuss recommendations to be submitted to the Student Legislature March 4. The group will meet again March 3 for further discussion.

Items under study at the Wednesday meeting were the present composition of the board, selection of officers, relationship to other student government agencies, powers in financial policy, and means of selecting editors and business managers of the publications.

Beta Xi Elects Officers

Following their annual election, Whit Moose was installed as the new president of Beta Xi Chapter of Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity.

Other new officers of the chapter are as follows: Jim Hickmon, vice president; Charles Himes, secretary; Norman Bowen, treasurer; Ben Daughtry, chaplain; Kent Huffman, historian; Larry Lazarus, pledge-master and Larry Thomas, social chairman.

Chi Omegas Name Elder As President

Jenny Elder is the new president of the Chi Omega sorority. She and seven other officers were recently elected to serve from March this year to March 1960.

The other officers include: vice president, Betty Covington; secretary, Lou Johnson; treasurer, Susie Cordon; pledge trainer, Dickie Robinson; social chairman, Eleanor Smith; civic chairman, Nancy LeGrande; and personnel chairman, Dixie Jackson.

The new president, vice president, secretary and treasurer will participate in a regional Chi Omega convention in Atlanta, Ga., next weekend.

Ballot Boxes Increased In Certain Areas

By STAN BLACK
A vote of confidence in Coach Frank McGuire and the UNC basketball team was unanimously passed by the Student Legislature in its meeting last night.

The resolution passed affirmed the Legislature's "utmost confidence in the efforts of Coach McGuire to maintain order and good conduct at Wake Forest." It further declared that "Commissioner Weaver's reprimand be considered degrading to the fine efforts of Coach McGuire and the basketball team."

There was only highly favorable comment from the body when the resolution was introduced under special orders by Ira Hardy (UP) and Dave Jones (SP).

Also included in the resolution was recognition that Coach McGuire's action were in the interest of curbing violence rather than promoting it. A final provision called for next year's home game with Wake Forest be played at Woolen Gym as scheduled.

The Legislature also passed several revisions in the General Election Law dealing with the placement of ballot boxes in certain town and dorm districts.

Under the law as it now reads, residents of Town Men's I will be able to vote in both the Carolina Inn and the Naval Armory. In Town Men's III boxes will be placed in Graham Memorial and the Western Union office. An amendment to the bill made from the floor last night sets up boxes for Town Men's IV at Gerard Hall, and at sites to be chosen by the Elections Board in Glen Lennox and Victory Village.

Another bill introduced by Dave Jones (SP) provides that ballot boxes will be placed in Connor, Kenan, and Teague Dorms, with the added provision that these polls will be kept open from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m.

The membership of the Campus Orientation Committee was increased from 18 to 22 by a bill introduced by David Grigg and passed under special orders.

A study committee was established to look into the possibilities of a recreational area near Victory Village by the passage of a bill introduced by Bill Miller and Troy Blanton. The area, if obtained, would be primarily intended for the use of the residents of Victory Village, but would be open to all students.

The Legislature also passed a bill to appropriate $75 to the University Art League to enable it to complete its second year of operations. The money will be used to finance the Sidewalk Art Show and the presentation of several films on art and painting to be shown during the spring semester.

Beta Xi Elects Officers

Following their annual election, Whit Moose was installed as the new president of Beta Xi Chapter of Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity.

Other new officers of the chapter are as follows: Jim Hickmon, vice president; Charles Himes, secretary; Norman Bowen, treasurer; Ben Daughtry, chaplain; Kent Huffman, historian; Larry Lazarus, pledge-master and Larry Thomas, social chairman.
