

Harding Pitches Tar Heels To 4-2 Win Over East Carolina

By RUSTY HAMMOND
Carolina's Tar Heels took advantage of five East Carolina errors here yesterday and parlayed the mistakes into a 4-2 victory.

Ben Harding went the route and got the win for Carolina. Harding allowed six hits, but had a one-hitter until the seventh inning.

The victory moved Carolina's season record to 6-1. Monday they take on defending ACC champ Clemson at Clemson.

Two in First
Carolina jumped on ECC starter Larry Ellen for two runs in the first inning. Carroll Bolick crashed a long double to supply the power, but was called out when he tried for an extra base. Russ Hollers was called out at home but the catcher dropped the ball, allowing the run to score.

ECC came back with a run in the third. Burl Morris slapped a single to score Jerry Carpenter ahead of him.

The Tar Heels added another in the fourth when Harold Workman singled, went to second on a wild pitch and 3rd on a passed ball, then came in on an error by the second baseman.

Carolina got its last run in the seventh. Larry Craver walked and was advanced to second on Gerald Griffin's sacrifice. He galloped in when pinch-hitter Dave Dale clouted a single to left center.

Harding in Trouble
Pitcher Harding was in bad trouble in the eighth inning, but escaped allowing only one Pirate run. ECC nicked Harding for three straight singles, but Jim Martin grounded out with the bases full and two out.

Harding, who boosted his win-loss record to 1-1, struck out 10 Pirates and walked only three. Both runs against him were unearned.

East Carolina got the same number of hits as the Tar Heels, six, but couldn't put them together at the right time. The Pirates committed five miscues and the Tar Heels two.

Carroll Bolick, a sophomore catcher batting in the cleanup slot, had a perfect 2 for 2 day in addition to two walks. Both of Bolick's hits were doubles.

Palmer Leads Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. — Arnold Palmer, a golfer with little regard for golf's traditions, made his bid Friday to become the first player ever to win two Masters tournaments in succession.
Palmer, one-time Wake Forest star, took over the lead at the half-way point with rounds of 71-71—141 on the wind-toughened, 6,980-yard Augusta National course. Then he calmly said he wasn't concerned about the tradition that the Masters' winner doesn't repeat his victory.

"I'm just concerned about winning the tournament," he said.
Palmer flouted one Masters' tradition when he won last year with a solid 284. He was the youngest player in more than 20 years and he showed that years of experience aren't necessary to tame the beautifully fearsome Augusta National course.

More than a half dozen others had torn par to tatters Friday before Palmer, a strong-armed son of a veteran Latrobe, Pa., professional, finally established himself as the leader.

Netters Stop Maryland Team By 8-1 Score

The Carolina tennis team swept past Maryland yesterday afternoon 8-1 for its second win of the season in five decisions.

The victory over the Terps gives the Tar Heel netters a 1-0 ACC mark to take into today's match against Virginia.

In the only match of the day which required three sets to settle, Maryland sophomore Chuck Abelson tripped Carolina captain Geoff Black 7-9, 8-6, 6-2 for the lone Ter-rapin victory.

Bruce Sylvia, playing in the number two spot for Carolina, continued his winning ways by defeating Al Citenbaum 6-2, 7-5. The Tar Heel sophomore remains undefeated in singles play so far this year with a 5-0 record.

Coach Carl Rohmann's Cavalier squad which faces the Tar Heels here this afternoon boasts five let-termen returning from a team which was 8-2 last year.

The Summary

MURAL SOFTBALL

This spring, there are 12 more teams entered in the intramural softball action than there were last year. The total number of entries this year has reached 74 compared to 62 entries last year.

The entries by division are: 18 teams in the Dormitory division, 12 in the Fraternity White division, 26 in the Fraternity Blue division and 8 in the Graduate division.

With this field of entries it is hoped and expected that the race for the division championship and even the campus championship will be a very strong and healthy one.

The winners last year were: Cobb in the Dormitory division, PiKa in the Fraternity White division, Kap Sig in the Fraternity Blue division and Med Sch in the Graduate division. The all-campus winner was Med Sch.

Clemson Tracksters Here Today

Two blistering duels at 440 and 880 yards between UNC's Dave Scurlock and Clemson's John Dunkelberg will highlight today's initial varsity outdoor track meet at home as the Tigers, coached by Banks McFadden, invade Chapel Hill for dual combat with the Tar Heels, which begins at 3 o'clock.

Scurlock, ACC outdoor champion in both races, will have his hands full with the lean, smooth-striding Dunkelberg who just last week followed a 49-plus quarter with a 1:53 and a fraction half in a meet against Wake Forest.

Other Tiger stars who bear watching are Paul Snyder, who threw the javelin 220 feet in the Wake Forest meet, hurdler Wilbur Simmons, sprinter Bob Ervin, and distance man Walt Tyler.

For Carolina, slender Wayne Bishop will run and should have little trouble winning both the mile and the two-mile; Ray Stanley, who scored 6.37 points in last week's Florida Relays, may have trouble with Snyder in the javelin, but should be all alone in the broad jump; and pencil-thin Lyndon DeBorde is a good bet to cop both hurdle events.

In the running events, John Sylvester may push both Scurlock and Dunkelberg in the 440, Cowles Lippfert and Bob Foxworth may do the same in the half if they don't go the mile, and Alex Coffin and Bing Somers will back Bishop in the two mile.

In the sprints, Carolina's hopes rest on Wally Graham, Bob Eubanks, Danny Droze, and Tony Arce; and in the hurdles, DeBorde is backed by Charlie Sowers.

Shinning in the field events for the Heels are Ward Sims in the pole vault and broad jump, Fraser

Smith and Jim Shumate in the discus, Don Kemper and Jerry Phaup in the shot, and John O'Neal in the javelin.

Tops in the high jump are Wally Graham and Bob Sherrill, and in the broad jump, other than Stanley and Sims, there are Eubanks and Ed Brawley, which makes this one of Carolina's strongest points.

Rounding out the meet will be the mile relay as always, and the likely Tar Heel foursome will be Sylvester, Benjy Seagle, John Fox, and Scurlock.

High School Clinic Held Here

Thirty four high school baseball teams and their coaches have registered for the first annual North Carolina high school clinic at the University of North Carolina Saturday. Sessions will be held at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Carolina coach Walter Rabb, who has organized and will direct the clinic, said the invitation is still open to all the state high schools, and coaches and teams may come without previous registration.

Assistant coach Harry Lee Lloyd, freshman coach Pat Earey and Henry House, a former assistant and freshman coach, will assist Rabb in instructing at the clinic, which will be held at Emerson Stadium. Members of the Carolina squad will participate in the demonstrations.

The clinic's agenda calls for instruction and demonstrations in pitching and catching, base running and sliding, infield and outfield techniques, hitting and bunting, and play situations.

Rabb said the purpose of the clinic is to generate interest in both college and high school baseball in the state.
