Heels Strand Eight; Commit Five Errors

COLUMBIA — (AP)— Hard hitting first baseman Ken Rosefield led South Carolina's Gamecocks to an 8-3 Atlantic Coast Conference baseball victory over North Carolina Tuesday.

Rosefield, a senior from Sumter, drove in three runs on three singles, furnishing the key power in South Carolina's third conference win against four defeats. The performance raised his average to .469.

The Gamecocks received keen pitching from sophomores Roger Groves and Bud Swygert. Groves got the victory.

The loss was North Carolina's first in conference play and gives the Tar Heels an overall record of 7-2. Loose fielding by North Carolina contributed to the setback.

ONE FOR FIVE — Tar Heel centerfielder Gerald Griffin was limited to one hit, a double, in yesterday's 8-3 loss to South Carolina at Columbia. Griffin's double, which drove in one run, was one of seven hits collected off Gamecock pitchers Roger Groves and Bud Swygert.

Freshmen Suffer 9-4 Loss To Presbyterian In Opener

By JOHN B. JUSTICE

An unexpectedly strong Presbyterian Junior College baseball team gave the Tar Baby nine a rude start for the season yesterday afternoon when the visitors pounded out a 9-4 win.

Ken Harris, center fielder for Presbyterian, led his mates with three hits, a single, double, and home run, and five runs batted in. Harris' home run was the big blow of the rugged fourth inning, when PJC scored five runs off Carolina pitcher Dick Tarlow. Tarlow began the inning by walking the first four men he faced. Then Jimmy Leviner, an ex-Carolina student now playing the third sack for PJC, hit into a force play, driving in one run. Harris, who had knocked in one run in the first inning, promptly smashed a long drive to right center field, scoring three runs.

The biggest inning for the Tar Heel frosh was the third, when they tallied three. Larry Neal, the third baseman for Coach Pat Earey's squad, started things by getting a single and advancing to second on a pass ball. Shortstop Leonard Delolio then dropped in a Texas leaguer to score Neal. After a man had been retired, E. C. Haithecock singled in Dellolio to end the scoring. The Tar Babies scored one more in the fourth when Paul Swing knocked in Neal from second after he had singled and gone to second on another passed ball.

For the winners Bill Merritt went all the way for the victory. Although Carolina outhit their opponents 8-7, Merritt checked all serious rally attempts. Merritt struck out seven and walked three, and allowed no extra base blows.

Dick Tarlow was charged with the loss. Starter Nick Warren was pinch hit for, after having held PJC to one run. Then Tarlow came in and pitched one third of the disastrous fourth. Wacker was followed by Jerry Carpenter in the seventh. Carpenter allowed two runs in the three innings he pitched.

The Tar Babies will be looking for their first win here tomorrow at 3 o'clock, when they meet Oak Ridge Military Academy.

TREATMENT FOR WITT
PITTSBURGH — (AP)— Just how quickly the lame pitching arm of George Witt responds to treatment may be the difference in a fast or slow start for the pennant-hungry Pittsburgh Pirates.

While the Pirates flew from their Florida training camp to Cincinnati Tuesday for a league opener Thursday, Witt was ordered to go to Pittsburgh and have his right elbow examined by Dr. Joseph Finegold, Pirate physician.

State Tops Clemson, 8-7

CLEMSON, S. C. — (AP)— N. C. State poured across four runs in the ninth inning Tuesday to hand Clemson's Tigers their second Atlantic Coast Conference baseball loss in two days, 8-7.

Clemson starter Ty Cline was rocking along with a two-run lead when the Wolfpack exploded. After one out, pinch-hitter Glenn Sparrow and Jim Story singled. Jimmy Roller relieved Cline and walked Jimmy Hill to load the bases. O'Neal Eason slashed a two-run single and that was all for Roller.

Tiger Ace Harold Stowe relieved

Roller. He got Don Hater on a grounder, but Bennie Latusick pounded a double to right to score the last two State runs.

The Tigers almost pulled it out in their half of the ninth, scoring a run on two walks and a sacrifice fly. Cline, who was after his third win, was touched for 11 hits and six wins. He struck out eight and walked two.

Besides the run in the ninth, Clemson picked up single runs in the first, fifth and sixth and added three in the second.

Unbeaten Golfers Meet Princeton Here Today

The undefeated Carolina golf team will be out to make it five straight, here today when it goes against Princeton of the Ivy League at 1:30 on Finely Golf Course.

The surprising Tar Heels have bowled over Indiana, Michigan, Cornell and Davidson for the four wins. They had their closest call against Davidson last week, winning 15-12.

The versatile linksmen have placed three different men as medalists. Number one man Ed Justa, number two man Don McMillan, and number four man Bob Galloway have all reached the medalist goal. Justa has the best score, a three-under par 69.

Princeton is reputed to have a very strong golf team. The Tar Heels have been the whiz kids of the area so far, as only one of five lettermen returned from last year's starting crew. John McKee, the number six man, is the lone returner.

Thus far the powerful Tar Heels have piled up 80 points against the opposition's 31. Today is the last match before Carolina begins its defense of the ACC championship.

Coach Chuck Erickson is expected to start Ed Justa, Don McMillan, David Sloan, Bob Galloway, Hugh Goodman, and Jon McKee.
