

Legislature Passes Four New Bills

By DAVE JONES

A referendum for women dorm residents authorizing the WRC to recommend a social and activity fee and an amendment requiring a two-thirds vote were among the four bills passed by the Student Legislature Thursday night.

Jim Crowover's (SP) bill calling for a referendum, which was passed under special orders last week at the first session of the new Legislature, was called back on the floor by the author.

Crowover then explained certain changes in the bill which he had found to be necessary from a view point of constitutionality. He asked to have them incorporated in the bill.

The body passed them as follows: "The administration be requested by the WRC to authorize the collection of a social and activities fee from all women's dorm residents" upon the passage of the referendum.

Representative Bob Nobles (SP) introduced an amendment under special orders requiring a two-thirds vote on the referendum. Nobles explained that this would give the WRC a stronger mandate in asking for the fee. The amendment was passed and incorporated into the Crowover bill.

Dave Jones (SP) discussed two of his bills at Thursday's session. The first was a bill to approve a new set of by-laws for the University Club.

The old by-laws of this organization had not been available for several years, and the club was operating on all practical purposes without written rules, Jones explained.

The body accepted the new by-laws which will go into effect May 1 with the installation of the University Club's new officers.

Jones' second bill was one which authorized The Daily Tar Heel to transfer $125 from its profits to its photography account.

The finance committee, after hearing testimony from Jones and Editor Davis Young, reduced the figure to $90. The Legislature approved the $90 figure.

Jim Crowover's bill to make a meeting of the legislators with their constituents compulsory was defeated by a vote of 25-13.

There had been some slight changes in the bill made by the

SHE'S A DREAM—Pretty Sally Wade, right, is the object of attention of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity this weekend during a series of parties honoring her as the 1959 PiKA Dream Girl. The identity of the new Dream Girl was not revealed until Friday afternoon at a tea dance when coed Charlotte Pope, who was similarly honored last year, "pinned" Miss Wade. Miss Wade was also presented with flowers by PiKA President Herman Godwin. Photo by Peter Ness

Ways and Means Committee; however, the legislature did not approve the bill as amended.

Seven new pieces of legislation were introduced Thursday night to bring the total for the new session to 21.

Three have been passed by special orders; four have been passed by regular action; one has been defeated; six have been referred to committees; one has been withdrawn by the author.

Seven have been held in committee for an extra week.

A bill to establish a temporary legislative committee to study and make recommendations on the mosquito problem was introduced by Dave Jones (SP) at Thursday night's meeting of Legislature.

Jones explained that the campus welfare board which had been set up to handle such problems was not yet operative; therefore, he was setting up a temporary group to be appointed by Vice President David Grigg to study the problem.

According to Jones, the problem is serious in Dorm Men's VI (Avery, Parker and Teague). Here the combined effect of the swimming pool, the stagnant water from the tennis court development and the adjacent woods bring out mosquitos in large numbers, he said.

$77,450 Given To University

UNC has been allocated $77,450 by the N. C. Council of State to cover damages from fires on campus.

The largest part of the money, $60,111, covers damages to the University's general store room behind Phillips Hall. The fire at the store room occurred last December.

Instead of making repairs to the old structure, storage facilities will be moved off campus. J. S. Bennett, director of buildings and grounds, said this week a concrete block structure to consolidate storage would be built.

Another $10,226 was allocated by the Council of State for the loss of the Keller house, used by the Division of Health Affairs. This structure was destroyed in January. The remains of the building are being torn down to provide parking space for the Carolina Inn, Bennett said. The final allocation was $7,113 for

G. M. SLATE

Today's activities in Graham Memorial include:
R. C., 9-10:30, Roland Parker I and II; Carr dormitory, 8-12 p.m., Cobb basement.

Sam Magill Resigns His Post; Spain Is New Attorney General

Junior Is Appointed; Fills Robinson's Job

The new attorney general is Jack Spain, whose appointment was announced Thursday night to Student Legislature. The appointment is subject to the approval of Legislature, which will act next week.

Student Body President Charlie Gray, who selected Spain to succeed Dick Robinson, commented, "I definitely believe that Jack Spain fills the requirements more than adequately."

The job of the attorney general is to head a staff which investigates violations of the Campus and Honor codes by both men and women. He is also called upon to give opinions on the validity of organization activities and is responsible for any other duties delegated to him by the president of the student body.

Spain has worked this year under Dick Robinson as assistant attorney general. Spain's other campus activities include vice president of the junior class, member of the Program Committee of the Carolina Symposium, member of the Traffic Council and an officer of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Spain has been tapped into such honoraries as the Order of the Old Well and the Order of the Grail. For his scholastic achievements, he has been accepted into the membership of Phi Eta Sigma, Phi Alpha Theta and Phi Beta Kappa.

Spain said Friday he was honored to be appointed to the student government position and commented, "I hope during the next year we can work toward a conscientious appraisal of the judicial system both in procedures and campus understanding."

The new attorney general praised Robinson his predecessor, for "good work he has done in the last year."

In making the appointment, Charlie Gray predicted a possible ex-

Coed Voting On Referendum Is Postponed

The coed referendum on social and activities fees will not be held Tuesday, as had been previously announced.

Such a referendum cannot be held until six to fifteen days have elapsed after the student body president signs the Legislature bill calling for the vote.

Because of a question involving the constitutionality of a bill passed two weeks ago by Legislature authorizing the referendum, the bill was brought up again Thursday night by Jim Crowover (SP). The second bill was passed by Legislature Thursday.

The question of the original bill's constitutionality involved the right of a student organization, as the Women's Residence Council, to tax the students. The referendum to be voted on requests administration to levy social and activity fees which would be turned over to the Women's Residence Council.

Although the date of the referendum has not been set, Elections Board Chairman Hank Patterson said the election would probably be held Tuesday, May 5.

Gray Announces

Student Body President Charlie Gray reminded students that Monday is the final day that applications for more than 150 student government positions may be made.

The application blanks may be secured from the student government office in Graham Memorial and must be returned there.

The interviews with applicants are being held in the student government office until further notice.

Presbyterians' $125,000 Fund Drive Begins

By WILLIAM G. FRIEDRICH

A two-week $125,000 drive is now in process.

It was launched Monday morning to rebuild the Presbyterian Church which was destroyed by fire in February 1958.

The new sanctuary, expected to be ready by September 1960, will cost at least $300,000. For the $125,000, 38 members, as of Monday morning, had pledged $35,903. In addition, $96,000 from the fire insurance settlement is available for construction costs.

Students have been asked to participate in the rebuilding campaign on an installment plan. Pledge cards, setting forth payments for so much a month, semester or year, will cover a three-year period.

Ever since the fire, Presbyterians have used Carroll Hall for Sunday morning services. A new fellowship hall, nearing completion, will soon be used for services this summer. The hall, housing student and church school facilities, is located on the church site opposite the University campus on East Franklin Street.

The new Presbyterian Church will have a seating capacity of 699. The old church seated about 400. Even before the fire, double services were required on Sundays to accommodate the congregation and students, which now totals 563.

The old church, built in 1920, was a gift from the late James Sprunt of Wilmington as a memorial to his wife.

The Chapel Hill Presbyterian Church is a strategic center for the denomination in that it serves the largest concentration of Presbyterian college students at any institution in the southeast.

A committee of Presbyterian students will soon be asking Carolina students for subscriptions. The committee is headed by Pete Austin and Cathy Hobert. Bruce Berryhill and Bill Lineberry will cover men's dorms; Scottie Blackwell will visit women's dorms; Don Millen and Julie Redhead are seeking pledges among fraternities and sororities, and Bob Spencer will visit married students.

Student pledges will buy bricks. Bricks cost $15 per hundred which includes labor for construction.

INFIRMARY

Students in the infirmary Friday were:

Rose Hawk, Betsy Harris, Fred Robinson, Robert Briggs, John Wait, Franklin Schaeman, Oscar Simpson, Bjorn Hurford, Barry Bell, Charles Carson, Marshall Daniel, Lewis Hawley, Dewey Sheffield, Ralph Tower, Frank Jones, Rufus Russell, William Thomas and William Davis.

Leaves To Start Work On Advanced Degree

By Ed Riner

Samuel H. Magill will quit his job as assistant dean of student affairs, effective Sept. 1.

This announcement came from Dean of Student Affairs Fred H. Weaver Friday.

Magill has been awarded a special grant from the Danforth Foundation for graduate study in religion. He will begin his studies in Christian Ethics this fall at Duke University.

Dean Weaver said the study at Duke will allow Magill "to prepare himself for the larger contribution which he is so eminently qualified to make."

He said that Magill had filled an important position in the administration with "unassuming dignity, fairness, imagination and true consideration."

"I'm leaving with mixed emotions . . . I want to go and I want to stay," was Magill's only comment.

Magill's successor has not yet been named, but Dean Weaver will make the appointment.

Student Body President Charlie Gray said, "I am truly sorry to hear that Sam Magill will not be with us next year. While he has been at Carolina, he has earned the respect of every student on the campus."

Gray said Magill had displayed his untiring effort in working with student affairs and in offering invaluable advice to all student leaders.

"I regret that I will not be able to work with him next year, but I'm sure his decision was the one that he considers best," the president said.

A 1950 UNC graduate, Magill has been associated with the University administration since 1955, first as director of student activities and, since last May, as assistant dean of student affairs.

Magill has also been instructor in the Department of Religion from time to time.

He is a graduate of Deerfield Academy in the Class of 1946. He received the A. B. degree here in 1950 and the B. D. degree at Yale Divinity School in 1953. He was ordained a minister of the Congregational Christian Church in June 1953.

From 1953 to 1955 he was general secretary of the Davidson College YMCA.

As an undergraduate at UNC, he was president of the YMCA, a member of the St. Anthony Hall, the Order of the Golden Fleece and the Order of the Grail. In his senior year he was captain of the varsity track and cross country teams.

HENDERSON, N. C., April 24 (AP)—The president of the Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills, again going against the advice of Gov. Luther H. Hodges, said today he will start a third shift at the strike-bound mills.

John D. Cooper Jr. said the new shift will begin next Tuesday night. Jobs still vacant on the shift will be offered striking members of the Textile Workers Union of America (TWUA), Cooper said.

He said he already had employed enough non-strikers to justify the shift but added there are "quite a number" of vacancies open for union members.

The company's two plants have been the center of bitter violence for nearly six months, since the TWUA struck last Nov. 17 in dispute with management over a new contract.

Cooper reopened the plants Feb. 18 on a one-shift basis. More violence flared as hundreds of jobless (See HENDERSON, Page 3)

Law Awards Are Given

Awards for outstanding achievement were made Friday night to graduating seniors in the UNC Law School.

The awards night Friday was sponsored by the Law Students Association.

Emmanuel M. Paturis received the $300 Block Improvement Award for the most improvement of any law student the past three semesters. This award was presented by Norman Block of Greensboro.

The Lawyer's Title Award, a $100 award for the top graduate in titles, future interest and real property, went to Cecil K. Brown Jr.

The Clark awards were presented to Jimmy W. Kiser, John T. Alfred, Thomas W. Warlick, Robert W. King Jr. and Richard J. Tuggle.

Certificates for excellent work on the North Carolina Law Review went to Jimmy Kiser, editor; John T. Alfred, Robert W. King and Fred C. Meekins, associate editors; Thomas W. Warlick, business manager, and the following members of the board of editors:

Joseph N. Alala Jr., Donald L. Hardison, John Robert Engle, Clawson Lee Williams Jr., Robert Charles Soles Jr., Richard Cartwright Carmichael Jr., Luke Corbett, Joel Fleishman, Frances Hall and Jesse M. Henley Jr.

Awards from the Bancroft-Whitney and Lawyers Cooperative Publishing Company were presented to Nekkenth L. Penegar, Bailey Patrick Jr., Thomas W. Warlick, John Miraz, Joel Fleishman, James W. Kirkpatrick and Richard J. Tuggle.

Prizes for moot court arguments went to Louis W. Fisher, Dwight Cranford, James Dockery, Robert Evans, Bobby Newton, Sherwood Smith, Walton K. Joyner, John Miraz and William H. Smith.

Tanner Awards

Knight And King Honored

Samuel B. Knight

James E. King

The Tanner Awards for "excellence in classroom teaching" have been awarded this year to Prof. Samuel B. Knight of the Chemistry Department and Prof. James E. King of the History Department.

The $500 awards were made to the two men Friday afternoon in Carroll Hall by Dr. William Wells, chairman of the faculty, during a meeting of the general UNC faculty.

The selections were made on the basis of balloting by students and fellow faculty members.

Both King and Knight have been instructors in the "superior freshman" course in the University.

The two have also engaged in research activities and have published various articles relating to their fields.

Dr. Knight is coauthor of a textbook, "The Fundamentals of Physical Chemistry" and of "Dictionary of Chemistry," which will soon be published by McGraw-Hill.

Dr. King, who is an authority on Western European history, is the author of "Science and Rationalism in the Government of Louis XIV." He is currently writing a book on "The Idea of the Welfare State in European History."

The Tanner Awards were established four years ago by the children of Lola Spencer and Simpson Bobo Tanner. Any teacher of undergraduates is eligible to receive the award.

Previous winners of the award, all of whom are still members of the UNC faculty, are Prof. James Caldwell, history; the Rev. Bernard Boyd, religion; Prof. William Geer, history; Prof. David Basile, geology and geography; Prof. George V. Taylor, history, and Prof. Albert E. Radford, botany.

Jane Newsome Miss Chapel Hill

Carolina junior coed Jane Newsome is shown above being crowned the new Miss Chapel Hill by last year's winner, Miss Diana Johnson. Miss Newsome defeated six other Carolina coeds in the competition held last night.