Sound & Fury Held Over; 'Oh Hellas' Plays Tonight

Tonight is the last night of Sound and Fury's new 1959 production, "Oh Hellas!"
Curtain will rise at 8 p.m. on the final night of a three night run in Memorial Hall of the Lew Hardee and Carl Bridgers adaptation of Aristophanes comic drama, "Lysistrata."
Tickets are still available at Graham Memorial and at the door of Memorial Hall for this final night's production. The price of admission is 50 cents.

The play stars Miss Chapel Hill Jane Newsom, Al Miller, Nancy Aubrey, Billy Monell, Susie Cordon, Frank Beaver, Jane Durham, and Wally Graham.
The production is produced by Al Salley and directed by Joel Fleishman.

Conducting the orchestra is Gene Strassler, graduate music student. Set design was done by John Sneden and executed by Doug Warner, while make-up and lighting are in the charge of Barbara Lewis and Rudy Waldorff respectively.
Kate Russell and Betty Shaw were responsible for the properties in the production.

Chamber Of Commerce Host To UNC Advisor

A University of North Carolina representative, Dr. Rex S. Winslow, was a special guest of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce at the organization's 47th annual meeting this week in Washington, D. C.

Dr. Winslow, who directs adult education programs in the School of Business Administration, was invited along with officials of five other universities which conduct advanced management institutes for Chamber executives.

Another Chapel Hillian was also an honor guest at the annual national recognition awards dinner Monday night at the Sheraton-Park Hotel.
Bob Cox, residing this year in Tulsa, Okla. while national Jaycees president, attended the event which was highlighted by awards to seven prominent persons, including UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, actress Helen Hayes and Sen. Harry Byrd.

Dr. Winslow has also served as an advisor in Business Economics at the School of Business Administration here at the University of North Carolina and is still serving in that capacity.

Welcome Parents!

By NEIL MURPHY
The University's ninth annual parent's day is being held today under the sponsorship of Carolina's Rho chapter of Alpha Phi Omega. Students' parents will begin arriving this morning for a full afternoon of activities. Vice President William D. Carmichael will highlight the days' activities with an address at 4:30 p.m. under Davie Poplar.

Nearly every phase of University life will be open to the inspection of the visitors. Open house in dormitories, fraternities and sororities will begin at 2 and last until 4 p.m. Many departments will observe functions especially prepared for the parents at this time. The Chemistry Department will present laboratory demonstrations in Venable Hall. Tours of the Arboretum will be conducted by members of the Biology Department.

The Air Force ROTC will pass in review on Fetzer field at 2 p.m. Following the review will be a drill team exhibition at 2:30. At 2:45 there will be a display of flying equipment from the USAF in the AFROTC Buildings. Also at this time there will be a reception of cadet's parents in the cadet lounge.
An exhibition of arms and equipment followed by a reception will be held in the Navel Armory also.
Also in the 2 to 4 period there will be an exhibit in the Zoology Museum located in Wilson Hall. The Geology-Anthropology exhibit will be in Person Hall. The Radio-Television-Motion Pictures Department will be open for inspection in Swain Hall. The Physics Department plans a reception in Phillips Hall. In 101 Saunders, the Playmakers Museum will be open.

The Consolidated University Offices will be open for inspection in the Old Institute of Government Building.
There will be three showings of "Color in the Sky" at the Morehead Planetarium during the afternoon and evening.
Last year from one thousand to fifteen hundred persons attended parents day and saw the United Air Force Drum and Bugle Corps perform.
At 3:30 p.m. there will be a faculty reception and Glee Club Concert held on the lawn under Davie Poplar. This event will be held in Graham Memorial Student Union in the event of rain. Refreshments will be served by Alpha Phi Omega at this time.

Vice-President William D. Carmichael will give a short address at 4:30 and he will be followed by a band concert.

The Sound and Fury production, "Oh Hellas," has been held over 'till Sunday night and will open at 8 p.m.
Parent's Day is sponsored by the only fraternity at UNC devoted solely to service, Alpha Phi Omega. APO is composed of college men who have had some former affiliation with the Boy Scouts of America and desire to render service while attending college. It is the largest greek letter organization in the United States.

APO President Randel Etheridge has invited "constructive comments" on parent's day to be sent to the APO room in the basement of Smith Dorm.
Larry Hayer, a senior from Kanopolis, has been APO chairman of Parent's Day for the last two years.

NROTC Instructor Promoted

Captain Carl Tiedeman, USN, Commanding Officer of the NROTC Unit, is shown pinning shoulder boards on Lieutenant Commander H. R. Humphrey, Supply Corps, USN, signifying his promotion to that rank. LCDR Humphrey has served in the capacity of supply instructor and supply officer at the unit since May of 1956. During this period he has resided with his wife and three daughters at Powell Street, near the Chapel Hill Airport.

Three Point Program Proposed By Speaker

Freedom of speech and of the press is in danger because newspapers and other news media have not done a good job of "enlightening the public" about the role of the press in maintaining freedom, it was declared here today by Joseph Costa, chief photographer for King Features Syndicate.

Addressing the Southern Short Course in Press Photography Costa said there is a "clear and present danger to freedom of the press, and unless the public regains its respect and full confidence in and for news media, a demand for some supervision of the press will inevitable result."

Costa said, "news media cannot afford to assume they are impervious to ethical criticisms or that they are not in need of an enlightened, progressive public relations program."

The speaker pointed out that newspapers and TV and radio have been vehicles for "vastly successful public relations programs for others. "But they have failed to use these techniques for their own welfare."

Costa advocated a three part program:
1. To do some "soul-searching" regarding conduct of working members of the press, including photographers.
2. To exchange ideas and experiences with related professional people—to show what the common goal of freedom should be sought.

3. To engage in a public relations program to find out public attitudes of the public towards the press and to engage in "educational projects" to acquaint the public with objectives of freedom.
"The Newspaper is truly freedom's textbook," said Costa. As a textbook of the ever moving and changing scene, it offers a lifetime adult education at virtually no cost. It also supplements the formal education of children of all ages."

Senior Day Is Tuesday; Parties, Elections, Bar-B-Que Featured

By LEE ARBOGAST
The time is almost here! Are you ready?
The seniors are!
For Tuesday is Senior Day. And are the members of the Class of '59 ever the lucky ones.
Tomorrow night things get underway with free flicks. Andy Gutierrez, the manager of the Varsity Theatre, is offering two showings of "Green Mansions" for seniors. But don't forget to take ID cards. Coeds may stay out 'til 12!
Senior day, May 5. That's going to be the day to end all days.
Look out Chapel Hill!

A senior class meeting will begin here day at 10 a.m. in Memorial Hall. All sorts of juicy tidbits will come forth at this meeting, including the issuing of tickets, which might be the winning ones Tuesday afternoon.

The election of the permanent class officers and Mr. Alumni and Miss Alumna will also be made at this meeting.
Around 3:30 p.m. things will move out to The Patio. And will activities ever be going on out there!
To start there will be all sorts of games, including badminton, horse-shoes, beer-baseball, a golf chip-contest (with prizes for the winners), and a cassino-run. Throughout the afternoon there will be drawings for various prizes donated by merchant, including Dave's College Shop in Durham, and Town & Campus.
Around five, the talent show, a Bar-B-Que supper from Watt's Restaurant will be served.
Tuesday night, Nick Kerns will entertain from eight 'til twelve. Patio prices will also be reduced - five cents per can!
Don't give up the ship - there is still more to come!
Wednesday begins the Alumni drive.
And the crowning blow comes Thursday. Hogan's Lake has been reserved for the Class of '59. Even though formal activities don't begin until eight that night, the lake will be open all afternoon to seniors for cook-outs, picnics, and what-all. Willy Hargraves will head the BYO Senior Party Thursday night, playing from 8 'til 11. Coeds, as a final celebration, have until 12 to persuade their dates to take them in.
So get ready you seniors. You've a great treat in store for you.

Reception In Grimes Dorm

A reception for parents here today for Parent's Day is being held in Grimes Dormitory between 2 and 3 p.m.

Two coeds will serve refreshments to visitors.
Students living in dorms where no reception has been planned have been especially invited to bring their parents to the Grimes Dorm reception.

UNC Is Participating In Army Space Program

The University is participating in the U. S. Army's long-range missile and space programs, it was disclosed today by Brig. Gen. J. A. Burtley, commander, Army Ballistic Missile Agency.

The University is investigating causes of brittleness in ceramics at a cost of $30,000.
The Philadelphia Ordnance District administers the contract for the Missile Agency. Dr. Werner von Braun directs the Agency's development programs.

Application Deadline For Council Extended

Erwin Fuller, student council chairman, announced Saturday that the deadline for applicants for the co-ed vacancy on the Council had been extended through Friday, May 7.

The coed would sit on the Council in cases involving the constitutionality of executive and/or legislative action. Three co-eds sit on constitutionality cases — one appointed by the president of the student body, one appointed by the WRC chairman, and one selected by the chairman of the Student Council.

Fuller stated that application forms would be available in the student government offices throughout the coming week. Interviews will be held with individual applicants during the week of May 11-15. Applicants will be notified of the time and place of their interview.

The chairman expressed disappointment that so few women had applied for the position this week. However, he noted that few people were aware of the vacancy.

Katie Steward, Toy Johnson, and Mary Todd Baker have served as female Council members this year.

Two Students Convicted

Two Carolina students and a Marine private have been convicted and given 18 month sentences after being charged with check forgery last month.

Joseph Friedberg, a senior from Great Neck, N. Y., and Frederick G. Rennecker, a sophomore from Port Alleganey, Pa., were arrested early in April along with Pvt. John A. Fox of Camp Lejeune and New York City.

They had been released on $300 bail. Rennecker had admitted writing two checks which bore the name of UNC football player, Ed Furjanic.

Tuesday Evening Series To Close With Symphony

The 1958-59 Tuesday Evening Series will end on May 12.

On that date, the UNC Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Prof. Earl Slocum will give a concert at 8 p.m.

Featured on the program will be Mozart's Piano Concerto in C Major with Lillian P. Pruett as guest soloist, and Howard Hanson's Symphony No. 2.

Senior Class To Elect Five Officers

The senior class Nominations Committee is currently working on a list of 12 boys and three girls as the nominees for permanent officers of the senior class to be elected Tuesday.

John Owens, chairman of the committee, said the criteria on which the nominations are based are capacity for class leadership, recognition of this capacity, best representative of the class and ability to maintain the tradition of the class.

On Senior Day Tuesday seniors will elect these officers: president, first vice president, second vice president secretary and treasurer.

The Class of 1959's Mr. and Miss Alumni will also be selected Tuesday. This honor, a senior class tradition, is based on quality of achievement by the boy and girl.
Elections will be held by secret ballot Tuesday at 10 a.m. in Memorial Hall. The results of the balloting will be revealed at 3 p.m. the same day.

Rising senior class officers will serve as poll tenders, poll ushers and vote counters.

Return Questionnaires!

In the survey of leisure interests and leisure pursuits, Elsie Prevatte, graduate student conducting the survey, said that more than one-third of the questionnaires have not been returned.

Each student who received a questionnaire represents 10 percent of the undergraduate student body; therefore, it is important that the forms be filled out and returned, Miss Prevatte said.
