

Summer School Half A Century Ago

HERE IS A GATHERING at the Old Well in Chapel Hill about 50 years ago. The University has the oldest summer school in the nation.

350 Politicians Form Boys' State

Some 350 selected high school students attending the 19th annual Boys' State here are having a busy week.

Not only are they hearing lectures and participating in discussions, but they are forming their own cities, counties and state and will elect a governor, lieutenant governor and General Assembly.

The program provides the youths a chance to study government at various levels and to learn the responsibilities of citizenship.

The Institute of Government is conducting the program for the N. C. Department of the American Legion. Roddey Ligon and Roy Hall, assistant directors in the Institute, are co-directors for Boys' State.

The lectures and discussions by public officials, University faculty members and leading Legionnaires take place at the Institute (Joseph Palmer Knapp Building).

In addition to the lectures, discussions and elections, the boys' schedule includes plenty of time for recreation and athletics.

Highlight of the week's activities will be the dinner Saturday when the delegates will receive certificates for their participation in Boys' State.

Winning Pair Drives Buses To $500 Pot

A boy from Clayton and a Miss from East Bend walked off with first place honors here Saturday in the fourth annual school bus Rodeo.

Sherrill Maynard Capps and Martha Ann Love both won $500 scholarships as they won out over 58 other contestants, who were winners in State Highway Patrol Districts.

Second place winners who won $200 scholarships were James Wesley Carpenter, Southern High School, Durham and Charlotte May Williams, West Edgecombe High School, Rocky Mount.

The Rodeo was sponsored by the Governor's Traffic Safety Council.
