Beat Dook Court Selected; Announcement Set Tuesday

The traditional Beat Dook Court sponsored by Pi Kappa Alpha was selected Friday night at a private judging from 22 contestants representing dorms, sororities and fraternities.

The queen and her four attendants will be announced in Tuesday's paper.

Dr. Hugh T. LaFler, Dr. Samuel B. Knight, Mrs. Fred Weaver and Charlie Bernard judged the event.

Mary Willie, not Margaret Thompson as previously announced, represented Kappa Delta. Mary Margaret Durham, sponsored by Delta Delta Delta, joined the list of candidates.

Other candidates and their sponsors were Cathy Dukues-nay, Carr; Jane Tull, Spencer; Rhonda Thompson, Cobb; Judy Albergotti, Lewis; Nancy Aubrey, Aycock; Carol Cunningham, Pi Kappa Phi; Carol Carruthers, Pi Beta Phi; Joyce Farris, Alpha Gamma Delta; Susan Woodall, Theta Chi; Molly Short, McIver; Eleanor Smith, Phi Gamma Delta; Carolyn Kelley, Phi Delta Theta; Ann Towers, Kappa Alpha; Izzy Collier, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Kay Kirkpatrick, Chi Omega; Ada Ellen Hoell Parker; Carolyn Mitchell, Ruffin; Gathy Fulenwider, Delta Kappa Epsilon; Becky Roberson, Kappa Sigma and Velta Spunde, Alpha Delta Pi.

The Beat Dook Parade will begin Tuesday, 2 p.m. Each float will be identified by a sign; the queen's float will be supplied by the PiKAs.

Midterm Reports Out

Midterm progress reports for freshmen and sophomores have been sent to parents and students, Dean Cecil Johnson of the General College announced Friday.

These reports are tentative indications of the student's standing and are not a part of the student's official record, the dean pointed out. Reports are sent out on all freshmen and on those sophomores whose standing is less than satisfactory.

Dean Johnson also urged students to meet with their faculty advisors during the next few weeks for a discussion of their work and programs for second semester, registration for which will begin on December 10.

"There has been some suggestion that opportunity for discussion with advisers is inadequate during registration period. The next few days offer opportunity for a leisurely consideration of problems and programs," he concluded.

3 Dorms O.K. For Visit

Three men's dorms have been approved for coed visiting. The Dean of Women's office and the Coed Visiting Agreement Committee of the Interdormitory Council have okayed Manly, Aycock and Teague dorms to admit coeds to the lounges.

Lounge hours for all three dorms will be Friday, 7-12 p.m.; Saturday, 2-12 p.m., and Sunday, 2-11 p.m., according to Pat Morgan, committee chairman.

Grimes Times Appears

The Grimes Times, "the dorm newspaper" with the Southern viewpoint," has made its appearance on campus. Edited by Bill Williams, the first two issues of the paper contained dorm news and sports reports, as well as several satires and the usual jokes.

Others on the staff are Mike Childs, associate editor; Gene Dellinger, art editor; and reporters Howard Hood, Dicky Woodward and Terry Maulsby.

"THE BOMB, Johnny, it works," says Pedro Mendosa (Bill File) to John Moran (Allen Thisis Hayward) in the Carolina Playmakers' production of a comedy "A Little to the Left." It is being presented in the Playmakers' Theatre tonight and Sunday night, 8:30.

Traffic, Safety Group Presented 'Temporary' Fire Hazard Solution

A measure to relieve temporarily the fire hazard created by congested parking in Big Fraternity Court was presented to the University Traffic and Safety Committee Friday.

The measure calls for the five fraternities involved to draw up a proposal and present it to the committee for approval.

If the committee approves the proposal, twenty special parking permits will be issued to Big Fraternity Court allowing them to park in the lot adjacent to Ackland Art Center, according to Bob Covington chairman of the committee. There will be a clause in the agreement providing for the student traffic committee to enforce a no parking zone in the two middle lanes of the court. He said that violating cars will be towed away.

In the past, cars have blocked the center lane and have hampered firemen in getting fire fighting apparatus to the houses. A letter from the fire department was presented asking that immediate action be taken to relieve the congestion.

"This is a temporary measure only; it is up to the fraternities involved to continue their efforts for a permanent solution to their problem," Covington said. The fraternities are still trying to lease land from the Chapel Hill School Board for this purpose.

At present there are sixty spaces in the Ackland Lot. A survey by the committee shows that about thirty five cars use this lot each day, but this number nearly fills the lot since the spaces are not marked.

Two requests for staff parking permits were turned down and one parking ticket voided in the committee's other business.

INFIRMARY

Women's Hnr. Council Runoff May Be Slated

The possibility of a second election to determine the third seat on the Women's Honor Council is the only significant result of the election ballot recount, Elections Board Chairman Jey Deifell announced Friday night.

In the Women's Honor Council race Jackie Suher and Joan Jordan are tied at 133 votes each; Mary Stewart Baker, 132, Beverly Foard, 131.

The Elections Board will have to rule on whether or not a second election will be conducted. If an election is decided upon, it will be at the same time as the legislative referendum.

No decisions were reversed in the four contested class offices. Reger Smith (UP) won the freshman class presidency over Robin Britt (UP), 469-439. Ann Cummings (SP) was elected freshman class secretary over Judy Reynolds (UP), 467-436.

Bill Shipp (UP) was elected sophomore class treasurer, defeating Pete Thompson (SP), 315-275. Kathy Fulenwider (UP) won the sophomore class social chairmanship, 320-289, over Sue Dent (SP).

Reviewing the elections as a whole, the UP captured the entire junior class slate, led by Russ Holders as president, and the entire sophomore slate, led by George Campbell. The SP captured two freshman class offices: Ann Cummings, secretary, and Carolyn Mitchell, social chairman.

R. V. Fulk, Clem Ford and Warner Bass were named to the Men's Honor Council, and Prissy Wyrick and Graham Walker were elected to two of the Women's Honor Council positions.

Health Division Adds 5 New Faculty Members

Chancellor William B. Aycock has announced the appointment of five faculty members in the Division of Health Affairs.

The appointments were made with the approval of President William C. Friday and the Board of Trustees.

Four of the appointments were in the School of Medicine and one was in the School of Public Health. The other three units making up the Division of Health Affairs are the Schools of Dentistry, Nursing and Pharmacy.

YDC Releases Resolution On ECC President

A resolution concerning the appointment of a president to East Carolina College was passed at a recent meeting of the Young Democratic Club.

Debate on the issue centered around the fact that ECC is a state school supported by taxes paid by all state residents; however, the ECC Board of Trustees is composed of Eastern N. C. residents.

In passing the resolution, the Young Democrats felt that in appointing a president the Board of Trustees should not limit their candidates solely to residents of the eastern part of the state.

The resolution calls for "all citizens of North Carolina . . . to give careful and personal consideration to the important decision which is to be made by the Board of Trustees . . . and to make known their ideas and suggestions such as may be of value to the Board in the selection of a new president."

Bill Provides Students' Vote On 5 Questions

Constitutional amendments on trial by jury, campus wide jury selection, active defense councils, the summoning of defense witnesses and the districting of the councils will be voted on by the student body at an as yet unspecified date.

A bill was passed (26-9) Thursday night, by the Student Legislature directing the Election Board to have a special election on these questions.

In order to become a law, the bill must be signed by Student Body President Charlie Gray.

The bill was a combination of two bills, one introduced by Bill Norton (SP) and one by Bob Nobles (SP). Both bills were considered by the Rules Committee; since their purposes were similar, they were combined.

The first amendment would provide the right of a defendant, if he so desires, to a trial by jury selected at random. It would also provide for a reasonable number of jury dismissals.

The second amendment would grant the right to an active council for defense.

The third would grant the defendant the right to summons witnesses and obtain evidence in his own behalf.

The fourth would call for geographic apportionment of the councils which have the power to suspend a student.

Each paragraph will be voted on as a separate amendment. The ballot will also specify the Men's Honor Council, Women's Honor Council, the Student Council and the Women's Residence Council as those bodies which fit the amendment's definition.

The passage of this order to the Elections Board conformed to all of the requirements of the Student Legislature and to those points which were objected to by the Student Council.

500 View Production Of Carolina Follies

The 1959 edition of the YMCA sponsored Carolina Follies was presented before an audience of approximately 500 persons in Memorial Hall Thursday night.

Produced by Susie Gordon and Ed Crowe, the performance featured an array of student talent, including the Carolina Gentlemen, Owen Bishop, Nick Kearns Combs, the Embers, Henry McGinnis, Fred Blackwell, John Clifford, Scott Makepeace, Jerry Farber, Drew Grice, Blake Green, Frank Beaver, Dan Brock, Susan McCotter, Susan Woodhall and the Men's Glee Club.

Norman Cordon, former Metropolitan Opera singer, served as master of ceremonies.

Stage manager was Mary Lee Wetzel. Rudy Waldorf was in charge of lighting; Frank Bauer, sound, and Diana Harmon, set decoration. Jack Mitchell served as business manager.

Fellowship Provides 'Trial Year' In Studying Ministry

Men who have not decided to enter the ministry but who might be interested in investigating the possibility of this profession are eligible to apply for a Rockefeller Brothers Theological Fellowship.

Approximately 60 fellowships are awarded each year to graduate men (30 years old or under and citizens of the United States or Canada) of accredited American or Canadian colleges and universities.

This one year award is for a "trial year" at any protestant seminary which is a fully accredited member of the American Association of Theological Schools. There is no obligation to continue after the trial year. If, however, the fellow decides to continue in the seminary, he will be able to work out necessary financing with the seminary.

The award covers expenses of room, board, tuition, fees, books and minimal spending allowance. Married Fellows with children are granted a total of $3200. Further information concerning the scholarship may be obtained from Dr. Arnold S. Nash, religion professor and local chairman of the program, or James Carse of the YMCA. Nomination for competition must be made by Dec. 1. Awards are announced in early March.

G. M. SLATE

Only the free juke box dance is scheduled today in Graham Memorial.

The dance will be in the Rendezvous Room, 8-12 p.m.

6th Radio, TV Grant Offered To Jr. Women

The sixth annual competitive Scholarship Award, sponsored by American Women in Radio and Television, Inc., is available to junior women, who show unusual promise in the radio and television fields.

The $1,000 grant must be used for academic study in radio or television, or both, or for necessary expenses incurred in on-the-job training.

Applications may be obtained from the American Women in Radio and Television, Inc., 75 East 53rd Street, New York 22, N. Y.

Med School Symposium Next Week

The School of Medicine will have its annual medical symposium Tuesday and Wednesday.

The two day symposium will consist of lectures and discussions with two visiting participants and 15 faculty members of the School of Medicine participating.

The two visiting participants will be Dr. Max Miller of the Western Reserve School of Medicine and Dr. Frank Engel of the Duke School of Medicine.

Those of the School of Medicine who will take part in the symposium are Drs. C. A. Bream, C. H. Burnett, W. C. Cromartie, A. Downie, C. C. Fordham III, Walter Hollander Jr., M. Newton, Leonard Palumbo, I. M. Taylor, J. J. Van Wyck, Warner Wells, L. G. Welt, T. F. Williams and J. W. Woods.

Wives of the physicians attending the meeting are invited to a coffee hour, Tuesday, 11 a.m., and to a social hour and dinner at 6 p.m. on Wednesday.

Doctors who are planning to attend this symposium are urged to make hotel reservations at once as the annual Carolina-Duke football game will be played on Thanksgiving Day. This will create crowded hotel conditions in this area.

Cobb Reports 2 Blazes In Past 8 Days

Cobb dorm has had two fires in the last eight days in the upstairs social room, according to reports.

Two different couches caught fire in the same social room in Cobb on Nov. 12 and 18. Damage to each imitation leather couch was estimated at $50.

Speaking of the coincidence of two fires in the same room, Swag Grimsley, dorm president, said, "It could be carelessness, or it may be a malicious act."

Grimsley said proper authorities have been notified.

CWC Gets Cooperation Among Dorms

By BARBARA DEANS

Carolina Women's Council was organized in the spring of 1958 in response to the need for cooperation and coordination in and among women's dorms.

Among the areas CWC works through are academic, political, social and athletic activities on campus. The council is composed of a junior and senior representative elected by each dorm and the town women and members of each dorm committee.

Academic achievement is rewarded by a scholarship cup given annually to the dorm with the highest average. Last year's winner was McIver. Each dorm has a CWC representative in charge of the dorm's files.

CWC supports all campus elections and encourages qualified candidates to run.

Promoting school spirit is one of CWC's main objectives. This includes endorsing dorm displays for Homecoming, dorm floats for the "Beat Dook" parade and this year's "Traditional UNC Songs" project with the cheerleaders.

Each year CWC sponsors an award and reception honoring the Outstanding Dorm girl of the year who is chosen on the basis of leadership, scholarship and character.

CWC works with the Interdormitory Council in many social activities such as a spring dance and serving as hostesses for IDC's Sweetheart Dance.

The dorm breakfast for new girls during Orientation Week is sponsored by CWC.

Last year, in stimulating participation in civic affairs, CWC encouraged girls to donate blood for open heart surgery at Chapel Hill Memorial Hospital and promoted the Empty Stocking fund in the dorms.

Activities charts listing information on various women's organizations on campus have been compiled by CWC. These charts list each organization's membership requirements, meetings and chairman. These may be picked up at the information desk in Graham Memorial.

Monday, CWC began its Guide Service which conducts tours for campus visitors. Members of the Council serve as guides.

Officers of CWC are Beverly Dickens, president; Molly Short, vice president; Prissy Wyrick, corresponding secretary; Beverly Andrews, treasurer; Mrs. William B. Aycock, sponsor; and Miss Carolyn Johnson, advisor.
