$2,318.18 was appropriated by the Student Legislature to the Daily Tar Heel last night. The action was taken to enable the newspaper to meet rising costs and increased circulation needs. This appropriation will cover the publication period ending in May. Action to increase its budget was begun by the paper's business manager, Walker Blanton, in December when it became apparent that the $203,194.42 appropriation made last spring wouldn't carry the load through the end of the year.

An amendment to cut circulation and cut the appropriation by some $800.00 was defeated when it was pointed out that each student is told that a part of his fee is for his Daily Tar Heel subscription.

In other action, the legislature passed a revision of the Jury selection bill. This bill was the first measure considered by the new Judicial Committee. The committee changed the title from "trial by jury" to "Selection of Jurors" and left all trial procedures out of the measure. It now provides only for the process of jury selection.

Under its provisions a venire of 50 students, selected at random from the students under the jurisdiction of the council holding the trial, is called. Of these fifty ten are chosen, nine of whom serve as jurors. The tenth is an alternate.

The bill to appropriate forty dollars to the Victory Village Board of Aldermen was considered by the body, and after brief discussion by its co-author, Troy Blanton (SP), was passed.

Because of an increasing work load, the campus affairs board appealed, through its legislator, Rep. Bob Servier (UF), to have its membership increased from eleven to sixteen members. Servier pointed out that even during the time that the bill was being considered, two new areas of study had been assigned to the board. The measure passed with a dissenting vote.

The legislature passed several appointments made by President Charlie Gray. These included the membership of the Carolina delegation to the State Student Legislature, the appointment of Gordon Street as Treasurer of the Student Body, and the seating of four new legislators.

World Needs Tolerance Dr. Frank Graham Says

Editor's Note: This is the second of two articles pertaining to the background of Dr. Frank P. Graham who will deliver the opening address of the United Nations Model Assembly. His topic will be "The United Nations in the Atomic Age."

In his many speeches to the citizens of North Carolina through the years, Dr. Frank P. Graham has attempted to make one essential point. In this world there is an impelling need for tolerance, and reason is the remedy for fear and prejudice, which prevent tolerance.

Emphasizing the importance of the youth's realization of this principle, Dr. Graham addressed a mid-western college graduating class of 1957. "The future of the United States largely belongs to the youth of the world."

He said two alternatives face the world—a cooperative state or a totalitarian police state. In another speech, Dr. Graham showed the importance of the United Nations in achieving the ideal of a cooperative state. "As the world leans on the UN, the UN leans on the people of the world," he said. At the UN Symposium in 1957, Dr. Graham again expressed his convictions about the UN. He declared that the UN carried the responsibility to hold the world together without a third world war. Among the propositions toward which the UN should work, he listed "progressive universal enforceable disarmament," movement toward self-determination of colonial and subject peoples, and a long range cooperative program of economic development. He also suggested that the veto power should be restricted and that more use of the UN and its agencies be made.

In the realm of education, Dr. Graham has stated that the public school system must not be destroyed by the issue of integration. He has emphasized the fact that the Supreme Court is the law of the land, and thus, its decisions must be respected and executed.

Missing Daily Tar Heel Truck Found After 22-Hour Search; Warning Given On Illegal Use

A 22-hour search for the Daily Tar Heel truck ended late Thursday morning, when a Chapel Hill Police Department patrol car located the missing vehicle behind Cobb Dormitory.

The first indication the truck was missing came when Co-Managing Editor Jonathan Yardley attempted to make a copy run to the News, Inc., in Carrboro early Wednesday afternoon and discovered the truck was not in its usual parking place — the Graham Memorial parking lot.

At 9:42 o'clock Wednesday night, Daily Tar Heel employee Bill Porter called the paper's office to ask about the truck. Porter had been forced to take a cab to the News, Inc., where he works as the paper's night editor.

Daily Tar Heel Editor Davis B. Young talked with Porter about the mystery. The two decided to "sit tight". At 11:45 o'clock, Wednesday night, Young notified the Chapel Hill Police of the truck's disappearance. This was done after checking with Business Manager Walker Blanton, Associate Editor Frank Crowther and Assistant Editor Ron Shumate, none of whom had seen the truck.

Thursday morning, Young contacted the Purchasing Dept. of the University and got a complete description of the truck and its license number. Had the truck not been located by noon Thursday, a statewide alarm would have been sent.

Young said, "any unauthorized person found driving it after that time might well have been prosecuted for theft of the vehicle. The cooperation of the Chapel Hill Police was outstanding. They made every effort to aid us in the search. In the future, any person apprehended after having used the truck without permission, will be prosecuted by the law," Young concluded.

Jack Mitchell Named To Head '60-61 Orientation Planning

Jack Mitchell has been appointed Orientation Chairman for 1960-61. The announcement came Thursday from Charlie Gray, President of the Student Body. As chairman, Mitchell will oversee the planning of the entire orientation week program next September. He has previously worked on the freshman camp staff and the orientation committee, and has been an orientation counselor.

President Gray called the decision one of the hardest he has ever had to make. "I bypassed two other very capable people," he said, "and in the final analysis my decision was based on a minimum of differences that included more time to devote to the position."

The three under consideration included Angus Duff and R. V. Falk. Gray called them all top-notch workers, and said that he hopes they will all be active in student government next year.

Among other activities, Mitchell

Phil Edwards, Angus Duff Enter Race For Student Body President

Edwards Says Active Participation Needed

By SUSAN LEWIS

Stressing his status as an Independent, Phil Edwards announced his candidacy for Student Government President.

Setting as his platform a wider and more active participation in student government, Edwards said "The principles of the two parties are unacceptable to me and . . . to many other students."

Professional Fraternities Pledge Twenty

Professional business and commerce fraternities pledged 20 men to complete a three day period of formal spring rush which ended Feb. 10.

Men pledging Alpha Lambda of Delta Sigma Pi are: Lee Alexander, Larry Benfield, Dick Benzo, John Corbett, Bill Doolittle, Rodney Hobbs, Larry Johnson, Walker Martin, Bob Oldham and Frank Zachery.

Those pledging Alpha Tau of Alpha Kappa Psi are: Dick Bishop, T. Brown, Bill Clark, Clyde Cobb, Parks Garrison, Harry Grasser, Steve Puckett, Ron Randall, Herb Smith and Liendo Whitaker.

Pledging ceremonies for both groups were Friday at the respective houses. Meanwhile, professional pharmacy fraternity rush will be completed and pledges will be made Wednesday night for Kappa Psi and Phi Delta Chi.

Edwards, a senior from Siler City returning next year as a special student because of a change of major, stated that time spent in the Student Legislature and Interdormitory Council has convinced him that most students get far less than they expect from student government.

"Student government fails to fulfill the expectations and impressions we receive as freshmen," Edwards said. "For this reason, the apathy and indifference often displayed is understandable."

He stressed that he did not expect every person to be a full-time participant in student government or to have a constant interest in student politics.

"I do believe, however, that every person should receive from student government his fair share of the benefits it has to offer," he stated.

Edwards is a member of Student Legislature, Special Judiciary Committee, Ways and Means Committee, IDC Court and IDC Honor Society. He is treasurer of IDC.

Duff Seeks Revamping Of UNC Honor System

By HENRY MAYER

Angus Duff, currently serving as president of the Graham Memorial Activities Board, Thursday, announced his candidacy for 1960-61 student body president.

In tossing his hat into the ring, Duff said that he had reached his decision "after talking extensively with various student government leaders, certain individuals, and personal friends, as well as after a great deal of thought and meditation."

Duff will seek the position as an independent candidate because of "extreme interest in developing a truly campus-wide representative student government which will serve the entire student body, and not a small reserved area only."

"The total revamping of the Honor System practices," will be Duff's main goal in the campaign, "because students are now not receiving even the minimum considerations under the present set-up."

Although Duff plans to elaborate on specific reasons and his platform at a later date, both in public meetings and the Daily Tar Heel, he has stated that his primary plans include "the striving for the final obtaining of a new student union building, which I have already worked diligently to push this year as GMAB president."

Duff listed as another major point "the procurement of the 14,500 seat coliseum which, I, as Athletic Association president along with the Athletic Council, have spent many hours in conference and discussion with interested persons about approaching the State Legislature for appropriations for this structure."

"The financial situation of Student Government at present is wholly unsatisfactory," Duff declared, "and with persistent efforts on my part and on the part of the incoming new student government officials, an attempt will be made to alleviate the present difficulties."

Duff concluded his announcement by stating that a closer relationship among students, administration and faculty must eventually ensue, or our entire half-century of student government might fail, and the occurrence of an administratively-ruled student body would result. This I hope fully propose to prevent."

In addition to serving as GMAB president and CAA president, Duff, who is a junior from Greenville, was acting student body president during the summer of 1959. He is also chairman of the University Dance Committee and President of the Region IV Association of College Unions (all the colleges of eight Southern states, Puerto Rico, and Cuba. Duff has also served as president of Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity, chairman of the Student Productions Board, clerk of the Men's Honor Council and treasurer of Orientation.
