

WEATHER

Sunny and continued cold. High temperatures in 30's.

The Daily Tar Heel

67 years of dedicated service to a better University, a better state and a better nation by one of America's great college papers whose motto states, "freedom of expression is the backbone of an academic community."

VOLUME LXVIII, NO. 112

Complete Wire Service

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, SATURDAY, MARCH 5, 1960

Offices in Graham Memorial

FOUR PAGES THIS ISSUE

Legislature Appropriates; Sends Courts Bill Back

By EDESEL ODOM

Thursday night's meeting of the legislature, while it saw fit to appropriate $1,200 to the Senior Class of 1960, $25 for academic certificates and $42 for publicity for the Last Lecture Series, referred the obviously most important bill back to committee.

Although this bill to establish standard procedures in all courts under the authority of the Student Government of UNC is slated to come up as the first order of business next week, the fact remains that consideration last night would not have been premature.

Student Government President Charlie Gray attacked the present judicial system in which there have been numerous inconsistent decisions recently. The bill which the legislators did not consider was designed to alleviate such gross mis-management of our judicial system.

Last week the legislators argued to the point of almost rolling up shirt sleeves about what would seem to most observers as a trivial point. That point was whether or not Men's Judicial District IV should be represented by four or five members on the Men's Council. For those who do not know what makes up that district, it includes all the fraternities and nearly all apartment dwellers. They amended the original provision to five instead of four. When a call for reconsideration was made, it became evident that such an amendment would not be too popular.

Thursday night the amendment was reconsidered and defeated, returning to the original provision of four.

Rep. Crowover offered the most constructive amendment made to date. His amendment to elect members of the Women's Council, Men's Council, and Student Council each year in the fall and spring elections with no fewer than two-fifths of the members on any council elected in one of the two elections and the remaining three-fifths or fewer members elected in the other of the two elections will go a long way in standardizing procedures for the courts although in a separate bill.

This amendment to the bill to geographically apportion the campus judiciary will allow a staggering of members of the councils so that a completely new council will not sit after each election. It is hoped that those members who are carried over from one election to the next will be able to guide and teach new members the correct procedures.

Crowover's amendment and the bill in its entirety was passed.

When the legislature meets again next week, it is hoped that they will not render impotent the bill to establish standard procedures in the courts by incessant amending. The bill as it is now is an excellent piece of legislation, and without a doubt will greatly clarify procedures. With such clarification of procedures, most of the inconsistencies and injustices that have been noted recently will consequently disappear.

GMAB Presents Shakespeare's 'Comedy'

The Graham Memorial Activities Board will present the Players Incorporated in Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors" Wednesday, March 16, at 8 p.m. in Memorial Hall.

One of Shakespeare's rarely produced works, "The Comedy of Errors" contains a comically confused assortment of clowns and lovers, mistaken identities and countless mix-ups.

A measure sponsored by Rep. Bob Nobles (SP) to designate November 3 of each year as "John Motley Morehead Day" was left high and dry by a walkout.

Nobles introduced the measure, asked for immediate consideration and gave his reasons for passing the bill right away. There was opposition to hasty action on the bill, but Rep. Don Dotson was the only member who felt strongly enough to speak out at length.

When Rep. Troy Blanton saw that the walkout had been effective he called for a quorum and the session was adjourned before any vote could be taken. The measure will be considered again next week.

Davis To Talk On University Drama Program

Prof. Harry E. Davis, the director of the Carolina Playmakers, will speak on "The University Theatre," Monday night at 8 p.m. in Carroll Hall.

Open to the public, these lectures have been presented by the University's Humanity Division since 1944.

Prof. Davis is chairman of the Department of Dramatic Art and has directed the Cherokee outdoor historical drama, "Unto These Hills," since 1950. Earlier he worked with "The Lost Colony" production at Manteo.

Long associated with the theatre as director, producer and drama educator, Davis serves on the board of directors of the American Educational Theatre Assn. He is a member of the AETA committee on auditions, and is executive vice president of the Southeastern Theatre Conference.

Symposium Group Head

NORTON TENNILLE

Tennille Heads Technical Work Of Symposium

By MARY STEWART BAKER

Technical work in this spring's Carolina Symposium is currently being organized by Norton Tennille, chairman of the Physical Arrangements Committee. Hailing from Winston-Salem, Tennille is a sophomore Latin major.

He and his committee of 15 are not only making arrangements for stage and p.a. systems, but they are also preparing for all radio and television coverage of the Symposium on a state, regional and national level.

Tennille reports that coverage has already been secured with the following stations: WUNC FM radio in Durham and Raleigh, WRAL FM radio in Raleigh and WNCN in Durham.

He accredits the progress so far to the aid of Jack Mayo, a major in Radio and Television, and John Young, Young is the faculty advisor of the committee with whom Tennille and his group have been working quite closely.

A National Merit Scholar and a Morehead Scholar, Tennille also holds the Latin Prize, a scholarship in the Classics Department. He is vice president of the Wesley Foundation, president of Phi Eta Sigma and president of Beta Theta Pi, social fraternity.

Ed Riner, candidate for The Daily Tar Heel editorship, yesterday cited the lack of reporters as the basic problem of sports coverage in the student newspaper.

Orientation Head Mitchell Names Staff To Committee

R. V. Fulk was named Assistant to Orientation Chairman Jack Mitchell yesterday. Mitchell and Barbara Faulkner, Women's Coordinator, also announced nineteen appointees to the Orientation Committee.

Betty Anne Whitehurst was named secretary of the committee, and Rhodes Corbett will serve as treasurer. Tina Baensch will be Foreign Students Coordinator.

Committee members include Joan Jordan, Mary Stewart Baker, Tootsie Shepard, Betty Hobson, Graham Walker, Mariel O'Dell, Barbara Getchell, Anne Way, Bob Bilbro, J. R. Brown, Fred Lavary, John Renger, Fat Browder, Al Polard, Davis Young, Eddie Pleasants, Bob Gibson, John Frye and Wade Hargrove.

Mitchell said, "It was extremely difficult for the selections committee to make its final decision. I would like to congratulate those who were selected to serve on the committee. It will be a real pleasure to work with these well-qualified people, their help and influence."

Mitchell further stated that he hoped those people not selected for the committee would serve as orientation counsellors. They also contribute actively to next fall's Orientation Program.

The first meeting of the newly-appointed committee will be Monday afternoon at 4:30 p.m. in Roland Parker III.

UP Endorsements Still Open For Legislature

University Party Chairman Don Black announced there are still 12 openings for UP legislative endorsement.

Districts and seats available are the following: Town Men IV (5), Dorm Women I (1), Dorm Women II (2), Dorm Men II (1), Dorm Men III (1), Dorm Men IV (2) and Dorm Men VI (1).

Anyone interested in seeking these seats should call or see Don Black in the UP Office, second floor Graham Memorial or at the Sig Ep house (8-9114).

Carol Tieslau, not Linda Gholson as announced yesterday, received UP endorsement for Town Women's district.

158 General College Pupils Achieve Honor Roll Status

Editorial Cartoonist To Address Press Club

William W. Sanders, the Herblock of the Greensboro Daily News, will speak to the Press Club Monday, 7:30 p.m.

Sanders, whose editorial cartoons appear daily except Saturday, joined the Greensboro paper January, 1959.

His work has been republished in The New York Times, Time Magazine, The Louisville Courier-Journal, The Washington Star, The Washington Post, The Denver Post, The Democratic Digest, The Miami Herald, The Atlanta Journal, The Nashville Tennessean, Newsday, The San Francisco News, Nation's Schools and Broadcasting Magazine.

Dean N. N. Luxon will give a short explanatory talk on plans for dedicatory ceremonies of Howell Hall (new School of Journalism building) next fall.

Press Club President Neil Murphy stated that "If the Press Club is to continue its function in the School of Journalism, students must avail themselves of the opportunity to attend."

"Many students," he continued, "especially coeds and pre-journalism students, have shown an insufficiency of interest in this facet of their education."

Interviews for Y Cabinet and Executive Offices will be held Monday through Wednesday from 2-4 p.m. Interested persons may sign up in the Y office.

The Bi-Partisan Selections Board will interview candidates for Women's Honor Council positions Monday afternoon from 2-5 p.m. in the Council Room on the 2nd floor GM.

Riner Cites Small Staff For Sports Page Ills

Ed Riner, candidate for The Daily Tar Heel editorship, yesterday cited the lack of reporters as the basic problem of sports coverage in the student newspaper.

"After conferring with this year's and last year's sports editors, I realize that most of the complaints of the sports page could be answered with an adequate sports staff." As editor I would work with the sports editor and through personal contacts to get more students interested in working in this vital department of the DTH," he said.

The present sports department is composed of a paid editor, his unpaid assistant and one or two reporters. Intramurals are reported by a paid member of the Intramural Department, which accounts for the wide coverage of this year, in comparison to last year's almost complete absence of mural news.

"Because the assistant sports editor has a big job in subbing for the editor and in gathering the news, I would make this a paid staff position," Riner said. "This would be one step closer to organizing a big sports staff."

With an adequate staff the sports department could continue its coverage of varsity sports and begin to cover the minor sports and write features on athletes, coaches and other phases of the athletic program at Carolina, the candidate said.

"The coverage of intramurals, which are an important part of University life, would be expanded by the staff in addition to the Intramural Department's own coverage," Riner noted.

Riner listed three other improvements he would make in the sports department: 1. Travel expenses for reporters and photographers covering out-of-town games; 2. More news of women's sports; 3. Use of some sports stories, especially badly needed features, on page three in addition to the regular use of page four and occasional use of page one.

Riner explained his latter point by saying space limitations on page four prevent an adequate staff from completely covering the sports scene. By using page three sometimes, more of the important athletic news would get into the paper.

In keeping with his policy of campus news first, the rising senior from Rocky Mount said national and other collegiate sports news should be used only when Carolina's athletics have been fully covered each day. Then other sports news would be treated in capsule form.

"Just as sports are a big part of the life of the University student, sports coverage is a big part of The Daily Tar Heel's life. Remembering that the DTH started as a weekly sheet to inform students of Carolina's games, the paper must never forget this obligation to the students."

"With an adequate staff and with adequate space, I shall uphold this obligation as editor of The Daily Tar Heel," the 21-year-old candidate concluded.

More than 150 students in the General College at the University of North Carolina have qualified for the honor roll on the basis of their fall semester grades.

Dean Cecil Johnson announced that 158 students in the General College qualified for this honor, including 109 North Carolina residents. The General College, which covers the freshman and sophomore years of study, had a fall enrollment of 2,912.

The in-state honor roll students, listed by cities, are:

RALEIGH: Charles L. Bennett, Richard A. Borth, David C. Hitch, William M. Richardson Jr., and Burton W. Stuart Jr.

GREENSBORO: Robert E. Cunningham, Robert D. Greeson Jr., Frederick C. Wedler Jr., and Wallace A. C. Williams.

CHAPEL HILL: Susie H. Gordon, Benjamin F. Crutchfield Jr., Douglas M. Fambrough, Paul G. Houston, Patricia Ann Hunter, Robert W. Madry Jr., and Barry A. Portnoy. Also Peter R. Range of Athens, Ga., formerly of Chapel Hill.

DURHAM: Patricia E. Hawley, Nancy Sue Himelick and Sheldon Peck.

CHARLOTTE: Robert W. Hill, Randolph L. Lambe and David P. Underwood. Also Michael G. Shulman, formerly of Charlotte, now of Paterson, N. J.

WINSTON-SALEM: Johnson B. Clinard, David J. Goode, John T. Kellcher, Archibald H. Scales III, James G. McMichael Jr., Norton F. Tennille Jr. and Robert A. Vermilya.

ASHEVILLE: C. Robin Britt, Richard L. Garner and Robert E. Sevier.

HIGH POINT: Henry A. Foscoe Jr., Nelson N. Howell, Richard A. Keever, James M. Powell, and John A. Sherrill.

GREENVILLE: Robert H. Bilbro, William H. Brown Jr., Howard G. Garner, and Joseph S. Moye Jr.

GOLDSBORO: Charles R. Brown Jr., F. Raine Rensburg, and John M. Wilkinson.

LENOIR: J. David Fraley Jr., Ian M. Happer, and Milton W. Nelson.

WILMINGTON: Maurice V. Barnhill III, Edgar C. Garrabrant, and Robert W. Madry Jr. (also of Chapel Hill).

BURLINGTON: James R. Copland III, Alvis M. Rich Jr. and Ben L. Rushin. SHELBY: Joe M. Craver and Joseph D. Peeler. WARSAW: Ormond D. Grice and E. Walker Stevens Jr. SALISBURY: Samuel W. Loflin and Philip E. Sower.

CARY: Sara Elizabeth Bragassa and Clarence N. Dillard Jr. RUTH-ERFORDTON: Frederick R. Anderson Jr. and David P. Blaud.

Other North Carolinians are Byron T. Ballou, Lumberton; William

Lecture Series Set By Baptist Church

A series of lectures, sponsored by the Olin T. Binkley Memorial Baptist Church, will be held in Gerrard Hall March 8, 9, 10th at 8 p.m.

Dr. Guy Ranson, Prof. of Christian Ethics at Duke Divinity School will speak on "The Redeemed Man," for the first of the three-part series, on March 8. This will be followed by "The Redeemed Church" on March 9 and "The Redeemed Society" on March 10.

K. Beasley, Monroe; Garry P. Bergeron Jr., Farmville; Barry B. Bridger, Bladenboro; Thomas E. Brinkley, Mt. Airy; Richard L. Brown III, Albemarle; Sam D. Bryan, Scotland Neck; Sherrill M. Capps, Clayton; Carl P. Cole, Bryson City; T. Joseph Collier Jr., Bayboro; Frederick H. Croom, Maxton; Richard L. Dunn, Fountain; Paul F. Edmond Jr., Gatesville.

Thomas K. Fitzgerald, Lexington; Ernest G. Fulghum, Fayetteville; E. Norman Graham, Elkin; Carroll L. Gray, Bynum; Roderic B. Griffin Jr., Roxboro; George T. Grigsby Jr., Holly Springs; L. Wardlaw Hamilton, Brevard; Lawrence D. Henry, Horse Shoe; Howard D. Homesley, Cherryville; Hubert S. Huggins III, Rockingham; Phillip M. Kannan, Varina; William F. Lamm, Bailey; John E. Leimane, Burgaw; Maylon E. Little, Wieterville; Billy Malpass, Kinston.

Edwin G. Mendenhall, Sanford; James R. Norris Jr., and Larry M. Sacey, Gastonia; Jesse R. Peel, Everetts; Robert D. Powell, Wilson; Carl D. Rhodes Jr., Leaksville; Robert A. Rhodes, Mebane; Joseph B. Roberts III, Mt. Holly; H. Gibson Ruark Jr., Laurinburg; Charles K. Scott, Haw River; Bettye G. Smith, Elizabethtown; Phillip C. Smit h, Asheboro; Charles E. Taylor, Hookerton; Scott D. Ward, Zirconia; John H. Wiggs Jr., Selma; Thomas B. Williams, Warrenton; Willis H. Williams, Robbins; Allison E. Wood, Jamestown; and James A. Yount, Claremont.

South Carolina students on the honor roll are Charles A. Andrus and George F. Geils, Charleston; David L. Cohen, Walterboro; Joe E. Greene, North Augusta; Walter K. Hood, Anderson; Robert L. McCall, Spartanburg.

Tennessee students: Daniel M. Armstrong III, Rogersville; E. Warner Bass, Nashville; James P. Browder, Richard H. King, Delmar L. Reynolds and William B. Riley Jr., all of Chattanooga; J. Nelson Irvine, Lookout Mountain; Jon M. McClister, Bristol; William R. Sullivan and James R. Wagner, Knoxville.

Georgia students: Michael S. Blass, Robert B. Malone and Arthur J. Merrill Jr., all of Atlanta; Thomas E. Floyd, Griffin; Aaron M. Levy, Savannah; Peter R. Range, Athens; William A. Sawyer, Gainesville.

Other out-of-state students are Stephen C. Lowder, Bristol, Va.; Thomas E. Ehrlich, Arlington, Va.; Floyd H. Kushner, Danville, Va.; James G. O'Neil, Richmond, Va.; Barnes K. Baker, Elkins Park, Pa.; Edwin J. Blythe Jr., Bloomfield, N. J.; Michael M. Cileman, Allentown, Pa.; George A. Evans, New Orleans, La.; Forrest B. Green, Rehoboth, Mass.; Harvey L. Harris Jr., Bethel, Ohio; Kent W. Healey, Burnt Hill, N. Y.; Donald F. Heenan and Jeffrey Lawrence, Washington, D. C.; David J. Impastato, Pe'ham Manor, N. Y.

Jerome D. Kasriel, Tampa, Fla.; Benjamin F. Lehardt Jr., Leesville, La.; Merrit K. Mitchell, Rye, N. Y.; Stephen W. Oshinsky, Rego Park, N. Y.; Paul W. Otto Jr., Springfield, Mass.; Nicholas D. Rappucci and Jerome J. Tognoli, Hollywood, Fla.; Frank R. Rosiny, Montsey, N. Y.; Robert G. Sherer Jr., Dothan, Ala.; Michael Shulman, Paterson, N. J.; David S. Van Pelt, Tenafly, N. J.; and John B. Wagoner, Jacksonville, Fla.

Yardley Says Paper Needs More Features

Jonathan Yardley, candidate for the editorship of the Daily Tar Heel, said yesterday that the area of the paper needing most improvement is feature coverage of campus personages and events. "While the Tar Heel staff does an excellent job of reporting the news as it happens," Yardley said, "I think we can do much more extensive coverage on campus issues, activities, and inhabitants through features—both on the editorial page and in the news section."

The candidate cited such features as the series on the Graham Memorial Activities Board officials and the one on Carolina Symposium leaders as examples of what he hopes to do more of next year. He added that while generally good coverage has been given student leaders, faculty members and townspeople have been largely ignored.

"By helping the student acquaint himself with the faculty and the town we are helping make Chapel Hill a better, closer community," Yardley said. "All of us want to know more about the people with whom we come into contact, and The Daily Tar Heel should work to achieve this end."

Yardley said that he also intends to run features regularly on such areas of campus life as the Art Museum, Planetarium shows, administration programs and plans, and interesting programs being undertaken by various departments on the University.

The former Managing Editor of The Daily Tar Heel said that on the editorial page he would devote extensive space to explorations of pertinent and pressing campus problems such as the advisor system, overcrowded classes, and physical facilities.

Yardley said that the matter of most pressing importance in the forthcoming editor's terms will be the procuring of the new student union, and stated that he will "do all I can to use the Daily Tar Heel as a force for gaining this objective as well as the long-awaited coliseum."

The candidate added that he intends to run long, highly researched essays monthly on these and similar problems and that, in the event of matters as important as the student union, he would send the Tar Heel across the state in the hopes of influencing voters and telling the state how the students feel.

Orientation Head Mitchell Names Staff To Committee

R. V. Fulk was named Assistant to Orientation Chairman Jack Mitchell yesterday. Mitchell and Barbara Faulkner, Women's Coordinator, also announced nineteen appointees to the Orientation Committee.

Betty Anne Whitehurst was named secretary of the committee, and Rhodes Corbett will serve as treasurer. Tina Baensch will be Foreign Students Coordinator.

Committee members include Joan Jordan, Mary Stewart Baker, Tootsie Shepard, Betty Hobson, Graham Walker, Mariel O'Dell, Barbara Getchell, Anne Way, Bob Bilbro, J. R. Brown, Fred Lavary, John Renger, Fat Browder, Al Polard, Davis Young, Eddie Pleasants, Bob Gibson, John Frye and Wade Hargrove.

Mitchell said, "It was extremely difficult for the selections committee to make its final decision. I would like to congratulate those who were selected to serve on the committee. It will be a real pleasure to work with these well-qualified people, their help and influence."

Mitchell further stated that he hoped those people not selected for the committee would serve as orientation counsellors. They also contribute actively to next fall's Orientation Program.

The first meeting of the newly-appointed committee will be Monday afternoon at 4:30 p.m. in Roland Parker III.

UP Endorsements Still Open For Legislature

University Party Chairman Don Black announced there are still 12 openings for UP legislative endorsement.

Districts and seats available are the following: Town Men IV (5), Dorm Women I (1), Dorm Women II (2), Dorm Men II (1), Dorm Men III (1), Dorm Men IV (2) and Dorm Men VI (1).

Anyone interested in seeking these seats should call or see Don Black in the UP Office, second floor Graham Memorial or at the Sig Ep house (8-9114).

Carol Tieslau, not Linda Gholson as announced yesterday, received UP endorsement for Town Women's district.

UNC Snow Scene: Freezing Feet Frolicking In Cold Campus Climatic Conditions

THE SNOW CAME . . .

ON LITTLE PIG FEET . . .

IN CLEAR VIEW OF ALL . . .

IN FUR TOPS . . .

LEATHER AND BLACK HOSE . . .

NEW-LOOK CANVAS . . .

PARATROOPER'S SPECIAL . . .

AND THE SACK . . .

Photo by Charlie Blumenthal