WUNC Bustles In Preparation For Evening Program Start

By SUSAN LEWIS Note: This is the second in a six-part series on WUNC Radio.

One of the busiest rooms on campus is located in the basement of Swain Hall. A sign on the door reads WUNC. Behind that door bustling activity is the scene every afternoon.

Programs are planned, scripts written, records pulled from the stacks and readied for play — and 6 p.m. WUNC signs on the air. Under Program Director Morris Godfrey's supervision, five departments work behind the scenes before the station can meet its 6 p.m. deadline.

Author Golden Talks To SSL About South

RALEIGH — Author Harry Golden told the integrated North Carolina Student Legislative Assembly, Saturday, that President Eisenhower's suggestion that bi-racial conferences be held in the South "is just 60 years late."

He received a big applause when he said, "if the NAACP and every other do-good organization disappeared from the face of the earth tonight, the movement would not skip a beat."

Golden, author of "Only In America" and "For Two Cents Plain," spoke at the closing session of the three-day Legislative Assembly. Representatives from seven Negro colleges and 11 white institutions attended.

The Senate completed action Saturday on a bill to ban segregation in eating establishments. The House Friday passed the measure, which was introduced by the delegation from Greensboro's A & T College, a Negro institution.

Steve Braswell of Duke University was elected president of the Assembly's Interim Council, succeeding Charles R. Johnson of High Point College. Charles McNeil of North Carolina College was chosen vice president and Jenny Taylor of Meredith, secretary.

Golden, editor of the Carolina Israelite in Charlotte, said that if North Carolina should end racial segregation by ordinance, it would five write scripts for the classical. Masterworks and mood music programs; write copy for remote broadcasts and, if necessary, write fill copy.

Staffers include Vista Thompson, Don Schain, Jayne Gardner, Marion Verner and Maggie Castellone.

Assignments are made every two weeks and each writer is given a certain night each week for which he is responsible. Operating on the B schedule, assignments are turned in three days before it is to be broadcast.

Scripts usually include the composer's background, when the piece was written and a little about the piece itself. Information for this copy is gained from the studio "library," which consists of books on composers, music encyclopedias and record jackets.

All is not always smooth in the copy departments — mistakes creep in. One copy mistake which has never been forgotten around the station was the time the announcer's script read, "Now we will hear Rachmaninoff's Second

He declared, "The great controversy in the South of recent years involves the same principle as that involved in freedom to worship as one pleases."

He told the young men and women that no laws can stem dislikes or prejudices "or change hearts of men. This is not the issue." He added, "The law can 'allow Americans equal participation on every educational, political and economic level as free citizens.'"

Golden added, "There is too much at stake, and we have it here in American within our hearts and within our tradition of freedom to bring this American ideal into every nation of the world."

Golden looked ahead to what would happen if racial segregation should end by ordinance. He said, "Our textile industry will advance as never before. The immediate market will double and treble apart from all other markets, domestic and overseas. Bank and real estate and allied investments would expand commensurably with North Carolina's unrivaled resources, so, too, agriculture in all its branches would lead the field."

He declared this would result "because we have lifted a great burden from our shoulders."

The student assembly failed to take action on a bill sponsored by Johnson C. Smith University to provide that state aid be withdrawn from local education boards which do not integrate their schools.

Tuesday's Elections To End Campaigning

Hundred Coeds Selected For Orientation

The selection of 100 coeds for 1960 Orientation counselors was announced yesterday by Mary Stewart Baker, counselor trainer.

Selections were made after a week of interviewing. There were 175 applications, 100 of which were accepted.

"The Orientation committee and I were pleased with the number of interested girls who applied," Miss Baker said.

"The unusually large number of well-qualified applicants made the selection difficult, but we feel those who have been selected will prove to be an enthusiastic and valuable communication with the incoming students," she added.

Acceptance of counselorship will be recognized by attendance at the initial training meeting Wednesday 8-9 p.m., 207 Venable. Those unable to attend should call Mary Stewart Baker at 8-9104.

The new counselors are as follows:

Student Party Now Out With New Platform

Stressing a better, progressive and more efficient Student Government, the Student Party announced its platform for the spring elections.

Jim Scott, Student Party chairman, yesterday stated the above goals of the party and said that the party pledges active and sound leadership, legislation and endeavor in the following areas to the student body:

- 1) Continued campaign for a new and adequate student union, funds for salary increases and sabbatical leaves, and a public subscription program for a new indoor athletic plant. 2) Support of academic and...

Candidates Await Results Of Coming Spring Elections

Climaxing many weeks of frantic activity, spring elections will be held from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday and polls for the various districts have been scheduled.

This year students will be voting on Yack and Daily Tar Heel Editors, Senior Class officers, Student Government officers, Student Legislature representatives, Carolina Athletic Association and Women's Athletic Association officers, Men's and Women's Honor Council members, Student Council members, and the chairman of the Women's Residence Council.

UP Candidates Discussed By Party Head

The following statement is issued by Don Black, chairman of the University Party.

In the last of my articles before the election I would like to discuss the candidates that the University Party has running for the top four positions in Student Government. For President of the Student Government the U.P. candidate is David Grigg. The following is a statement by Charlie Gray, President of the Student Body.

"I would like to give my wholehearted support to David Grigg for President of the Student Body. I have long thought David was a most capable person. This opinion is derived from the privilege I have had of working with David for the past three years in Student Government."

"The office of President requires more than the mere knowledge of one resident group. It requires an overall knowledge of the campus and the ability to make important decisions in many complex areas."

"I definitely feel that David can handle every responsibility of the executive position. He is familiar with all living areas. He is familiar with every phase of Student Government. He is the only experienced candidate for President of the Student Body."

This campus is fortunate to have such a qualified, conscientious student as David Grigg running for its top Student Government office. If David is elected, Student Government will move forward with great strides. If he is not, I feel the influence and prestige of Student Government will continue approximately once a week until April 4.

Location of the polls are: Dorm Men I-Cobb, Dorm Men II-Lewis, Aycock, Everett, Stacy and Graham, Dorm Men III-Joyner, Alexander, Winston and Conner (votes in Winston), Dorm Men IV-Ruffin, Mangum, Manly, Grimes and Emerson Stadium (votes in Ruffin), Dorm Men V-Old East, Old West, Battle Vance and Pettigrew, Dorm Men VI-Avery, Parker and Teague, Dorm Women I-McIver, Alderman, Spencer and Kenan (vote in McIver), Dorm Women II-Carr, Whitehead, Nurses and Smith (vote in Gerrard Hall), All other women vote in Gerrard Hall, Town Men I-Carolina Inn and Naval Armory, Town Men II-Scuttlebutt, Town Men III-Graham Memorial and Gerrard Hall, Town Men IV-Victory Village (vote at housing office) and Gerrard Hall.

'Defense' Is Topic Of Mock Demos' Meet

Dr. Robin D. S. Higham will speak on "Defense" tomorrow night in Gerrard Hall at 8 p.m. This is another in a series of talks, concerning platform plans, to be delivered prior to the UNC Mock Democratic Convention, April 29-30.

Dr. Higham is a professor in the Department of history. He came to the University in 1957, after receiving his Ph.D. at Harvard.

Glen Johnson, chairman of the Platform Committee, urged all members of his committee to make a special effort to attend the speech. "Defense is one of the most important plans to the platform," Johnson said, "and Dr. Higham should be able to clarify any questions we might have." There will be a question and answer session after Dr. Higham's speech.

These speeches on platform policies by experts in each field will continue approximately once a week until April 4.

Arnold To Talk About 'State' At Symposium

Thurman W. Arnold, noted lawyer, author, and government official, will present the fourth topic of discussion "The State," in the Carolina Symposium, March 30th. Widely known as a competent trustbuster in the late 1930's, he waged perhaps the most formidable assault upon monopoly in American history.

Dr. Arnold has degrees from Princeton, Harvard, Yale, and the University of Wyoming. He has lectured on law at the University of Wyoming, been dean of the college of Law at West Virginia University, and was West Virginia University, and was also Professor of Law at Yale. He is a Phi Beta Kappa.

He has published numerous articles and books, including "The Folklore of Capitalism," "The Botleneck of Business," "Democracy and Free Enterprise," and "The Symbols of Government."

At present, he is associated with the law firm of Arnold, Fortas and Porter.

Between 1933 and 1945, Dr. Arnold held such government positions as: assistant attorney general of the U. S. in charge of antitrust, and assistant justice of the U. S. Court of Appeals in the District of Columbia.

A member of the Wyoming House of Representatives in 1921, Dr. Arnold was the mayor of Laramie, Wyoming from 1923-24.

Dr. Arnold is married and has two children.

Panelist Named To Speak With Whyte

The following is a partial list of panelists which will be featured with the various 1960 Symposium speakers.

Symposium speaker William H. Whyte, former associate editor of Fortune and author of "The Organization Man", will share the stage with four panelists Monday, March 28.

The procedure adopted by the Symposium calls for a lecture followed by discussion between the speaker and the panel.

Composing the panel for the Whyte lecture will be: Milton Heath: Professor of economics at UNC, Heath came here in 1925 after holding faculty positions at Harvard, Kansas, Tufts and Emory Universities. Dr. Heath has published numerous articles and papers on economic and public policy, and is a former president of the Southern Economic Association.

Karl Sax: The 1959 president of the Genetics Society of America.

Sax is visiting professor of botany at Yale. He is a member of the National Academy of Science and the holder of a Guggenheim Fellowship for 1960-61.

Paul Sweezy: He is the co-editor of Monthly Review: An Independent Socialist Magazine. Currently visiting professor of economics at Cornell, Sweezy served in World War II with the Office of Strategic Service. He has also worked with the National Resources Committee.

Robert C. Wood: An associate professor of political science at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Wood has advanced the concept that the great migration to the suburbs is causing considerable changes in American society and government.

Whyte's talk is presented under the auspices of the Faculty Committee on Established Lectures and is entitled "The Alumni Lecture."
