Order Of Grail Names 12 Knights To Its Membership

Twelve students were initiated into the Order of the Grail, highest undergraduate men's honorary, in pre-dawn ceremonies this morning. The new Knights are Bob Bilbro, George Campbell, Mike Childs, R. V. Fulk, Swag Grimsley, Howard Holderness, Jack Mitchell, Pat Morgan, Leys Rush, Bill Sayers, Norton Tennille and Davis Young.

Miss Walker To Head Woman's Honor Council

Graham Walker rising senior from Lookout Mountain Tenn. has been elected chairman of Woman's Honor Council for the coming year. She succeeds Sandy Trotman. Miss Walker an English major last year served on the Honor Council and the Woman's Residence Council. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority and was recently initiated into the Order of the Old Well.

The specific problem which inspired the formation of the Order was the growing awareness on the part of the founders of a serious lack of unity on the Carolina campus. It was felt that growing antagonism between fraternity and non-fraternity groups was impairing the effectiveness of united campus efforts.

This year the Order sponsored two campus-wide dances, a pre-Christmas holiday basketball tournament and the Grail-Mural Sports Jamboree in an attempt to encourage closer relations between the two groups.

Book On Symposium Actions To Be Available Soon For $1.50

A 100-page mimeographed book containing the complete proceedings of the 1960 Carolina Symposium evening sessions is currently being compiled. Symposium Vice-President Joe Oppenheimer announced yesterday.

The book will be available for $1.50 each and Oppenheimer explained that the supply will be limited. He pointed out that those who have already submitted requests for copies of the speeches need not do so again. Committee members will contact these people to determine if they wish to reserve a copy of the book.

Persons interested in obtaining a copy of the book may submit reservations to Box 538 Chapel Hill. Included in the publication will be the addresses of John Wild, William H. Whyte, Gen. James M. Gavin, Gerald Holton, Thurman Arnold, Dwight Macdonald, Kenneth Rexroth and John Cogley.

7 Carolina Coeds..

Tonight at 8 p.m. seven coeds will display their talent, poise, personality and beauty in competition for the title of Miss Chapel Hill of 1960. The annual contest will be held in the Chapel Hill High School Auditorium. Competing for the crown and scholarship are the following: Sabra Ann Brew, nursing student from Wilmington, sponsored by Town and Country Studio; Nancy Wills, nursing student from Stanhope, N. J., sponsored by Sloan Drug Co.; Jacqueline Womble, junior, sponsored by Robbin's House of Fashion; Marilyn Zschau, special student from Raleigh, sponsored by Stancell Motor Co.; Deborah Ives, drama student from Warwick, N. Y., sponsored by Ogburn Furniture Co.; Betty Finley, nursing student from Burlington, sponsored by Town and Campus; and Martha Hodson, junior from Coral Gables, Fla., sponsored by R. B. Fitch Lumber Co.

Sponsoring the pageant are Collier Cobb and Associates and Belk-Leggett-Horton. This year the contest rules have been modified making talent worth 50 per cent of the total points. The other 50 per cent will be based on poise, personality and beauty. Judging the event will be Mrs. Kay Kyser, "Red" Arnold and Edgar J. Gurganus.

Mediation Key To Race Accord, Speaker Says

Mediation is the key word in the solving of the Negro-White problems according to Roy Wilkins, secretary of the NAACP. Wilkins, in a Press conference held Sunday in the Institute of Pharmacy, said the real solution of race problems lies with the people with divergent views sitting down and talking.

"Let's chloroform the politicians of the old order if necessary. Their generation is done and a new one wants to take its place in a society of its own choosing," he said.

The old line politicians' efforts to keep the new order from the society they want are not stopping such a development but are hindering the evolution of a "just, decent society."

"Let the yeast work," he said, "or tensions are going to lead us to very unhappy days. The Negro doesn't expect overnight results, he simply wants to know the efforts are being willingly made toward such results."

The present sit-downs are not so much attempts to release this tension as they are attempts to achieve dignity in the community, the speaker pointed out.

"Their efforts to bring a dignity which is voluntarily given by others. This doesn't necessarily mean personal esteem or personal equality—these come with knowing one another. It does mean citizen equality, though," he said.

Wilkins believes that this striving for dignity will not erupt into violence unless politicians and policemen loose their heads, as the latter recently did in Orangeburg, S. C.

He concluded by saying that the NAACP has become the whipping boy or the "Arch Devil" in the South.

"We don't have a master plan, for it wouldn't work. The Negro and his problems are too varied to fit such a plan. Occurrences like the sit-downs are voluntary."

"The NAACP does speak out against procedures and practices which we feel are wrong. We are mad about these and we plan to continue to speak out no matter how long we remain a whipping boy."

Persons interested in obtaining a copy of the book may submit reservations to Box 538 Chapel Hill.

Included in the publication will be the addresses of John Wild, William H. Whyte, Gen. James M. Gavin, Gerald Holton, Thurman Arnold, Dwight Macdonald, Kenneth Rexroth and John Cogley.

A "Youth for Symington" campaign group will hold an organizational meeting tonight in Winston Dormitory, at 10:30 o'clock. Norwood Maddrey, chairman of the delegation, announced yesterday.

Permanent offices of the organization are located in the basement of Smith Dorm.

Maddrey announced, and asked interested persons drop my "to support Symington."

The religious groups have been meeting for several weeks and will begin handing out pledge cards today, continuing at least through April 28.

The groups' aim is "to provide a means of acquainting the merchants with the positive attitudes of their customers concerning this issue and not to bring any force or pressure to bear."

The groups also stated that, in carrying out this plan of action, the committee "shall take care not to jeopardize actions made in good faith by other groups with objectives similar to those of this committee."

The pledge cards, consisting of two parts, read as follows: "I am submitting this card to indicate that if you should see fit to offer equal service to all persons in your establishment, this extension of equality of service will in no way affect my continued patronage."

This part of the card is to be handed in at the box offices of the two theaters.

The bottom half of the card is also to be signed and contains the name of the establishment.

Distribution of the cards at local restaurants will take place at a later date. A meeting of the campus religious organizations will be held this afternoon to discuss further action.

The new plan follows closely on the heels of a similar resolution signed a few weeks ago by some 28 local ministers of various denominations.

Various other groups on campus and in town are conducting similar movements. Pledge cards were up in Lenoir Hall and Wilson Library earlier in the week.

A long list of names of townpeople was printed in both the Chapel Hill Weekly and The News of Orange County late last week. Due to space limitations, names of students were omitted from the lists.

The student religious organizations have been holding meetings for several weeks, formulating a plan of action. A committee composed of one student representative and one chaplain from each of the religious groups on campus is responsible for the "administration and implementation" of the plan.

When the two local theaters open this afternoon, one or two students will be present to hand out the pledge cards. The students will remain in front of the theatres until about 9 p.m.

A meeting was held yesterday afternoon to instruct those who will be distributing the cards, so they will "fully understand the purpose and means of the plan of action."

In a resolution drawn up and passed by the representatives at the meetings, the religious groups stated that they feel "that it is our duty as religious organizations to define and make known the feelings of the students which our organizations represent concerning equality of service to all persons, and to encourage other individuals to also state their convictions."

In a separate statement the groups said "We . . . hope that this action which we are taking will be interpreted by the community as a sincere attempt to express our strong convictions on an admittedly controversial issue. We are doing this after much deliberation and out of a sense of responsibility to purposes defined by our faiths."

Included in the plans of the group is a letter-writing campaign. Letters explaining the purpose of the group's action and the form it will take will be sent to all local merchants concerned, to the Daily Tar Heel of the Chapel Hill Weekly and to The News of Orange County.

The religious groups supporting the movement are the Baptist Student Union, the Canterbury Club, Hillel Foundation, the Lutheran Student Association, the Newman Club, United Student Fellowship, Wesley Foundation, Westminster Fellowship, YMCA and the YWCA.

Training Sessions Scheduled For Orientation Counselors

10 Religious Groups Begin New Equal Service Movement

The first of four training sessions for the 1960 Men's Orientation Counselors will be held at 7:30 p.m. today in Phillips 256, Venable 207 and Venable 268. The counselors have been divided into three groups this year in order to study individually three separate phases of campus life and to make the training sessions more valuable.

3 Groups To Study Separately

Chairman Jack Mitchell, in re-assigning names of the counselors, said that an unusually large number of well-qualified persons had applied, and that the selections were very difficult to make. The following men have been selected as counselors:

Senate Kills Civil Rights Amendment Favoring Decision

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate voted 61-30, yesterday to kill a civil rights amendment which would have put Congress on record in support of the Supreme Court's 1954 school decision. It voted 56-34 to kill another amendment, which would have permitted the U. S. Attorney General to intervene in school desegregation cases.

Dem Hopefuls Support Test Ban

Washington—(AP)—Democratic presidential hopefuls lined up yesterday in support of President's proposals for a ban on nuclear testing. Latest to join were Missouri's Sen. Stuart Symington, an announced candidate for his party's presidential nomination, and Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, not an avowed candidate but available.

Today's The Day In Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE—(AP)—Senators aspiring to the Presidency sparred furiously down to the finish line yesterday in a blazing election eve finale to Wisconsin's Democratic primary campaign. Today the people pass judgment at the ballot boxes on their efforts. More than a million Wisconsin residents will vote between 7 a.m. (CST) when the first polls open and 8 p.m., when the last close. Thirty convention votes are at stake in both Democratic and Republican primaries, with a 31st Democratic vote already allotted to the national committee members.

YWCA President Names New Committee Heads

YWCA President Sharon Sullivan has appointed the following committee chairmen for 1960-61: Betty Mattern, publicity; Linda Pfaltzer, campus chest; Ginny von Schilling, finance; Hannah Hart, public affairs; Kathy Duquesnay, international relations; Jane Smith, human relations; Kay Slaughter, U.N. education;

'Porgy, Bess' Slated Tonight In Hill Hall

In its annual "sing into spring," the University Chorus will feature George Gershwin's popular folk opera, "Porgy and Bess," in a concert tonight at 8 o'clock in Hill Hall.

Folk songs arranged for chorus by Ray Charles, Lyn Murray, Fred Waring, Roy Rinnwald and Maurice Gardner will make up the first portion of the program.

An abridged concert arrangement of some of the best-loved numbers from Gershwin's famed operatic score will include "Summertime," "My Man's Gone Now," and "Bess, You Is My Woman Now."

Featured in the performance will be Beverly Culbreath, soprano, in the role of Bess, and Dr. Joel Carter, baritone of the UNC Music Department as Porgy.

Other soloists in the Gershwin work will be Jane Newman, soprano; Louise McGee, mezzo-soprano; and Robert Williamson, tenor. Robert Steelman and Dana Dixon will be accompanists.
