Etudes To Mark Celebration Of Chopin's Birth

The GM Petite Musicale Series will celebrate the sesquicentennial of Chopin's birth Sunday with the performance of the Polish composer's Etudes by Dr. William S. Newman of the UNC Music Department.

The recital of the complete score will be presented at 8 p.m. in Hill Hall. Admission is free.

Although the program only lasts about an hour, the complete score is rarely performed because of difficulty in mastery of the Etudes and because of the artist's endurance problem. The program, however, does have much variety and many of the Etudes are familiar.

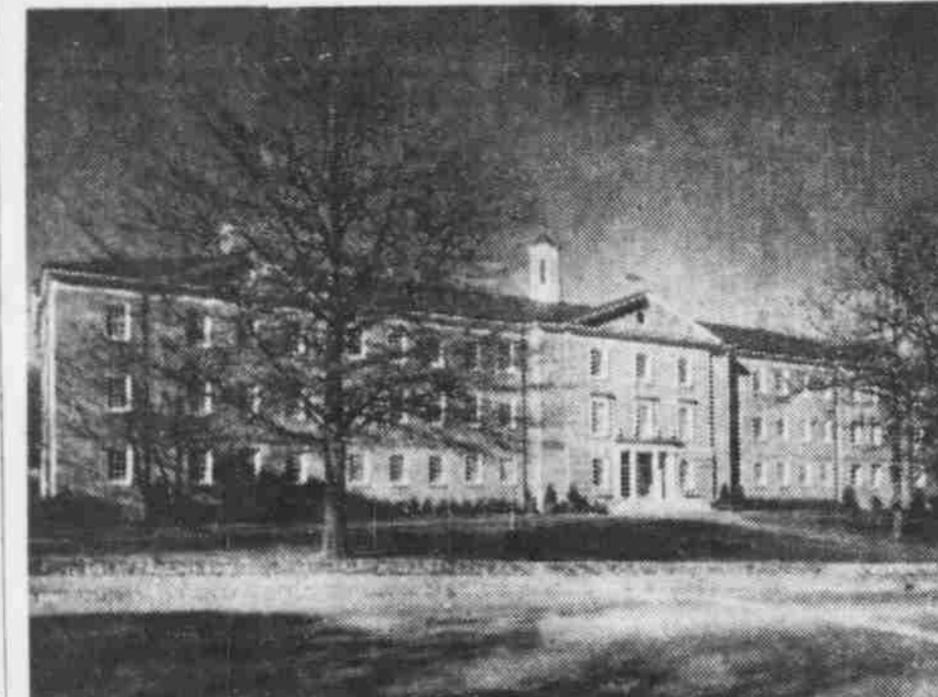

Dr. Newman has recently returned from a tour on which he played the Etudes in Granville, Ohio; Columbus, Ohio; Urbana, Ill.; and Charlotte.

Dr. Newman is internationally known as an author, pianist and teacher. He joined the UNC faculty in 1945 and has been teaching courses in music appreciation, music history and graduate musicology as well as heading the piano department.

Dr. Newman has centered much of his research on the history and present status of the sonata. His chief project in this field has been "A History of the Sonata Idea" of which the first volume, "The Sonata in the Baroque Era," has already appeared.

As a pianist he has given many solo recitals in cities from coast to coast including Atlanta, Washington, New York, Boston, Cleveland, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, San Diego and Seattle.

Dr. Newman has held official positions in the American Musicological Society, the Music Teachers National Assn. and other professional organizations.

UNC's New Pharmacy Building

New Pharmacy Building Dedication Set Sunday

UNC will dedicate its new School of Pharmacy Building Sunday with a special exercise beginning at 12:30 p.m.

Pharmacists and friends of the Pharmacy School from throughout the state are expected to attend the program for the new $1,340,000 structure.

The program will begin with a dinner at Lenoir Hall. A number of tickets at $2.50 each are still available at the School of Pharmacy.

The dedication program will be held at 2 p.m. in Memorial Hall, which housed the school until 1925. At that time a new building was completed for the Department of Chemistry and the School of Pharmacy was given the old Chemistry Building, which it renamed Howell Hall in honor of Edward Vernon Howell, the first dean of the Pharmacy School.

The School of Pharmacy has just recently moved from Howell Hall to their new building and Howell is now being renovated to house the School of Journalism. The Journalism School will move from Bynum Hall into Howell Hall in June.

Legislature

The Student Legislature went into secret session last evening immediately after the presentation of Freshman Scholarship Certificates. The secret session was still on at press time. Action on all legislation including the budget will be resumed at the end of the current secret proceedings.

Humphrey Turns Down Mock Dem Appearance

By MARY ALICE ROWLETTE

Rep. Ed Edmondson (D-Oklahoma) will replace Sen. Hubert Humphrey as the keynote Speaker for the Mock Democratic National Convention April 29 and 30. Rep. Edmondson will speak at 8 p.m. Friday, April 29 in Woollen Gym.

Sen. Humphrey, who accepted the keynote position in January, sent a telegram to Norman B. Smith, chairman of the Convention, immediately before the spring holidays informing him that he would be unable to attend. Smith said that Humphrey gave no reason for his withdrawal, but he supposed the West Virginia primary was taking more of his time than he had expected.

"We were unhappy that the program had to be changed at such a late date," said Smith. "But since Rep. Edmondson is known to be one of the more liberal Congressmen in Washington and an excellent speaker his address should set the stage perfectly for the Convention."

Rep. Edmondson is a member of the Committees on Interior and Insular Affairs and Public Works. He serves on the subcommittees of Irrigation and Reclamation, Territorial and Insular Affairs, Mines and Mining, Indian Affairs, Roads and Public Buildings and Grounds. He is older brother of Oklahoma's (See Humphreys, page 3)

Recital Set Here Sunday In Hill Hall

The UNC Music Department will present a recital by two pianists, both pupils of Dr. Wilton Mason, Sunday at 4 p.m. in Hill Hall.

The performers are Beverly Walker, a junior from Charlotte, and Thomas Markham, a junior from Apex.

Miss Walker will play two preludes and fugues from the Well Tempered Clavier by Bach and the Sonata in a Flat Major Op. 26 by Beethoven. Before coming to UNC she studied with Jack Tait at Winthrop College, Pasquale Tallarico at the Peabody Conservatory and with Nell Scoggins in Charlotte.

Markham's numbers will include the Mozart Sonata in F Major, K. 332, and three Debussy preludes; Les Sons et les parfums tourment d'air du soir, La plus que lent, and Minstrels. Markham, who has appeared frequently at UNC as an accompanist, formerly studied with Clara Johnson of Apex and Frederic Stanley Smith of Raleigh.

Four Key Appointments Made By State Affairs Committee

Norton To Serve As Vice-Chairman

Davis B. Young, chairman of the State Affairs Committee, announced yesterday the appointment of four key officials in the organization.

Bill Norton, a sophomore at the University from Durham, will serve as vice-chairman.

The other appointments included

Ballentine Blasts GOP Farm Stand

The Republican Party has shown no desire to do anything except make political capital of the farm problem, according to L. Y. Ballentine, North Carolina Commissioner of Agriculture.

The Commissioner, former lieutenant Governor and graduate of Wake Forest, spoke to delegates of the Mock Democratic Convention Wednesday evening.

In the interest of the nation and of justice, says Ballentine, the main purpose of national farm legislation should be to enable the farmer to share in the economic development of the nation with the rest of society.

Such legislation would include the machinery for setting up marketing agreements on all the great variety of farm commodities produced in America. These agreements would be subject to adoption and rejection by vote of the farmer at intervals.

Production controls and market quotas should provide a flexibility to allow for variable production due to weather and other natural causes. Farm legislation should also keep supply and demand in balance via a program of disposal geared to world markets and world condition. This balance could be devised through a "reasonable revolving fund" if there were machinery to prevent destruction of markets by harvest season gluts.

"Legislation," said the Commissioner, "should have enough flexibility to permit the program to be easily administered, but with enough rigidity to keep it from being abused by the farmer or the administration."

Adequate storage for commodities and government incentive for proper utilization of land should also be considered in farm legislation.

an Eastern Director — Angus Duff of Greenville; Piedmont Director — Bob Baynes of Greensboro; and Western Director — John Renger of Albemarle. Duff, Baynes and Renger are juniors.

The State's 100 counties have been divided into three districts. Duff will direct student efforts in 39 eastern counties. Baynes will be in charge of 28 Piedmont counties, and Renger will handle the 33 western units.

Commenting on the appointments, Young said, "Bill Norton has time and again in the past two years demonstrated both his willingness to work and ability to do a job. His broad promotional experience and wide knowledge of University needs make his services invaluable to the committee.

"Norton will work directly with me and perform many of the duties of chairman. There is no person with whom I can work more closely."

On Duff, Young said, "Here is a person with a tremendous resource of political contacts, something we certainly need. Coming from one of the State's first families, Duff has had occasion to know many of the legislators with whom we will deal."

Young also commented on Baynes and Renger, saying, "Bob Baynes as Attorney General of the Student Body and John Renger as vice-president of the class of 1961 are in a fine position to aid us greatly in organizing a student effort the size of which we hope to undertake. I am delighted that they have consented to work with us."

The Committee on State Affairs will be organized to include members from each of North Carolina's 100 counties. Its two-fold function will be to lobby for University budget requests and to educate the student body to the needs of an ever growing campus.

Young also announced that he would appoint public relations officers and an executive secretary in Tuesday morning's paper. Any person interested in working with the committee is asked to contact either Young or any of the officers who have so far been selected.

World News In Brief

Byrd Says He Won't Support Sen. Kennedy For President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Robert C. Byrd (D-W.Va.) told the Senate yesterday he is "not anti-Catholic" but that he wouldn't support Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) for president "if he were a Missionary Baptist."

Byrd made the remark in a speech in which he contended it is Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, who has made religion an issue in the West Virginia Presidential Preferential Primary election campaign.

"It is an issue, but it need not have been one," Byrd said.

Byrd said religious prejudice is not among his reasons for not supporting Kennedy in the West Virginia race with Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), another presidential contender.

Venezuelan Rebels Flee

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Leaders of Venezuela's vest-pocket revolt fled to the hills yesterday pursued by troops and peasants. Two leaders were reported captured by peasants wielding machetes but the rebel chief still is at large.

Late reports indicated the uprising at San Cristobal was launched by a handful of conspirators under Jose Mario Castro Leon, an ambitious ex-general in the air force. His band slipped across the border from neighboring Colombia Tuesday.

With the collapse of the revolt, the leaders took flight for the border, now sealed on both sides by Colombian and Venezuelan troops.

Jury Gets Powell Tax Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell's income tax evasion case went to a federal court jury yesterday. Its verdict could well shape the future for the nation's most powerful Negro politician.

Powell, undisputed political boss of teeming Harlem and a power in Democratic congressional circles by virtue of 15 years seniority in office, is accused of falsifying a 1951 income tax return he signed for his wife, pianist Hazel Scott.

He faces up to five years imprisonment if convicted, and any sentence might well affect his political standing.

The jury got the case at 1:09 P.M. after a trial that began March 8.

Trial Judge Frederick Bryan, who has displayed little legal sympathy for the government's case against the 51-year-old Powell, charged the jury for 42 minutes. His instructions appeared in apart to bolster Defense Attorney Edward B. Williams' earlier arguments.

Benson Refutes Kennedy's Statement

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson said today it is untrue that the needy abroad are getting a better diet from U.S.-donated surplus farm products than the hungry in this country.

The secretary issued a statement taking exception to statements made in West Virginia yesterday by Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, criticizing the government's food donation program.

Kennedy told a group of unemployed West Virginia miners that in recent years Benson had sent overseas under the surplus food program such items as beef, chicken, turkeys, ducks, pork, sausage, potatoes, milk, orange juice, peaches and other fruits and vegetables.
