

The Daily Tar Heel

67 years of dedicated service to a better University, a better state and a better nation by one of America's great college papers, whose motto states, "freedom of expression is the backbone of an academic community."

WEATHER

Partly cloudy today, with high ranging in low 70s.

VOLUME LXVIII, NO. 163 Complete Wire Service CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY, MAY 13, 1960 MAY 13 1960 Offices in Graham Memorial FOUR PAGES THIS ISSUE

Poll Shows Equal Service Favored

Carolina students favor granting equal service to UNC Negro students at Chapel Hill theaters and dining places.

Seventy-one per cent—230 out of 325—answered "yes" when asked, "Do you favor the granting of equal service by Chapel Hill theaters and dining places to all Carolina students?"

But only 47 per cent favored granting equal service to all people.

One hundred and fifty answered "yes" to the question, "Do you favor the granting of equal service by Chapel Hill theaters and dining places to all people, regardless of race, creed or color?"

The majority of those polled favored granting equal service to Carolina Negroes, but were opposed to giving equal service to everyone.

Several students seemed concerned about the had publicity the question of integration is giving the United States internationally, saying, "We have either got to accept it or rewrite the Constitution, which of course is impossible, if we are going to abide by the principle upon which our country was founded."

A girl in Spencer said that "if it is necessary to rewrite the Constitution to prevent integration," then she is in favor of doing so.

"I think this is a moral question," said a boy in Connor. "Regardless of whether a person is colored or white, a student at Carolina or not, I think that he should be given equal service in any business establishment in Chapel Hill."

A resident of Alexander said, "I'm from the South, I'm prejudiced, and I am very much against mixing with Negroes in eating places and theaters, regardless of whether they go to Carolina or not."

"If you're going to give equal service to Negroes at Carolina," said a boy in Grimes, "I think you should give it to all Negroes."

A resident of Joyner said, "When are they going to get this blessed problem solved?"

"I refuse to answer either question," was the answer many students gave.

The poll was taken of students of BVP, Joyner, Alexander, Connor, Grimes, Avery, Old West, Whitehead and Spencer.

FLICKLIST

Carolina, "Around the World in 80 Days." Features at 12:00, 3:05, 6:10 and 9:15.

Varsity, "Tea Commandments." Features at 1:00, 5:00 and 9:00.

UNC Alumni Association Holding Membership Drive

A drive currently is being conducted to enlist seniors in the UNC General Alumni Association.

Seventy-five student solicitors are presently at work in the campus division. The drive will continue through Monday with Tuesday reserved as deadline for reports to be turned in to the Alumni office in the Carolina Inn.

Membership in the General Alumni Association is for a 12-months year and includes a subscription to the Alumni Review which includes ten football supplements.

Members may vote in Association elections and receive notices of class reunions, alumni meetings, and other alumni information.

A special first-year rate is being offered for $1.

Solicitation is being carried on in four campus divisions with Jim Scott in charge of men's dorms, Anne Terry for women's dorms and Charlie Pittman and Jenny Elder in charge of fraternities and sororities.

Senior Class President Wade Smith issued a letter in which he said, "I want to say that I am familiar with what the Association does for Carolina and Carolina alumni, and it is a program that we can all be proud of."

"Jim (Crownover) and his committee act like they're shooting for some kind of record. I hope you give their solicitation your full support."

Some UNC alumni are also former students of other institutions. All UNC degree holders are eligible for membership in Association to which more than 9,000 students belong.

WOMEN'S RESIDENCE COUNCIL—Ready and willing to serve the Carolina coed during the coming year, the recently elected officers of Women's Residence Council are (left to right, seated) Carolyn Johnson, Dean of Women's representative; Edie Davis, chairman; Helen McCallum, vice chairman; (standing) Joan Pinkerton, treasurer; Sally Bruce, recording secretary; Sara Brugasse, corresponding secretary.

Women's Residence Council is composed of dormitory presidents, sorority house managers and junior members elected from each dormitory.

As a part of Carolina's student government, this council is responsible for determining the rules pertaining to the women's social code and welfare in cooperation with the Dean of Women, the student government, the University Administration and Women's Honor Council.

Air Force, Navy ROTC Units Honor 29 Outstanding Cadets In Fetzer Field Ceremonies

Twenty-nine cadets of the Navy and Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps units here were honored for outstanding achievement in joint ceremonies Thursday on Fetzer Field.

Chancellor William B. Aycock presented the awards to the 16 Air Force and 13 Navy cadets, who have won recognition for their service in the corps.

Air Force Cadets who received awards are as follows:

Albert M. Salem Jr., the Air Force Association Medal for outstanding standards of scholarship and leadership qualities and the Professor of Air Science Achievement Medal for contributions to the Cadet Corps.

John C. Ray, the Chicago Tribune Silver Medal for outstanding military accomplishments and exceptional interest in the U. S. Air Force and the Professor of Air Science Achievement Award.

Richard G. Rhyne, the Reserve Officers Association Award for outstanding leadership accomplishments by a senior cadet and the Professor of Air Science Achievement Award.

Joel E. Vickers, the Capt. Robert A. Gray Arnold Air Society Award for exceptional contributions to the Morehead Squadron of Arnold Air Society and the Professor of Air Science Achievement Award.

Samuel S. Woodley Jr., the Chicago Tribune Silver Medal for outstanding military accomplishments by a junior cadet.

L. Gaither Sanford, the Reserve Officers Association Silver Medal for the outstanding junior in the Air Force ROTC.

John F. Mosher, the Convair Award for demonstrating exceptional interest in air power and a high degree of potential for flight training.

David E. Hamilton, the Chicago Tribune Gold Medal for the outstanding sophomore.

Tony Walker, the American Legion Award to the Freshman demonstrating achievement in scholastic and leadership.

Anthony Davenport, Chicago Tribune Gold Medal for demonstrating exceptional leadership potential.

Watson S. Fox, the Sons of the American Revolution Minute Man Medal for the freshman who demonstrates exceptional abilities as an officer candidate.

Others receiving the Professor of Air Science Achievement Award were Carl O. Ramsey, Morganton; Michael F. Smith, Belmont; and John B. O'Neal and Gary C. Perry of Durham.

Navy cadets honored are as follows:

Theodore C. Moore Jr., the American Legion Medal for outstanding qualities of military efficiency and the Josephus Daniels Scholarship Award for the graduating senior attaining the highest average in Naval science courses.

Howard P. Troutman, the Sons of the American Revolution Medal for the highest qualities of leadership and military excellence and the Marine Corps Gazette Award for the outstanding Marine option Midshipman.

Thomas L. White Jr., the Professor of Naval Science Award to the Midshipman making the greatest contribution to the unit.

Hugh C. Embry, the Reserve Officers Association Award for demonstrating outstanding military proficiency in a Midshipman command assignment.

Lawrence B. (Pete) Austin III, the Reserve Officers Association Medal to the outstanding 2nd class Midshipman.

Chester H. Wilkinson, the Proceedings Award to the regular Midshipman demonstrating the highest interest and professional and scientific knowledge of the Navy.

Sanford, Seawell Lead In Student Poll Here

Senior Class Votes Support To Integration

The senior class of 1960 passed by a two-thirds vote a resolution pledging themselves to support racial equality.

Of the 144 students voting, 88 voted in favor of the move and 56 voted against it. The senior class has 1,183 members.

The voting took place at a meeting held Wednesday, 11 a.m. in Memorial Hall.

The resolution, proposed by Norman B. Smith and seconded by Frank Crowther, is as follows:

"The senior class of 1960 of UNC favors equality of opportunity-economic, social, political for all persons, in the university community, state and nation, and that the class supports all peaceful and lawful efforts to attain this ideal."

Opposition to the measure was centered around an idea held by a speaker believing the senior class should not be concerned with the integration issue.

George Grayson countered this argument by stating it was his belief that integration is a primary issue today and that graduating students are obligated to express themselves concerning it.

Although the resolution passed by a two-thirds majority, some student argued that attendance was too slight for voting to be indicative of the entire senior class.

No action has been taken at this time towards calling a new meeting.

"This is an exhilarating departure from the hum-drum busy work that a class meeting usually considers. This is something that so far as I know has never been done before, I am proud to have been associated with those public-spirited individuals responsible for passing it," Smith said.

Alec Guinness Stars In Saturday's Free Flick

Shakespeare and Chesterton will be featured in the Free Flicks this weekend.

"Romeo and Juliet," starring Lawrence Harvey and Susan Shentell, will be shown Friday night at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

"Father Brown, The Detective," featuring Alec Guinness and Joan Greenwood, will be shown Saturday night at the same times.

"Romeo and Juliet" with its award-winning technicolor photography was filmed in Italy. The expert cast captures the love and beauty of the original classic. Outstanding acting coupled with the breathtaking Italian countryside gives this picture an excellent rating.

"Father Brown, The Detective," is a delightful comedy in which Guinness plays a special kind of detective. Father Brown stays one step ahead of Scotland Yard in chasing criminals. He wants to reform them before the law jails them. Clues and laughs come one after another in this highly diverting comedy.

Loan Applications Not Required Until August

Student loan applications for the fall and spring of 1960-61 should not be turned into the Student Loan Office, No. 4 Steele Hall, until the first of August, according to Harold Weaver, manager of the UNC Loan Office.

All applications for next fall should be in by August 31, at the latest and will be considered for National Defense Loans.

Students not eligible for Defense Loans will be considered for other Loan Funds.

Applicants must be full time students in good standing in their course of study. Students must be citizens and will have to make an affirmation of allegiance to the United States of America.

Terry Sanford and Malcolm Seawell are the two candidates for governor that most students favor, according to a public opinion poll taken here.

Ballots were given to 13 instructors to be passed out in class. The results seem to point to a runoff between Sanford and Seawell.

The voting was as follows: Sanford, 41 per cent; Seawell, 33 per cent; Lake, 11 per cent; Gavin, 6 per cent; Larkins, 6 per cent.

The other three per cent were either undecided or did not want any of the listed candidates.

Five names were written in and each received one vote. Write-ins were Case, Dwyer, Evans, King and Stevenson.

Ballots were passed out in psychology, German, English, education, journalism, naval science, law, history, political science, French and Spanish classes.

Votes were cast by both graduate and undergraduate students. No announcement was made of the poll to avoid any influence of last-minute campaigning by campus supporters of candidates.

In every class, Sanford or Seawell received the largest number of votes or tied. None of the other candidates tied for first place in any class.

Naval science students gave 32 votes out of a possible 66 to Sanford. He received 20 out of 37 votes in a class of education students.

Seawell received 15 votes in an English class of 29. In a small class he received 5 votes out of 7. Other two votes went to Sanford and Stevenson.

23 UNC Students Honored By Pharmacy School Awards

Thirteen pharmacy students were presented awards for outstanding work here last night at the annual Awards Night of School of Pharmacy.

Fifteen students were initiated into the Xi chapter of the Rho Chi national pharmaceutical society, which honors "scholarship, character, personality and leadership."

These students receiving awards and awards are as follows:

Edward Lee Smithwick Jr., the Pharmacy Faculty Award for the senior with the highest scholastic average; Nancy Margaret Faison, the Buxton Williams Hunter Medal for campus citizenship and scholarship;

LoRuth Sutton, the School of Pharmacy Student Body Award and the Kappa Epsilon Award for the senior girl demonstrating all-around achievement; James Monroe Miller, the Lehn and Fink Gold Medal for outstanding achievement in pharmacy;

Hugh Mercer Clark, the Bristol award for outstanding achievement in pharmacy; Robert Milton Morris and William Preston Shoemaker, the Merck Awards for outstanding achievement in pharmacy;

Wesley Pritchard Duckery, the Rexall Award in pharmacy administration; Marshall Wilson Dutton, the Pharmacy Senate Award for loyalty and service to the School of Pharmacy;

Barbara Jane Bell, the M. I. Jacobs Memorial Award for achievement in pharmaceutical organic chemistry; William Fred Harris, the Rho Chi First Year Award, for the highest scholarship in first year pharmacy; and William Whitaker Morse, the key for the outgoing president of the pharmacy student body.

Those initiated into Rho Chi are Barbara Jane Bell, John Robert Bowers, Hugh Mercer Clark, Nancy Margaret Faison, Charles Farris Himes, Robert Lonn Hood.

Also, Walter Harold Lasater, James Monroe Miller, Robert Milton Morris, Gordon Lee O'Brian Jr., James Paul Sheets, William Preston Shoemaker, Edward Lee Smithwick Jr., and Lu Ruth Sutton.

OEDIPUS, self-blinded, gathers his two daughters, Antigone and Ismene to him after finding out that he has murdered his father and married his mother in the Carolina Playmakers production of the Greek Tragedies, "Oedipus Rex," and "Oedipus at Colonus."

If the Saturday evening performance is rained out then the show will be held over on Sunday, if Saturday evening is fair then the show will close after that performance. Tickets are available at the box office at the Forest Theatre at 7:00 p.m. each evening of performance.

JANUS AWARDS—Jim Scott (right) shakes hands with Mike Childs, first winner of the Robert White Linker scholarship award. Dr. Linker (left) presented the award to Childs at the Society of Janus' final meeting Wednesday night.

The award is to be awarded hereafter to students who display characteristics of service, ability and determination.

A plaque will be displayed in the Woodhouse Room of GM with the names of Whichard and future winners.

New officers elected at the meeting are: Mike Childs, praepos (president); Dave Alexander, vice praepos; Bob Bontempo, notarius (secretary); and Pete Thompson, quaestor (treasurer).

Order Of Beanbirds Inducts 20 In 5 A.M. Pecking Today

A large, blue-tipped diaper pin fluttering from a smiling, but slightly sleepy, student today means he's just joined the ranks of the Order of Old Beanbirds.

Only the real birds were witnesses at 5 a.m. today when 10 men and 10 coeds were inducted into the honorary society. It was the groups second "pecking" of the year.

The new members are Bob "Chicken Hawk" Austin, Martha "Biddy-Brain" Beach, Bob "Bat" Beatty, Shanta "Totta" Bhutani, Walker "Blackbird" Blanton, Becky "Bob-O-Link" Davis, Kathy "Duck" Duguesney;

Sam "Goldfinch" Goodwin, Alice "Kiwi" Kent, Dick "Leghorn" Lambeth, Carol "Coot" Moser, Ann "Maggie" McLean, Frank "Mudhen" McSwain, Jasper "Robin Red-Breast" Reynolds, Wade "Sandpiper" Smith;

Jo Ann "Songbird" Sory, Carlington "Warbler" Wilson, Al "Wren" Wright, Prissy "Pelican" Wyrick, and Davis "Dirty Bird" Young.

Membership in the order is based on several indefinable aesthetic qualities," a spokesman for the group said. Among the most important are the ability to: —go out on a limb without falling off, —perch, —give a worthy demonstration of the beanbird "Shuffle," —twitter-tweet, —control their squawks in the air and on the ground, —fly alone, even with a broken wing, —use their claws to cling to the strong and sturdy limbs of wisdom, service, democracy, loyalty, humor, beauty, friendship and humility.

Music Dept. Presents Two Recitals Sunday

The Music Department will present two students in separate recitals Sunday, May 15.

At 3 p.m. Martha Teachey, soprano, will present selections by Schubert, Bizet, Birch, Barber and Menotti. She will be accompanied by Stewart Powell of Wallace in the Hill Hall program.

James Gibbs, tenor, will give a senior recital Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, also in Hill Hall. Marjorie Crane of Chapel Hill will be the accompanist.

His program will include numbers by Dowland, Purcell, Young, Handel, Bach, Schubert, Vaughan Williams, Hindemith and Warlock.

Both Miss Teachey and Gibbs are students of Dr. Joel Carter, UNC associate professor of music.