

Caricature Shows French GI Joe In His More Frivolous Moments

By Pete Ivey
"Kilroy was here." Kilroy was the soldier who always got there first.

Even when he was out on the town with a weekend pass from his military camp, Kilroy was quite a fellow—all through history.

The swashbuckling devil-may-care type of soldier has been depicted on the stage and in the movies.

On the cover of Kenan Professor W. L. Wiley's new book is a caricature of the historic French version of GI Joe in his more frivolous moments.

"Le Capitaine Matamore" is the title of the traditional blustering soldier of Latin, Italian and French comedy, described by Professor Wiley in his new book, "The Early Public Theater in France" to be published October 17 by the Harvard University Press.

Le Capitaine Matamore was one of the characters uncovered by Prof. Wiley in his years of research in France and other parts of Europe which he now presents in a volume that is a literary and dramatic feature of the year in Romance Languages scholarship.

Dr. Wiley tells in his book who were the players in the early French drama, and who composed the audience. Acting, not at first a respectable profession, later came to be supported by nobility and by some churchmen.

This is the second work of Prof. Wiley to be published by the Harvard Press. In 1954 the Press at Harvard produced Dr. Wiley's "The Gentleman of Renaissance France."

In his survey of the French theater, Dr. Wiley uses little-known memoirs and archives to evoke the colorful theatrical "quarters."

Here are the Hotel de Bourgogne, first theater to be used by professionals, and the Theatre du Marais, most famous of the converted "jeux de paume," elegant despite its proximity to a yawning sewer.

The author chronicles the plays and competition among companies, and discusses the sets, lighting, sound effects and costumes.

Fall Semester Free Flicks Announced

The following is a schedule of the Free Flicks movie program through the fall semester:

- October:
 - 14—Julie
 - 15—The Bad and the Beautiful
 - 16—Gervaise (a Sunday Cinema program)
 - 21—Lost Boundaries
 - 22—Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde
 - 28—The Picture of Dorian Gray
 - 29—Father of the Bride
 - 30—Othello (a Sunday Cinema program)

- November:
 - 4—Random Harvest
 - 5—Song of Bernadette
 - 6—La Traviata (a Sunday Cinema program)
 - 11—Mr. Deeds Goes to Town
 - 12—The Brothers Karamazov
 - 18—The Mudlark
 - 19—High Society
 - 20—The Best Years of Our Lives (a Sunday Cinema program)

- December:
 - 2—Four Poster
 - 3—The Razor's Edge
 - 9—Suspicion
 - 10—Laura
 - 11—Miracle in Milan (a Sunday Cinema program)
 - 16—Goodbye Mr. Chips

- January:
 - 6—Forbidden Planet
 - 7—Maltese Falcon
 - 13—To be announced
 - 14—Members of the Wedding
 - 15—The Storm Within (a Sunday Cinema program)
 - 20—The Fountainhead
 - 21—Arsenic and Old Lace

Science Group Meets Tuesday

Improvement in the program of the Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society will be discussed at its 562nd meeting Tuesday, 7:30 p.m. President Dr. A. T. Brauer will also receive nominations of new members.

Members are asked to note the new meeting place—Phillips Hall, room 265 in the west end of the new wing.

Carolina Scores Win

(Continued from Page 1)

to the obliteration of the visitor.

In fact, Notre Dame was unable to score until late in the final stanza, when with 5:49 left, Bob Scarpitto circled his own left end for two yards and the tally.

The extra point was added by Joe Perkowski. Before and after this lone successful Irish penetration, it was all Carolina despite stellar performances by Notre Dame's Scarpitto and George Sefcik.

Farris Leads
Led by rifle armed Ray Farris and glue-fingered Skip Clement, UNC put 12 points on the scoreboard and made them stand.

The first Carolina score was registered on a sensational 47-yard pass from Farris to Clement.

This came on the heels of a 17-yard toss and first down play involving the same tandem. Clement's placement attempt was blocked by Nick DePola. The score—6-0.

With 52 seconds to play in the first half, Mike Greenday picked off a Dayrle Lamonica pass in the left flat and sprinted 42 yards into the end zone with the second and final Carolina touchdown. Clement's extra point attempt was wide to the left.

At halftime, it was 12-0. This was to remain the score till Scarpitto tallied in the fourth quarter.

But it was too late and too little. The Tar Heels were not to be denied in their brilliant bid to end the Notre Dame jinx.

Each time the Fighting Irish knocked on the Carolina door, they were rudely answered.

Lenny Beck, in a brilliant effort, nabbed two opposition passes, one in the end zone, the other on the seven yard line.

Jim LeCompte picked off one in the end zone and ran out to the five yard line.

Greenday's interception is history.

The final clutch play of the day was turned in by sophomore quarterback Ward Marslander as he grabbed a George Haffner toss and weaved his way down field in a sensational 41 yard return to the Notre Dame 21 yard line.

From there, Farris ran out the clock with three quarterback sneaks. Marslander's interception was similar to Buddy Payne's last minute snare in the 1957 Navy game which broke the back of the final Middle march.

For Carolina, there were numerous standouts. Rip Hawkins, John Hegarty, John Schroeder and the rest of the line on both the first and second units were yeomen throughout the sixty minutes. Farris kept the offense running well.

Clement and Beck turned in beautiful games as did Bob Elliott who compiled 47 yards on 11 carries including the key play on several crucial first downs.

Farris Completes
Farris completed six of 13 pass attempts for 115 yards, 104 of which came in the first half. Clement was on the receiving end of three of these for 75 yards.

Farris was second in rushing to Elliott, getting 38 yards on 20 carries.

For Notre Dame, Sefcik was the leading rusher with 42 yards on eight attempts, followed by Scarpitto who got 31 on 13 rushes. Cefcik was the leading Irish pass receiver with two catches for 73 yards followed by Les Traver with three catches for 46 yards. Notre Dame's passing was miserable, the visitors completing only eight of 32 attempts for a poor 25 per cent completion average.

There was no joy in South Bend last night. Mighty Coach Kuharich and his charges had struck out.

In Educational Field

Harvard President Spurs New Ideas

Nathan M. Pusey, the 53-year-old president of Harvard University, and principal speaker at "University Day" Wednesday at 11 a.m. at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill, has promoted new ideas in education at the nation's oldest university.

Mr. Pusey became 24th president of Harvard in 1953, an institution that was started in 1637—and was 159 years old when the University of North Carolina first admitted students in 1795.

Among Mr. Pusey's achievements at Harvard is "The Program for Harvard College" the largest concentrated effort to build up resources of undergraduate education in U.S. history.

The goal of $82,000,000 was reached and surpassed.

When he went to Harvard from the presidency of Lawrence College in Wisconsin, Mr. Pusey took a special interest in undergraduate education.

Harvard adopted a program of "advanced standing" whereby able students in high schools move to college-level work at the end of the 11th grade.

Then the students are able to move ahead faster when they get to college.

Another innovation he tried was brought about when he found that students lacked opportunity for practicing the visual arts—painting, sculpture, scenic design—although Harvard did offer excellent courses in the fine arts.

The result was establishment of a visual arts center.

First Concern

His first concern has been to ensure the quality of the faculty, and this has been done by "new professorships" during his presidency.

He also established "television lectureships" where distinguished faculty members adapted their courses for presentation to the public on educational television.

He presides over a Harvard faculty of about 3,500 scholars who teach 5,500 undergraduate students at Harvard and Radcliffe colleges, and some 6,500 advanced students in the graduate and professional schools.

They carry on research in the arts, literature, the sciences, engineering, theology, law, medicine, dental medicine, public health, education, design, business administration and public administration.

Before taking the Harvard presidency, Mr. Pusey had established the reputation as a stimulating teacher and an academic innovator. He taught ground-breaking courses at Lawrence College in Wisconsin, Scripps College in California and Wesleyan University in Connecticut.

These were designed to encourage the study of great books and great minds in the past.

When he became president of Lawrence College in 1944 he introduced freshman studies to stimulate serious reading and thinking among students.

Baptists To Hear Dr. Ray Dawson

Dr. Raymond Dawson will speak at the regular meeting of the Binkley Memorial Baptist church's supper-seminar tonight at 6 o'clock. His topic will be "The United Nations as a Promise for Peace."

The meeting will be held at the Institute of Pharmacy on Church Street. Transportation will be provided for students at 5:45 p.m. from the Y Court.

At present, Dr. Dawson is assistant professor of political science here.

A native of Arkansas, Dr. Dawson received his A.B. degree from the College of the Ozarks, his master's from Vanderbilt University and his doctorate from Carolina.

Last year he was a Mershon Post Doctoral Fellow at Ohio State University.

CLASSIFIED AD
MUST HAVE RIDE TO ATLANTA, Ga., after 4 p.m. Friday, October 21. Will pay expenses. Contact Lin Sitton, 8-9010.

Smithsonian Treasury of Science

Handsome three volume set, covering almost every field of scientific knowledge, in fifty articles by some of the world's foremost authorities.

Until Christmas$12.95
After Christmas$15.00

SEE IT TODAY AT THE INTIMATE BOOKSHOP
119 East Franklin Street
Chapel Hill, N. C.
Open Till 10 P.M.

18-Year-Old Has 1-10 Chance To Skip Draft

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A qualified 18-year-old has about one chance in 10 escaping the draft unless he gets help from both Cupid and the stork, the Defense Department has said.

In a study of manpower requirements for the armed services, it said chances are good that a young married man with children will escape the draft. With rare exceptions, no fathers have been called up since 1955.

Even for the unmarried man, chances are slightly better than in previous years that he will avoid the uniform.

The Defense Department study said that by mid-1963, only 5,000 out of 1.15 million qualified 26-year-old single men will have avoided military service.

In 1958, the figure was only 647 out of 1.1 million 26-year-olds.

The present military manpower level is 2.5 million men. The estimate is that the services will need 500,000 men a year, including those who serve in six month training programs. About 90,000 of these will come from the draft, and the rest through volunteers.

In the late 1960s, a greater number of men will reach military age.

Chances Better

This will mean that if other circumstances remain unchanged, chances will be even better that some qualified 18- to 26-year-olds will miss being drafted, although the figure may not exceed 10 per cent of the group.

This year 1.43 million men reached the age of 18, compared with 1.29 million last year.

Next year the figure will be 1.48 million, although in 1962 the figure will drop slightly to 1.43 million.

These men should be more than enough to fill the draft requirements.

However, 33 per cent of them will be rejected for physical or mental reasons. Another 10 per cent, including scientists and engineers, may be deferred for reasons in the national interest.

About 10 or 12 per cent will be deferred because of early parenthood.

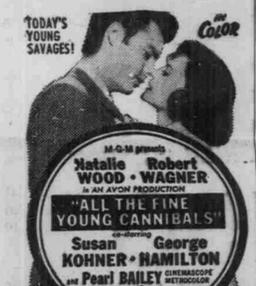

Flicklist

CAROLINA—"Fine Young Cannibals" starring Natalie Wood, Robert Wagner, Susan Kohner and George Hamilton. Features at 1:00, 3:05, 5:10, 7:15 and 9:20 p.m.

VARSITY—"The Apartment" starring Jack Lemon, Shirley McClaine and Fred MacMurray. Features at 12:30, 2:44, 4:58, 7:12 and 9:26 p.m.

Carolina

NOW PLAYING

SUTTON'S TOY CELLAR
SPECIAL $10.00 Value
Miss Hi Fashion Doll
Complete with high heels, pearl earrings, mink stole, etc.
Now Only $4.99
PHONE 5532
For Free Delivery
Lay-A-Ways Invited

DAILY CROSSWORD

ACROSS

- Italian leader
- Food fish
- Ward off a blow
- Sound (Wash.)
- Discuss
- By oneself
- Abound
- Afflicted
- Personal pronoun
- Like
- Window glass
- dance
- Ego
- Withered (var.)
- Cold-blooded killer
- Girl's name (L.)
- Frosty
- Knight's title
- Pack away
- Exclamation
- Father
- Goddess of dawn
- Flat-bottomed boat
- Allen, Green Mt. Boys' leader
- Man's name (Ir.)
- Kaiser's exile town
- Percolated
- Trust
- A. front sight

DOWN

- Ventures
- Solicit earnestly
- Tea and
- Needle aperture
- Lath (dial.)
- Casing
- Fast
- Hamlet's country
- Strip of cloth (India)
- Indian tent (var.)
- Contaminates
- Entire
- River duck
- Mix
- It is worn in the arctic
- Grated
- Rickenbacker, for
- Saulte Sainte Marie Canals
- Boy's nickname
- Sharpened
- PLAQUE SCRAM
- HURON CIGARS
- ITEM KIPPER
- LEAP AN SIE
- FRANKS
- OUTLINE CURSA
- CRYSTAL SETS
- ALRE RUPLES
- SCORE
- FACE CLAP
- EXILES HETI
- ELLIS HERON
- LEADS ADAMS
- Yesterday's Answer
31. Astonished
33. British peer
35. Subdivision of a Turkish province
37. Garden tool
38. Weep

Filters for flavor

—finest flavor by far!

Tareyton has the taste—Dual Filter does it!

NEW DUAL FILTER Tareyton

Product of The American Tobacco Company—Tobacco is our middle name

Here's how the DUAL FILTER DOES IT:

1. It combines a unique inner filter of ACTIVATED CHARCOAL... definitely proved to make the taste of a cigarette mild and smooth...
2. with a pure white outer filter. Together they select and balance the flavor elements in the smoke. Tareyton's flavor-balance gives you the best taste of the best tobaccos.