Feathered Ones Hold Year's First Pecking

Birds Swooped Down On Campus At 5 A.M.

By-Bye Blackbird

The highest honorary in all of birdland this morning pecked 19 of the furthest out birds anywhere.

Veteran aves swooped down on the campus at 5 a.m. in search of the new members of the most worthy Order of the Old Beanbirds.

This was the feathered flyers first pecking of the year. Another is scheduled for the spring, when the birds return on their migratory flight to the north.

Only real birds were witnesses to the solemn pre-dawn rights. The occasion was serious, as these are dangerous times for birds.

Ceremony

The initiation ceremony was under the direction of The Most Worthy Big Bird. Messages of congratulations were read from dignitaries in the Washington Municipal Zoo.

Two members of the University faculty — Jessie "Junco" Rader and George "Mourning Dove" Daniels were recognized as honorary members in light of their continued service over many years to campus birds.

Seven birds of the fairer sex were included in the pecking: Georgia "Canary" Cobb, Tootsie "Tufted-Titmouse" Shepard, Vev "Flycatcher" Foad, Leafy "Parakeet" Pollack, Jane "Swallow" Smith, Louise "Loooney-Bird" Loomis and Betty "Bobolink" Hobson.

Male Birds

Male birds included: Jerry "Spoonbill" Stokes, Skip "Catbird" Clement, Charley "Chewink" Himes, Bob "Bald Eagle" Baynes, Chip "Whippoorwill" Woodrum, Roy "Ruddy Duck" Michaux and Stark "Sapsucker" Sutton.

Also: Tommy "Buzzard" Butler, Jimbo "Raven" Rouse and Billy "Bufflehead" Dunlap.

Dirty Bird, press agent to The Most Worthy Big Bird, informed reporters in an early morning press conference that, "membership in the order is based on several indefinable aesthetic qualities."

—go out on a limb without falling off,

—perch,

—give a worthy demonstration of the beanbird "Shuffle,"

—twitter-tweet

—control their squawks in the air and on the ground

—fly alone, even with a broken wing

—use their claws to cling to the strong and sturdy limbs of wisdom, service, democracy, loyalty, humor, beauty, friendship, humility, SPCA, God, mother and the American flag.

Constantly on the look out for men and women who meet this high criteria, the Order of the Old Beanbirds takes its mission on campus as a serious responsibility.

We are watching YOU!

PROOF DEMANDED

Married students wishing to purchase football tickets must show written proof of their marriage at the ticket window in Woollen Gym.

Written proof would include a letter addressed to both man and wife, a joint bank statement, car registration or evidence of residence in Victory Village.

Tickets must be purchased at the gym ticket office.

UN Council Seeks World Justice, Peace

Editors Note: This is the third of a series designed to acquaint students with the workings of the United Nations.

The Economic and Social Council aims for world prosperity, stability, and justice.

This U.N. body, composed of eighteen member states, makes studies and recommendations on all world economic, social and cultural problems.

It may do this by preparing drafts on these problems for the General Assembly, giving information to the Security Council, and performing services within its scope for U.N. member states.

Forms Commissions

This Council can also form investigating commissions for matters within its jurisdiction.

The Economic and Social Council determines the relationship of the "Specialized Agencies" such as the World Health Organization (WHO) or the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO), etc., to the rest of the U.N.

Finally, the Council is responsible for four regional economic commissions — those for Europe, Asia and the Far East, Latin America, and Africa.

The fourteen-member Trusteeship Council is composed of countries administering trust territories, permanent Security Council members, and other members elected by the General Assembly for a three-year term to insure numerical equality between administering and non-administering members.

Grigg Urges Interest In UNC Vote

David Grigg, student body president, yesterday urged students to take an avid interest in the forthcoming campus election.

Tuesday, November 1, elections for class officers (junior sophomore, and freshman), Women's Honor Council, Student Council and Men's Honor Council will be held.

"Every student should make a special effort to get to know the candidates," said Grigg. "He should meet the candidates he is voting for or against."

The class officers are on trial and have been for several years, according to Grigg. "The students should find out if the candidates want to take the time to make their class what it should be, to contribute to the campus."

He emphasized the importance of Honor Council elections in light of the new district system. "The districts give the students a chance to know the people who are running and they should take advantage of this."

Grigg encouraged candidates to make themselves known to the students, to take time to talk with them and answer their questions.

On The Campus

There will be an NSA meeting today at 4 p.m. in the Grail Room at GM. Yack pictures will be taken.

Yack pictures for the UNC Marching Band will be made today at 5:15 in the main auditorium of Hill Hall. Members are asked to wear full uniforms.

The semi-annual meeting of the General Faculty will be held at 4 p.m. tomorrow in the auditorium of Peabody Hall. Memorial resolutions will be presented for the late Professor Emeritus Hugo Giduz, Kenan Professor Everett Wesley Hall, Professor Sigurdur Jonsson and Professor Harry DeMerle Wolf.

All interested students are invited to hear Charles G. Yeager, U.S. Dept. of Justice, on Monday at 2:30 p.m. in room 211, Gardner Hall. His topic will be "Career Opportunities in the Immigration and Naturalization Service." The meeting is sponsored by the Placement Service.

The Di and Phi Debating Society will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. to debate the "Future of North Carolina: Gavin vs. Sanford." Last week's debate on this topic was postponed.

STUDENT DIRECTORIES

The 1960-'61 student directories have been completed and are available for 60 cents at Y-Court and at Graham Memorial information desk. All UNC administrative departments are also reminded to pick up their copies.

Infirmary

Athletic Club To Hold Huge Team Rally Today

Mary Lawrence. Tickets are still available for all three performances from the Playmakers Business Office, 214 Abernethy Hall, (next to the Scufflebutt) or at Ledbetter-Pickard's in downtown Chapel Hill.

One Of CH's Top Turnouts Is Expected

This afternoon has been designated Town Turnout Day for backers of the varsity Tar Heels. A mass rally, designed to "show the team that we believe in them and are still behind them," has been scheduled for 4 p.m. on Navy Field.

The team will be holding its final practice at that time before leaving for Knoxville and its encounter with undefeated Tennessee on Saturday.

Sponsored by the Chapel Hill Athletic Club, the gathering is expected to be "one of the largest turnouts in Chapel Hill history" according to President Ty Boyd.

Boyd explained that both students and townspeople have "been going around asking what can we do to help the team," and that the Athletic Club is sponsoring this rally as one means of "giving support to the boys."

"I can't think of anything better than thousands of people turning out to 'show the team that we are fighting for them,'" Boyd said.

Students, faculty, townspeople and all other interested people have been urged to "drop what they're doing and come out to the rally."

Officials of the club will present a proclamation to Coach Jim Hickey and his team reaffirming the gathering's "faith in their ability and desire to win," Boyd announced.

No other activities have been planned by the group, several band members and cheerleaders are expected to be on hand.

The Chapel Hill Athletic Club is a local educational foundation, which sponsors several events throughout the year designed to create better "team-town" relationships. Boyd explained that the group "attempts to make the team feel at home here."

YACK BILL PLANNED:

Council Considers Revision Bill

By Harve Harris

A bill ratifying the 1960 revision of the Student Constitution is expected to be sent back to committee by its sponsor, Joe Oppenheimer, at tonight's meeting of the Student Legislature.

Oppenheimer said that he expected the bill to be brought before the body by the following week. At that time, the new constitution can go into effect if passed by a majority of the Legislature and by the approval of the student body in a general campus election.

Yack Bill

Tony Harrington has introduced a bill to appropriate $2,700 for the purchase of 750 additional Yackety Yacks at $3.60 each. The measure was recommended by the Publications Board and the Student Government Budget Committee.

"The student body has increased beyond the enrollment anticipated by the Yackety Yack business staff, and the allocated funds are not adequate for printing the necessary number of 1961 yearbooks," the bill states.

Measure States

The measure further reads that "each student, in effect, pays for a yearbook in his student activities fee and should receive one."

A bill requiring all organizations desiring funds in excess to their approved budget appropriations to submit a detailed account of all anticipated expenditures to the finance committee has been introduced by Pete Thompson, chairman of the committee.

Mobutu Men Ordered Out

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — The United Nations Command cracked down Wednesday on unruly troops of Congolese strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu. It ordered the soldiers who have been rampaging through Leopoldville to get out of the capital and back to their barracks by Thursday.

Catholics Oppose

HAVANA (UPI) — The Roman Catholic Church mobilized opposition Wednesday to government education plans which would make children between 6 and 15 years of age virtual wards of the state. Directors of Cuba's Catholic schools were summoned to an urgent meeting Saturday to consider a proposed law which would empower the Education Ministry to decide where and by whom young children shall be educated — a system following the Russian pattern.

Living Costs Rise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Living costs rose to a record high in September and are expected to rise again this month, the government said Wednesday in its final price support before the presidential election.

WITH KENNEDY IN MICHIGAN — Sen. John F. Kennedy hurled charges of "political coverup" Wednesday at administration refusal to make public a secret government report on U.S. prestige abroad.

In a day of intensive campaigning through the greater Detroit area, Kennedy continued to berate the administration and Vice President Richard M. Nixon for not taking the wraps off a survey which is reported to picture the nation's prestige at an all-time low.

The Democratic presidential nominee said Nixon had "seriously misled the American people" about the report and the administration had "consistently followed a policy of suppressing important public information."

Before a crowd estimated at more than 15,000 persons at Mount Clemens, Mich., Kennedy said "the American people are entitled to the truth—the truth with the bark off."

Kennedy made no direct reference to Wednesday's White House acknowledgment that the controversial report existed but that it would not be made public.

ABOARD NIXON TRAIN IN OHIO — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, under pressure from Republican leaders to take off the gloves in his battle with Sen. John F. Kennedy, demanded Wednesday that his Democratic opponent retract his "disgraceful" charge that American prestige under GOP rule has declined all over the world.

"I say it's wrong and I say he's got to retract it," the Republican candidate for president told a cheering rain-soaked crowd of 20,000 in the square before Dayton's Montgomery County courthouse.

On a second day's whistle-stop train trip through Ohio, Nixon assailed Kennedy on every front from farm to foreign policy but saved his hottest fire for the issue Kennedy himself was raising in a campaign swing across Michigan.

DEADLINE SET:

Yack Contest Ends Wednesday

Wednesday is the deadline for the entry of campus beauties in the 1961 Yackety Yack beauty contest.

Bob Gibson and Joan Pinkerton announced yesterday that entries will not be taken after this date. All entries may either be mailed to Gibson at the Phi Delta Theta House or taken to him at the Yackety Yack office in the basement of Graham Memorial.

Held In Memorial

The contest itself will be held in Memorial Hall at 8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 7. Ty Boyd, local television personality, will be on hand to act as master of ceremonies.

Maxine Greenfield, the 1960 Yack beauty queen and her court will also be there to see the new queen crowned.

Any Carolina coed is eligible to enter the competition. The organization sponsoring a contestant must pay a registration fee of $7.

Organizations may enter as many as six contestants. Last year there were 99 entries. So far this year there have only been 20 to 30 applicants.

Gibson Urges

Bob Gibson, co-chairman, urges campus organizations to get out and choose at least one contestant to represent their organization.

"This is the largest contest of its type on campus," he said.

The beauty court and the Yack queen for last year were: Maxine Greenfield, Yack Queen; Susan Woodall, Velta Spunde, Frances Scott, Becky Roberson, Jane Tull, Jane Park, Jayne Brown, Nancy Awbrey, Mary Thom White, Jenny Elder, Kay Kirkpatrick and Gertie Barnes, members of the court.

Any questions concerning the contest may be directed to the Yackety Yack office in the basement of Graham Memorial.
