

Chapel Hill
Weather
Could be cold—Silent Sam dropped his gun and put his hands in his pockets today.

The Daily Tar Heel

68 years of dedicated service to a better University, a better state and a better nation by one of America's great college papers, whose motto states, "freedom of expression is the backbone of an academic community."

VOLUME LXIX, No. 39 Complete (UPI) Wire Service CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1960 Offices in Graham Memorial Four Pages This Issue

Today Deadline For Registering

Carolina's Tar Heels Tackle Rough Volunteer Team Today

Volunteers Undefeated This Season

By Davis B. Young
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 29—The University of North Carolina goes after its second victory of the season at 2 this afternoon as it tackles a rugged University of Tennessee squad here.

Tennessee has not lost a game in five outings this year. The only blemish on their record is a scoreless tie with Mississippi State in their second game.

Aside from this, the Volunteers have rolled over four opponents including Auburn by 10-3, Tampa by 62-7, Alabama by 20-7, and Chattanooga by 35-0.

Stingy With Points

In five games, Tennessee has allowed a stingy 17 points to its opponents while rolling up 127 for the home forces.

The Tar Heels enter today's fray with a 1-4 slate to show for half a season. Carolina's only victory was a 12-7 decision over Notre Dame.

Coach Jim Hickey's team has dropped encounters to N. C. State, Miami, Wake Forest and South Carolina. Several of these losses could have gone either way.

Tennessee will be led by a trio of brilliant tailbacks: Bill Majors, Gene Etter and Glenn Glass. Running from a single wing attack, these three spelled disaster for Carolina in last year's 29-7 Vol win in Kenan Stadium. Between them, they have gained almost 400 yards this season.

Passing No Threat

The Vol passing attack does not seem as much of a threat. They have completed only 20 passes to date.

For the Tar Heels, the offense will once again be led by junior quarterback, Ray Farris.

Farris has completed 29 of 67 aerial attempts for 535 yards and three touchdowns. His favorite targets have been ends John Schroeder and John Runco and halfback Skip Clement. Farris will alternate on offense with Ward Marslander. John Flournoy is expected to handle the defensive chores.

Series Begins

The Tennessee-North Carolina series dates back to 1893 when the Tar Heels scored a 60-0 victory. Currently, the Vols hold a 19-9 lead in the series with one tie.

The last time North Carolina defeated Tennessee was in 1958 in Knoxville, when they won 21-7. The only other Carolina victory in recent years was a 14-7 verdict in 1948.

The Tar Heels left yesterday afternoon from Raleigh-Durham Airport via chartered plane. Arriving in mid-afternoon, they worked out upon arrival at Shields-Watkins field.

Tennessee has been installed as a 17 point favorite.

THREE PLAYERS COUNTED on to see lots of action today at Shields-Watkins Field in Knoxville are these Tennessee and Carolina players. Paul Inglett, upper left, is a top guard in the Volunteer line. The passer is Glenn Glass, a junior tailback who has proved his offensive ability already this year. Carolina will counter with Joe Davies, right, a hard-hitting fullback who can play a rugged defensive game.

AS INDEPENDENT: Carr Files For Frosh Office

Greatest Talent

The records of our class as high school students will support my belief that this freshman class has perhaps the greatest store of talent in the history of the university. I feel that it would be an abusive mistake not to develop this power to the fullest degree.

"Therefore, the most beneficial and effective class officers are those who would make use of this talent so as to derive improvements and advancements from the members of their class.

To Hear Problems

"If I am elected president of the freshman class I will maintain a government in our class which will offer all interested persons the opportunity to serve in their government. My policy will be a sincere effort to listen to all problems which might arise and to strive to work them out in a feasible manner. The class officers should be your servants and I am most anxious to begin serving you."

(Signed) G. Watts Carr, III

'Othello' Third Sunday Movie

Orson Welles' brilliant adaptation of Shakespeare's immortal tragedy, "Othello," will be the third in this semester's Sunday Cinema series.

In both sustained quality of acting, camera work and direction, "Othello" ranks as one of Welles' greatest cinematic triumphs.

As an actor Welles plays the tragic Moor with artistry and perception.

As a director who understands Shakespeare, Welles has produced a motion picture with taste and imagination.

The beautiful French actress, Suzanne Cloutier, gives a vital and moving performance as Othello's doomed wife, Desdemona.

"Othello" was photographed against authentic Italian and Tunisian backgrounds, adding greatly to the visual impact.

Showings will be at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. in Carroll Hall.

Solid Gold Cadillac:

GMAB Presents Comedy

"The Solid Gold Cadillac," the smash Broadway comedy hit, will be presented Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 5 and 6, in Gerard Hall.

Sponsored by the GMAB Drama Committee, the play will be under the direction of Don Curtis and stars Annabelle Garrido as Mrs. Laura Partridge.

"Cadillac" is the season's first production in the GM Petite Dramatique series, and no admission will be charged for the performances.

Motion Pictures

In addition to a successful three-year Broadway run, the George S. Kaufman-Howard Teichman comedy was made into a motion picture with Judy Holliday in the lead role. Josephine Hull played the pixilated Mrs. Partridge in the Broadway version.

The play itself is a parody on big business, corporations and corporation directors. There is a marked resemblance between Ed McKeever, as played by Johnny Meadows, and former Secretary of Defense and General Motors magnate Charles Wilson. Messrs. Kaufman and Teichman spoof not only large corporations, but their government connections as well.

Plot Involves

The plot involves an old lady who attends her first stockholders' meet of the General Products Corporation. She takes such an active part at the meeting, that she soon becomes a thorn in the side of the corporation directors.

In order to silence her, a job is created within the organization for her. Much to the chagrin of the company directors, the little old lady applies herself to the job with such conscientiousness, that she soon becomes an important factor in company affairs.

When she is sent to meet Ed McKeever in Washington, who once headed General Products but is now a member of the President's cabinet, she attempts to gain government contracts for her firm.

Execs Battle In Play

World News in Brief United States To Let Marines Have Liberty At Guantanamo

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Navy announced Friday that 1,450 U.S. Marines will land Saturday morning at the Guantanamo naval base in Cuba for "weekend liberty."

The Navy issued the announcement in an apparent effort to counter in advance any claims by the Fidel Castro government that the Marines constitute an invasion force.

Havana has been rife with rumors for several days as a result of Castro's charge that the United States plans "aggression" against Cuba.

Debate Nearly Collapses

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Negotiations for a fifth television debate between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy neared collapse Friday as both sides traded angry charges questioning the other's sincerity.

The verbal clash appeared to all but rule out a proposed joint appearance Monday by the White House rivals. Kennedy called on Nixon to give his "final answer" by Saturday night on whether he wanted another face-to-face clash.

U.S. Allows Confab

NEW YORK (UPI)—The United States Friday allowed Russian officials to confer in jail with an alleged Soviet spy Friday less than 24 hours after he was arrested and demanded the same right for two Air Force men who have been held incommunicado in Moscow for nearly four months.

The FBI arrest of Igor Yakovlevich Melekh, 47-year-old United Nations translator, brought an angry outburst from Soviet delegate P. D. Morozov, who charged "dirty" U.S. political provocation.

Fifteen Judges Appointed To Hague World Court

(Last of a series prepared for UN Week by the YWCA UN Education Committee.)

Fifteen judges elected by the General Assembly and the Security Council compose the International Court of Justice, whose seat is at The Hague in the Netherlands. This court has jurisdiction over the following matters: interpretation of a treaty, any question on international law, any fact which may constitute a breach of international obligation, and the nature of reparation to be made for the breach of an international obligation.

All parties may voluntarily bring their cases before the court and are duty-bound to obey its decision. In addition to judging legal disputes submitted to it, the Court gives advice on legal matters referred to it by the General Assembly, Security Council, and other specialized agencies of the U.N.

Finally, the sixth organ is the Secretariat, handling the vast administrative functions of the United Nations. The chief administrative offices is the Secretary-General.

Important functions such as acting in his capacity at all General Assembly and Security Council meetings as well as bringing dangerous situations to the attention of the latter body are handled by the Secretary-General.

Tonight's Flick About Marriage

Tonight's Free Flick is "Father of the Bride," the story of a devoted father who reels from a series of blows which start when his daughter tells him she wants to marry one of the undistinguished young men who have been hanging around, and continue until the last guests depart from the "modest little wedding" and reception that the father will be paying for during the foreseeable future.

Showings are at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. in Carroll Hall.

Registrars' Books Close At Sunset

By Wayne King

Today marks the deadline for registration for the November 8 general election.

The books open for registration at 9 a.m. today and close at sunset, which is about 6:30 p.m.

After this time, the registration books are closed, except to any individual who "can give satisfactory evidence to the elections board that he has become qualified to register and vote after the time for registration has expired."

Mrs. Ester Herrin of the League of Women Voters announced that the registration books can be reopened after today only in the event that the voter in question can furnish proof that he has fulfilled requirements.

This ruling would apply, for instance, to anyone who becomes age 21 before November 8, but after the last day of registration today.

The books will be reopened also for anyone who fulfills his residence requirements previous to November 8 by having lived in the voting area for a one-year period ending before the general election date.

Absentee Balloting

Some Carolina students may be eligible to vote by absentee ballot under the ruling that "any qualified, registered voter who is absent from his home county for the whole of the election day, November 8."

However, students MUST REGISTER IN PERSON, in any case, to be able to vote.

Being able to vote by absentee ballot will enable students who are unable to be in their home county on election day to vote, provided they have registered previously, in person, and have filed for absentee balloting.

Absentee ballots must be marked, signed, and sealed in the presence of an official with a seal who is authorized to administer oaths, such as a notary public.

Application for absentee ballot must be filed on a blank form furnished by the chairman of the county board of elections.

Mr. S. T. Latta, or obtained from Mr. Clyde Carter, Chapel Hill. The filled-in form is sent to the county board chairman.

Absentee ballots must be obtained not more than 30 days nor less than 2 days before November 8, by the voter in person, or the voter's husband, wife, brother, sister, parent, or child.

AP Writer To Deliver 6th Lecture

"Covering the Latin American Beat" is the topic of former AP Correspondent Sam Summerlin at the sixth Journalism Lecture of 1960.

The lecture will be held Tuesday, 8 p.m. in 104 Howell Hall.

Summerlin covered the Argentine revolution of 1955 in which dictator Juan Peron was overthrown. He also covered the anti-communist revolution in Guatemala in 1954.

Summerlin is now Chief of Bureau of the Associated Press for Argentina, Paraguay and Uruguay.

He is a former resident of Chapel Hill and graduated from UNC in 1948.

Summerlin is now on leave in the U.S. and has been a frequent lecturer around Chapel Hill. He spoke at the October meeting of the N. C. Press Club.

United Press International

EN ROUTE WITH KENNEDY IN PENNSYLVANIA

—Sen. John F. Kennedy campaigned through job-hungry Pennsylvania Friday and emphasized unemployment under a Republican administration.

In a bid for the Keystone State's 32 electoral votes, Kennedy said Vice President Richard M. Nixon dared not use his "never had it so good" slogan in these economically depressed areas.

"We are as strong abroad as we are at home," Kennedy said. "We are as strong in our fight with communism as we are strong economically in Pennsylvania."

The Democratic nominee, answering Nixon's charges that Kennedy was "downgrading America," said:

"It is Mr. Nixon—not I—who is downgrading America. It is Mr. Nixon—not I—who is selling America short."

"Mr. Nixon talks of America's limitations. I speak of her boundless possibilities." Kennedy thumped hard on unemployment and America's economic condition in speeches at Allentown, Bethlehem, and Pottsville.

WITH NIXON IN ILLINOIS—Vice President Richard M. Nixon charged Friday that Sen. John F. Kennedy is trying to scare Americans into voting Democratic by predicting a depression. But it won't work, Nixon said.

"It won't work because the American people have more sense than Kennedy has," Nixon told one of a series of cheering crowds which turned out to greet his campaign special train on its whistle stop tour across the pivotal state of Illinois.

"Note that I said sense, not dollars," Nixon pummed. "He's got more dollars than you have but you have more sense than he does."

The GOP presidential nominee was apparently getting the best of a bad cold and sore throat which plagued him during Thursday's hectic campaigning in Michigan. Egg throwing incidents in Michigan helped heat up Nixon's temper, but he was busy Friday wooing Illinois' 27 electoral votes on a schedule which took him all the way to Davenport, Iowa.

Board Lists Voting Rules

Absentee voting for the campus elections on Tuesday will be conducted in the following manner:

Those eligible voters who will not be in the vicinity of the campus on election day should notify the Elections Board with a signed statement asking for ballots relative to their classes and district.

These ballots may be picked up from the Elections office between 2 and 5 p.m. any day or mailed to the voter. They must be received by the board by 5 p.m. Tuesday.

The Elections Board also issued a statement Thursday warning campaigners not to tack or tape campaign material anywhere but bulletin boards.

Students must not tear down posters on bulletin boards, either, the Board said, since both actions are judicial council offenses.