

Carolina Grad Gets News Job

WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 11—The appointment of a former Daily Tar Heel staffer to the position of State Editor of the oldest paper in North Carolina, the Wilmington Star-News, was announced here Nov. 11.

The position went to Peter B. Young, an editorial contributor to four Daily Tar Heel editors. Young joined the Star-News staff in March after resigning as a graduate student in history at Carolina.

The Pikes Peak Hill Climb, established in 1916 and running only 12.42 miles in length, is the second oldest event on the United States Auto Club calendar.

'Beat Dook' Parade Slated For Saturday

The "Beat Dook" Parade on Friday, Nov. 18 will be sponsored by Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. Deadline for the entry blanks has been extended to Monday.

Tuesday night the beauty contest will be judged at the PiKA house. Dormitories, fraternities and sororities may enter girls in the contest.

Entry blanks for both the parade and the beauty contest should be sent to Jackie Lohr at the Pi Kappa Alpha house.

Trophies for the parade are on display at Stephens-Shepherd, 147 E. Franklin St.

Floats in the parade will assemble between 2:15 and 2:30 in front of Woolen Gym. They will move down Raleigh Street turning left at Franklin Street. At Columbia Street they again turn left and continue until Cameron Avenue. After cutting through the campus the parade will end at the gym.

tained to the processes the budget will go through before any money is appropriated to the school by the legislature.

Hewlett explained that the Board of Higher Education was set up under a bill which passed the legislature in 1957. Last year's legislature somewhat cut the powers of the board, he said.

Duty Of Board

In general, the duty of the board is to recommend to the Advisory Budget Committee of the legislature measures to be taken in appropriating funds for any state institution involving higher education.

Davis Young, chairman of the State Affairs Committee, introduced the speaker and later presented him with a framed copy of the bill passed by Student Legislature commending Hewlett for his interest in the University. Hewlett is a graduate of Wake Forest College. The meeting was kicked off with Young holding up newspapers whose headlines bannered the budget cut by the board.

'Karamazov' Tonight's Free Flick

The rich and skillful adaptation of Fyodor Dostoevsky's immortal novel, "The Brothers Karamazov," will be the featured film on tonight's Free Flick program.

Set in 19th Century Czarist Russia, this is a story of lavish wealth and grinding poverty and of the Karamazov brothers, Dimitri, Smerdyakov, and Ivan.

Dimitri, a young army officer, and his illegitimate brother, Smerdyakov, possess a lust for old man Karamazov's money. To further complicate family relationships, both Dimitri and his father are in love with beautiful Grushenka. When the old man is found murdered, evidence points strongly toward Dimitri.

The film, in color, is headed by a dynamic, all-star cast including Yul Brynner, Maria Schell, Claire Bloom, Lee J. Cobb, and Richard Basehart.

Showings are at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. in Carroll Hall.
