

U.N.C. Library
Serials Dept.
Box 670
Chapel Hill, N.C.

Weather

Generally fair and continued mild.

The Daily Tar Heel

68 years of dedicated service to a better University, a better state and a better nation by one of America's great college papers, whose motto states, "freedom of expression is the backbone of an academic community."

VOLUME LXIX, No. 53

Complete (UPI) Wire Service

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1960

Offices in Graham Memorial

Four Pages This Issue

World News In Brief

Greets Nixon

MIAMI (UPI)—President-elect John F. Kennedy and Vice-President Richard M. Nixon met today in a seaside villa to erase some of the bitterness that marked their recent election campaign.

Kennedy flew from his vacation headquarters in Palm Beach to Miami where Nixon is vacationing. The Democratic victor and the Republican loser met at 11:40 a.m. in the brilliant sunshine on the steps of the Key Biscayne Hotel.

They clasped hands warmly with broad smiles, then walked shoulder to shoulder through a swarm of photographers to Villa 69, a small dwelling immediately back of the villa where Nixon and his family are staying.

Eisenhower, Anderson To Confer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—President Eisenhower Monday arranged an "important" conference with Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson Tuesday on mounting problems involved in multi-billion dollar U.S. aid to so-called "have-not" nations. The men were expected to renew suggestions that America's allies—particularly West Germany—increase their economic assistance to newly independent countries in Asia, Africa and the Middle East.

New Orleans Integrates

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Four, 6-year-old Negro girls, escorted by U.S. deputy marshals, integrated two New Orleans public schools Monday against one of the most hair-triggered backgrounds for violence since reconstruction. No violence was reported.

Morse Gives Stand On China

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Wayne Morse, (D-Ore.) said Sunday the United States should tell the world that this country would not support Chiang Kai-shek in any threat to make war in Asia.

"At the same time," Morse said, "we must make clear... that we're not going to permit Red China to pull a Communist bloodbath on Formosa."

Morse is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and a U.S. delegate to the U.N. General Assembly.

Costa Rica To Wipe Out Rebels

SAN JOSE, C.R. (UPI)—Costa Rica launched an all-out drive Monday to wipe out rebel bands seeking to use the republic as a springboard for invasion against neighboring Nicaragua.

The government concentrated all available troops in the Guanacaste area near the Nicaraguan frontier and announced the capture at Pavas, near the border town of Penas Blancas, of five fully armed rebels including Alvaro Borge, an invasion force leader.

Kennedy Clings To Popular Vote Lead

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. John F. Kennedy clung to a lead of 389,346 votes over Vice President Richard M. Nixon today as the count in last Tuesday's presidential election inched slowly toward completion.

With a record high 67,718,263 votes already counted, Kennedy's numerical margin in popular votes was the smallest in any presidential election since 1892. His percentage margin—50.29 to 49.71—was the smallest since the election of 1884.

A tabulation by United Press International gave Kennedy 33,855,338, Nixon 33,465,992 and other candidates 396,933.

Nash To Give Thorp Lectures At Cornell U.

Dr. Arnold S. Nash, professor of History and Sociology here, has been invited to give the Thorp Lectures at Cornell University next April.

The Thorp lecturers for the next few years have been asked to orient their lectures toward Cornell's centennial in 1965. It was suggested that Dr. Nash give attention to the changing role of universities in society and to the corresponding intellectual demands which are thereby thrust upon them.

His first lecture will analyze the function of the medieval university. His analysis will be based upon scholastic modes of thought and behavior in a feudal society.

In his next lecture, he will examine the Renaissance university which was built "upon" a return to the Greek and Latin Classics. This type of university operated during the period of merchant capitalism.

Dr. Nash's final lecture will discuss the task of present day liberal democratic universities. This type of university has based itself upon scientific modes of thought and now seeks to adjust itself to the political demands of a "world struggle in the age of technology."

Broadway Comes To UNC

ACTOR KING DONOVAN, who plays the Prince, stars with his wife, Imogene Coca, and Edward Everett Horton in the Broadway musical comedy hit "Once Upon a Mattress," which opens in Memorial Hall tomorrow night at 8:30 for one performance only. The show's Chapel Hill appearance is sponsored by the Carolina Playmakers. A few tickets are still available at the Playmakers Business Office, 214 Abernathy Hall. If any remain, they will go on sale at Memorial Hall at 7:00 p.m. tomorrow.

Imogene Coca Starring In Musical Hit

"Once Upon a Mattress," the rousing Broadway touring company production of the musical comedy hit, opens tomorrow night in Memorial Hall for a one night stand.

Imogene Coca, Edward Everett Horton, King Donovan and Ann Mitchell head a cast of over 50 singers, actors and dancers in the highly-acclaimed musical spoof.

Miss Coca stars as the charming, moat-swimming Princess called "Fred" in the show. Well known as a television and stage comedienne, Miss Coca is the wife of actor King Donovan, who plays Prince Dauntless in "Mattress."

Horton Appears

Horton appears as the henpecked, mute King in the musical, and Ann Mitchell, a former star in the record-breaking "The Threepenny Opera" hit off Broadway, plays his Queen.

When "Once Upon a Mattress" opened on Broadway it met the wide and high acclaim of audiences and critics alike, who referred to it as "terrifically amusing," "delightful," and "fresh and funny."

The Broadway company's production of "Once Upon a Mattress" is being sponsored here by the Carolina Playmakers. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

ON CAMPUS THURSDAY:

Poet Ferlinghetti To Read

Lawrence Ferlinghetti, poet and UNC alumnus will read from his poetry for the public on Thursday at 8 p.m. in Carroll Hall.

A leader of the much publicized "San Francisco" movement, Ferlinghetti graduated from the University in 1941 and studied at Columbia and at the Sorbonne before going to San Francisco.

There he runs a bookshop, the City Lights, and has published several of the San Francisco writers in his Pocket Poetry Series.

The poet's campus appearance is being sponsored by the English Club, in cooperation with Graham Memorial. A reception will be held in the GM Main Lounge after the reading.

"The sound of the streetsinger and the Salvation Army speaker is not to be scorned."

"Coney Island"

"Coney Island of the Mind," published in 1958, is his best known book of poems.

His first novel "Her" appeared this year.

A new collection of Ferlinghetti's poetry, "Love and Death," is scheduled for publication next year.

The program in Chapel Hill is sponsored by the English Club and the Graham Memorial Activities Board.

Ferlinghetti speaks on November 16 at N. C. State College as part of a series of lectures on "The Contemporary Scene."

CANADIAN STUDENTS receive their tickets for the UNC-Maryland game from UNC host Bob Bingham. Sitting with their UNC hosts and hostesses (without scarves), the Toronto guests decided that Carolina grid fans are far more conservative about their cheering than their neighbors to the North. (Photo by Blaustein.)

CHAIRMEN BEGIN INTERVIEWS FOR '60 CAMPUS CHEST

Committee Positions Are Available For Carolina's Only Charity Drive

Interviews begin at 1 p.m. today for positions in this year's Campus Chest program.

Linda Pfaelzer and Jim Brown are serving as co-chairmen for this year's effort, which is the only charity drive conducted on the UNC campus.

Interviews for committee chairmen and members will be held in the Campus Chest office on the 2nd floor of the YMCA. They will continue each afternoon through Thursday, 1-3 p.m.

Positions Available

Positions are available in every phase of the group's program. This includes the solicitations, publicity, entertainment, auction and carnival committees.

The Solicitations Committee maps plans for the actual fund campaign, which will be held sometime next spring. It is expected that $5,000 goal will be set for the drive. Last year's effort netted over $3,000 for charity.

The co-chairmen, along with the committee chairmen, will compose the executive body for the campaign. This group will establish the goal and will also decide which charities will receive the money.

Receipts Go

Last year the receipts went to the Goettingen Exchange Scholarship, to the World Student Organization for aid to needy Korean students and to a fund for war orphans.

The Entertainment Committee is an addition to this year's drive. This committee will plan and execute several new fundraising ideas. Plans are already underway to sponsor the Kingston Trio in a benefit concert for the Chest.

In addition to this effort, a campus-wide carnival is also in the making. A special Carnival Committee will be formed for this project.

Infirmary

Unfortunates in the Infirmary yesterday included Helena Gregowicz, Eunice Thirst, William Watkins, Robert Bolen, Jerry Rosenbaum, David Evans, Jerry Temple, Grover Wilhoit, Tommy Riggsbee, Richard Roth, James Foc, George Currin, Tommy Gregory, William Markham, Cain Kolkowski, James Rose, Charles Shaffer and (last, but by no means least) Jonathan Yardley.

The music pouring from the inner sanctum (editor's office) was soft and sad, a departure from the usual jazz blaring behind the door.

Visitors to the office sensed all was not well.

At first speculations had it that the Di-Phi had finally succeeded in suppressing the paper.

Then rumors were circulated that the UPI wire service had broken down.

Some insisted that the DTH was going out of business, now that Kennedy was elected and the paper had no other bandwagon to join.

The truth was known—Editor-in-Chief Jonathan Yardley was gone.

Truly he had been snatched away from his typewriter and imprisoned in the Infirmary, along with other infirm.

His disease is unknown. But the staff, breathing a prayer heavenward for divine guidance, marshalled into action and poured forth copy at a rapid rate.

Today the editor lies in bed, surrounded by medicine bottles and bed pans, reading the paper which came out without him.

It's A Day Of Gloom At The Daily Tar Heel

Gloom cloaked the Daily Tar Heel office yesterday.

The staff members panicked at first. Associate Editor Mary Stewart Baker was in a quandry. "Y'all please help me," she cried.

Wayne King, the other associate editor, cooed comforting remarks and proceeded to lay out the next day's editorial page.

The music pouring from the inner sanctum (editor's office) was soft and sad, a departure from the usual jazz blaring behind the door.

Visitors to the office sensed all was not well.

At first speculations had it that the Di-Phi had finally succeeded in suppressing the paper.

Then rumors were circulated that the UPI wire service had broken down.

Some insisted that the DTH was going out of business, now that Kennedy was elected and the paper had no other bandwagon to join.

The truth was known—Editor-in-Chief Jonathan Yardley was gone.

Truly he had been snatched away from his typewriter and imprisoned in the Infirmary, along with other infirm.

His disease is unknown. But the staff, breathing a prayer heavenward for divine guidance, marshalled into action and poured forth copy at a rapid rate.

Today the editor lies in bed, surrounded by medicine bottles and bed pans, reading the paper which came out without him.

Pianist Slates Concert At 8 Here Tonight

The Tuesday Evening Series will feature pianist Nancy Nelson tonight at 8 in Hill Hall.

Mrs. Nelson, assistant instructor in music here will open the program with Bach's Partita IV in D major, followed by three selections from Brahms' Opus 118. After the intermission she will play a piece by Bartok and Beethoven's Sonata in E major.

The pianist received her master of music degree from Northwestern University. She is a member of the Pi Kappa Lambda, honorary music society.

Mrs. Nelson joined the Music Department at Carolina last year. Her husband is an instructor in the Department of History.

Cabinet Interviews

Interviews for positions in the Sophomore Class Cabinet will be conducted by the newly elected class officers Tuesday and Wednesday nights in Graham Memorial's Roland Parker II, from 7:30-8:30.

Bruce Greene, president, will head the five-member interview group.

Seven or eight cabinet positions are open, according to Linda Tesh, class secretary.

Function of the cabinet is to aid in planning projects and social events for the class.

PTA OVERSEAS

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National Congress of Parents and Teachers reports a membership of more than 42,000 Americans in European countries. The overseas PTA members are organized in groups from Scandinavia to the Middle East, most of them on American military bases.