World News In Brief

Clark Gable Dies

HOLLYWOOD — The entertainment world Thursday mourned the passing of Clark Gable, "king" of the movies, who in his final picture scoffed at the fear of death by saying, "dying is as natural as living."

The handsome 59-year-old Gable died peacefully of a heart attack at Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital Wednesday night, four months before the birth of his first child. He was happily looking forward to fatherhood as an unexpected "dividend" late in an eventful life.

His blonde wife, Kay, 42, rushed to the bedside of the dying actor but arrived moments after his death. The pregnant Mrs. Gable, who also suffers from a heart condition, was placed under the care of a physician at her Encino estate.

Nixon Surges Ahead In California

SACRAMENTO, Calif.—Richard M. Nixon appeared to have taken California's 32 electoral votes away from President-elect John F. Kennedy Wednesday night with a last-minute surge of absentee ballots.

If Nixon finally is declared the winner, it will have no bearing on Kennedy's national victory. But Nixon's strong showing in a state where Democrats enjoyed a 3-2 edge in registration was expected to boost his political stock for 1964.

With only about 25,000 absentee votes remaining to be tallied, a UPI compilation at 8:30 p.m. EST gave: Nixon 3,220,759, Kennedy 3,208,243.

GOP To Pull Strings On Kennedy

WASHINGTON—Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen served notice Thursday that he looks for congressional Republicans to try to modify the economic proposals expected to be advanced by the Kennedy administration next year.

He specifically mentioned aid for economically depressed areas and minimum wage legislation. He suggested that the administration's monetary policies, especially as they relate to the Federal Reserve Board, also could encounter strong GOP opposition.

Violence Subsides In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS—Violence subsided abruptly in the New Orleans school integration crisis Thursday. But 99.5 per cent of the white pupils in two newly integrated schools boycotted classes and the school board asked a U.S. district judge to let it go back to segregation.

The segregationist Louisiana Legislature tried to bring President-elect John F. Kennedy into the dispute by adopting a resolution asking him for an opinion on the "judicial tyranny" of U.S. District Judge J. Skelley Wright, who ordered the integration.

Castro's Supreme Court In Hiding

HAVANA—Two-thirds of the members of Premier Fidel Castro's hand-picked Supreme Court were in hiding today, trying to avoid the necessity of branding two refugee fellow justices as "traitors."

Duke UN Assembly Applications Open

Carolina To Send 10 Delegates;
Deadline For Papers December 3

Kay Slaughter and Bob Silliman, co-chairmen of the UN Education Committee, have announced that application forms for the Carolina delegation to the U.N. Model Assembly at Duke are available to all interested students in the "Y" office.

They must be filled out and returned by Dec. 3. UNC will sponsor two delegations of five students each to the three-day Assembly which will be held the 22-25 of February.

The United Nations Model Assembly, last year held at Carolina, aids students in understanding the operation of the United Nations by allowing them to participate as delegates in a Mock General Assembly.

All rules are modeled after United Nations regulations, and students debate issues from the standpoint of the country which they represent.

One of the UNC delegations will probably represent the USSR.

Resident To Speak

The speaker for the three-day affair will be Frederick Boland, who is President of the General Assembly.

Boland was a central figure in the critical debates last month with Premier Khrushchev.

Other features of the Assembly will be a banquet, and several social affairs.

"We are urging all interested students to apply," noted Silliman, even if they do not have an extensive knowledge and background in international relations.

"One of the most important requisites of a delegate is the ability to enter into the spirit of the debates, and assume the personality of the country one represents."

"This is truly a valuable experience in that it gives the student a practical experience in debating international problems, and demonstrates the workings of the international community."

To Attend Sessions

If accepted, the delegation members will be required to attend a number of briefing sessions during which they will discuss the issues of the General Assembly.

SANFORD, CONANT WILL SPEAK ON EDUCATION AT MEET NEXT WEEK

Governor-Elect To Give 4-Yr. Program For Schools In State

BY MARGARET ANN RHYMES

Governor-elect Terry Sanford and Dr. James B. Conant—two outspoken proponents for improvement of public schools and education—will address the N. C. School Boards Annual Delegate Assembly here Monday-Tuesday.

Governor-elect Sanford, who campaigned largely on the public school improvement issue, will give his views on proposed educational progress in the state during his administration in a major speech at 8:30 p.m. Monday in Memorial Hall.

Dr. Conant, former Harvard University president and director of several studies on American secondary schools, will deliver the principal address at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday in Memorial Hall.

His topic will be "Individual Development and the National Need—A False Anthesis."

Also to appear with Dr. Conant on a televised panel discussion at 9:30 a.m. Monday are nine noted educators and newspaper men.

The newsmen include Associate Editor William Snider of the Greensboro Daily News, Editor Tom Laster of the Smithfield Herald, Editor Hal Tribble of the Asheville Citizen;

Publisher Hugh Patterson of the Arkansas Gazette, and Editor Herbert O'Keefe of the Raleigh Times.

Electors Include

The educators are Dr. Guy B. Phillips, professor of education, who will moderate the panel; Dr. Henry Hill, president of Peabody College; Dr. Epps Ready, director of the N. C. Curriculum Study; and Dr. H. I. Williams, superintendent of the Richmond City Schools.

Sponsoring this year's meeting are the Consolidated University, the N. C. Citizens Commission. (Continued on page 3)

FOR NEXT SEMESTER:

Women Required To Reserve Rooms

Women students desiring dormitory rooms for the next semester must make reservations by Wednesday, Nov. 23, announced Dean of Women Katherine Carmichael.

Even though a student lives in a dormitory during the current semester she must make a reservation for the spring semester between Nov. 16 and Nov. 23.

The procedure in reserving a room is as follows:

1) Go to the cashier's office in the basement of South Building and pay the $25.00 room deposit.

2) Take the receipt to your dormitory hostess and fill out the application for room reservation cards.

If a student fails to make the reservation by Nov. 23, her room will not be held for her beyond that date. It will be assumed that she does not plan to return for the spring semester and her room will be re-assigned to someone else.

Each student must fill out the room reservation card, merely making the $25.00 deposit does not reserve a room.

Cancellation of the room reservation after Jan. 10 will forfeit the $25.00 deposit.

Need A Ride For Holidays?

The Daily Tar Heel will publish a daily column until Thanksgiving containing the names of any students desiring rides or riders home during the holidays. This information should be brought to the "Tar Heel" office and should not be telephoned.

Included should be the name, destination, and date and time of departure (or desired time).

Cosmopolitan Program

The Cosmopolitan Club will hold its special Thanksgiving Program featuring "The Divine Trumpets," a Gospel Singing Group, at the Baptist Student Union Sunday at 4 p.m. All are welcome.

No Icy Blasts In November

BY SUSAN LEWIS

We goofed! A newspaper should never make rash statements in November that winter has come.

Indeed, it looked for a time that winter had decided to share its icy blasts with Chapel Hillians.

But the past two days have repudiated that initial belief.

With the sun brightly shining, the half-nude trees show off what's left of their orange and yellow leaves to best advantage.

Coeds don blouses and new sweaters lie neglected in the drawer.

Convertible tops creak open and the game of riding around and around the campus is played as long as the skies and temperature hold up.

Shirt sleeves are rolled up, baring the tan-faded arms.

The Arboretum is once again used for daytime study and nighttime frolic.

Dorm windows open and radiators clank to a heat halt.

But Old Man Winter, fickle as some coeds, will not stay gone forever. And maybe next time, he'll stay longer.

Psychiatry Talk

"Ego Supportive Psychiatry" will be the topic of a talk to be given today at 4 by Dr. Bernard Bandler of Boston in the Multipurpose room in the South wing of the hospital. The Department of Psychiatry is sponsoring the talk.

THIRTEENTH ANNUAL:

'Beat Dook' Parade Rolls Out

QUEEN AND COURT—One of these five Carolina coeds will be the "Beat Dook" Queen in the traditional "Beat Dook" parade beginning at Woollen Gym today at 3 p.m. Left to right they are: Carol Moser, Fayetteville; Jane Allen, Lambert, Miss.; Janice Haley, Lookout Mountain, Tenn.; Jane Wright, Wrightsville Sound; and Connie Pinyoun, Raleigh.

The 13th annual "Beat Dook" parade rolls out today at 3 p.m., ushering in the pre-game festivities accompanying the Duke-Carolina football game Saturday.

Fun, comedy, music, pageantry, coed "queens," colorful floats and imaginative decorations will characterize the march down the main drag of the village and through the center of the campus, as students whip up enthusiasm and confidence that Carolina will win the day over the Duke Blue Devils.

The number "13" has no significance, according to members of the Pika Fraternity, sponsors of the annual parade. "This just happens to be the thirteenth year the 'Beat Dook' parade has been held," said a spokesman. "We consider 13 to be just as lucky for us as seven or 11 or 14."

Five Candidates

Five candidates for "Beat Dook" Queen are Jane Allen, Lambert, Miss.; Janice Haley, Lookout Mountain, Tenn.; Carol Moser, Fayetteville; Connie Pinyoun, Raleigh, and Jane Wright of Wrightsville Sound.

Judges for the more than 30 floats in the parade are Kenan Professor of English William Wells, Dean of Women Catherine Carmichael, and Mrs. Vivian Jackson of the Morehead Planetarium.

Jake Lohr of Lexington is chairman of the day's events.

Guinness, Princess Grace Featured In Free Flicks

An Alec Guinness movie, a colorful musical comedy, and an American film classic will highlight this weekend's Free Flick and Sunday Cinema programs.

Tonight's film is "The Mudlark," a stirring drama starring Alec Guinness and Irene Dunne.

Adapted from a novel by Theodore Bonnet, this is the story of a 10-year-old English waif who tries to meet Queen Victoria in the castle where she has been secluded for the 15 years since her husband's death.

Suspected of being part of an Irish plot, his action causes a national commotion and becomes a symbol to spearhead needed social reforms in England.

High Society

"High Society," a delightful Cole Porter musical concerning a society girl who can't make up her mind about who she loves, will be tomorrow's flick. The all-star cast is headed by Bing Crosby, Grace Kelly, Frank Sinatra, Celeste Holm, and Louis Armstrong.

The Sunday Cinema film this week is "The Best Years of Our Lives," Samuel Goldwyn's masterpiece starring Frederick March, Myrna Loy, and Dana Andrews.

Flicks tonight and tomorrow will be shown in Carroll Hall at the usual times of 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

However, due to the special nature of "The Best Years of Our Lives," Warren Williams, chairman of the GMAB Films Committee, has announced that showings for this Sunday only will be in the afternoon at 3 p.m. and that evening at 8 p.m.

Students are urged to avoid the evening rush and take advantage of the 3 o'clock showing.

The foundation of the fire, consisting mostly of pine boughs, fell easy prey to the flames engendered by the lighter fluid applied by the UNC "wastemakers."

The fire-setters reported to the DTH that the lax Duke students offered no resistance to their efforts, and were in fact nowhere to be seen.

The UNC men reported, however, that the fire foundation they destroyed was definitely the official Duke bonfire.

While refusing to implicate anyone, they attributed the fact to "an extremely reliable source."
