

The Daily Tar Heel

68 years of dedicated service to a better University, a better state and a better nation by one of America's great college papers, whose motto states, "freedom of expression is the backbone of an academic community."

VOLUME LXIX, No. 73

Complete (UPI) Wire Service

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1960

Offices in Graham Memorial

Four Pages This Issue

UNC STUDENTS AID IN SEARCH FOR 5 ORPHANS

By MIKE MATHERS
"The bloodhounds lost the trail of the five orphans who wandered into the woods a little north of Clayton," the radio said, "volunteers are needed desperately to aid in the search."
The radio announcer went on to give the youngsters' ages as being between 6 and 13. "The temperature in Raleigh is now 16 degrees and it is unlikely that the children will be able to live through the night. Volunteers are needed. Those who would like to help in the search are asked to meet at Teel Construction Co. located on highway 70 north of Clayton."
It was 11 p.m. and for the most part the young men on the fourth floor of Winston Dormitory, ordinarily impervious to outside stimulation on a cold and windy Monday night, suddenly decided to heed the call.

Put On Clothes
In ten minutes, nine guys had put on 18 pairs of pants, a huge number of socks, somewhat fewer shirts, gloves, jackets and anything else that might keep the cold wind from freezing a young body.

In the five minutes that followed these same nine Carolina students crowded into an awaiting Volkswagen and a Renault. An hour later they were standing in front of a tall man with a fire helmet, listening to instructions delivered in small clouds of white fog.

"God it's cold," said a student from an area school. "Yeah, but don't tell anybody," said another student from still another university. "If these people knew, it might start a panic."

Scholars Present
Scholars were present from N.C. State, Duke, and Campbell College, in addition to the Carolina delegation.

The tall man with the fire helmet said that their searching leader was to be a man who knew well the area in which this particular group was to cover; his name was Johnson. The men, about 100 in all, made a long line parallel to the road and with flashlights cutting into the cold darkness began to move forward into the dense woods.

This orderly wave of cold people only remained as such for a few hundred yards then broke into several smaller parties which thrashed their way through the heavy brush and briars.

Two of the men from Winston stayed alongside Johnson. The temperature was below the human threshold, the briars seemed to have been sharpened for the occasion as they ripped trousers, shirts and skin; the creeks were like liquid ice and had to be crossed, and once in a while someone would exclaim as he dragged a foot in the jumping of one.

Low Temperatures
"Does anybody have an extra sock?" was the question. "Yeah, you need one?" was the unexpected answer. "Well, that all depends on the amount of time it takes water to freeze at 15 degrees."
The dry-footed one sat on the cold ground and began to pull off one of his boots. "Where ya from?" "Carolina. How 'bout yourself?" "Me too."

A helicopter from Seymour Johnson Air Force Base hovered overhead with its huge spotlight, lighting woods as an early morning sun. It was about three in the morning and the children had not been found.

"I feel like Br'er Rabbit after the briar patch," said an exhausted searcher as he and his group began to wear their way back to their cars and a little hot coffee.

The two students from Winston that were with the still hopeful Johnson separated from him and with the help of Orion's Belt also returned to the highway. After the nine Carolina students found each other, they started back to the campus with chattering teeth and a bluish hue. It was 5:15 a.m.

At about 8:30 a.m. a news bulletin sounded over the radio explaining that the children had just been found alive by Kenneth Johnson and a small searching party.

March Dates Selected For Greek Week

Chairman Billy Riley told the IFC Monday night that Greek Week this spring will be March 6-9.

"Greek Week," Riley said, "will be much like last year's except for the carnival which this year will be co-staged with the Campus Chest carnival."

"Workday," the day set aside for the pledges of all fraternities to pool their efforts in bettering or repairing some area of the community, will be Monday, March 6.

Tuesday will pit the various pledge classes against each other in athletic contests, Wednesday is the carnival, and on Thursday the grand banquet, with several guest speakers.

IFC President Pete Austin announced that the IFC was contributing $50 to the Empty Stomach Fund and $25 for an adult Christmas party at Dix Hill in Raleigh.

Austin also announced that he had conferred with George Esser, chairman of the Faculty Committee on Fraternities and Sororities, and the latter showed great interest in working with the IFC on certain problems such as housing, fraternity advisors, and use by all houses of the Student Activities Fund.

WALLS ADOPT CHILD
INDIO, Calif. (UPI) — Outfielder Lee Walls of the Philadelphia Phillies and his wife, Joanne, were granted a decree for adoption of 10-month-old Joy Leigh Thursday in a superior court action.

World News In Brief

By United Press International

WASHINGTON — AFL-CIO President George Meany yesterday called on President-elect John F. Kennedy, presumably to discuss selection of a secretary of labor.

Meany, whose appointment had not been announced in advance, returned last weekend from Europe. Kennedy has held up an appointment to this cabinet position until he could sound out Meany's views.

Princess Margaret Ends Belgian Feud

BRUSSELS — Princess Margaret's arrival here Tuesday to represent her country at Thursday's wedding of King Baudouin and Dona Fabiola formally ended a 20-year-long feud between Britain and Belgium.

She was only one of many visiting dignitaries, including U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who arrived to take part in the pre-wedding festivities.

McNamara Named Secretary Of Defense

WASHINGTON — President-elect John F. Kennedy Tuesday named Robert S. McNamara, youthful president of the Ford Motor Co., as his secretary of defense and charged him with maintaining a military establishment "second to none."

In accepting the $25,000-a-year post, the 44-year-old McNamara said he would dispose of all his stock holdings, foregoing profits of $3 million over the next three or four years. He now holds 24,200 shares of Ford stock with an option to buy another 30,000.

Support For UN Algerian Action Grows

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — Afro-Asian delegates whipped up support today for United Nations action in Algeria despite signs that the U.N. effort in the Congo was crumbling.

Representatives of the Algerian rebel leadership demanded the United Nations do something to stop the bloodshed and violence that shattered Algiers and Oran over the weekend.

They said the French were minimizing casualty reports and that actually more persons had died in Algeria in the past two days "than in the Congo in the past six months."

Mississippi, Alabama Votes Go To Byrd

JACKSON, Miss. — Unpledged presidential electors from Mississippi and Alabama voted Monday night to cast their 14 electoral ballots for Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., rather than President-elect John F. Kennedy.

The group, led by Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett, called on other Southern states to follow their lead and help throw the presidential election into the House of Representatives Dec. 19. But they were not expected to get much support.

DeGaulle To Press Algerian Policy

PARIS — President Charles de Gaulle, looking grim and worn, flew back from his riot-wrecked Algerian tour Tuesday night and sternly announced he is more determined than ever to press his policy for a semi-independent Algeria "because it is the right one."

Rusk Desires Stronger European Ties

WASHINGTON — Dean Rusk, slated to be secretary of state in the Kennedy administration, said Tuesday he is vitally interested in strengthening this nation's ties with its European allies.

KENTUCKY HANDS NORTH CAROLINA FIRST LOSS, 70 TO 65

By HARRY W. LLOYD

GREENSBORO, Dec. 13 — Backing up their long-time tradition with some present-day action, the fabled Kentucky Wildcats knocked down the third-rated North Carolina Tar Heels by 70-65 here last night.

Coach Adolph Rupp's dead-eye warriors tore up the Carolina team at the free-throw line to take the win.

Carolina forward Doug Moe collected 25 points to lead all scorers in the game, but by some quirk of fortune he lost his touch at the foul line. The UNC tri-captain hit on only 7 of his 18 chances there. Teammate York Larese was the second high scorer in the contest, making 22 of the Tar Heel tallies.

Accurate Calls
The deadly accurate Wildcats made every opportunity in the second half count toward their victory. Out of 24 chances at the line in the second half, the Blue Grass boys hit on 22.

The Tar Heels grabbed the lead early, shooting out ahead on two Larese jumpers. Kentucky went out front, 6-5, on a hook by center Ned Jennings, who was voted the most outstanding player in the game.

With about 11 minutes left in the first half the Wildcats were ahead by 15-11, but Carolina's Larese, Moe, and Dick Kepley hit successively to push Carolina out front again. They held the lead for the remainder of the first period, going out at halftime ahead by 27-26.

Forge Ahead
Utilizing excellent picks and accurate foul shooting, the Wildcats forged ahead in the second half, running their lead as high as seven points. Carolina battled back to tie the contest at 57-57, but succumbed to superior foul shooting.

The loss marked the first in three games for the Heels. They will have a one-day break before they have to hit the road again. They will leave Thursday for weekend encounters with Kansas State and Kansas.

Large Crowd Expected For Holiday Sing

If you're in the caroling mood, join the expected 400-500 students who will carol to the campus Thursday night.

Co-sponsored by the Order of the Grail and Graham Memorial, the Christmas sing will be done by interested students in dormitories, sororities and fraternities.

The UNC Men's Glee Club, under the direction of Dr. Joel Carter, will lead the music.

The musical caravan will leave from Y-Court at 8 p.m. and travel to Women's Quad and next to President William Friday's home.

After a sing downtown, the carolers will go to the Institute of Pharmacy where there will be a gathering of older members of the Chapel Hill-Carrboro community.

Cold and hoarse by then, the group will wind up in Graham Memorial's Rendezvous Room for refreshments.

Any and all members of the student body are invited to join the caroling caravan.

Campus Chest

Campus Chest committee co-chairman are asked to drop by the Campus Chest Office, 2nd floor YMCA, between 1-3 p.m. today.

Christmas Express

JACKSONVILLE or GAINESVILLE, Fla. — Riders needed, $5 each way. Leaving 3 to 4 p.m. Friday. Bob Bolan, 106 Stacy, 8-9064.

JACKSONVILLE and KEY WEST, Fla. — Leaving after 10 a.m. Dec. 17th. Will share driving. Contact David Lobdell, 445 Cobb.

CHICAGO or WISCONSIN — Will share expenses, departing between the 17th and the 20th. Contact Jea M. La, 437 Cobb, 8-9012.

SHENANDOAH VALLEY, (U.S. 11), Va. — Ride needed to New Market, Va. Will share expenses. Can leave at 11 a.m. Dec. 17. Grace Collins, 323 Kenan, 89076.

ST. LOUIS or VICINITY — need ride. Can leave Thursday evening, Dec. 15. Lu Albrecht, 89076.

NEW YORK CITY — Will share expenses and driving, can leave anytime after 10 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 15. John Warner, 324 Winston, 8-9152.

NEW YORK CITY or MERRIDEN, CONN. — Riders wanted, leaving Dec. 19th, can take 4 or 5. Peter Ford, 8-2242.

LANSING, MICH. — Riders wanted, for Detroit, Toledo and points in the Lansing area. Leaving noon, Dec. 16. Call Daniel Garrison, 2-2882 evenings.

MONTREAL or VICINITY, possibly New York or Boston — ride wanted, will share expenses. Can leave after Dec. 17. Call Robert Robert, 7-3392, after seven.

ORLANDO, Fla. — Riders needed to share expenses and driving, will leave Saturday afternoon. Mrs. E. M. Harris, 8-1021.

CHICAGO or VICINITY — ride wanted, will share expenses. Leaving after 7 p.m. Saturday. Kozo Fukushima, 320 Connor, 8-9154.

BALTIMORE or WASHINGTON — ride wanted, will share expenses. Contact Barbara Berger, 139 Nurses' Dorm, 8-9006.

ATLANTA or MARIETTA, GA. — Riders wanted, leaving late Friday or Saturday morning. Contact Jimmy Gentry, 2-2712.

MORGANTON, N. C. — leaving any time after 3 p.m. Friday. Contact Betty De Laughter, Nurses' Dorm, 8-9006.

NORFOLK AREA — leaving Friday. Contact Judy Connolly, 2-1471, evenings.

BALTIMORE — ride needed from Baltimore to Chapel Hill. Jan. 2nd. Contact Judy Connolly, 2-1471, evenings.

CHESTERTOWN, MD. — way of U.S. 301, wants riders leaving after 1 p.m. Friday. Robert Rhyne, 229 Cobb.

Debate Team Undeclared In N. Y. Test

Carolina's negative debate team coached by Professor Donald Springen went undefeated in last week's Hall of Fame debate tournament at New York University.

The team, which is composed of Earl Baker and Mack Armstrong, compiled a 4-0 record, defeating affirmative teams from Rochester, Brooklyn, Princeton, and Yale. The losses to Carolina were the only ones for Princeton and Yale.

The affirmative team of Bill Imes and Haywood Clayton defeated Brooklyn but lost a close one to national champion Dartmouth.

The squad's over-all record was ninth best in the field of forty-two teams.

New Orleans Subject At Y Forum

New Orleans' school integration crisis will be discussed tonight at the YMCA Freshman Forum.

Prof. William Geer, Modern Civilization instructor, will be the speaker at the meeting, to be held at 6:15 p.m. in the back second floor room of Lenoir Hall.

All freshmen — but only freshmen — are invited to attend.

According to Y Secretary Tom Davis, the purpose of the Freshman Forum is to give the new student a chance to express his ideas in a "guided discussion." Bull sessions and class lectures both fail to give the student this opportunity.

Take Trip
Last year the Freshman Forum took a three-day trip to New York City during the Thanksgiving break.

This year the Forum is confining itself to meetings with UNC faculty. John Clayton, associate professor in the Radio-TV department, spoke at the first meeting.

Geer will give a short, informal talk, to be followed by a discussion period. The president of the Forum this year is Scott Trull.

SUGGESTS TALL HYDRANTS

NEW YORK (UPI) — A letter printed in today's New York Daily News said the city's parking problem could be eased by making fire hydrants six feet high so hoses could be run over cars that would be permitted to park beside them.

The letter, signed by Frank Denoble, said "also a six-foot hydrant would be easier to find, especially in a four-foot snow. Also the top could be used for a street light."

Fall Exam Slate

By action of the faculty, the time of an examination may not be changed after it has been fixed in the schedule. Quizzes are not to be given in this semester on or after Friday, January 13, 1961.

All permits to take examinations to remove grades of "Exc. Abs." or "Cond." must be secured from the Office of Records and Registration prior to the exam.

No students may be excused from a scheduled examination except by the University Infirmary, in case of illness; or by his General College Adviser or by his Dean, in case of any other emergency compelling his absence.

- All 9:00 a.m. classes on TThSFri., Jan. 20, 8:30 a.m.
- All 1:00 p.m. classes on TThS, *Pol. Sci. 41, *Econ. 81, *Chem. 43Fri., Jan. 20, 2:00 p.m.
- All French, German & Spanish courses No'd 1, 2, 3, 3x & 4Sat., Jan. 21, 8:30 a.m.
- All 10:00 a.m. classes on MWF, *Econ. 70Sat., Jan. 21, 2:00 p.m.
- All 11:00 a.m. classes on TThSMon., Jan. 23, 8:30 a.m.
- All 8:00 a.m. classes on MWFMon., Jan. 23, 2:00 p.m.
- All 10:00 a.m. classes on TThSTues., Jan. 24, 8:30 a.m.
- All 1:00 p.m. classes on MWF, *Pharm. 10, *B.A. 180Tues., Jan. 24, 2:00 p.m.
- All 11:00 a.m. classes on MWFWed., Jan. 25, 8:30 a.m.
- All 2:00 p.m. classes on TThS, *Physics 24, *Pharm. 61, *B.A. 130Wed., Jan. 25, 2:00 p.m.
- All 3:00 p.m. classes, *Chem. 11, *B.A. 71 & 72, and all classes not otherwise provided for in this scheduleThurs., Jan. 26, 8:30 a.m.
- All 8:00 a.m. classes on TThSThurs., Jan. 26, 2:00 p.m.
- All 12:00 noon classes on MWFFri., Jan. 27, 8:30 a.m.
- All 2:00 p.m. classes on MWF, *Econ. 31, 32 & 61Fri., Jan. 27, 2:00 p.m.
- All 9:00 a.m. classes on MWFSat., Jan. 28, 8:30 a.m.
- All 12:00 noon classes on TThS, all *Naval Science and *Air ScienceSat., Jan. 28, 2:00 p.m.

*In case of conflict, the regularly scheduled exam will take precedence over the common exam. (Common exams are indicated by an asterisk.)

Surprises For Conservative Opera-Goers:

Innovations Will Spark Traviata

By NANCY BARR

A series of modern innovations designed to emphasize Verdi's musical genius will surprise conservative opera-goers who attend the January 14 and 15 performances of "La Traviata" in Memorial Hall.

Soprano Phyllis Curtin, as Violetta, will not sweep down the grand staircase to welcome her guests as she does in the Metropolitan Opera productions. Nor will she be surrounded with elaborate costume and period furnishings.

Instead, Director Wilton Mason has dispensed with most of the scenery and decor, substituting in their places raised platforms and a series of modular units which he has designed to be used functionally throughout the four acts of the opera.

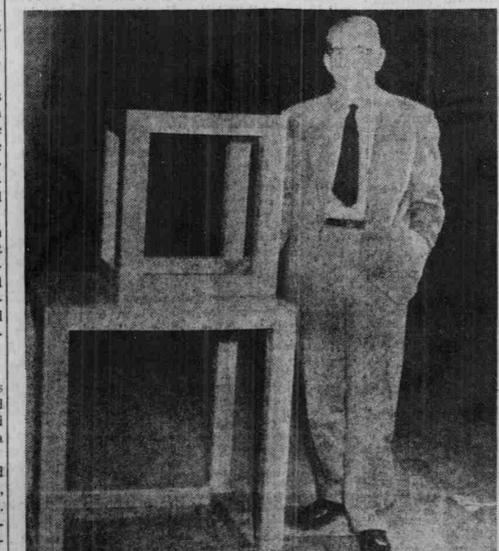

Suggest Props
The gray cube-shaped units will merely suggest props and scenery. One unit will be used for a bed in one act and a sofa in another.

"Most of the scenery and prop effects," Dr. Mason said, "will be achieved by lighting. Through different light concentrations and spotlights following the principals, the scenery becomes superfluous."

Another innovation in the performance is the use of modern dress. "The opera was presented in modern dress in the composer's day, and has become a period piece solely due to the lapse in time from then to now," Dr. Mason said. The chorus appears on stage only twice during the four acts

MODULAR UNITS instead of the traditional scenery will lend a twentieth century note to the Jan. 14 and 15 production of "La Traviata." Sponsored by the Music Department and GMAB, the production will star New York City Center soprano Phyllis Curtin.

of the opera, and both of the appearances are at parties. The men and women will wear evening dress consisting of tuxedos and long, formal evening gowns. Other men such as the doctor and father will wear business suits.

The opera will be sung in the original Italian through the use of another innovation—phonetic sound sheets for the 50 chorus members who don't speak Italian.

The first chorus line of the opera reads "Dell' invito trascorsa e' gia l'ora" in the original Italian, but the same line on the students' sheets is written as "Dell cen-vec-toh tra-scawrah-ay jah loh-rah."

Thus the sound is the same but the words are written differently.

Sheets Designed
The phonetic sound sheets are designed to insure English speaking singers of always singing on clear vowel sounds, since all the syllables are written in this manner.

"Among other things," Dr. Mason said, "this has virtually amounted to a semester's instruction in Italian."

The opera is being presented by the University Music Department and Graham Memorial. Tickets are available in the Music Department office for $1 and $2.