Sanford Budget Includes Plan For Food Taxes

RALEIGH—Gov. Terry Sanford proposed to the North Carolina Legislature Monday night that it raise the tax on whiskey and remove all exemptions from the 3 per cent sales tax in order to finance his $70 million education improvements program.

The proposal means that food purchases would be subject to a sales tax.

Sanford said the tax changes would bring in an estimated $83 million during the next two fiscal years.

In Brief

Here are the new tax proposals in brief:

Remove all exemptions from the present 3 per cent sales tax, except put only a one per cent tax on farm and industrial items and equipment used in production, and two per cent on motor vehicles, with the present top limitations. No tax on items such as farm products sold for further processing and subsequent taxation, and on gasoline already taxed.

Raise the tax on whiskey from 10 to 12 per cent.

Fall Referendum

Make the new tax schedule effective next July 1, with the people to vote this fall on whether to continue it after July 1, 1963.

Apportion the estimated $83 million additional revenue among the State Board of Education ($70 million), colleges and universities ($3 million), mental hospitals ($500,000), welfare ($2 million), secondary road construction ($4 million), and "other" agencies and institutions, plus a reasonable margin for a reserve, $3.5 million.

Students Okay Amendment In Constitutional Election

Spring Comes To Chapel Hill

THE FIRST BUDS OF SPRING provide a startling change in Carolina scenery as the season of love and laughter finally makes its unheralded appearance on the campus.

Harris Plugs Honor System Reform

Bill Harris, SP candidate for student body president, discussed the continuation of honor system reforms and future work in that area in a special statement prepared for the DTH.

"Four years ago," Harris reviewed, "under the Student Party administration of Sonny Evans, greatly needed reforms were initiated to make our Honor System more democratic. Further liberalization of the system was accomplished last year when four amendments to our Student Constitution were submitted to the Student Legislature by a Student Party legislator, Bill Norton.

New Amendments

"After thorough discussion throughout the campus, the student body voted for the acceptance of the amendments. Briefly these amendments were: (1) if desired by a defendant, right to trial by a jury of his peers, (2) right to an active defense council chosen from the student body, (3) right to summon witnesses or obtain evidence, and (4) right to trial by a geographically apportioned Council.

Most Of Provisions Effective At Once

The lengthy amendment to improve the efficiency of the campus judiciary system won the approval of the student body yesterday in one of the lightest votes in history.

Approximately 1500 votes were cast in the referendum on the measure, which consolidates the rights of the defendant into one bill and provides for the expansion of the Men's and Women's Honor Councils and the abolition of the Student Council.

Only 220 dissenting votes were registered in the day-long voting, with 1,239 voters indicating approval. The general level of apathy was marked by one ballot on which the voter bypassed the "() Yes, () No" alternative and inserted one of his own, reading "(x) Don't Care."

The men's dorm areas turned in the greatest number of votes. 717-177 was the count, with the closest race coming in Graham. The measure passed there by a vote of 34-29.

Perfect Score

Voting in the women's dormitories went 315-19, and the town precincts turned in a 207-24 verdict. Victory Village registered the only perfect approval; 3-0 was the total.

Election observers expressed the opinion that the lack of organized opposition to the amendment was one of the factors responsible for the extremely light tally. The proposal passed the Legislature by a unanimous vote, had the backing of 11 student government leaders, honor council officials and the Daily Tar Heel.

The measure is generally considered to be "a major step forward in the judicial system."

All the provisions of the amendment will go into effect immediately with the exception of the expanded councils provision. This changeover will take place in the fall after the Student Legislature enacts enabling measures.

Sevier For Student Govt. Continuity

UP Presidential candidate Bob Sevier spoke out Tuesday on the need for continuity in student government projects.

In a statement prepared for the DTH, Sevier noted that "student government projects are often of such scope that they cannot be completed in a year. Two such projects were begun this year, and their success depends upon the vigor with which they are continued," he noted.

Faculty Salaries

"One is student action toward securing increased faculty salaries and a student union—undergraduate library. The State Affairs Committee has diligently co-ordinated these activities since last spring, and their success shows in the favor with which the state legislature has received them. Students, too, are solely responsible for the support of the University administration in these requests.

"This committee has apparently assured us of a large percentage of the requested salary increases and a bond issue for funds needed toward the library-union.

Convince Voters

"It is in the promotion of this bond issue that next year's student government must concern itself. We students must convince the voters of this state that our need for and interest in a union-library are great. We must urge our in-state students to write their parents in support of these requests.

New Committee

Sevier also declared that "student government must assure action by the All-Campus Entertainment Committee. Com-

ATLANTA MERCHANTS AGREE TO INTEGRATION

ATLANTA—A group of leading Atlanta merchants and Negro leaders announced today that Negroes would be allowed to eat at most department and drug store lunch counters here and would call off their sit-in movement.

The statement, released by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, appeared to be a clear-cut victory for the Atlanta chapter of the widespread sit-in movement.

The announcement was subscribed to by Atlanta's two major department stores and by 11 chain drug and variety stores.

CONGO WARNS OUSTED UN TROOPS

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo—The Congolese government ordered the United Nations Tuesday to keep its ousted troops out of the key supply ports of Matadi and Banana and to clear all U. N. aircraft movements with Congo authorities.

The government move stirred speculation that U. S. Air Force planes might run into trouble Wednesday when they are to begin airlifting 600 Tunisian U. N. troops reinforcements into Leopoldville.

KENNEDY AGAINST PAROCHIAL SCHOOL AID

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy Tuesday stood firm on his insistence that federal aid to parochial and private elementary and secondary schools would be unconstitutional. The President's stand was reported by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, after Kennedy's weekly breakfast meeting with Democratic congressional leaders.

CUBAN YOUTHS DIE BEFORE FIRING SQUAD

HAVANA—The Fidel Castro firing squads resumed operations Tuesday with the pre-dawn execution of two youths convicted of counter-revolutionary crimes.

The executions of Rogoberto Hernandez Estevez and Rolando Tamargo Gutierrez were the first in Cuba since Jan. 20 but the 13th and 14th since the start of the year. They were charged with illegal possession of arms and explosives supplied, as the government prosecutor put it, "by the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency."

ON THE CAMPUS CHEST FERRIS WHEEL

Take A Chance On Upset Stomach?

A ferris wheel, rollo-planes and "octopus" rides will be three of the many attractions at Saturday's Campus Chest Carnival, scheduled for 1:30-5:30 p.m. on the Intramurals Field.

An innovation in the Campus Chest Charity Drive this year, the Carnival also marks a first for Chapel Hill. A town ordinance against carnivals has been waived because of the nature of this project.

Co-Chairmen Jeannie McDougal and Charlie Shelton are co-chairmen for the carnival, which will feature booths and stunts prepared by fraternities, sororities and dorms. Fraternity help is being arranged through the annual Greek Week service observance. The ADPI's will conduct a garter tossing booth, while the Chi O's will reproduce a "dime-a-dance" hall.

Fraternity row will feature everything from the SAE's greased pig chasing contest to the Theta Chi booth, which will provide a picture of Art Heyman and tennis balls to be used appropriately.

Powder Puffs Connor Dorm has arranged a car-smashing booth, the exact nature of which cannot be revealed until Saturday. The Nurses Dorm will provide lathered balloons for shaving purposes, and McIver will conduct a powder-puff throwing contest.

RING TOSS as played with garters will be one of the many "events" at Saturday's Campus Chest Carnival. Here Judy Clark and Dan Moore (r. obviously) practice for the great day.
