Hickey Is Pleased With First Practice; Needs More Flankers

"Pretty good, considering it was the squad's sixth practice," was Coach Jim Hickey's comment on North Carolina's first all-out football scrimmage after he and his staff studied movies over the weekend.

The Tar Heels were turned loose at full blast Saturday. Eleven of the 21 lettermen lined up on what was tentatively listed as the number one team. This group consisted of Conrad Sloop, John Runco, ends; Tony Hennessy, John Hegarty, tackles; Duff Greene, Jim LeCompte, guards; Gary Truver, center; Ray Farris, quarterback; Gib Carson, Lenny Beck, halfbacks; Joe Davies, fullback.

Elliott invited At least one potential first stringer, regular halfback Bob Elliott of last season, was on the sidelines with an injured hand.

Spectators at the scrimmage were impressed with the running of Gib Carson and Lenny Beck on the first unit. Tackle Tony Hennessy, who shows promise of being one of North Carolina's great all-time tackles, was strikingly effective on both offense and defense.

Among the newcomers who stood out in the scrimmage were halfback Eddie Kesler, sophomore from Salisbury. Another sophomore, end Don Constantine, turned in a fine job of pass catching. Wally Dunham, held out as a sophomore last year, turned in the longest and slickest run of the afternoon, and was given plenty of defensive work to round him out as a varsity man. Dunham, a great kicker as well as runner, starred on the freshman team two years ago.

80 Participants

Approximately 80 candidates are drilling and Hickey and his aides are hopeful of continuing good weather to keep the practice schedule intact. The Blue-White intrasquad game has been scheduled for March 25 and the sponsoring Monogram Club is already going forward with plans for the contest, which winds up off-season practice.

NIT Searches For Two Teams

NEW YORK (UPI) — Duquesne 13-7 and Tennessee State 24-4, the national small college champion, are leading candidates to fill the National Invitation Tournament berth turned down Monday by Bradley.

While Bradley, runnerup in the Missouri Valley Conference, unexpectedly turned down the NIT bid, Holy Cross, 18-4 became the 10th team to accept to play in the 23rd annual basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden, leaving only two berths open in the 12-team field.

WILT CHAMBERLAIN

Wilt Needs 33 To Break Mark

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia needs 83 points in his remaining three games to become the first player in the National Basketball Association to reach the 3,000-point plateau.

Chamberlain scored 2,917 points through Sunday's games to put him well over the 2,707 he set as a record during his freshman stint last season.

Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles and rookie Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati also have gone over the 2,000-point mark.

MENNEEN SPRAY DEODORANT FOR MEN

Two approaches to the "man's deodorant" problem

If a man doesn't mind shaving under his arms, he will probably find a woman's roll-on satisfactory. Most men, however, find it simpler and surer to use Mennen Spray Deodorant. Mennen Spray was made to get-through to the skin, where perspiration starts. And made to work all day. More men use Mennen Spray than any other deodorant. How about you? 60¢ and $1.00 plus tax

SPORTS SIDEBARS

Footballer Steve Serenko has won the distinction of being the first casualty of the spring drills. But team members argue that Steve jumped the gun in getting a tooth knocked out two days before official practice had begun. How did he lose the upper molar? Why, playing tag football, how else?

The humorous side of the athletic world seldom gets into print, so just to let the public know that it's not all work, here are some of the things that make hours of practice bearable.

The footballers are kept constantly on their toes in interpreting the commands issued by one of the witty coaches. One of his better remarks is "All right, pair off in groups of threes." Or how about this . . . "Stand on one knee." Or better still . . . "If I catch you paying attention again you're going to lap the field." And possibly the best of all . . . "Line up in a single file of twos."

All-American Doug Moe picked up a nickname last year when he was declared ineligible for scholastic reasons. "Socrates," his colleagues began to call him. So not to be outdone, Doug supplied a few names of his own. Milton, Plato, Aristotle, and Plutonium are a few he shot back.

John Hickey, first-sacker on the baseball team and ex-footballer has turned the tables on baseball coach Walt Rabb. It seems that Rabb constantly called Hickey "Jim." So one day at practice Hickey answered, "Yes, Coach Ranson." Rabb is still scratching his baseball cap on that one.

Carolina's butterfly swimmer Vince Simonton qualifies easily for a I use blue-blades contract. He went through the season without a single defeat. What do you bid, Mr. Gillette?

Carolina spring sports are under way, but the teams have some going to do to equal last year's marks. One day in May the tennis team, golf team and baseball team all brought home ACC championships. Not a bad day's work for any group.

Rumors are out that Duke's ace quarterback and pitcher is about to begin a pro baseball career, forfeiting a year of eligibility. If he does, there will be shouts of joy everywhere but in Durham.

Two new coaches have been added to Carolina's already top-notch coaching staff. Last year's All-Conference pitching-catching battery of Wayne Young and Bruce Crump, have taken over the reins of the freshman baseball team. Crump and Young led the Tar Heels to the national finals last year, and Young emerged an All-American. The team was ranked sixth in the nation at the close of the season, despite two losses in Omaha.
