Terps Again Capture ACC Indoor Games

Carolina's Harkema Goes Over

Tar Heels Are Second To Mighty Maryland

By HARRY W. LLOYD
Maryland's powerful track team took the lead on the first event, and built their margin higher and higher before scoring a smashing victory here yesterday in the eighth annual Atlantic Coast Conference Indoor Games. The Terrapins scored 81½ points by defeating, in order, North Carolina, Duke, Clemson, Virginia, South Carolina, N. C. State, and Wake Forest.
The Maryland boys also showed their power in the freshman division, scoring 40½ points. Carolina was a close second with 32, Duke 19, Wake Forest 9, South Carolina 4, Virginia 6, and State 4.
But the results in the varsity event were not so close. The Tar Heels trailed with 48½, Duke had 20½, Clemson 19, Virginia 13½, South Carolina 9, State 3, and Wake Forest, ½.
Sophomore Tom Belliza was one of the big stars of the win, vaulting 14 feet, 6½ inches to win the event and break the old record of 14 feet. Barry

Tiedemann, the Carolina hopeful, finished in a tie for second at 14, but received a bad ankle sprain on his final try. The extent of Tiedemann's injury is not fully known.
Two Maryland jumpers, Estes and Bland, finished in a tie for first place at 6'5", which ties the old mark.
The Terps had eight first places. Carolina had three, and Duke, one. John O'Bannon won the broad jump with a 22 feet, ½ inch effort. Rett Everett ran away with the field to win the two-mile in 9:27.5, and teammate Jerry Stuver romped home in the 800 in 1:54.7.
Duke's winner was Gesswin, who captured the shot put.
The other Maryland first place men were Spiegel, 60-yard dash; Wells, one-mile; Stauffer, 600 yards; Bill Johnson, 70-yard high hurdles; Smith, 70-yard low hurdles; the 2-mile relay team of Foskett, Raier, Tucke, and Patrick; and the mile relay team of Grey, Smith, R. Smith, and Stauffer.

Averell Arrives Today

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — Reports of political rioting in the interior that left eight persons dead and 20 injured reached Tehran Saturday as the government prepared a welcome for U.S. roving Ambassador Averell Harriman on his fact-finding tour.
Shah Mohamed Reza Pahlavi personally invited President Kennedy's touring envoy to Tehran and Harriman was due here Sunday from Rome.

Riots Erupt

Reports from the interior said political rioting which has occurred in Iran during the last several months erupted in the town of Borujan Friday.
Four rioters and four policemen were reported dead. All 20 injured were reported in critical condition.
The rioters set fire to a gasoline station, and the flames spread through six adjoining buildings.

Forced To Flee

The local governor was forced to flee from the town.
Borujan is a town in south central Iran, 225 miles south of Tehran.

The demonstrators were reported to have been opponents of the government under Premier Jafar Sharif-Emami, who organized a caretaker regime last August to pave the way for national parliamentary elections.

Resignation

Sharif-Emami handed his resignation to the Shah as a formality. The Shah was expected to name him Sunday to head a new government.
Political quarreling has been heated in Iran. Neither of the two major political parties, the Nationalist Party and the Peoples Party, took part in the formation of the Sharif-Emami government.

World News

Harold Macmillan Mike Mansfield

MANSFIELD ON EDUCATION
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield predicted Saturday Congress will resolve the aid-to-education dispute by considering the issue of loans to parochial schools in a separate bill from President Kennedy's school construction bill.
The Montana Democrat, like Kennedy a Catholic, said the two-package approach would let members of Congress "stand up and be counted" and clear the way for a Supreme Court test on the legality of private school aid.

MacMILLAN TO FIND JFK TOUGH

WASHINGTON (UPI)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is going to find the Kennedy administration considerably tougher on the issue of admitting Communist China to the United Nations than some pre-inaugural speculation indicated.
Kennedy and his State Department aides, it can be reported, are ready to fight to keep the U.N. from accepting Communist China's terms for membership—ouster of any independent Formosa delegation.

Peace Corps Group Formed On Campus

A Youth Peace Corps group has been formed on the UNC campus. Fifty applications for students interested in service abroad are expected next week.

Youth Corps information will be released to the campus through this group.

It will also compile data and information concerning activities on campus and return it to national headquarters.

All students interested in the Youth Peace Corps are urged to attend the meetings to be held each Thursday at noon in Le-noir Hall.

Nigerian Student Guest On Campus For Three Days

A Nigerian student enrolled at Friend's University in Wichita, Kansas, is the guest of David Grigg, President of the student body, this weekend.

Victor Oloronsolo, moved by the curiosity to visit the South, arrived here Friday night for a three-day stay in which he will tour the campus and observe UNC in action. Oloronsolo was attracted to UNC by reports he had heard of the program for foreign students here.

On a scholarship, Oloronsolo enrolled at Friend's last August and is majoring in political science. He plans to complete his education in eighteen months, wants to go to Harvard to earn a Ph.D., and plans ultimately to teach in his native country. His father is a teacher there now.

Ingmar Bergman Tonight's Flick

"Brink of Life," an Ingmar Bergman film, will be tonight's Sunday Cinema presentation. This is the first time it has been shown in this area.

As "The Seventh Seal" was a treatise on death, so "Brink of Life" is a treatise on birth. The setting of the story is a maternity hospital where three women are awaiting the birth of their children.

One, an intellectual woman looking toward the child to save her crumbling marriage, loses it in a miscarriage. Another, an unmarried adolescent, has already tried an unsuccessful self-abortion. The third, presented as the essence of maternal womanhood, loses her child in protracted labor.

The latter role won Eva Dahlbeck the Best Actress Award at the Cannes Film Festival. Bergman won a Cannes award for Best Director as a result of this film.

Showings are in Carroll Hall at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

Liz Has Setback
LONDON (UPI)—Elizabeth Taylor had a "bad night" Friday but is now back on the road to recovery from her near-fatal siege of pneumonia, her husband and doctors reported Saturday.

The film beauty's husband, singer Eddie Fisher, said the brief setback had only one effect—to postpone the removal of the breathing tube from Miss Taylor's throat. It originally was scheduled to be taken out Saturday.

What Candidates Are Saying

Bill Harriss . . . Presidential Candidates . . . Bob Sevier

Bill Harriss, Student Party's Presidential candidate, discussed international student relations in yesterday's DTH release.

His full statement follows:

The Student Party has attempted to stress the increasing importance of international programs and awareness in its platform.

SP Pledges

In one of the planks we pledge "to cooperate enthusiastically with departments on campus seeking institution of summer credit programs abroad while looking toward the establishment of an overseas section of the University."

This would enable Carolina students to spend a year in study abroad while immersed in a foreign culture.

It will be the concern of my administration to be actively working for the establishment of projects and programs in the field of international affairs.

Has Suggestions

I have some definite suggestions to make concerning several programs now being carried on and others which could be initiated.

The first is greater student support for the vigorous work of the Cosmopolitan Club, an

The eighty per cent rule and deferred rush were discussed by Bob Sevier, the University Party candidate for Student Body President, in yesterday's DTH release.

Sevier stated that the penalty for failing to comply with the eighty per cent rule was "unrealistic." He suggested a replacement rule.

Regulation Placed

The strict scholastic regulation placed on fraternities in the fall of 1959 was an attempt to have them put more emphasis on academic endeavor.

Presently, any fraternity in which eighty per cent of the active members fail to maintain a C average for two successive semesters will suffer loss of rushing privileges.

More Realistic

The rule requires of fraternity men a higher academic standing than is maintained by the campus at large.

Most of them, I feel, are willing to accept this challenge; however, if unable to meet it, they do not wish to be penalized in a way that socially and financially threatens their existence.

The rule is good, but the penalty for non-compliance is unrealistic. Its intent is to increase academic emphasis

Cubans To Decide Fate Of U.S. Boy

HAVANA (UPI)—The Swiss ambassador Saturday forwarded an American mother's appeal in a last-minute bid to save the life of William Morgan, a soldier of fortune from Toledo, O., who was doomed to the firing squad by the Castro regime that once hailed him as a hero.

The fate of the 34-year-old former U.S. Army paratrooper hung in the balance.

Although the government-controlled press and radio broadcast that the "Yankee traitor" Morgan was to be shot for aiding anti-Castro rebels, court officials said they knew of no such sentence.

Harriss, Sevier To Debate Campaign Issues Tuesday

Bill Harriss and Bob Sevier will debate the major issues in the current campaign for President of the student body in a public meeting Tuesday night.

Sponsored by the Di-Phi, the "Big Two" debate will be the only chance of the campaign for the student-at-large to hear the presidential candidates face each other and the issues at the same time. All students have been strongly urged to attend and find out "what each man has to say when confronted with his opponent's position."

Not Revealed
Questions, which have not been revealed to the candidates in advance, will be posed by a special panel of two Di-Phi members.

Each candidate, in alternating order, will be given three minutes to answer each question. The panel will select questions carefully in order to bring out forcefully the important issues involved.

Audience Allowed
The audience will be allowed to ask questions when the panel

Handbook Chief Taps 5 For Staff

Carolina Handbook Business Manager Bill Townsend yesterday named five students to the business staff.

Bruce Huggins, Peter Hawes, Gary Dalton, Jim Barnhill and Woody Harrison will assist Townsend in selling advertising for the book to be published in a few months.

Nancy Barr has been added to the editorial staff of the handbook.

the panel's questions can be ironed out then.

Di-Phi President Stan Black stated yesterday that:

"The Di-Phi feels that statements in the Daily Tar Heel by each candidate, while useful, do not serve the same purpose as an open debate, for which prepared statements are useless."

"First impression answers to questions are often more revealing than answers which have been carefully thought out."

Black emphasized that all students would find the debate very enlightening and should attend if possible.

The meeting will be held Tuesday in Di Hall, 3rd floor New West, at 7:30 p.m.
