World News In Brief

By United Press International

BRITAIN'S SPY TRIAL OPENS
LONDON (UPI)—Britain's biggest spy trial in 10 years opened today with five persons accused of stealing naval and atomic submarine secrets and relaying them to Moscow over a powerful radio hidden beneath the kitchen of a suburban cottage.
Two of the defendants are Americans.
All five pleaded innocent when the trial opened.

RED CHINA CHARGES U. S.
TOKYO (UPI)—Communist China charged Monday the United States is trying to shift the blame on the Peiping regime for the failure to exchange news correspondents between the two countries.
A Chinese Communist foreign ministry statement said the United States, not Communist China, is to blame despite Peiping's rejection last week of a U. S. proposal for such an exchange.

Awards Tomorrow End Greek Week

Beginning with a community work day last week, and ending with the presentation of awards tomorrow night, the IFC-sponsored Greek Week runs through a diverse list of activities.

Pledges from every fraternity got things underway last Friday afternoon by working from two o'clock until five on various community projects.

Field Day
Yesterday all pledges participated in the field day, which took place on the intramural field and was run by the Intramural Department.

Scheduled for Monday and Tuesday nights are the exchange dinners, during which the pledges of a fraternity eat dinner with the brothers of some other.

Banquet Speaker
All activities come to a conclusion Wednesday night with a talk by Harold E. Angelo, Dean of men at the University of Colorado. He will discuss the role of fraternities and the demands they must meet on the college campus. All pledges are required to attend.

Awards will be given to the pledge class that had the best booth in the carnival, the pledge class with the best scholastic average, the winner of the field day, and the group selected as "best over all." The selection for the last will be based on

Want to spend your Easter vacation in New York? Carolina will combine forces with N. C. State to sponsor the Spring United Nations seminar trip to New York. The cost of the trip will be approximately $35. Applications may be obtained at the Y office.

Seminar Theme
The seminar's theme will be "The UN and the Emerging African States." The group will attend meetings with various delegation members and will be addressed by Dr. William Jordan, head of the Political Affairs division of the Secretariat.

Two Parties Make Their Statements

STUDENT PARTY . . . UNIVERSITY PARTY

"This is an attempt to analyze and explain what Student Party candidates have done thus far in the campaign. Another week remains before the elections and we hope to keep up the present pace," SP Chairman Swag Carlesley noted yesterday. His complete DTH statement follows:

"The Student Party has printed its platform, along with a short request for a vote of confidence on March 21st, and this is being distributed over the campus. All candidates seeking offices this spring on the Student Party ticket are listed. Our platform contains 16 planks, and all were hashed out and approved by the Student Party meeting in regular session. Therefore we are presenting to the students, in writing, our promises to be fulfilled when our candidates are elected. Read this platform carefully, and hold us to our promises next year.

"Big Four" Slate
"Student Party has nominated a "Big Four" slate which is well-balanced and working as a unit. Both Bill Harriss and Hank Pattersons, candidates for President and Vice-President of the Student Body respectively, are qualified for the post of President. Both have sufficient experience and possess the necessary qualifications to lead this campus in the coming year. With our candidates working together, we are able to present an experienced slate of officers to the Student Body.

"Our candidate for Secretary, Mary Townsend, brings forth a leader for the women students on campus. Mary possesses qualifications as good as any secretary in years. Her interest in Student Government has manifested itself in her desire to seek this office and in the manner with which she has taken a very active part in the campaign.

Concrete Proposals
"The Student Party's candidates have outlined two concrete proposals to increase the communication between Student Government and the stu-

The 'Big 2' Debate

Bill Harriss and Bob Sevier, the two presidential candidates, will debate the major campaign issues tonight at 7:30 p.m. in Di Hall, 3rd floor New West. All students are invited to attend and to question the candidates after the Di-Phi panel has completed its interrogation.

5-Minute Statement
After a five minute statement by each candidate, Di-Phi President Stan Black and Mary Jean Reid will ask questions. The candidates will have no foreknowledge of the queries. Questions by students will begin after the panel discussion.

This will probably be the student body's only opportunity to hear the candidates in a spontaneous discussion of the issues. "The Di-Phi feels that statements in the Daily Tar Heel by each candidate, while useful, do not serve the same purpose as an open debate for which prepared statements are useless," Stan Black said.

Three Cuban Teens Arrested On Assassin Attempt Charge

Ambassador For Germans

Louis Armstrong, America's most widely travelled Ambassador Without Portfolio, next month will make his first Chapel Hill appearance in four years.

The world-renowned trumpeter will play in Memorial Hall April 8 for the Spring Germans concert, according to Frank Craighill, president of the German Club. The concert will begin at 3 p.m.; there will not be a dance.

Armstrong, who has travelled almost every inch of the globe under the aegis of the State Department, did a good bit of travelling before he made the big time. He was born on July 4, 1900, and spent many of his early years in a New Orleans waifs' home.

First Break
His first big break came when Joe "King" Oliver, a New Orleans jazz pioneer, discovered him and brought him up the Mississippi. In Chicago and New York the fame of the young trumpeter with the gravelly voice spread rapidly. Soon he formed his own bands—first the Hot Five and then the Hot Seven—and was on his way to success.

In the 1930's Armstrong's fame began to transcend the jazz world. He formed a big band and, with such songs as "Lazy River" and "Sleepy Time Down South," made a national reputation for himself. He went abroad and played before kings and queens.

Since that time his fame and popularity have increased. He has played in movies, in historic concert halls and in command performances. He has been associated with such well-known entertainers as Bing Crosby and Danny Kaye. His total record sales have zoomed well into the millions.

Popular Records
Among the most popular Armstrong records are Ambassador Satch, Louis Armstrong Plays W. C. Handy, Ella and Louis, Louis and the Angels, Louis Armstrong at Newport and Satchmo Plays Fats. His single recording of "The Boppenpoof Song" was a smash hit.

Armstrong is known both for the bell-clear tones he achieves on his trumpet and for the harsh, swinging sound he gets with his vocal cords. He plays a repertoire of old Dixieland standards mixed with songs from some of his movies and recent hits that blend well with his style.

No price has been set for tickets as yet, but as usual there will be only a handful available to the campus as a whole. These may be purchased by contacting individual members who do not plan to attend the affair.

Youths Seized After Try On Soviet Official

HAVANA (UPI)—Three teen-age Cuban high school youths were reported under arrest Monday on charges of trying to kill Soviet Ambassador Sergei Kudriavtsev.

Their seizure came after a bold Saturday night assault on the Russian envoy's home which military police repelled in a brief but violent gun battle.

Police said a fourth youth involved in the attack had sought political asylum in an unidentified Latin American embassy.

Teens Captured
The teen-agers were captured by army intelligence agents after an exchange of shots outside the Vedado High School, some 30 blocks from the swank suburban Miramar home of the Russian diplomat.

The Saturday night attack took place shortly after Kudriavtsev had left the embassy residence to attend a reception at the home of his Communist Chinese counterpart.

Shots Exchanged
At least a dozen shots were exchanged between the youths and army police guarding the residence.

On The Campus

All WUNC staff members are required to attend a meeting today at 4:45 in studio A of Swain Hall.

Professor Leroy S. Meerfield of the George Washington University School of Law, will speak today with prospective law school students. Anyone interested in talking with him should contact the Political Science Departmental office, 201 Caldwell Hall.

The following companies will interview students Wednesday: Vick Chemical Co.; Glidden Co.; Haskins and Sells; Pure Oil Co. Thursday: National Dairy Products Corp.; Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co.; Bank of Virginia; Bank of New York will interview.

The Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society will meet today at 7:30 p. m. in 265 Phillips Hall.

Korea Operation Subject Tonight For NROTC At 8

The historic amphibious operation at Inchon, Korea, on September 15, 1950, will be the subject of a public presentation to be given by the NROTC at 8 tonight.

UNC Midshipmen, as part of their training, will give a graphic portrayal of the landing, an example of military "calculated risk." A scale model of Inchon Harbor will be used to illustrate formations. The conduct of the landing and its military significance will be described.

Not Technical
The presentation is not technical, but is designed to give a general understanding of the complexity and decisiveness of a modern military operation.

The program will be given in the Naval Armory. The public is invited.

Infirmary

Students in the Infirmary yesterday were Martha Knighton, Linda Lowden, Mary Carroll, Joseph Waldren, Jane Davis, and Robert Elliott.

Carnival Draws 4,000, Brings In Total Of $1,300

Over 4,000 students attended Carnival Day festivities Saturday, spending $1,300 and enjoying every minute, according to Charlie Shelton, co-chairman.

Fun was the word of the day as basketball players rode tricycles, co-eds took part in donkey jousts and gamblers raked in the money, all for the Campus Chest.

Dr. Alfred T. Brauer was elected King of the Carnival by vote of students for 1 cent a vote. He was crowned by Miss Nancy Wills, Miss Chapel Hill of 1960.

Wins First Prize

Alpha Delta Pi won first prize for the best entry among sororities with the garter throw. Kappa Kappa Gamma was second, and Chi Omega, third.

McIver won the girls' dorm trophy with the powder puff throw. Nurses Dorm was second; Alderman, third.

Trophies were supplied by Kemp's Jewelry.

Soft drinks, candy bars and ice cream were sold by the Junior Class. Home-made food was donated by the Newcomer's Club and sold by the Sophomore Class.

Co-chairmen Jeanie MacDougall and Charlie Shelton cited the Inter-Fraternity Council, Inter-Dormitory Council, Women's Residence Council and Panhellenic Council for co-operation in the event.

Other individuals assisting were Bill Hoyle, Martha Hodson, Prissy Wyrick, Walter Ratcliff, Don Craven, Scott Trull, Bob Bingham, and Dave Raney.
