

Noble Order Of Old Beanbirds Swoops 27 New Fledglings

New Birds Caught In A. M. Chirp-In

By BYE BLACKBIRD

Swooping down upon the campus during yesterday's pre-dawn hours, members of the Order of Old Beanbirds pecked 27 new fledglings.

Membership in the Order is based upon certain intrinsic qualities including the ability (1) to go out on a limb without falling off, even when pushed;

(2) to perch;

(3) to give a worthy demonstration of the Beanbird Shuffle;

(4) to twitter-tweet;

(5) to control their squawks in the air and on the ground;

(6) to fly alone, even with a broken wing;

(7) to use their claws to cling to the strong and sturdy limbs of wisdom, service, democracy, loyalty, humor, beauty, friendship and humility.

Fledglings accepted into the Order during Thursday's chirp-in included: Tom "Auk" Cabe,

Grigg Endorses Sevier For Post In Tuesday Vote

David Grigg, student body president, yesterday endorsed Bob Sevier, University Party candidate for president of the student body.

"I would like to express my wholehearted support of Bob Sevier for president of the student body," said the president. "I have worked closely with him, especially this year, and have found him to be a sincere and capable person."

Grigg praised Sevier's service to student government as vice president. "In my opinion, he has done a better job as speaker of the Student Legislature than any vice president since I have been here," he said. "There is no doubt in my mind that he has the ability to be the finest student body president we have ever had."

President Notes
The president noted the importance of administrative experience for the presidency, and said Sevier's "past experience will enable him to begin immediately with the new administration."

ASHTRAY THIEVES
NARA, Japan (UPI)—Priests in this ancient city have complained they have difficulty in keeping the roofs of their two temples on.

Kidnapped At 16
When he was 16 years old, he was kidnapped by a band of Irish raiders and taken captive to Ireland where he was put to work tending herds of livestock.

After six years of this forced labor, he escaped aboard a ship to France, then known as Gaul. He arrived just as the barbaric vandals from north of the Rhine were pouring through the crumbling defenses of the Roman Empire's frontier.

Room Reservation Deadline April 22 For Summer, Fall

The deadline for room reservations for both the Summer and Fall terms is April 22, 1961. Deposits must be made with the University Cashier in South Building not later than that date.

Fall reservation fee is ten dollars. Room rent for the Fall Semester ($85.75 less $10.00 deposit) must be paid by September 1, 1961.

Students now assigned to dormitory rooms have the option of reserving space for the Summer and Fall Sessions. A room reserved for the Summer only does not entitle the occupant to that space for the Fall.

THE GRAND OLD IRISHMAN:

St. Patrick Once Kidnapped

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Irishmen and pseudo-Irishmen around the world today are honoring the memory of a Welshman named Maconus Succetus Patricius, who died exactly 15 centuries ago, in 461 A.D.

He is better known to history as St. Patrick.

Although he became the patron saint of Ireland, he was born and reared in Wales, the son of a high-ranking Roman colonial official.

Not much is known about the next 20 years of Patrick's life. From scattered references in his autobiographical writings, it appears that he made journeys through Gaul and Italy, and studied in two French monasteries.

He was consecrated a bishop in the year 431 A.D.

The next year, when he was 48 years old, he was sent by Pope Celestine to preach the

What Candidates Say

Bob Sevier . . . Presidential Candidates . . . Bill Harriss

University Party's Presidential candidate, Bob Sevier, discussed the importance of the Carolina Symposium, the Carolina Forum and orientation in yesterday's DTH release.

His full statement follows:
The Carolina Symposium of 1962 will be the most significant cultural and academic program on our campus for several years, and it represents one of the most notable student undertakings anywhere in the nation.

Full Support
Although the Symposium is not a student government project, we University Party candidates wish to give it our full support. Student government does furnish a significant part of the Symposium budget, and I feel we could also be of further assistance.

As their plans develop, Symposium leaders may need increased financial support or perhaps our assistance in securing speakers for their program.

There is much we can do in lending assistance and influence to assure that no hour quizzes be scheduled during Symposium week.

Carry Symposium
In addition, we would like to help carry the Symposium into the classroom by encouraging devotion of one lecture during that week in each class to the implications of the topic of the Symposium in the field of the course.

These things are vital, I feel, if maximum student participation in the Symposium is to be accomplished.

UP Officials
Along a line similar to the Symposium, the current UP administration recently restructured the Carolina Forum to increase its effectiveness in bringing outstanding speakers to the campus.

As re-established, the Forum has already presented Al Lowenstein and will follow with two other leading speakers this spring, one in the field of religion and another for the International Students' Board.

Considering orientation, I feel there are several things which should be discussed in the light of improving our presentation to new students.

Next Year
Since orientation week next fall will be shortened, every attempt should be made to keep required meetings brief so as still to allow new students a good deal of free time.

Effectiveness of mass meetings might be increased by subdividing the class and having each group in mass meetings at alternate times.

Honor system orientation is vital. I suggest more emphasis by faculty and administration and use of the new honor system movie.

Finally, there should be effective follow-up orientation, especially through the dormitory advisors for freshmen.

On The Campus

Pat Morgan, Class Ring Chairman, requested yesterday that the J. M. Underwood who gave his ring shipping address as 109 Lewis call him in 319 Teague immediately.

The English Club in cooperation with the Department of Comparative Literature will present Dr. Buddhadeva Bose from Jadapur University, Calcutta, tonight at 8:00 in the Library Assembly Room.

A copy of a script for the skit and sing division of the Valkyrie Sing must be turned in to Helen McCallum, 208 Carr Dorm by 2 p.m. Saturday.

Leave Those Posters Up

Students were warned yesterday not to tear down campaign posters.

It's an honor council offense to remove posters from bulletin boards or to destroy or deface posters.

Dave Alexander, elections board chairman, also said yesterday that posters were to go on bulletin boards only. They are not to be tacked, taped or glued to any other surfaces—he especially mentioned doors and woodwork. Tacks or staples should be used in billposting.

Men Counselors For Orientation Picked Next Week

Students to fill positions as Men's Orientation counselors for the fall program will be chosen soon.

Interviews for the positions will be held Thursday and Friday, March 23-24, and Monday and Tuesday, March 27-28 from 2-6 in the afternoon on the second floor of Graham Memorial.

Application blanks for counselors will be available tomorrow at any one of four locations: in Graham Memorial—at the information desk; in the Library—at the desk in the Reserve Reading Room; in the YMCA—in the main lobby; or in the Scuttlebutt—on the counter.

Blanks Returned
After filling out the blank, students should return it to the information desk at Graham Memorial and sign up for an interview time.

The deadline for applications will be Wednesday, March 22.

Bill Harriss, Student Party presidential candidate, yesterday pledged his party will interject new ideas for culture and recreation at UNC.

"It has been pointed out in this period of campaigning," Harriss said, "that there is a lack of issues confronting students. Due to this opinion, many questions have been asked concerning the difference between the two parties."

Pledges To Continue
"Having a definite lack of new ideas, the opposition party has pledged to continue with projects already initiated in Student Government. Student Party, on the other hand, is not only going to continue with projects already initiated, but is prepared to interject many new ideas."

"Such ideas as revitalization of the Carolina Forum, re-initiation of work on the Fine Arts Festival and full support of the proposed Religious Forum will improve the cultural atmosphere of our campus."

Suitable Location
"The leasing of a suitable location for off-campus parties for dormitory residents, and the new Carrier Current radio station are concerned with making life at Carolina more enjoyable."

The radio station will also be invaluable aid for communication between the individual student and Student Government.

"Concerning opportunities for leadership training, an executive committee will be set up to inform students of the positions that are available in student government."

This committee will also serve as liaison between student government and the Daily Tar Heel.

New Innovation
"An entirely new innovation is our work with departments on campus seeking institution of summer credit programs abroad."

"In this project we look toward the establishment of an overseas section of the University which would enable Carolina students to spend a year in study abroad, immersed in a foreign culture."

"The opposition party has claimed credit for the ideas and work of the Academic Affairs Committee and the State Affairs Committee."

"I think it should be pointed out that both of these committees were originated several years ago by a Student Party member."

"Presently the Academic Affairs Committee is chaired by past Student Party chairman Jim Scott and the State Affairs Committee is headed by Student Party legislator Davis Young."

"The opposition also claims credit for judicial reforms which were all introduced by Student Party legislators."

"New ideas are needed by student government. We feel that it is time once again for the party of ideas, imagination, progress and initiative to take over the leadership of Student Government."

Malaya Troops Hope To Rescue 30 Whites

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Malayan troops pressed through bush country Thursday to save 30 whites who may include 23 American missionaries held captive on short rations by Lumumbist Congolese.

As the Malaysians embarked on their mercy mission, the United Nations Command quarreled anew with Congolese

Five Professors Resign From UNC

Resignations of five members of the University of North Carolina faculty were announced by UNC Chancellor William B. Aycock yesterday.

Melborne Romaine Carrier, associate professor in the Department of Zoology, resigned on February 28, 1961, after seven years' service to accept a position with the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries of the United States Fisheries and Wildlife Service.

Research Professor Warfield Garson of the School of Public Health was transferred by the United States Public Health Service to another position as of January 31, 1961.

Private Practice
Wayne Henry Akerson, assistant professor of surgery, School of Medicine, resigned January 31 to enter private practice after two years on the UNC staff.

Robin Ledbetter Hinson, assistant professor and assistant dean of the School of Law, is resigning August 31 in order to enter private practice. Professor Hinson received the J.D. degree from UNC in 1958, and has been assistant professor and assistant dean since 1958.

Assistant Professor George Charles Hemmens of the Department of City and Regional Planning is resigning May 31 in order to study for his Ph.D. degree.

troops and brought in the vanguard of a 4,700-man Indian troop contingent aboard U.S. Air Force Globemaster transports.

There was no indication when the Malaysians would reach the trapped whites who had appealed to the U.N. Command for food.

UN Command
The U. N. Command was threatened with the loss of another supply base at Coquilhatville, capital of Equatorial Province.

Armed Congolese soldiers surrounded a U.N. supply plane and forced it to return to Leopoldville, 350 miles away. "Any other U.N. planes flying in will be shot up," the Congolese warned.

Top U.N. Command officials met to discuss the situation. Congolese forces have denied the U.N. Command its main Atlantic coast supply bases at Matadi and Banana on the mouth of the Congo River.

Times Reporter To Talk

James B. "Scotty" Reston, Washington correspondent for the New York Times and Pulitzer Prize winner, will speak in Howell Hall Auditorium at 8 p.m. on Friday, March 24.

His talk will be one of the series sponsored this year by the School of Journalism. Dean N. N. Luxon will preside at the meeting. The public is invited.

Column Appears
Reston's column, appearing on the editorial page of the daily and Sunday New York Times, gives an authoritative view of international affairs.

Coed Interviews For Orientation Begin On Tuesday

Sara Jo Allen, coordinator of the Woman's Orientation program for this fall, announced yesterday that counselors for the program will be selected next week.

An explanation of the counselor's duties and contributions will be presented this week in dorm meetings, she said, and application blanks will be handed out to all interested students then. Scheduled times for interviews will be posted on bulletin boards in the women's dorms.

Interviews, each lasting five minutes, will be held starting Tuesday, March 21, and running through Thursday, March 23, on the second floor of Graham Memorial.

Deadline Friday
The deadline for application blanks is noon Friday, March 17. All women students living in sororities or in town will be able to get application blanks today through Friday at the information desk at Graham Memorial.

Scheduled interview times for these women will be posted at the information desk this week. Girls will be interviewed by Miss Isabel MacLeod, assistant dean of women; Sara Jo Allen, coordinator of the Woman's Orientation program for the fall; and Anne Sweeney, a member of the Woman's Counselor Selection Board.

Fencing Correction

The coed fencing club met Thursday and not today as the DTH stated. Any girls interested in joining the club should contact Betsy Kiker (217 McIver) or Kiki Eckhole (216 Whitehead).

Primarily as a result of the seizure of Matadi two weeks ago, it was believed U.S. Air Force transports would have to ferry all the 4,700 Indians from New Delhi to Leopoldville.

Marquand Story On Flick List For This Evening

A screen adaptation of John P. Marquand's Pulitzer Prize-winning novel and an Air Force comedy highlight this week's Free Flick schedule.

"The Late George Apley," Marquand's story of the inability of a tradition-bound Bostonian to recognize progress in the outside world, is tonight's film.

Colman Stars
Ronald Colman stars in the role of a staid, but enchanting, socially-prominent Bostonian of 1912, who cannot see the changes occurring in America and insists on trying to keep his family bound to propriety and convention.

When he realizes he has almost brought total unhappiness to his son and daughter, he awakens to the new world.

Tomorrow's Flick
Tomorrow night's flick is "No Time for Sergeants," the story of an illiterate Georgia hillbilly played by Andy Griffith, with an all-conquering wit of innocence who makes a shambles of the U.S. Air Force. Showings for "The Late George Apley" will be in Carroll Hall at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. "No Time for Sergeants" will be shown at 6:30, 8:30, and 10:30 p.m.

Gaulen Chosen To Head IDC; Mitchener VP

Jim Gaulden, outgoing IDC Court chairman, was elected president of the Interdormitory Council at a special meeting on Wednesday night.

Gaulden replaces Swag Grimsley as president. John Mitchener was elected vice-president; George Critz was elected secretary, and Bill Williams, treasurer.

IDC Court officers were: Bruce Welch, chairman, and Blair Drum, clerk. The new officers will serve for the coming year.

The new officers will be sworn in at the IDC Awards Banquet in the Carolina Inn Ballroom on Friday, March 24. Gaulden is a member of the Society of Janus, and has been chairman and clerk of the IDC Court.

A Happy Pledge . . .

... Holds DU Trophy

Ron McArthur, fall pledge class president of Delta Upsilon, has good reason for sporting a big grin.

The DU neophytes copped three first-place awards at the annual ceremony at the conclusion of Greek Week Wednesday night, capping the stack with a fourth trophy—the Stanley Sturm Award—for the most outstanding pledge class.

The DU pledges turned in an overall average of 2.6 out of a possible 4 to take top scholastic honors in a field of 24 UNC fraternities.

The DU's also took first place trophies in the Field Day category and as best overall pledge class.

Judging for the Stanley Sturm Award was based on scholarship, field day placement, carnival, community work day and participation in extra-curricular activities.
