Castro Foes Plan Full-Scale Revolt To Oust Dictator

President Of Exile Government Issues Call To Arms To Cubans

NEW YORK (UPI)—The president of the Cuban exile government issued a call to arms Saturday for all Cubans to rise up against Premier Fidel Castro and demanded the "moral and material support" of the rest of the Western Hemisphere in ending Soviet enslavement of his homeland.

Jose Miro Cardona, 59-year-old first premier of Castro's revolutionary government who defected last summer shortly after being named ambassador to the United States, made his appeal to a news conference sponsored by the Cuban Revolutionary Council.

The council, made up of various anti-Castro exiled groups with contacts in Cuba, denied through Miro Cardona that the Central Intelligence Agency of the U.S. government has been providing arms or money for the exile army.

Miro Cardona also said the CIA had nothing to do with the formation of the revolutionary council.

'Age Of Comedy' Sunday Cinema Presentation

"The Golden Age of Comedy," an Academy Award-winning compilation of scenes and sequences from the best of the Mack Sennett and Hal Roach comedies made between 1923 and 1928, will be tonight's Sunday Cinema presentation.

Seen in some of the funniest sight gags ever filmed are such stars as Will Rogers, Jean Harlow, Carole Lombard, Ben Turpin, Harry Langdon, Billy Bevan, the Keystone Cops and the Sennett Bathing Beauties.

But dominating throughout are the imitable Laurel and Hardy in some of the funniest visual comedy ever brought to the screen.

Showings will be in Carroll Hall at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

"Cuba, our tormented country, is today a Soviet colony enslaved by the totalitarian nations of Europe and Asia, which have fallen into the clutches of this new order of hatred and poverty," Miro Cardona said in a six-page mimeographed statement.

"This sad experience suffered by our flesh and blood moves us to demand vehemently the moral and material support of our sister republics in our fight to expel from Cuba the invaders, not only as an act of hemispheric solidarity, but to prevent further attacks on other nations of this hemisphere.

Sincere Support
"Without this determined, sincere and vigorous support, our final victory, even though inevitable, would not eliminate the danger that other sister republics may suffer the horrors and crimes which the Cubans are suffering today."

Miro Cardona indicated the rebel groups were pinning their hopes on infiltration and popular uprisings rather than an immediate invasion.

Future Plans
"I cannot speak of four future plans because they are war plans," he said.

"They will be known when events happen. If necessary, there will be an invasion, but you start from a false premise. I start from the premise that there will be a popular uprising. An invasion is not in our plans at this moment.

"I am affirming that uprisings in Cuba are already taking place, and with these, the downfall of Castro will be produced."

Snow Slows Search For Missing Airmen, Survival Hopes Dim

Five Members Of Searching Party Taken Out For Exposure Treatment

GRANTS, N. M. (UPI) — Bitter weather and 27 inches of snow hampered the search today for the five missing crewmembers of a B52 bomber accidentally shot down Friday by a supersonic sidewinder missile. At least three men parachuted and survived.

State police reported today that the remaining five had been found—including two seriously injured—but later blamed the report on a misunderstood radio message from the blizzard-swept mesa where the shattered bomber crashed.

Although the Air Force would not say it in so many words, there appeared little hope for other members of the crew.

Even healthy rescue workers were half frozen, though they had the shelter of automobiles and trucks.

Five members of a search party, suffering from exposure, were being brought out for treatment.

Three men parachuted from the shattered bomber Friday moments after an F-100 air National Guard jet fighter accidentally blasted it with a Sidewinder missile. They were picked up, burned, broken and in shock.

Safety Officer
First Lt. James W. Van Scyoc, 27, safety officer for the 188th Interceptor Squadron at Kirtland Air Force Base, Albuquerque, was piloting the F-100 that fired the nine-foot Sidewinder, in war games, presumably because of a malfunction.

Haggard and nervous, Van Scyoc appeared Saturday before a 20-man board investigating the one-in-a-million accident.

Five Members
The other five members of the crew were Capt. Ray C. Obdel, 28, of Logan, Ohio, co-pilot; Capt. Stephen Carter, 29, of West Hartford, Conn., navigator-bombardier; Capt. Peter J. Gineris, 30, of Albuquerque, navigator; 2nd Lt. Glenn V. Bair, 24, of Kemmerer, Wyo.; and Staff Sgt. Manuel L. Mieras, 23, of Flagstaff, Ariz., crew chief.

On The Campus

The Chapel Hill Astronomy Club will meet 8 p.m. today in the faculty lounge of the Morehead Planetarium. The program will be a talk on "Flying Saucers," followed by discussion, and, weather permitting, observation with the 15-inch telescope.

The Foreign Student Orientation Committee has 20-25 positions open for next fall. Application blanks are available in the Y as well as sign-up sheets for interviews. This program takes place the same time as the regular orientation, with counselors arriving Friday, Sept. 8.

Monday night at 6 the Delta Delta Delta sorority is sponsoring a spaghetti supper at their house to raise money for their scholarship to be given to a coed. Tri-Deltas are selling tickets for $1.

The Erasmus Club of Duke and the UNC Philological Club will meet jointly 8 p.m. Monday in Room 107, East Duke Building, at Duke. Sturgis E. Leavitt will discuss "The Prince of Wales and the Spanish Infanta." Faculty members and graduate students have been invited.

CHOP DOWN TREE
DU QUOIN, Ill. (UPI)—Sylvester P. Schneider reported Friday that thieves chopped down a tree so they could steal the eight-foot fishing boat he had chained to it.
